<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Text</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Abrams, Benjamin Seymour</td>
<td>Charlotte, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adams, Charles Henry</td>
<td>Lockport, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adams, Frederick K.</td>
<td>Narod, Calif.</td>
<td>p.70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adams, Hester H., Mrs.</td>
<td>Auburn, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Adams, Reuben A., Dr.</td>
<td>West Bloomfield, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.62 &amp; p.64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aikenhead, James M.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.65-104-107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alden, John F.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alexander, John</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Allen, B. Franklin</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Allen, Maria O., Miss</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alling, Abby M., Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Alling, Charles E.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.100 &amp; p.101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aman, Henry</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Angel, Charles H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ardrey, James Gibson</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arthur, Frank</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Asmuth, Philip</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Aspentelter, Joseph, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atkins, Richard H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atkins, Richard J.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atwood, Isaac M., Dr. (Rev.)</td>
<td>West Bloomfield, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.62 &amp; p.64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Auten, Levi S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Avery, Cortland</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.72</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Axtell, John</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Babb, Ira J.</td>
<td>Long Beach, Calif.</td>
<td>p.70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bachman, George A., Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baine, John A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baker, Fred Howard</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baker, George Stewart, Rev.</td>
<td>New York, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baker, Hulda, Miss</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baldwin, Evelyn, Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bamber, John</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barker, J. Harry</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.79 &amp; p.79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barons, Alice J., Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barrows, Evelyn Snow, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barrows, Franklin S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barrows, Howard A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.4 &amp; p.5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barry, Mary Costello, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barry, William Crawford</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.27, 28, 29, 30, 32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bartholomey, Conrad</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bartold, George</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bassett, William T.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Battelle, William N.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beach, Allen C.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beachel, Frederick V.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beir, Edward J.</td>
<td>New York, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Belknap, George</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benish, Robert</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benjamin, Solomon M.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bentley, Harriet, Benton, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bentley, Harriet, Benton, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benton, F. Leslie</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Benton, T.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County</td>
<td>Historic Scrapbooks Collection</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Best, Charles P.  South Bend, Ind.  p. 64
Birdsell, Byron A.  p. 46
Blackall, Sarah Colman, Mrs.  p. 77
Blackwood, Henry D.  p. 48
Blackwood, Henry D.  p. 82
Blosa, James Orville  New York, N.Y.  p. 135
Boone, Thomas R.  p. 79
Bott, August  p. 17
Bowdy, James T.  Bath, N.Y.  p. 107
Boyer, Beulah A., Miss  p. 138
Bradley, Lovinia B., Mrs.  p. 32
Bradshaw, Emily A., Miss  p. 58
Brazill, James M.  p. 122
Brewster, E. Frank  p. 108
Brewster, Emily Smith  p. 89 & p. 101
Briggs, Angelina Knapp, Mrs.  Warrendale, Pa.  p. 132
Briggs, John Stevens  p. 83
Brown, Addison M.  Washington, D.C.  p. 63
Brown, Charles Sumner, Rev.  p. 72
Brown, Harry A.  p. 103
Brown, John Skelton  p. 12
Browning, Hattie S. Hastings, Mrs.  Orlando, Fla.  p. 42
Bryan, James A.  p. 10
Bubyear, Margaret, Mrs.  Greece, N.Y.  p. 105
Buckley, Keron  p. 106
Buell, Alice E., Mrs.  Washington, D.C.  p. 41
Bullis, W. H., Dr.  p. 49
Burke, John M., Major  p. 106
Burns, John D.  p. 118 & p. 119
Burton, Emery E.  Conesus Lake, N.Y.
Burton, Henry Fairfield, Prof.  p. 96
Butterfield, Hadley J.  p. 5
Butts, DeWitt John  p. 128
Byrne, Francis M., Sister  p. 110
Byrne, William  p. 88
Caldwell, William H.  Beaver Balls, N.Y.  p. 45
Calihan, William  South Greece, N.Y.  p. 42
Campbell, Frederick, Rev.  Sherburne, Vt.  p. 128
Card, Warren Lewis  Caledonia, N.Y.  p. 64
Carnahan, J. Curtis, Rev.  Pittsford, N.Y.  p. 124
Carmichael, John Milton, Rev.  Hudson, N.Y.  p. 33
Carter, David Kellogg  p. 126 & p. 127
Chamberlain, Abbie M.  p. 64
Chamberlain, Byron Noel  p. 15
Chamberlain, Josephine, Miss  p. 132
Chambers, George  p. 119 & p. 120
Chapin, Mary E.  p. 2
Chappell, Josephine Gregg, Mrs.  p. 100
Chariton, John  p. 126
Chatfield, Job W.  New York, N.Y.  p. 43
Church, "Bobbie" (Sebastian Mayer)  New York, N.Y.  p. 60
Church, John Adams  Charlotte, N.Y.  p. 36
Church, William Conant, Col.  p. 2 & p. 3
Clark, Remington Monroe, Capt.  p. 31
Cleary, Mary Mrs.  p. 50
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>City</th>
<th>Page Numbers</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Cobb, Clarence S.</td>
<td>Fairport, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.111</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cody, William F., Colonel</td>
<td>Denver, Colo.</td>
<td>p.39, 40, 41, 42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colt, Charles P., Rev.</td>
<td>Pittsford, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.26 &amp; p.31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cole, Frank W.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Collins, Alfred Somers</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Conn, Maria A., Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Congdon, Chester A.</td>
<td>St. Paul, Minn.</td>
<td>p.17 &amp; p.23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Connolly, George W.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Converse, Ansel F., Rev.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cook, Anna B., Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cook, Hiram D.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cook, William H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.136 &amp; 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cowing, William H., Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cox, Charles P.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cox, John</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.107</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Craig, William H., Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crane, David R.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crawford, Edgar A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crittenden, George S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.108</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crittenden, George S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.62 &amp; 64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Croft, John S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crouch, Charles Herbert</td>
<td>Colorado Springs</td>
<td>p.118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Crouch, Wesley</td>
<td>Baltimore, Md.</td>
<td>p.140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cullen, James</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curr, John</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Currier, Charles Warren</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curtice, Ward G.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Curtis, Joseph</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cuyler, Mary Bowen, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Daly, James Alexander</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Danforth, Henry G.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.105 &amp; p.106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Davis, William Henry</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Decker, Franklin</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Defendorf, Frank J.</td>
<td>Barnard, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.77</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeLano, Samuel B.</td>
<td>Fulton, Kansas</td>
<td>p.34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeMallie, Isaac</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Devenforf, James H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.77</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>DeVine, Thomas J.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dewey, Dellen M.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doctor, Jacob</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dodds, Jennie Chamberlain, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>New York, N.Y.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dolley, Gilman Corson, Dr.</td>
<td>Manila, Philippine Islands</td>
<td>p.13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doud, Dennis</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Downey, James</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Downs, Sylvester L.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Doxtater, Chauncey B.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.123 &amp; P.142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Drake, Theodore A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dryer, George H., Dr. (Rev.)</td>
<td>Phoenix, Ariz.</td>
<td>p.81</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Duffy, Michael</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dunckleburg, Isaac M.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dwyer, Eugene, Jr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Location</td>
<td>Page</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------------------------</td>
<td>---------------------------</td>
<td>------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eastman, Newton L.A. (Bishop)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Eastwood, Charles or</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>(Smith, Richard)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edgerton, Jennie, Miss</td>
<td>San Francisco, Cal.</td>
<td>p.119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Edgerton, Octavia C., Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Elwood, Frederick T.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ely, Susan Delafield, Mrs.</td>
<td>El Paso, Texas</td>
<td>p.57</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Emery, James B.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Engelhardt, Edward C.</td>
<td>Sea Gate, L.I.</td>
<td>p.63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Estes, Milo D. Captain</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Everest, Charles M.</td>
<td>Bridgeport, Conn.</td>
<td>p.70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farnham, David</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farr, J. Wendel Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Farrell, Stephen H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Favour, Frank</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Feary, Thomas H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Field, Lovasso</td>
<td>Columbus, Ohio</td>
<td>p.125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Field, Reuben L.</td>
<td>Gates Center</td>
<td>p.56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Finch, Melvin L.</td>
<td>France</td>
<td>p.55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fitch, Charles Elliott</td>
<td>Skaneatles, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fladd, Gottlieb H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.93</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fladd, John</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fletcher, Oliver N. (Rev.)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Foehner, George</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Foley, James Corbin</td>
<td>Summit, N.J.</td>
<td>p.10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Foote, Mary L. Mrs.</td>
<td>Geneva</td>
<td>p.134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forbes, Charles (M.D.)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.77</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forbes, Theodore F. (Brig. Gen.)</td>
<td>Washington, D.C.</td>
<td>p.46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Force, Charles C.</td>
<td>Goshen, Orange County</td>
<td>p.71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ford, Thomas W.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frazer, Samuel F.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frick, George H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fritz, William F.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fritzsch, Amalie, Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fromm, Casper</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Furbish, Edward B. (Rev.)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ganss, Henry, Sr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gates, Edward Captain</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gaylord, Willis Clark</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gilbert, Grove Karl</td>
<td>Jackson, Mich.</td>
<td>p.66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gilmore, Joseph Henry, Prof.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gibson, S.J.</td>
<td>Norwich, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Glen, Frank E.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>p.82</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>p.12 - p.13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Name</td>
<td>Location</td>
<td>Page(s)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-------------------------</td>
<td>-----------------------------------</td>
<td>-----------</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goddard, Catharine J. M.*</td>
<td>Peoria, Ill.</td>
<td>p. 58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Goldwater, Nathan</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gormly, Thomas A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gorton, Virginia M.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gould, Caroline Hatch, Miss</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 16 &amp; p. 18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gove, Charles Carroll</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grabenstetter, Catherine, Nagel, Mr.*</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Grant, Archibald J.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graves, Fred Bigelow</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graves, Nathan Reed</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Green, Martha</td>
<td>Canandaigua, N.Y.</td>
<td>p. 97</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Greenfield, Jean Brooks, Mr.*</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gregg, Henry Lester</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gribbroek, Catharine H., Mr.*</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Griffin, Thomas H.</td>
<td>Rochester, Minn.</td>
<td>p. 99</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Haddleton, Joseph</td>
<td>Greece, N.Y.</td>
<td>p. 117</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hadley, Willis C.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hagen, Arthur T.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hall, Lucy A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamilton, Arthur S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamman, Matilda W.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hamman, Sylvester F.</td>
<td>Belgium</td>
<td>p. 87</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hammer, James W.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harding, Bryan</td>
<td>Boston, Mass.</td>
<td>p. 49 &amp; p. 50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Harris, John K.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 44</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hart, Edward P. (Rev.)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hart, Mary, Miss</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 112</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hartman, Charles C.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hatch, Jesse W. Mr.*</td>
<td>France</td>
<td>p. 89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hayden, Charles A.</td>
<td>Avon, N.Y.</td>
<td>p. 129 &amp; 130 &amp; 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Henderson, Josiah R. (Rev.)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Henry, Nellie Fairbanks, Miss</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heusner, Louis D.</td>
<td>Detroit, Mich.</td>
<td>p. 78</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hilbert, Henry J.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hockenos, Roman</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hofeller, Julius</td>
<td>New York, N.Y.</td>
<td>p. 121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hofheinz, Rudolph H. Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoff, Joseph</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Holihan, James</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hone, Mary Curran, Mr.*</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horton, LaVerne L.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 136 &amp; 142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Horton, Maria</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Howe, Marie Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hoyt, William E.</td>
<td>Plainfield, N.J.</td>
<td>p. 47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hunn, Joseph S.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 61</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jacobi, Alexander</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jardine, Gordon (Lieut.)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jefferis, John H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p. 16 &amp; 18</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Jeffreys, Lemuel A. p.52
Jenne, Henry S. p.31
Johnson, Helen Kendrick Mrs. New York, N.Y. p.35
Jones, Edwin A. p.11 & 12
Joslyn, Alvin F. p.102

