SEACH FOR AUTOISTS WHO KILLED WOMAN

Mrs. A. Gelletto Meets Instant Death in Exchange Street Near Her Home.

Following a search which continued all night, members of the day shift of the police department this morning took up the work in an effort to locate the occupants of a big gray automobile which ran over and instantly killed Mrs. Antonio Gelletto, 50 years old, of 385 Exchange street, at Exchange and Edinburgh streets last evening at 10:30 o'clock.

The accident occurred after Mrs. Gelletto, had left her residence to go to Carroll's cafe, Exchange and Edinburgh streets, for some sauer kraut. Apparently she did not see the machine, which came from the direction of the police station and struck her in the path of the automobile. The left wheel passed over the woman.

In the hospital at the present time is Joseph Hogan, an attorney, of 23 Graham street, and Frank M. Sturgis, of Pittsford, who were in Exchange street and both saw the machine strike the woman. They estimated the speed of the machine at 60 m.p.h. in the darkness, neither man was able to make out the license number. Mr. Sturgis and Mr. Hogan, who followed a moment later in an automobile, asked them to chase the gray automobile. The machine was not stopped and it is not certain that the occupants understood what was called to them.

A report reached the police that a gray touring car had been seen racing out the Scottsville Road. Motorcycle Officer Ludwig, of the Sixth Precinct, located the machine, which is owned by Scottsville persons. Two men occupied it, which confused with the story told by Hogan, but the men had driven to the city and not out of it. The men went to police headquarters, where they satisfied the police officer that they knew nothing of the fatality.

Captain McAlister asks that the police in the area that followed the automobile which struck Mrs. Gelletto communicate with the police and let them know whether they obtained the license number. If they did not, he desires to know when the machine turned when it reached Clark street.

Mrs. Gelletto, who was of German birth, had lived in Rochester for twenty-five years. Her husband is a section foreman in the employ of the Erie Railroad Company. Besides her husband she is survived by two sisters, who live in New York City.

Funeral of Mrs. Mary C. Aldrich Daboll Held.

DESCENDED FROM ROYALTY

Aldrichs Came to Dansville Over One Hundred Years Ago and Settled Fifty Years Later—Were Struck With Beauty of River Valley

Dansville, Nov. 3—The funeral of Mrs. Mary C. Aldridge Daboll, wife of Dr. Garrett C. Daboll, who died at her home, in lower Main street, Saturday evening, took place from the house at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. Charles W. Blake, rector of St. Francis Episcopal Memorial Church, officiated.

Mrs. Daboll was a member of the Aldrich family, one of the oldest, not only in Dansville but in America, while her husband, Dr. Daboll, was, until his return to Dansville a few months ago, a prominent physician in the capital of France, where his patients were among the royalty of Europe.

The family has lived for three generations in the same house, being children, only four remain, one boy being buried in the West, where he died, and the other eight lying in Greenmount cemetery. Of these, monuments of marble at the base, mark the spot. Mr. Obadiah Aldrich, father of Mrs. Daboll, was a tailor by trade and owned in the first flour mill west of the Genesee river. The Old Aldrich mill stood on the western outskirts of the village, at the intersection of Old street and Canaseraga Creek, in a little grove known as Aldrich Grove.

Within a few years of the founding of the flour and sawmills industry in Western New York, the Aldrich mill was abandoned. About twenty years ago it was torn down and the land cleared of the trees and underbrush.

Obadiah Aldrich was born in Ashfield, Mass., in 1794, the son of Benjamin and Sybil Aldrich. He was married in 1812 and, at the age of 25 years, he was a partner in the first flour mill to be built west of the Genesee river. His father, Benjamin Aldrich, of Oshkosh, Mass., served in the continental army from the battle of Bunker Hill to the close of the war.

Through Solomon Aldrich, John Aldrich and Jacob Aldrich, he was descended in a direct line from George I Aldrich, of Devonshire, England, who married in Derbyshire, England, in 1629, and emigrated to America in 1637. This John Aldrich was the son of George Aldrich, of London, England, a tailor, in Chesham Church, descendant of “William Aldrich of Norfolk, who married Mary daughter of Francis and Edward the Second of England.”