K

Kaiser, Harold D. Amherst, Mass. p.112
Kaiser, Isaac New York, N.Y. p.78
Kalluschin, Henry p.92
Karl, George p.87
Katz, Abram J. p.82 & 83
Keegan, William A. Dr. p.73
Keenan, John S. p.54
Kellogg, William S. Peoria, Ill. p.23
Kelly, John Raymond Mrs. Peoria, Ill. p.133
Kempshall, Janet Miss p.42
Kenealy, Edward p.60
Kenneally, Scholastika Mrs. p.129
Kirby, Richard p.66
Kirkpatrick, Helen, Mrs. p.86
Kleindienst, Henry p.72
Kleenhans, Anthony p.66
Kleislely, George p.72
Knowles, John (Known as "Denver Buck") p.42

L

Lamphier, Charles A. p.111
Lengknecht, Herman p.85
Lengslow, Louis, Arthur, Gordon p.133
Lazarus, Simon p.101
Leadley, Mary B. Mrs. p.98
Leckinger, Martin p.142
Leiser, Oscar M., Captain New York, N.Y. p.87 & 89
Lenahan, John H. p.102
Levinsky, Moses p.104 & 109
Lippelt, William p.86
Lockhart, Warren, Henry France p.54
Loder, Marie H. Mrs. p.84
Lord, Matthias L. p.21 & 22
Lovelace, Nelson G. p.19
Luescher, Adolph (Rev.) p.109
Luescher, Frederic R. p.25
Luther, John p.53
Lyman, Moses p.36
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Page(s)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>McAllaster, Glenn C.</td>
<td>Batavia, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McAllister, Frank</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MacCallum, John H. Dr.</td>
<td>Pittsford, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGoughran, Henry P.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGuire, Horace</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McGuire, James H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNab, James H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.83</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNab, James H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.43</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNab, Mary Fraser Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNally, Michael Barry</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McIntyre, Patrick</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McKay, Ruby Hunt Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mackaye, Charles E. (Commander)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mackaye, Frances W. Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.46 &amp; 52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McKelvey, Robert J.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McLean, John</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McLean, John</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McLean, Mary Fraser Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McNett, Silas</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>McSweeney, Edward</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mabett, Alonzo, Lorenzo</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mabre, Henry C. Dr.</td>
<td>Northfield, Mass.</td>
<td>p.54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Madden, John L.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Madigan, George A.</td>
<td>Cambridge, Mass.</td>
<td>p.65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Magee, Edmund C.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mann, Frances A. Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marble, Manton</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marsh, Laura E. Mrs.</td>
<td>London, England</td>
<td>p.69</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marshall, Sarah Letitia Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.140</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Martin, Anna Mary</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Martin, Julia Whitney Mrs.</td>
<td>Old Point Comfort, Va.</td>
<td>p.66</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Marx, Emily Vetter Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mason, Charles H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.132 &amp; 133</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Masten, Delecta B.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mathews, Francis W. Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.121</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Maxfield, Florimon D.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mead, Winslow M. Mrs.</td>
<td>Albany, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.47</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Menzner, Edward Victor</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Merriman, Caroline W.</td>
<td>Los Angeles, Cal.</td>
<td>p.98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mertz, Charles F.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.89 &amp; 90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mettler, Cyrus W. Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Meyer, Charles C.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Millard, Alice A., Miss</td>
<td>Geneva, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Florian</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Nicholas, Joseph</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miller, Oliver A.</td>
<td>Brockton, Mass.</td>
<td>p.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mills, William H.</td>
<td>Ottawa, Ont.</td>
<td>p.56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milner, George A.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mitchell, Lewis, Wilson</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mohr, Philip</td>
<td>Dansville, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.109 &amp; 110 &amp; 129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moir, Albert E.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Edward Mott. Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Richard Mott Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.9 &amp; 10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, Robert L.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moore, William V.</td>
<td>Yonkers, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Morehouse, Henry Lyman Dr.  Brooklyn, N.Y.  p.56
Morel, Frank X.  p.43
Morphy, Joseph W.  p.98
Morse, Ashabel B.  p.97
Morse, Belinda Brewster Mrs.  p.124
Morse, Edwin R.  p.141
Munn, Aristine Pixley Mrs.  Gates, N.Y.  p.61
Murphy, Dennis  p.88
Murphy, John M.  p.1 & 3

N

Nagle, May Mrs.  p.35
Neel, George M.  p.65
Neff, May Teresa  p.14
Nellis, Eliza M., Mrs.  p.3
Neville, Thomas J.  p.111
Newman, Robert G.  p.8
Nichols, Margaret D., Mrs.  p.22
Nicholson, Mary E. Mrs.  p.54
Nicol, William B.  p.37
Northrop, Elizabeth V.  Macedon, N.Y.  p.127
Noxon, George  p.110

O

O'Connor, Agnes G. Miss  Washington, D.C.  p.122 & 142
O'Connor, John B.  p.127 & 142
Ogden, Darius, Adams  p.141
O'Hare, Thomas A., Dr.  p.20
O'Kane, John  p.22
O'Loughlin, Francis (Silk)  p.140
O'Neill, William  p.44
Osborne, Paul G.  France  p.62
Osgood, Ami W.  p.24 & 25
Osgoodby, George  p.124
Ostrander, Alvah M.  p.98
Otis, Lyman, Morris  p.30 & 34
Otis, Maria Louise Tracy Mrs.  p.35

P

Pardee, Edwin S.  Palm Beach, Fla.  p.12 & 14
Parker, William J.  p.52
Parsons, Byron, Chamberlain  p.118
Peacock, Oscar H.  p.90
Peck, Amelia S. Hart. Mrs.  p.127
Peluso, Lorenzo  p.1
Perrin, Jennie Mrs.  p.74
Peters, William Rogers  p.81
Phelan, Jeremiah  p.93
Pheney, Mary, Miss  p.122
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Pages</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Pifer, Frank X.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.71 &amp; 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Plumb, Christopher H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Polito, Andrew</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.73</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pollock, James Thomson, (Rev.)</td>
<td>Bridgeport, Conn.</td>
<td>p.55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Post, Jacob Kirby</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Post, Willett E.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prunner, Charles E.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pryor, Henry H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pullen, Charles R. Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.71</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Putnam, Elizabeth A. MrS.</td>
<td>Council Bluffs, Iowa</td>
<td>p.111 &amp; 124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Putnam, John H.</td>
<td>Avoca, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.110</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pyott, Henry H.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.98</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ramsdell, Edward E.</td>
<td>Cleveland, Ohio</td>
<td>p.128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rauscheubusch, Walter, (Prof)</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.113 &amp; 114</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ray, Robert</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reed, George D.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reilly, William Henry</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Remington, Frederick</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rice, Harry, Gibson</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.59</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Richards, Bradford A. Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Riley, Jane Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roberts, Helen Maria, Chase</td>
<td>East Henrietta, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.74</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robeson, Gertrude Schneck, MrS.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robins, Henry E. (Rev.)</td>
<td>Greenfield, Mass.</td>
<td>p.53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robinson, Charles Mulford</td>
<td>Albany, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Robinson, Jane H. Porter MrS.</td>
<td>Albany, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.92 &amp; 101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roby, Sarah Eliza MrS.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.92</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rochester, Elizabeth Lawson MrS.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.13 &amp; 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rodenbeck, Minnie Stofer Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roe, Roland B.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rowland, Frank S. (Rev.)</td>
<td>Battle Creek, Mich.</td>
<td>p.84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rummel, William Morse</td>
<td>Denver, Colo.</td>
<td>p.119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ryan, Michael J.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sabey, George Albert</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.134 &amp; 141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saeger, Carl Edwin</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samson, Hollis Anderson</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samson, William Holland</td>
<td>Lake Mahopac, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.67 &amp; 68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanders, Louise M. Mrs.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.76</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanford, Edward J. Dr.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.31</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sanford, Thornton F.</td>
<td>New York, N.Y.</td>
<td>p.45</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Savard, Louis B.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.89</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sayles, Lizzie McGonegal MrS.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schaffner, Frederick</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schall, Harry M.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Schantz, Elizabeth, MrS.</td>
<td></td>
<td>p.31 &amp; 32</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Schleyer, Gertrude M. Mrs.  Boston, Mass.  p.3 & 16
Schoeffel, John B.  New York, N.Y.  p.140
Schofield, Maria Louise Mrs.  p.77
Schum, Victoria, Miss  p.34
Searle, Ella R. Mrs.  p.139
Seaton, Harriet H. Mrs.  Brockport, N.Y.  p.95
Seebach, August  p.110
Shaw, James J.  p.114
Sheedy, Martin T. ("Capt.")  Montclair, N.J.  p.2
Sheldon, Cora, Elizabeth Mrs.  Spencer, Mass.  p.32
Shippy, Stanley F.  p.117
Sibley, Elizabeth, Conkey  p.14
Simmons, Charles E. Dr.  New York, N.Y.  p.52
Simmons, Sarah, Ruby Gould, Mrs.  New York, N.Y.  p.65
Simpson, Charles H.  Oshawa, Ont.  p.89
Skinner, Samuel  Avon, N.Y.  p.76
Slocum, Earl H.  p.87
Smith, Andrew V.  p.38
Smith, Catharine L. Mrs.  p.110
Smith, F.A. Mrs.  p.121
Smith, John A.  Cleveland, Ohio  p.16
Smith, John P.  p.83 & p.86
Smith, Selleck B.  p.37
Smith, Stuart W.  p.17
Smith, Wilbur F.  p.53
Sornborger, William A.  p.51
Spillings, William C.  p.46
Spinning, James B.  p.3
Squier, Dwight  p.75
Stacy, Orrin T., Dr.  p.142
Starr, George Hills, Colonel  p.121, 122, 123
Stebbins, Henry Hamlin, Rev.  p.33
Stebbins, John Marcus  Oshawa, Ont.  p.68
Stein, Louis N.  West Webster, N.Y.  p.87
Stewart, Sara, Vance, Mrs.  p.12
Stone, William R., Mrs.  p.31
Stuart, Isaac N.  p.117
Sunderlin, Lewis  Van Alstyne, George Albert  p.25
Swett, Joel Bates  Bath, N.Y.  p.107
Sykes, Edwin C.  Chicago, Ill.  p.37

T

Tack, Jacob  p.140
Tallman, Fred M.  p.79
Taylor, Irwin  p.15
Then, Christian D.  p.136
Thomas, Edward L.  Thompson, Florence Seiler, Mrs.  p.37
Thompson, Mary E., Miss  p.20
Thorn, Ellen Cooper  p.56
Tripp, Eleazer Warner  Syracuse, N.Y.  p.55
Tubbs, William Nelson
Van Demark, Willis R. p.109
VanZandt, Llewellyn H. p.93
VanZandt, Mary E., Mrs. p.76
Vermilye, Edward A. Otisville, N.Y. p.81
Vick, Fred W. Barnards, Greece p.18
Vogel, Charles p.24
Vogt, Albrecht p.119

W

Wahl, Martin p.65 & p.107
Walker, William D. (Bishop) p.57 & p.58
Walker, William Hall New York, N.Y. p.84
Wall, Charles W. Albion, N.Y. p.60
Walton, Caroline, Mrs. p.86
Warner, John B.Y. Scottsville, N.Y. p.103
Warren, Elwell O. p.54
Weaver, Simon J. p.58
Webb, W. Edwin p.103
Webster, Charles R. p.5
Weeks, James A. p.31
Wegman, Andrew J. p.17
Weitzel, Adam p.14
Welby, Bertha, Mrs. New York, N.Y. p.40
Wells, A. Travis Brookport, N.Y. p.22
Westbury, David H. p.34
Westervelt, Zenas F. p.95, 96, 97
Wetmore, Louise S., Miss New York, N.Y. p.80
Wheeler, Edward p.76
White, John F. p.69 & p.70
White, Peter W. p.135, 140, 141
White, Thomas E. (Judge) East Orange, N.J. p.66
White, Thomas H. p.61
Whitman, Anna Theresa, Miss Washington, D.C. p.124
Wittlesey, W. Seward p.47
Wilcox, William C. (Professor) Iowa City p.7
Wile, Julius I. p.141
Wilkins, Anna M. C. p.6
Willey, Day, Allen Baltimore, M.D. p.83
William, Clarence Brooklyn, N.Y. p.118
Williams, Forest H. p.7
Williams, Martin p.107
Williams, Charles F. p.103
Wilson, Eva B., Mrs. p.104
Wilson, George F. p.20
Wilson, James M. p.51
Wilson, Samuel A. Pittsford, N.Y. p.139
Wolff, Abraham B. p.96
Wolter, Frederick T. p.83
Woodward, Henry V. Greece, N.Y. p.102
Woodward, Henry V. Charlotte, N.Y. p.95
Wright, Ansel E. Webster, N.Y. p.23
Wright, Jennie A.T., Mrs. p.15
Wright, Richard p.83

Y

Young, Frederick M. p.114
DEATH CLAIMS

JUDGE MURPHY

POST - 7/13/1916

END OF LONG ILLNESS COMES ON SUNDAY.