How the Aldrich family happened to settle in Dansville sixty-five years ago is explained by a visit made by Obadiah Aldrich to Dansville village nearly a century before, and to his natural love for the beauty which the valley possessed. Benjamin Aldrich, with his son, Obadiah, 11 years of age, came to this village in 1835, from the village of Auburn, looking for land, and found many Indians in the vicinity. This visit was repeated on the 7th of July, the date of the arrival of the first white settlers, Cornelius McCoy and his wife and three children. When the Indians of the Quaker country of Mr. Aldrich's tribe halted on this spot, they were invited to the town and entertained. Obadiah Aldrich, who was 11 years of age, was deeply impressed by the beauty of the village, and determined to settle there. He returned there the following spring and purchased a homestead, which he named “Aldrich Hill,” near Palmyra.

In War of 1812.

Obadiah Aldrich, however, although only 11 years old, was so deeply impressed with the beauty of Dansville valley that it was ever after his standard of comparison for the scenery of places he planned to visit. In the War of 1812 he went to the front with an older brother as fider and drummer boy, but in 1830 he made up his mind that he would return here.

He made his home at No. 74 Main street, where the surviving members of his family, with one exception, still reside. The four remaining members of this family, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Obadiah Aldrich, are Mrs. Helen Aldrich DeKroydt, Mrs. Lynette Aldrich Collins, Mrs. Carrie Aldrich Bennett, all of Dansville, and Mrs. Nineta Aldrich Lincoln, of Hingham, Mass.

Let us pause for a moment and consider the importance of the Aldrich family in this community. In 1830, people from this part of the country were not to be compared to the cities of the East. It was here that the Aldrich family made their home, and here where they continue to reside to this day. They have been a part of the history of the town, and their contributions have been numerous.

MORTUARY RECORD.

Elizabeth Wells Humphrey.

Death again has taken one of the pioneer residents of Rochester, Mrs. Elizabeth Wells Humphrey, who passed away on Monday at her home in Stone Road, where she had lived for many years. She was 74.

Mrs. Humphrey was born in Rochester in 1834, the year in which the village was incorporated. She was the eldest daughter of General R. W. B. Swan, who was a member of the first Common Council of the city, and at one time ran for mayor.

He was the first commissioner of fire and had about 1850 organized the military laws of New York.

State.

Mrs. Humphrey's whole life was passed in Rochester and a large part of it in the old Third Ward. Possessing a remarkable memory to the very last, it was only necessary to refer to something in the past and she would bring back to her hearers the persons and places of an earlier day.

She was married in 1869 to George Harvey Humphrey, who himself was born in Rochester in 1839, and died here in 1903.

Unselfish devotion for others was the dominant character of this noble woman, and the example of her beautiful life will never be forgotten by all those who knew her.

decidedly impressive were the final funeral services for Sreren Payne in Auburn.

guished figures in the political life of the train by a score of members of the town Automobile Club with their machines and they were taken to the City

scores of thousands, and then to the Auburn police and from Company M, National Guard assisted in the handling of the crowds both at the Bo-ligia and Auburn station and at all places.

SERVICE SIMPLE IN CHARACTER

The Church services were extremely simple in character. Prayer was offered by Rev. L. N. Sirel, pastor of the church and a eulogy pronounced by Rev.
A. W. Binnie, a former pastor of the church, and an intimate friend of the late Congressman. Favorite hymns of the church were sung by the choir of the church.

Seats in the auditorium were reserved for the delegation which acceded to the State House, the Board of Supervisor, the Board of Aldermen, the Cayuga-County Association, and other organizations. The wagonload of the trackage was filled with Auburnians and hundreds stood outside the edifice while the sergemonies were in progress despite the cold and the snow. The cortland drove followed the long string of carriages to historic Fort Hill church, located a short distance away, where Congressman Payne found final resting place beside his wife, who died in Washington about two years ago.

Mrs. Sarah Buell, Lima's Oldest Woman Dead.

She was one of the earliest pioneers
in the neighborhood of the present city of Lima. She lived a life of simplicity and independence, and while she was but a child, she was sent to school in the wildersness, where she learned to read and write. In later years she was a teacher in the school of the little children of the neigh-brhood, and was always ready to help the sick and the wounded.