ON BENCH TWENTY-ONE YEARS

Was an Exponent of the Irish Cause - Noted for His Fair and Able Decisions.

John M. Murphy, who for more than a score of years occupied the Monroe County court bench in this city, and who was one of the most widely known attorneys in this part of the state, died yesterday morning at his home, 325 Plymouth Avenue South, aged 57 years. He had been ill more than a year and several times had been at the point of death. Yesterday morning shortly before 4 o'clock, with his family about him, he received the last rites of the church from Rev. Edward J. Lynch, of Immaculate Conception church, and died shortly afterwards. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

For a time Judge Murphy was first seated with his last illness he showed a decided improvement in health and was able to return to the bench for a short time in April. Another attack later again confined him to his bed. A few weeks ago he was well enough to be taken to his summer home at Alaths, Point on Consew lake, but after a sudden relapse he was brought to his home in this city.

Judge Murphy was born in Lima, N. Y., March 24, 1860, the son of John J. and Mary Murphy, early settlers of that village. After being graduated from the public schools of Lima he entered St. Hyacinth seminary, Quebec, intending to study for the priesthood. Later he decided to study law and entered the Genesan Westman seminary, Lima. In 1880 he came to Rochester and entered the employ of Burke, Pitts, Simons, Hone & Co. Shortly after he entered the office of D. C. Pecky, in the Powers building, where

Funeral of Judge Murphy to-morrow

Post - 7/14/1916

High Mass at 10 in Immaculate Conception Church.

Lawyers Mourn His Death

Bar Association Adopts Minute and Appointments at Meeting in Court House.

The funeral of Judge John M. Murphy, for more than twenty years a judge of the Monroe County court, who died Sunday at his home, 325 Plymouth Avenue South, after a long illness, will take place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the house and from Immaculate Conception Church.

The funeral of Judge John M. Murphy will be conducted by the Rochester Bar association, at a meeting at noon to-day in the Court house, adopted a minute on the death of Judge Murphy as follows:

With respect, we learn of the death of Judge John M. Murphy, cut off in the prime of his life, of his time in Rochester in the Nineteenth ward.

Although through many months we had known that his life was wavering in the balance, that he was suffering the tortures of disease with the fortitude of a martyr, and fighting against it with the patient courage of a hopeful nature, yet the announcement of the end finds us unprepared for the sad reality and overwhelmed by a sense of personal loss.

We have lost Judge Murphy. We have lost him from the bench where for twenty years his dignity commanded our respect, his learning won our admiration, his integrity inspired our confidence and his love of fair play was a constant call for chivalrous action.

We have lost him from that social life in which to know him was to love him, where his kindly charity was as forceful as his genial wit was brilliant, where his broad information and grace of diction made him the natural center of the social circle from which radiated wisdom, wit and genial pointed satire, at will.

He is lost to that family to which he was devoted as inestimably as their love we cannot speak. We can but assure them of our sympathy and that they have our sorrow.

He was an able, honest, manly man.

We loved him living. We mourn his death.

These committees were appointed to attend the funeral: William E. Levin, E. J. Huyer, Lorenzo Peluso, Harvey Remington, Frank Hon, Philip Donnelly, Charles Calhan, Joseph Mclean, George R. Carnahan.

Committee on resolutions: Hon. John D. Lynn, chairman; Richard E. White, Joseph Fesley, Frederick L. Ditchey, John J. Mcnearney.

The Rochester Bar association, at a meeting at noon to-day in the Court house, adopted a minute on the death of Judge Murphy as follows:

With respect, we learn of the death of Judge John M. Murphy, cut off in the prime of his life.

Although through many months we had known that his life was wavering in the balance, that he was suffering the tortures of disease with the fortitude of a martyr, and fighting against it with the patient courage of a hopeful nature, yet the announcement of the end finds us unprepared for the sad reality and overwhelmed by a sense of personal loss.

We have lost Judge Murphy. We have lost him from the bench where for twenty years his dignity commanded our respect, his learning won our admiration, his integrity inspired our confidence and his love of fair play was a constant call for chivalrous action.

We have lost him from that social life in which to know him was to love him, where his kindly charity was as forceful as his genial wit was brilliant, where his broad information and grace of diction made him the natural center of the social circle from which radiated wisdom, wit and genial pointed satire, at will.

He is lost to that family to which he was devoted as inestimably as their love we cannot speak. We can but assure them of our sympathy and that they have our sorrow.

He was an able, honest, manly man.

We loved him living. We mourn his death.

These committees were appointed to attend the funeral: William E. Levin, E. J. Huyer, Lorenzo Peluso, Harvey Remington, Frank Hon, Philip Donnelly, Charles Calhan, Joseph Mclean, George R. Carnahan.

Committee on resolutions: Hon. John D. Lynn, chairman; Richard E. White, Joseph Fesley, Frederick L. Ditchey, John J. Mcnearney.

The Rochester Bar association, at a meeting at noon to-day in the Court house, adopted a minute on the death of Judge Murphy as follows:

With respect, we learn of the death of Judge John M. Murphy, cut off in the prime of his life.

Although through many months we had known that his life was wavering in the balance, that he was suffering the tortures of disease with the fortitude of a martyr, and fighting against it with the patient courage of a hopeful nature, yet the announcement of the end finds us unprepared for the sad reality and overwhelmed by a sense of personal loss.

We have lost Judge Murphy. We have lost him from the bench where for twenty years his dignity commanded our respect, his learning won our admiration, his integrity inspired our confidence and his love of fair play was a constant call for chivalrous action.

We have lost him from that social life in which to know him was to love him, where his kindly charity was as forceful as his genial wit was brilliant, where his broad information and grace of diction made him the natural center of the social circle from which radiated wisdom, wit and genial pointed satire, at will.

He is lost to that family to which he was devoted as inestimably as their love we cannot speak. We can but assure them of our sympathy and that they have our sorrow.

He was an able, honest, manly man.

We loved him living. We mourn his death.

These committees were appointed to attend the funeral: William E. Levin, E. J. Huyer, Lorenzo Peluso, Harvey Remington, Frank Hon, Philip Donnelly, Charles Calhan, Joseph Mclean, George R. Carnahan.

Committee on resolutions: Hon. John D. Lynn, chairman; Richard E. White, Joseph Fesley, Frederick L. Ditchey, John J. Mcnearney.
Historic Scrapbooks Collection

In 1875 he Propagated the Peter Henderson Tree Carnival—Expert on Fuchsias.

Horticulturist of Repute

In 1875 Mr. Charlton resolved to make his name in horticulture by introducing into this variety marked an epoch in the history of the carnation. He also introduced to the public the exclusive introduction of this golden prolific hosebery. He helped to introduce the James Vick strawflower. He was the first to grow hardy geraniums for market and was well known as an expert in raising carnations, peonies, and flowering shrubs.

Dean of Engineers

was the editor of the Bernard Press. He died in his 67th year on June 26. In that letter he told his wife that his former employer, the estate agent, had transferred to the 19th Century. He considered it a miracle that he and a dozen more escaped alive from the terrible slaughter and then added, "But I don't think we will escape again."

The body of Sheedy, who died in St. Mary's Hospital last Friday, lay in the undertaker's parlour. Those who spoke of his life yesterday had not waited until death claimed "Cap" before beginning to heap words on him either. "There wasn't a man on the road that he ever met or worked with that didn't like him," was the eulogy of a foreman...a man who had worked on the same engine with the aged engineer.

The 'Cap' worked on the Central as a call boy while the Civil War was being fought. He was one railroad man to another until he became known as one of the most trusted engineers in the Fatherline branches. Many men who are now guiding fast limited trains across the state were trained under Sheedy.

Sheedy was 72 years old. Illness made him leave his work four years ago. He was a bachelor and lived on North Street.

MRS. MARY CLEARY

Was Resident of Wayne County for Over Half Century Before Coming Here.

Mrs. Mary Cleary died Sunday evening at her home, 351 Albright street, leaving four daughters, Mary A. and Helen A. Cleary of New York City, Nora and Julia C. Cleary of Rochester; two sons, Michael F. and Edward L. Cleary of Rochester; two sisters, Mrs. Henry C. Moon of Clyde, N. Y., and Catherine Kavanagh of Rochester.

Mrs. Cleary was born in the parish of Clonmeen, County Kerry, Ireland, her parents being Michael Kavanagh and Honore Fitzgerald. Her maternal ancestors were of the Harwood family, who, from the earliest days of Irish history, have been farmers in County Kerry. After coming to America the married Maurice Cleary of Clyde, N. Y., a native of the parish of Hyth, County Cork, Ireland, who died in the year 1890 at Clyde. In addition to the above survivors there were three other children of this marriage, two boys and one girl, namely: Maria, 22; John C., a physician and surgeon, formerly of Rochester, and who died at Fort Chester, N. Y., in the year 1866; Maurice Cleary, son of John Cleary and Mary Fitzgerald; thus both he and his wife were descendants of the Fitzgeralds of Ireland, the first of whom was Gerald Fitzgerald, who came from England; then the Strongbow's generals, when the latter was rent with an army to conquer Ireland by Henry the Second. In the twelfth century. The family of Gerald Fitzgerald is one of those frequently mentioned by historians as having become "More Irish than the Irish themselves."

For over fifty years Mrs. Cleary lived in the village of Clyde, and its neatly town of Rose, both of Wayne county, N. Y. For the whole of the above period, first her husband, then her eldest child and so on to the youngest, she saw taking part in the activities and filling the responsibilities of the leading citizens of the small village. The husband of the young woman, upon his becoming an American citizen, was to affiliate himself with the Republican party and at the time when most people believed that if an Irishman was not a Democrat he was not an Irishman at all. In those days there was only one other Irish Republican in the village of Clyde. What both husband and wife were doing in this way to cement their married life, and what they attained, was an education for their children. For in the parents' childhood in Ireland the only schools known were "Hogger schools" where the teachers were nuns, nuns instructing the little children. It was not until about the year 1840 that Irish schoolmasters were permitted to teach in the public schools of Ireland.

Rain and Snow in Mountains.

It rains all the time, and is very cold. How we have become fond of a long and tiresome story. I would like to hear from you. I received a letter from sister, and it made me feel rather discouraged. I am moving to my lodgings in the heart of the city. I am alone, and I am alone in my greatest desire after this war, and I am not discouraged. Mr. Peluso is still with me. How many pages I could write, and what real stories I would like to tell if the censor would permit!"" Lorenczo closes with a pathetic touch regarding his two little boys—one called "Dante"—whom he has heard of as "little man." The news from his family in Italy intensified his desire more than ever to live long enough to see his brothers and sisters in Italy, a brother, Dr. Francesco Peluso and a sister, Miss Julia Peluso of Rochester. Lorenczo was 21 years of age.

Bombs Austrian Fort.

Numerous letters from Lorenczo recently given the Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County were published in the "Bombard Austrian Fort." In 1910, the letters show that Peluso expected to be killed on account of this Austrian hostilities. He was in the bombardment of the Austrian fort at Lucrano. He said the Italian 150-millimeter gun was making terrible havoc. It could throw a shell weighing 500 pounds. The pressure of the shot against the shell, striking the fortress, was equal to 150,000 pounds. While Lorenczo was writing the letter bombarding was going on, he wrote rather grimly. "This is to make sure that, if continued, will destroy the work."" June 5 Dr. Peluso received a postal card from Lorenczo, who was then taking part in the terrible fighting in the "Trentino" when the Italians made the great drive of the Ausrians, later taking the offensive themselves. Lorenczo wrote in part:

John Charlton, 29, one of the most prominent nurserymen in Western New York and a horticulturist of national reputation, died yesterday at his home, 829 Culver road, after an illness of several months. He leaves his wife, Sarah Charlton, two sons, John A. and Joseph M. Charlton, two daughters, Mrs. W. B. Kerr and Margaret Charlton, and three grandchildren. The funeral will take place from the house at 11:10 o'clock to-morrow.
FUNERAL OF MRS.
CLEARY TO-DAY

MRS. MARY CLEARY, to-day, at her home, 224 Alhemar street, took place this morning at 10:30 o'clock from Sacred Heart Church of Rev. Fr. V. Burns, rector, celebrated the solemn high mass of requiem, assisted by Rev. J. F. Farrell, of Lima, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. V. Burns, subdeacon. The bearers were Arthur O'Leary, James B. Heveran, Michael W. Powers, James H. W. Lyhet and Charles F. Reck of Rochester, and John Sheehan, of Clyde. Interment was made in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

Mrs. Cleary was born in the parish of Clonan, County Kerry, Ireland, her parents being Michael Kavanagh and Mary Fitzgerald, and her ter-itional ancestors were of the Harwood family, who, from the earliest days of Irish history, have been prominent in the county of Kerry. After coming to America she married Maurice Cleary of Clyde, a native of the parish of Ballybrack, County Cork, Ireland, who died in 1856 at Clyde.

Maurice Cleary was a son of John Cleary of Limerick, Ireland, and Mary Fitzgerald, and both he and his wife were descendants of the Fitzgeralds of Ireland, the first of whom was Brendan Fitzgerald, who came from Ireland as one of Strongbow's generals when the latter was sent over by his associate to conquer Ireland. The second in the twelfth century. The family of Gerald Fitzgerald is one of the oldest in Ireland, and the present Fitzgeralds are recognized by the ortonarians as having become “more Irish than the Irish themselves.” For more than fifty years Mrs. Cleary lived in the village of Clyde, and her nearby town of Ross, both of Wayne county, New York.

She was almost the last of those Irish pioneers who settled in eastern Wayne county in the middle of the last century. Like many of her contemporaries, she was always interested in works of charity and benevolence. One of the first acts of the Americanization societies, for the purpose of converting the Irish citizen, was to affiliate itself with the republican party, and at the time when her son, John, entered the army, it was thought that if an Irishman was not a democrat he was not an Irishman at all. In those days there was only one other Irish republican in the village of Clyde.

Both husband and wife sought in the early days of their married life, and what they attained, was an education for their children, for in the partons’ childhood in Ireland, the only schools known to them were the “National schools,” where the teacher went about the highways and hedges instructing the children. This was not the case about the year 1840 that Irish schoolchildren began to attend the public schools of Ireland.

With all her fatigue, her one great desire was to see again the beautiful home above the garden, a wish that was fulfilled. Home and her family were ever uppermost in her mind.

She leaves four children, Mary A. and Helen A. Cleary, of Rochester, and Nora and Julia C. Cleary of Rochest, the latter being the oldest, and Edward L. Cleary, of Rochester; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Moore and Catherine Kavanagh of Rochester. In addition to the above named there were two other children of this mar-ting, Miss James Cleary, in her early youth, and John Cleary, a phynician of Johnstown, New York, who died at Port Chester, in 1869.

WILLIAM V. MOORE

Death of Traveling Auditor of Bausch & Lomb Optical Company

William V. Moore, of New York, the noted Bausch & Lomb Optical Company, died this morning at his home, 413 Alexander St., aged 67 years, of cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Moore was born in New York city on October 20, 1862. He was educated in the public schools and high school in New York. Upon graduation he entered the Optical Business, and was an assistant in a French concern at their American branch in Malden, Mass. In 1889 Mr. Moore married Miss May B. Schubart, of this city. The ceremony was performed in Rochester, and thus Mr. and Mrs. Moore went to New York city to live.

In 1875 Mr. Moore received an offer from the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company, which he accepted. Mr. Moore then moved to Rochester. At first he had charge of sales, but later became traveling auditor. The business carried him to all parts of the country. He was a keen observer and picked up many anecdotes, which his friends used to delight in hearing him tell. Besides his wife, he leaves a son, Vincent S. Moore, and two daughters, Misses A. and M. Moore.

Mr. Moore was a member of the Knights of Columbus, and other organizations to which Judge Murphy belonged composed an exective to the funeral procession at both the home and church.

The mass and in attendance was sung by Mr. Frank Moore, Robert Hall, Angelo Newman and Dennis Kavanagh.

A. Hughes, of Holy Rosary Church, acting as master of ceremonies. At the blessing of the body, following the mass, Thomas F. Hickey was a pall-

The active bearers were Chief of Police Joseph M. Quigley, William J. Mack, James B. Heveran, Patrick St.

Mrs. Moore enters Antietam, Major General Lee's forces for two days. There he marched to Rochester, and there Mrs. Moore went to New York city to live.