She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, and was a faithful member of the congregation. She was buried in the cemetery near her home, and her grave is still a landmark in the neighborhood.

distressed by her death, and her burial was attended with much

Stricken with Apoplexy at His Home in Livonia.

By Special Dispatch to The Horn
Livonia, Dec. 18.—The sudden death of Julius C. Reed of this town at Retsof, N.Y., this morning has cast a shade of sadness over the community. No man was better known or more highly respected in the town and community than Mr. Reed. He drove from Retsof to Geneseo this morning and returned to Retsof, and while returning home he was stricken with apoplexy and died before aid could reach him. A young man in the barn heard Mr. Reed as he fell and went to his assistance, but life was extinct. Coroner Preston summoned, but decided that an autopsy was unnecessary.

The Livonia salt mine was located on Mr. Reed's farm, and it is said the mine was in operation here he was actively connected with its management. When the mine was abandoned about ten years ago, Mr. Reed was among the few from here who still held his connection with the company and went to Retsof as both miners were under the same corporation, and had charge of the shipping department there. His family still continued to reside here. A man of broad judgment, thorough and painstaking, he devoted his energies to his work and was held in the highest esteem by the members of the corporation. For more than 26 years Mr. Reed was actively engaged in the salt business.

The community owes him for everything that has tended for the betterment of the community, and the pioneers of the town and Retsof. Among the early settlers of Eastern Livingston and Western Ontario Counties, Mr. Reed was the son of Horace and Verna Reed Reed, and was born in the town of Richmond, March 21, 1846. When six weeks old his family settled on the homestead just south of this village about one mile, and this had been his home since that time.

On October 29, 1869, he married Mary Patterson of Livonia Center. Seven children were born to them, five of whom are living: Dr. Arthur P. Reed of Retsof, Miss Anna Reed of Holcomb, N.Y., Mrs. Marion W. Newcomb of Brown's Mills-in-the-Plains, N.Y., Miss Zelia Reed of Retsof and Mrs. D,M. C. Reed of Livonia. Mr. Reed was an active member of Livonia Center Presbyterian Church and also of the Retsof Baptist Church. Several years he was president of the Board of Education. He was a Republican in politics and for twenty years was town supervisor. The funeral will be held Saturday.

THE HERO OF MANY A STORM

Exciting Adventures of Late Capt John H. Dissette, Veteran Shipmaster.

DRIVEN ON ROCKS

Saved Himself and His Crew in a Terrible Storm on Lake Superior in 1915.

A Buffalo friend of the late Capt. John H. Dissette, whose death occurred in this city recently, sends to the Times an account of a shipwreck in which Capt. Dissette figured in 1915. Capt. Dissette was a brother of Edward M. Dissette, of 31 Hart Street, was at the time of his death the oldest shipman on the Great Lakes and the hero of many exciting adventures.

Capt. Dissette was as if "man born" a sailor, his father before him having been a shipbuilder, a ship-owner and likewise a shipmaster. Following in the footsteps of father when but a year old he embraced a seaman's life. From the lower rounds he rose to the bridge as master, and toward the end of his life to a home, for upward of 40 years. His first seaman's papers bear date of 1876.

Became a well and favorably known master on the Great Lakes. He flew "Pennant No. 4" of the Ship Masters Association, one of the founders of a Fast Master. The owners of Pennants Nos. 1 and 2 were his adopted father, Capt. Howard Pettibone, and another Capt. Dissette's big warm heart was ever open to the unfortunate.

He was a Knight of Columbus, Fourth Degree, Odd Fellows; Holy Name Society of St. Monica's Church and member of the Allambie. Of the latter he had the distinction of being its oldest member in years. He also a member of the Ship Masters' Association of the Great Lakes.

MARYLEBURY DIES

Born in Geneva.

Marshall P. Wilder, 70, famed New York actor and humorist, died here early to-day after an illness of two days. Heart trouble and an attack of pneumonia were the causes of his death, his attending physician said. Mr. Wilder came to St. Paul on Monday to fill an engagement at a local theater. He was taken ill Thursday night and was unable to appear on Friday. He seemed considerably improved on Saturday, but late at night his condition became serious.