In 1889 Mr. Moore received an offer from the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company, which he accepted. Mr. Moore then moved to Rochester. At first he had charge of sales, but later became traveling auditor. The business carried him to all parts of the country. He was a keen observer and picked up many anecdotes, which his friends used to delight in hearing him tell. besides his wife, he leaves a son, Vincent S. Moore, and two daughters, Misses A. and M. Moore.

Mr. Moore was a member of the Knights of Columbus, and other organizations to which Judge Murphy belonged composed an exective to the funeral procession at both the home and church.

The mass and in attendance was sung by Mr. Frank Moore, Robert Hall, Angelo Newman and Dennis Kavanagh.

A. Hughes, of Holy Rosary Church, acting as master of ceremonies. At the blessing of the body, following the mass, Thomas F. Hickey was a pall-

The active bearers were Chief of Police Joseph M. Quigley, William J. Mack, James B. Heveran, Patrick St.

Mrs. Moore enters Antietam, Major General Lee's forces for two days. There he marched to Rochester, and there Mrs. Moore went to New York city to live.

In 1889 Mr. Moore received an offer from the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company, which he accepted. Mr. Moore then moved to Rochester. At first he had charge of sales, but later became traveling auditor. The business carried him to all parts of the country. He was a keen observer and picked up many anecdotes, which his friends used to delight in hearing him tell. besides his wife, he leaves a son, Vincent S. Moore, and two daughters, Misses A. and M. Moore.

Mr. Moore was a member of the Knights of Columbus, and other organizations to which Judge Murphy belonged composed an exective to the funeral procession at both the home and church.

The mass and in attendance was sung by Mr. Frank Moore, Robert Hall, Angelo Newman and Dennis Kavanagh.

A. Hughes, of Holy Rosary Church, acting as master of ceremonies. At the blessing of the body, following the mass, Thomas F. Hickey was a pall-

The active bearers were Chief of Police Joseph M. Quigley, William J. Mack, James B. Heveran, Patrick St.
DEATH DUE TO HEART TROUBLE

Howard A. Barrows was apparently in Good Health Yesterday.

President of McFarlin Company. School Commissioner Since 1911.

The death of Howard A. Barrows, president of the town of Batavia, was a shock to the business world of Rochester. Barrows was associated with McFarlin Clothing Company in the business circles. He was a member of the Genesee Valley Club, Masonic Club, Fencers Club, Toseco Yacht Club. He was a member of Valley Lodge, F. and A. M., of which Mr. Downey was a member.

Barrows was born at Le Roy on August 10, 1855, removing when a boy with his parents to Batavia. In 1878 he came to Rochester and was employed as mailing clerk by the Union and Advertiser Company, being promoted later to the position of head bookkeeper. From Rochester he went to Indianapolis, where he took a similar position on the Sentinel, coming back to Rochester a little later.

He then entered the office of Wile, Stern & Company, becoming a sales man, and later continued as salesman with the Adler & Company. This was in 1886, and 10 years later he was admitted to membership in the firm, and continued as a director to the time of his death.

In 1910 Mr. Barrows bought the McFarlin Clothing Company, manufacturing clothes.

SAVINGS BANK WORK IN SCHOOLS OF CITY TO BE NAMED AFTER ITS FOUNDER LATE HOWARD A. BARRROWS

Howard A. Barrows was one of the most successful and well-known business men of the city. He came to Rochester when a mere lad and helped his father in the building of his own concern.

In honor of the man who founded the school, the late Howard A. Barrows, the savings bank work in the public schools of Rochester hereafter will be designated as the Barrows Savings Bank Plan. A resolution to that effect was adopted yesterday at a special meeting of the Board of Education, called to take action on the death of Mr. Barrows, who had been a member of the board. The resolution follows:

On Friday, August 9, 1911, near midnight, Howard A. Barrows died, but a few hours before, he counseled with the committee members suggested that the Board meet at noon to-day to award certain contracts. We are met at noon, but only to record our great loss and to commiserate with his family, a sympathy that is quickened by the sorrow that is ours.

He loved of children, his interest in their development was fostered by the establishment of the Barrows Savings Bank Plan, and his great concern for the welfare of the Rochester children. For nearly five years, he had worked industriously and intelligently for the children better school facilities, and it is only fitting that we should express our regret at the untimely death of our esteemed citizen.

Mr. Barrows, who was Miss Anna Rigley, died in March. Five children survive him. Mr. Barrows was a director of the Central Bank of Rochester, a position which he held for many years. He was a communicant of Christ Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Downey said that at the sudden death of Mr. Barrows, which had come so unexpectedly, all Mr. Barrows' friends and Mayor Edgerton were close personal friends and Miss Rigley had many interests in common.

Mr. Barrows was one of the last of the old and had moved to East Avenue, where he lived with his wife in March. Barrows had been in business there for many years. He was a great man, and the loss of his death is a great loss. In memory of his life, we will work to build up a lasting monument to his memory.

The Barrows Savings Bank Plan, established in 1910, was a wonderful success, and we will continue to work for the betterment of the Rochester schools.

In conclusion, we extend our sympathy to the family of Mr. Barrows, and we wish to express our appreciation of the work he has done for the Rochester schools, and we will continue to work for the betterment of the schools of this city.

Howard A. Barrows was born in Le Roy on August 10, 1855, removing when a boy with his parents to Batavia. In 1878 he came to Rochester and was employed as mailing clerk by the Union and Advertiser Company, being promoted later to the position of head bookkeeper. From Rochester he went to Indianapolis, where he took a similar position on the Sentinel, coming back to Rochester a little later.

He then entered the office of Wile, Stern & Company, becoming a salesman, and later continued as salesman with the Adler & Company. This was in 1886, and 10 years later he was admitted to membership in the firm, and continued as a director to the time of his death.

In 1910 Mr. Barrows bought the McFarlin Clothing Company, manufacturing clothes.
HEAD OF GOSPEL WORKERS FALLS DEAD AT HOME

Bishop Newton L. A. Eastman, head of the Rochester branch of the Gospel Workers of America, fell dead last evening at his boarding home at 94 Jefferson Avenue. Bishop Eastman preached two services yesterday and after his evening service went to his home. He had scarcely entered the house when he fell dead. His wife was with him in the house at the time. Bishop Eastman had been connected with the Gospel Workers of America, which has a chapel at 17 Andrews Street, for the last 23 years of his life. It was he who founded the organization at Elgin, Ill., in 1834, and he had been an ardent worker in the body ever since.

Although Bishop Eastman had been ill for the last two weeks it was thought by his family that he was simply worn out by the extreme heat. Yesterday he fell much stronger, he said, and was well enough to preach a stirring sermon in the evening. The text of his sermon was “For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?” taken from Mark viii:36.

Heart Trouble Causes Death.

When the bishop fell, his wife called in Dr. Valence A. Wickens of 857 Main Street West, who pronounced the man dead and said that he had died from heart trouble. Bishop Eastman leaves a wife, a daughter, Mrs. W. L. Baker of 231 Plymouth Avenue South; a son, Paul L. Eastman of 249 Exchange Street; three brothers, Rev. Eastman of Bear Creek, Pa., and Urson and Bertram Eastman of South Dakota, and a sister, Mrs. Martha Rice of the Severance of South Fayette, N. Y. The funeral will take place from the home in Jefferson Avenue at 3 o’clock on Wednesday afternoon.

Bishop Eastman was born in Fortville, N. Y., in 1835, and he lived there until he had finished the work of the law. He moved to Altoona, Pa., where his father, Rev. Eastman, was pastor.

Historic Scrapbooks Collection

J. DE WITT BUTTS TAKEN BY DEATH

Succumbs at His Home After Brief Illness.

ROCHESTER NATIVE CITY

Family Name, Intrinsically Connected with History of Rochester, Fasses With His Death — Son of Isaac Butts, Man of Affairs in His Day

John DeWitt Butts died yesterday afternoon at his home in the West End, aged 67 years. He was born in Rochester on January 21, 1836. Here he received his education, and he was the exception of time spent abroad in this and other countries, his life was spent here.

Butts was greatly interested in his native city and its development. Mr. Butts’ activities were to a large extent connected with the development of Rochester. He had an extensive knowledge of community affairs and was particularly interested in the educational and charitable organizations of the city. He was a member of the Grammar School Board, and was associated with many philanthropic and charitable organizations.