About midnight he became worse suddenly and died within a few hours. The body will be sent to New York City to-morrow.

Since Wilder left Rochester in 1911, he had twice returned to give his local audiences appearances that were under the direction of the Rochester Press Club, in the old Academy of Music, and was an occasional story-teller. His second appearance was at the Y. M. C. A. Music Hall under the direction of James E. Furtado.

As a humoristic lecturer Mr. Wilder had few equals in America. His grotesque facial contortions and his impulsive manner of telling a story won him fame both here and abroad. As a public entertainer he had found time and occasion to tell "People I've Smiled With," the Sunday side of the street and "Traveling Around the World." His home was in Atlantic City. Several of Mr. Wilder's distant relatives live in Rochester.

The work was established on the faith principle, which means that it was supported by free-will offerings in a purely Christian manner, instead of the usual manner of raising funds by subscription. It was believed that the free-will offerings came by answer to prayer. In the beginning the work was known as the Faith Mission and for eight years it was located in Stittsville. In 1895 it was transferred to its present site.

Elim Home, while being a rest home for Christian workers and missionaries, is also the home base for a foreign missionary work, for which it is used, and a center where hundreds of its missionaries have gone to labor. Through the publishing work of the work and other enterprises it has means to help support its missionaries. The work has been a center for the work of several foreign missionaries who have studied in its foreign missions.

RABBITTRIBUTE
TO MARSHALL
P. WILDER

Says Death of Humorist is Distinct Loss--Traces His Life.

The tribute to Marshall P. Wilder, the humorist, who died recently, when he preached an eloquent sermon at the Eighth Avenue Temple, Brooklyn, in the presence of a large congregation on Jan. 18, was attended by a pack of dogs in Rochester as a boy and attended grammar school in this city. He had frequently visited his city when appearing as an entertainer in vaudeville and on the Rochester stage.

Rabbit Lyons said in part, "Death took from American life during this week a striking and familiar figure. Frequents of vaudeville and readers of American humor know either by reputation or from personal experience of Marshall P. Wilder, the humorist, and will be greatly missed. The departure of such a one from the tense strain of American life is a decided loss and calls attention to one whose presence and activity have for years marked the fortunes of his fellow men happier and better for his existence. No man in American life has been more successful in making himself an object of humor. He helps us to restore and keep our balance. He prevents that tendency to excessive effort in American activity which is always fraught with the danger of attaining the goals of our ambition at the cost of the forfeiture of our capacity to enjoy. Missionaries of cheer such as Wilder was are so important that their passing should not be left unnoticed. They are needed to complete the career of cheer with an emphasis at their death of the possibility of being beneficent inherent in every normal human soul."

"Marshall P. Wilder started life as a victim of untoward circumstances. He was born in the family of Philip and Mary (Farnam) Farnham of this place and was born and educated in Palmyra. Some years ago he went to New York to study law and was training for the bar, which profession he followed in New York City until his health failed when he returned to his native village.

Miss Farnham made her home with Mrs. Ella Antes of Main Street, where she was survived by two brothers, Henry and William Farnham of Rochester.

The funeral service of Mr. Wilder will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the bank building in Palmyra, followed by interment in the South Lyon Cemetery.

Miss Elizabeth Farnham Dies after Illness of Four Weeks.

Palmira, Jan. 14.--Miss Elizabeth Farnham, 75, died Sunday morning at 3 o'clock after an illness of four weeks. Miss Farnham was widely known and well respected. She was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Farham of this place and was born and educated in Palmyra. Some years ago she went to New York to study law and was training for the bar, which profession she followed in New York City until her health failed when she returned to her native village.

The funeral service of Mr. Wilder will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the bank building in Palmyra, followed by interment in the South Lyon Cemetery.

The death of Marshall P. Wilder has passed on, and except for his few cheery writings will soon pass out of general recollection. Such men ought to be remembered. They are more admirable and historically more valuable than any of the men who would distinguish themselves for their relations to carnage and human destruction. I would rather be a mischievous hunchead as Marshall P. Wilder and have the path of my life beaming with sunshine and smiles though I went down to an unprepossessing grave, than to occupy the stained health of moral carnage that leads to a marble or metal statue. Marshall P. Wilder, for a time privileged to laugh, has passed through the determination of his own philosophy and courage into the gallery of the smug and po-faced heroes. The thought of him ought to shame out of their self-complacency the men who by their words and actions which live only for self and illustrate how with wealth of endurance how little some people can make of themselves while smile like Wilder illustrate how much with impoverished means others can make of themselves."

Sudden Death of Well-Known Patrolman

Joseph Rendsland Dies in Hospital from Unusual Infection.

ON FORCE 25 YEARS

Stationed for Many Years at New York Central Passenger Station.

Police Sergeant Joseph Rendsland, of the Franklin Street station, a man who has served on the Rochester police force for 25 years, died at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. A very usual and virulent form of infection, which was brought on by a barber pulling several ingrowing hairs from his neck.

The extraction of the hairs left a small open wound of which Rendsland took no care. His neck became infected and the infection spread through the jaw and under the tongue, rendering an operation necessary. He was taken to the General Hospital yesterday afternoon and was operated upon immediately.

Joseph Rendsland was born in Lima, receiving his early education there. He was appointed to the police force September 10, 1889, having been set as a member of the department for over 25 years. He had an excellent record as a patrolman, and was well liked by his superior officers and the other

The late Dr. J. L. Sooy

Rev. Dr. Josephus L. Sooy, superintendent of the Rochester District of the Genesee Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died in this city yesterday, after a week's illness. He was formerly a member of the New Jersey Conference, and later was transferred to the Kansas Conference and stationed at Lexington, coming thence to the Genesee Conference. As a member of the latter body he occupied several important charges, including the Monroe Avenue Methodist Church of this city, and at the time of his death was still known to many formerly known as preachers.

In the death of Dr. Sooy, the Genesee Conference and Methodist generally have lost one of their most able men. A man of very high culture and sincere piety, he was particularly endowed with eloquence, while his sincerity made him beloved by all with whom he came in contact. His charming character made all of his acquaintances personal friends. The supervising work in which he had been engaged during the past several years brought him into close touch with the people of every Methodist church in the Rochester district, visits being made by him to each at least four times a year. Through these visits, which were by degrees episcopal in their nature, he became known and loved by people of the denomination and others, over a large territory. Dr. Sooy has been taken away in the prime of his life and at the apex of an exceedingly useful career. He was one who had a definite and positive message to mankind, and he delivered it definitely and positively, as he had opportunity, until he was suddenly summoned from labor to repose.

Superintendent of Districts

Dr. J. L. Sooy Well Known in Methodist Church.

Rev. Josephus L. Sooy, D. D., superintendent of the Rochester District of the Genesee Conference of the Methodist Church, and formerly pastor of the Monroe Methodist Church, this city, died suddenly at Dr. Lee's Hospital in Lake Avenue yesterday morning. He had been at the hospital for a few days' treatment and rest, and was expected to be at his work again within a few days. A wide circle of friends and acquaintances were greatly surprised by the news of his death.

Dr. Sooy was appointed to the superintendency of Rochester District by Bishop William Burt at the last session of the Genesee Conference, held in Bath, after completing a full term of stewardship of the Buffalo District. The outstanding features of his work were the building of new churches, directing of the Laymen's Missionary Movement in connection with his denomination, so that the Buffalo District became the leading district of Methodism in missionary activity and support; the development of the diagonal movement locally and throughout the entire city, and the foundation of the Buffalo Children's Home. Previous to this appointment he served the Monroe Avenue Methodist Church of this city for five years.

Dr. Sooy held many important pastorates, including pulpits in Tonawanda, N. Y.; Lexington, N. J.; Rockford, Illinois; Des Moines, Iowa; Wheeling, W. Va.; and others. He was twice pastor of the same church in Tonawanda, N. Y., and in Binghamton. He was born in Green Bank, N. J., March 4, 1859, and was married to his teacher, Hattie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sooy of Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

PRAISE DR. SOOY’S LIFE AND WORKS

Bishop and Minister Vie to Do Him Honor.

LAST SAD RITES ARE SAID

Monroe Avenue Church, filled with persons who knew and loved former Superintendent of Monroe Methodist District—Flower Tributes and Memorial Services.