The funeral will be held from his residence, East Avenue, Brighton, at 2 o’clock on Wednesday afternoon. Friends are invited to attend. The burial will be private.
The body was lying on its back and under a wire fence with both hands in front of it. One barrel of which had been discharged, was lying under his body. It is believed that Mr. Hayden attempted to crawl through the fence and dodge the gun after him, and that the gun caught in the fence and was discharged. The entire back of his head and one eye were blown away by the charge. Help was summoned and the body removed to the house. Coroner Preston was called and an inquest was ordered.

Mr. Hayden leaves his wife and daughter, Miss Frances Hayden. He had been married about twenty years ago. About twenty-two years ago he purchased a tract of land in Genesee county, and in Genesee county rode into one of the most beautiful country estates in the Genesee valley. About twenty years ago, Mr. Hayden returned to the Immaculate Conception Church, and other churches he attended the services, attending their respect to the memory of the deceased. He had borne a long illness with fortitude and due resignation. Somnolent requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Leo McErlane of Cohocton, N.Y., a cousin of the deceased, assisted by Rev. Raymond Quigley of St. Monica. Mr. Hayden was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hayden of Cohocton, N.Y., the cathedral, as sub-deacon. Rev. Leo V. Smith, of Blessed Sacrament Church, officiated at the interment. Interment was made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mrs. Wilkin was born in Rochester and spent her life here. For more than a quarter of a century Mrs. Wilkin was prominent in church and charitable work, having been a member of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, and of the Immaculate Conception Convent of Rochester. When St. Ann's House was first projected by the Catholic clergy and laity of the diocese, Mrs. Wilkin took an active part in the work of raising the money for the enterprise, and after the church was completed, she maintained a constant and active interest in the welfare and comfort of the inmates. Mrs. Wilkin was also identified with several organizations having for their purpose the support of hospitals and caring for the sick.

Besides a brother, Mrs. Wilkin leaves a sister, Mrs. Rufus K. Dryer, of Geneva, N.Y.
He was never married. He was a good son, a good brother and a faithful friend. The bar regrets his death, extends its sympathy to his bereaved sister and places upon record this tribute to his memory. A committee to attend the funeral is composed of the following named: D. D. Sulley, Horace G. Pierce, Henry R. Gyun, George F. Van Arsdale, John L. Wilcox, Patrick Gately, James L. Whitely, H. Bradley Carroll and Sherman Robinson.

LAST CALL SENT TO OLD SOLDIER

Forest H. Williams Died at Age of 77 Years

ACTIVE IN CITY'S AFFAIRS

Veteran Served in 101st Regiment and Was Wounded at Fredericksburg—Alderman of Twelfth Ward

Mr. Williams leaves his wife and two children, Walter B. and Anna May Williams; three grandchildren, Alexander and Forest Blyton and Laurence Williams; and a brother, Charles R. Williams, at Princeton, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have two children: two in infancy and Mrs. Lulu Williams Blanton, of Indianapolis, who died fourteen years ago.

DEATH OF PROF. WM. G. WILCOX

Times, Oct. 1-1916
Brother of Principal of East High School Passes Away at Iowa City, Iowa.

PROFESSOR W. G. WILCOX

A Graduate of U. of R., '88, and Dean of Iowa College of Liberal Arts.

Professor William Craig Wilcox, a former Rochestarian, and brother of Principal Albert H. Wilcox of East High School, died at Iowa City, yesterday afternoon.

Professor Wilcox was graduated from the University of Rochester in the Class of 1888. Three years ago on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of the class he was honored by his classmates. He entered college the idea of making teaching a profession and during his course took high rank in scholarship. Immediately after graduation he was engaged in teaching at Mt. Beacon Academy, Fishkill, and at Pleasant Academy at Sing Sing. He was a Fellow in Political Science in Chicago University, 1897-1899, from which institution he went to the State University of Iowa as professor of history. For the last seven years he served as dean of the College of Liberal Arts of that institution. Professor Wilcox, in addition to his work in the State University, was well known throughout the Middle West as a lecturer on historical subjects.

Three years ago this month Prof. Wilcox was in Rochester in attendance at the fourteenth anniversary of the Delta Upsilon fraternity, and served as hostmaster at the dinner at Hotel Sencen. One of the speakers on that occasion was Hon. Sereno E. Payne, who has since died.

In the Class of 1888 at the University of Rochester there were four men in the Delta Upsilon delegation. Prof. Wilcox makes the third among the four within the last year, the other two being Prof. Walter Betteridge, of the Rochester Theological Seminary, and Dr. Samuel Max Brickner, of New York.

Two years ago Prof. Wilcox underwent a very delicate operation at Mayo Hospital in Rochester, Minn. His death was due to a recurrence of his operation. It had been known for several weeks that such a termination was inevitable. He was 49 years of age. Prof. Wilcox is survived by his wife and one son, who is a student at the State University of Iowa, his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wilcox, of Batavia, and his brother in this city. The funeral takes place tomorrow in Iowa City.
Robert Ray, known to the traveling public throughout the nation because of his 64 years as Rochester agent of the Pullman Sleeping Car Company, died last night in the Hahnenberg Hospital, aged 60 years. Death followed injuries received in an automobile accident in which Mr. Ray was struck by an automobile. Mr. Ray was the oldest living railroad man in Rochester.

It was while crossing the street in the vicinity of his home at 415 Central Avenue on the afternoon of July 19 that Mr. Ray was struck by an automobile and seriously injured. He was immediately removed to the Hahnenberg Hospital.

Investigation at the hospital revealed the fact that Mr. Ray had suffered injuries of an unusual nature, an incarceration of the right eye. His injuries were not considered serious, and it was believed he would recover. His advanced years, however, were against him, and he failed steadily until death came.

Robert Ray was born in Ramsey, Canada, on May 19, 1826, and came to Rochester with his parents in 1832. He attended the public schools and was 16 years old and then entered the car-fitting factory of Kerr & Cunningham contributing to the family's trade.

On May 1, 1859, he obtained employment with the Auburn & Rochester Railroad, the pioneer road which was later consolidated and made part of the New York Central system. Thus began a career that was unique in the history of railroad operations in this country. Not until recently did he retire from active and daily service, and he remained in the employ of the company until his death. He seldom fell, even in his later years, to devote some time and attention to the railroad business after he had ceased to have personal responsibility.

Railroading as He Knew It

Mr. Ray's connection with the road began approximately with the entrance of the Auburn road into Rochester, and he enjoyed for many years the distinction of being the oldest employe of the New York Central system, and the last survivor of the residents of Rochester who assisted in the initial management of the road in this city. He was fond of telling his railroad stories.

His first duties were to make up the passenger and freight trains. There was no switching engine in those days, and Mr. Ray was accustomed to use a horse to draw the cars from one part of the station to another. He was among the first to take a ghost train, and he was one of the last to witness the erection of the station on its present site on Central Avenue.

Mr. Ray's railroad reached back in time to the days of the strap rails and the strap road, and it is interesting to note the resemblance to the present heavy steel rail in present use. He worked and saw the first few miles of track built on the line between Mill Street and the river. Later he saw the station near the junction of the Auburn & Central Avenue and Mill streets erected, and still later he witnessed the creation of the station on its present site on Central Avenue.

A Pioneer in Railroading

When Mr. Ray began railroading the first Central station was standing by itself, and he was one of the earliest residents of the city, and the last to be consulted with him regarding time schedules whenever they planned to make an extended trip through the country and he was an encyclopedia of railroad information.

ROBERT RAY.

Robert Ray, a native of Ramsey, Canada, arrived in Rochester in 1832 with his parents. He was employed by the Auburn & Rochester Railroad in 1859. He witnessed the erection of the first station and remained with the company until his death.

Mrs. Homer Pulver of Webster and Sarah W. Newman and Mrs. Mary G. Dalbey of this city; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Attridge; a nephew and eighteen grandchildren.
Dr. Richard Mott Moore, 59, one of the most prominent physicians in Rochester, who has lived throughout the country as an educator and writer on the subject of medicine, died last night at 11:45 o'clock at his home, 74 South Pulteney street, after an illness of several months. Death was due to a general breakdown.

Several years ago an apparently trivial accident to his right leg proved to be the beginning of a disablement that at length necessitated amputation.

Dr. Moore was taken ill in February but recovered sufficiently to again take up his practice in June. Shortly afterward he suffered a relapse from which he failed to rally. His decline was slow and he retained his faculties.