Members of the Genesee Conference of Bibles and Dr. Sooy, lived in Rochester for over thirty years, and were held yesterday afternoon at Monroe Avenue Church, where he once was pastor. Bishop William Burt, of Buffalo, conducting the service, and many other clergymen eulogized the man whom they had worked and studied with, and of which Dr. Sooy was for some time a trustee.

Rev. E. H. Conant, of Buffalo, who represented the cabinet of Genesee Conference, drew attention to various activities of Dr. Sooy’s, speaking particularly of his carefulness.

"There is no one who can better appreciate the work that Dr. Sooy has done," said Mr. Conant. "For weeks I followed him in the parishes of the district and have seen his attention to every detail. He was a prince in episcopacy, a prince in counsels, and a prince in courage. Not only a prince; he was beloved." The cheers of the audience were characteristic of the appreciation of the audience.

Presidents of the conference were represented by Rev. C. E. Allen of Bingham, who for six years was pastor to Dr. Sooy’s, and who, in his grief, remarked that in view of what had been said, there were but two qualities of Dr. Sooy left for him to take up.

"Because of his benevolence, he was a tower of strength to us pastors," the speaker said, "and, as to the other virtues, he was kind and abiding love.

Bishop Burt’s Tribute.

Bishop Burt had much to say about Dr. Sooy’s life and work.

"Is not true greatness, after all, only goodness?" he asked. "It was noticeable however, that Dr. Sooy has been called him, and that he has been in his own right kind and abiding love, as many of you will remember even the greatest sermon.

HILTON'S FORTY-NINNER DEAD

Hiram Bardeen Went to Klondike by the Way of Cape Horn and Worked With All of the Present Bonanza Kings in Picket Stage

Hilton, Feb. 1.—Hiram Bardeen, one of the most unique characters of Western New York and who lived one mile northwest of the village of Hilton is dead. He was known throughout the county as “Old Forty-niner” by reason of his experiences in that golden age.

Since his return from the Klondike, this veteran of the mining camp has been the center of a crowd of interested listeners as he commented on the current events and his experiences of his early Western life. Every day, until recently, for the past thirty years he has regularly met the incoming trains at the station during the period of excitement, and in the papers to the postoffice that he might prepare himself as early in the day as possible to the political situation and the news of the world.

Mr. Bardeen was one of Hilton’s most substantial farmers, coming to this locality over thirty years ago. He was saddled with his now and appropriate name. His love of country and its firm protection against the world knew no bounds. This had led him to freedom from more flagellops and other paraphernalia for throwing old glory to the breeze as all others in this locality.

From Mexico to the Klondike, "Old Forty-niner" was a gold and silver prospector. He had most attending the discovery of the precious metals in California in the days of ’49. His ramblers covered the entire district from the Mendocino and Klondike regions of Alaska and from the Rocky mountains to the Pacific coast. At this early day such an experience was attainable by any incident and marrows escapes.

Bardeen was a Rochester boy in the days of ’49 and being of a roving disposition, he migrated to the gold fevering gold fever, Packing his worldly possessions, which were confined to small commodity, he started out on his way to New York and shipped as a sailor, by way of Cape Horn, for California. While his contract was to return with that ship, his experiences as a seafaring man was such that he could not see his way clear to go back. He decided to pursue his investigations on land and see what was in store for him. He came out fairly successful in gold and with a vast wealth of experience.

HAD BEEN MONROE COURT CRIER FOR EIGHTEEN YEARS.

Born in Ireland, He Came to This Country At Age of 3 Years and Settled in Parma.

JAMES H. BREEZE, court crier, died last night at his home in Spencerport, aged 68 years. Mr. Breeze was taken ill on that day, and had suffered intensely all the week with acute asthma. On Friday, a consultation of doctors was called. At that time, Mr. Breeze was semi-conscious and his face was swollen to such an extent that his breathing was interfered with. Death came at 7:30 o'clock last evening.

Mr. Breeze was born in Croy, Abbey, County Down, Ireland, on February 27, 1840. He was brought to the United States by his parents, Thomas and Margaret Breeze, when he was 3 years old. The family settled in Parma, two miles north of Spencerport, where Mr. Breeze had lived until four years ago when he purchased a house in Water Street, Spencerport, and removed to that village.

In 1870, Mr. Breeze married Miss Fannie J. Clarke of Parma. To them were born three children, two of whom, Mrs. Bertha Lawrence of Paonia, Colo., and Mrs. John Welch of Parma, are living. Mrs. Clara B. Austin, the other child, died three years ago. After his first wife's death, Mr. Breeze, in 1881, married Miss Abbie Boughton of Caledonia. JUSTICE SUTHERLAND EXPRESS ES HIS PERSONAL ESTEEM.

AND THAT OF SUPREME BENCH

Post

Judge B. M. Stephens in County

Tribunal Also Eulogizes Faithful

Official and Personal Friend.

The life of James H. Breeze, court crier, was spoken of this morning by Justice Arthur E. Sutherland in Supreme court pronounced a eulogy before the proceedings of the judges. Judge B. M. Stephens did likewise.

"Before beginning the work of the day I desire to refer to the fact that Saturday night, James H. Breeze died."

"Mr. Breeze for eighteen years has been the crier of the courts of record in this county. Before that he was one of the judges of the court of Sessions, in the last year in which that court existed. Mr. Breeze dignified his position as a deposed member of the staff of officials working in the administration of justice. His voice was ever ready to witness his demeanor in court, and his observance of every rule of propriety and courtesy made him a model for all who came into contact with the law.

"There was something more about Mr. Breeze than a mere official performing his duty as a court crier that had large value. He was big bodied, big natured, and big hearted in every way. He was a true American man, and had for his life and sincere affection. I am sure all who worked with him and knew him well will miss him greatly.

"I instruct the clerk of the court to set aside a part of the record of this day for the enshrined these few words which I have spoken."

Justice Stephens said: "Before proceeding with the further order of court to-day it seems appropriate that some recognition be made of the death of Mr. Breeze, so long as had been a member of the court and other courts of the county. He was court crier during the entire time of my incumbency and said, I offer the opportunity to appreciate his rare and genuine worth. His death came too, as to others, as a keen personal loss. Not only was his sudden demise a grief to us, but to a large number of friends, for few knew Mr. Breeze. He loved life and he represented the highest type of gentleman and it was a pleasure to associate with him. I have a strong idea that we have occasion to pay this imper- fect tribute to his memory. On Thursday afternoon this in the next to his habitation shall he in- held on that day."

The Pioneers' association will meet on Thursday afternoon in the courthouse at 2 o'clock to pass resolutions on the death of Mr. Breeze and will attend the funeral in a body, leaving on the 1:45 car for the Buffalo. Lockport.

In Memory of Hervey S. Tomer, V

The Chief has passed, to where we may
But still his work will live, and comfort
To those who still pursue the onward
Who feel to-day that they have lost a friend.

"The good men do lives after them," he said,
And gave chance and voice to many
Which but for his most kindly thought and deed.
Had not been heard among the world of men.

And should some thought that he gave Bringing blessing in his wake; He, who knows all.
Will reconcile the gentle heart that Gave Life to the rhyme, let it unhealed fall.

His merry humor hushed, in memory
Of the past;
His songs of tender and of joyous trend,
Will linger in the haunts he loved so long.

Although to-day we say, "God speed our Friend."

He then wrote songs that would sell better advantage in Chicago, so he gave up bookkeeping and went to that city last September. "Till the Golden Gates of Heaven Are Closed Forever" found its way to the publishers a few months later. Caruso's attention was attracted to the composition and an arrangement was made with the famous tenor to introduce it. The song sheets bore the likeness of the Italian.

"Dreams" and "Drums, Dreams, Dreams" are among the last songs Parquet produced. In a letter to his mother, which was received on Thursday, Parquet said he was being pressed for a number of scores. Resolution Passed at a Special Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company Held March 29, 1915.

It is with profound sorrow that the members of this Board have learned of the death of Mr. William T. Butcher.

In our association with him for many years, we have learned his sterling qualities as a man, and appreciated highly his wise counsel and unselfish efforts for the welfare of this Institution.

As a member of this Board of Directors, and also an executive committee member, he was always earnest in the discharge of his duties, and willing to take upon himself the responsibilities that went with those positions. His unvarying kindness and geniality endeared him to us personally.

The residue of his years of residence in this city he had won a commanding place in his business. His ability and high qualifications, and other financial and industrial institutions of this city, which have called him to places of great responsibility, such a man, in whose probity and loyalty to duty so many have trusted, is a serious loss to the community.

FURTHERON, we hereby express our sentiments of sympathy.

Mrs. Catherine Osborn Run Down on Genesee Street Opposite
Her Grocery Store--Automobile Driven by Dr. Carl
A. Huber, of Monroe Avenue.

Struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Carl A. Huber, of 51 Monroe avenue, in Genesee street, a few feet south of Frost avenue, Mrs. Catherine P. Osborn, 45 years old, owner of a grocery store at 322 Genesee street, sustained a fractured skull at 3 o'clock last night which caused her death in St. Mary's Hospital a few minutes later.

Coroner Kleindienst, who was notified, ordered the body removed to the morgue for an autopsy. The coroner announces that he will probably conduct an inquest on Tuesday.

Mrs. Osborn had an apartment over her store, which is located at Genesee street and Frost avenue. She was crossing the street to mail some letters when the accident occurred.
The store is situated on the southeast corner of Genesee street and Frost avenue and the mail box is located on the northwest corner of the streets.
As shown by the point where the accident occurred Mrs. Osborn was walking almost directly across the street and would have had to walk a short distance north to deposit the letters in the box.

Street Poorly Lighted.

The point where the accident occurred is poorly lighted. It is proounced that Mrs. Osborn did not see the automobile till it was too late to avoid being struck. Dr. Huber states that Mrs. Osborn was directly in front of his machine before he saw her. Marks on the wooden block pavement show plainly the attempt of the driver to stop the machine. The marks were evidently caused by the tires as the machine was going after the brakes were applied.

Inspector Ryan and Sixth precinct officers have the names of several witnesses, but it is not known definitely whether any person actually saw the woman struck. It is supposed that Mrs. Osborn was thrown or fell backward, striking her head on the curbi-tone. The fall fractured her skull.

The ambulance from St. Mary's Hospital made a quick run. The hospital records show that the call was received at 3:55 o'clock. The start was made within one minute, and Mrs Osborn was a patient at the hospital at 4:05 o'clock.

Mrs Osborn started in the grocery business on a small scale a number of years ago. She was a woman of fine character and broad qualities and she prospered. At the time of her death she was the proprietor of one of the largest grocery stores in the southwestern part of the city. Mrs. Osborn was a very charitable woman and on more than one occasion she would write letters to the store to assist a needy family. Mrs. Osborn believed in giving as she received and was never afraid of giving the poor and sick with money as well as giving
the necessities of life.

Mrs. Osborn was a cautious woman. Time and time again warned her drivers to exercise the greatest care. She herself, was always very careful when crossing d streets and to her friends who knew of the care that she exercised the death comes as a great shock.

Mrs. Osborn is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. H. Harris and Miss Minie A. Bagley, and one brother, James Bagley.

The funeral will probably be held on Monday morning from the home of Mr. Bagley, 154 Champlain street, near St. Monica's Church, in Genesee street, of which Mrs. Osborn was a member.

Dr. Huber's Statement.

Dr. Huber when seen by a Union
reporter this morning said:

"It was driving south, in Genesee street on the right hand side. Where the accident occurred the street is not lighted. Before I saw the woman in the darkness she was directly in front of the car. I attempted to stop and succeeded in stopping within a few feet of the point where I first saw her

"But the car had struck her and my impression is that the impact with the machine caused her to turn part way around so that she fell backward, striking her head against the machine.

"I backed the machine to the point where the woman was lying in the darkness. She was bledding from the mouth and nose and was unconscious.

"I summoned the police from St. Mary's Hospital and followed the vehicle to the hospital in my automoble. I communicated with the Sixth Precinct telling them of the accident and later I drove to the station and made a personal report to Lieutenant Frost.

Mrs. Osborn believed in giving as she received and was never afraid of giving
the necessities of life.