Dr. Moore was the son of Dr. Edward Mott Moore, one of the most famous surgeons of his time, and Lucy Prescott Moore, of Vermont. He was born in Rochester November 23, 1856, one of the eight children of the family, Mary Pettis Moore, Edward Mott Moore, Lindley Murray Moore, Susan Prescott Moore, Abigail Madge Moore, Frederick Pettis Moore and Charlotte Lucy Moore.

He entered the Albany Medical College in 1876.

His father was born in Roh WAY, N. Y., January 15, 1826, a son of Quaker and French Huguenot families. Dr. Edward Mott Moore came to Rochester in 1865 with his parents in 1850 and became one of the most prominent men in the development of the city as a center for medical education and medical practice. He was a president of the board of health, one of the founders of the Surgical Association of the United States, and a trustee of the University of Rochester.

Mr. Moore received his early education in the schools of this city and attended for a time the University of Rochester. Later he entered the University of Buffalo, where his father was then professor of surgery, and was graduated from the school of medicine in 1876.

After a special course of study in the Albany Medical college he entered the practice of medicine in this city and at the same time lectured on medicine in the University of Buffalo May 3, 1883. He was married to Miss Caroline Jennings, of this city.

Dr. Moore was a member of the Rochester Medical Society, Monroe County Medical Association, the New York State Medical Society; American Medical Association, the Rochester Medical Society; he was a former president of the Rochester Academy of Medicine; a visiting physician to the Rochester General hospital; a former member of the old Rochester Board of Health; a visiting physician to the Infant's Summer hospital; a former president of the Medical Milk commission of Monroe county, and charter member of the Rochester Academy of Science. He was a member of the Academy of Science, was one of the most active contributors to the work of the Rochester Medical Society, and at the weekly meetings of the department often lectured on the peculiarities of bugs and their lives. His collection of insects, and those he had given for the purpose of study, were considered of great value.

He enjoyed at the time of his death one of the largest medical practices in Rochester and, in addition to this work, was interested in all movements for the benefit of humanity that took place in the city and locality. Because of his large practice he was unable to devote much time to other work but his interest and influence were felt in many activities.

“His kindness, sympathy and robust physique enabled Dr. Moore to go for days and nights without sleep and carried him through the hardest kind of work,” said Dr. George W. Goger, city health officer, this morning. His patients were always his friends, and I doubt that any other physician in Rochester ever enjoyed such confidence as he did.

“He suffered from all ills of life and, no matter how poor or humble the person was who sought his aid, or he would never turned away unanswered. The medical profession has lost one of its most tireless workers, and the death of Dr. Moore undoubtedly will be mourned by many.”

Dr. Moore leaves his wife, Mrs. Caroline Jennings Moore, a daughter, Emma Moore, 24, three brothers and a sister.

An autopsy performed this morning revealed the direct cause of death as heart and arterial disease and an affection of the chest.

Dr. Richard Mott Moore.
PHYSICIANS PAY TRIBUTE TO LATE DR. RICHARD MOORE

Resolutions of Regret Are Adopted by Joint Meeting of Several Local Societies

Resolutions of regret on the death of Dr. Richard Mott Moore, who died Wednesday night at his home, 74 South Pittsbugh street, after a long illness, were adopted this morning at a joint meeting of the Monroe County Medical society; the Academy of Medicine, the Rochester Medical association, the Pathological society and the Hospital Medical society.

"Whereas, Richard Mott Moore, for more than thirty-five years an active practitioner of medicine in the city of Rochester, and for nearly the whole of that time a member in the capacity of medical societies or a charter member of at least two of the above societies of medicine, has left to the profession a model of uprightness and ability, it is proper that the members of these societies assemble now at this time to voice their appreciation of the life and work of Richard Mott Moore as a model of uprightness and ability.

"Whereas, the Monroe County Medical society, the Academy of Medicine and the Hospital Medical society are now assembled in respect of the passing of one of their members, and as representatives of the profession, are it is fit and right to express their admiration of the death of Richard Mott Moore, whom they have known as a physician and a man. As a physician among physicians we wish to testify to the eloquence of his character and his kindness, perseverance, unselfishness were the dominant traits of his character in all his dealings with patients, and he gave to his fellow men a solace in the hour of need, and comfort and ease which his presence brought to those to whom he was of service. His life and work were an example of high character, the comfort to rich and poor alike. He was a man loved by all.

"Whereas, throughout all the years of his early and more robust manhood he gave to the patients of his care and to all the world around him, a life long on in illness, when pain and long silence had become his lot, in the midst of many weary nights of vigil, he still gave to his patients, both his family and friends, in the hospital, the same service as in his lifetime. In the midst of all, he still gave the same care, the same kindness, the same devoted effort for the betterment of the world that he had been so long a part of. In his love and care for his family and friends, he gave as he had always done.

"Whereas, his death is a loss to the profession and to all who knew him, and as it is proper that his death be recorded, therefore, we, the members of these societies hereby assembled, believe it fit and right to adopt the following resolutions:

1. That the members of these societies join in expressing their deep regret at the passing away of Richard Mott Moore, and that the service be held in full accord with the wishes of the deceased.

2. That the news of his death be made known to all those who knew him and to those who were not fortunate enough to know him personally.

3. That the name of Richard Mott Moore be recorded in the annals of medicine as a model of uprightness and ability.

4. That the members of these societies join in expressing their deep regret at the passing away of Richard Mott Moore, and that the service be held in full accord with the wishes of the deceased.

5. That the news of his death be made known to all those who knew him and to those who were not fortunate enough to know him personally.

6. That the name of Richard Mott Moore be recorded in the annals of medicine as a model of uprightness and ability.

JAMES A. BRYAN DIES: WELL KNOWN DRUGGIST

Death Due to General Decline Following Attack of Pneumonia Several Months Ago

James A. Bryan, one of the most prominent druggists in Rochester, died this morning at his home, 77 Adams street, after an illness of about ten weeks. He was about 67 years of age. Mr. Bryan was seized with an attack of pneumonia several months ago. He was able to be up and about and at his place of business until Saturday when he went to bed. Monday, the attending physicians gave up hope for his recovery. Death was due to a general decline.

ISAAC M. DUNKLEBURG

Isaac M. Dunkleburg, one of the oldest employees of the Rochester post office, died suddenly yesterday morning aged 67 years.

Nine years ago Mr. Dunkleburg suffered a stroke of apoplexy while collecting mail in the Granite Building. After an illness of two months, he regained his health sufficiently to resume his duties at the post office. On Sunday night he went through his usual route of work. On Monday night he went through the usual routine of work. On Sunday night he returned from a business errand in Clinton Avenue South, he suffered a second stroke of apoplexy and fell to the sidewalk, a short distance from his home, not regaining consciousness.

Mr. Dunkleburg was born in Dansville, Livingston County. He served in the Civil War as a private in Company D, 1st Wisconsin Infantry. He was appointed a substitute citizen in the post office on February 1, 1885, and has served continuously since that time. He was a member of E. O. Marshall Post, and of Rochester Lodge 20, F. M. and A.

Thirty-seven years ago Mr. Dunkleburg married Miss Springwater, who survives him. He also leaves a son, John J. Dunkleburg, and two granddaughters.

Mr. Dunkleburg was held in high esteem by his fellow employees in the post office. Both Postmaster William B. Rediker and Joseph S. Vick, assistant superintendent of mails, spoke in warm appreciation of his efficient and faithful service.

James A. Bryan, of pneumonia several months ago, and has recovered fully. He was able to be up and about and at his place of business until Saturday when he went to bed. Monday, the attending physicians gave up hope for his recovery. Death was due to a general decline.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

JAMES CORBIN FOLEY

Former Trustee Theological Seminary Dies in Summit, New Jersey

James Corbin Foley, 71, a former trustee of the Rochester Theological Seminary and a prominent member of the community of New York city, died yesterday at his home in Summit, N. J. He leaves his wife formerly Miss Caroline Davis, of Medina, N. Y.

Mr. Foley was born in Medina and received his education in his native village. He was graduated from the University of Rochester and received the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Arts. He served as principal of the Dansville academy from 1871 to 1875; professor of Latin and Greek at Cook academy, Moulton Falls, 1873-1881; and a teacher in the Batavia School for the Blind from 1876 to 1888. He was elected a trustee of the seminary in 1854 and remained about five years ago.
ONE DEAD AND ANOTHER HURT IN AUTO WRECK
POST Oct 9, 1916
YOUNG ROCHESTERIANS RETURNING FROM OHIO TRIP.

ACCIDENT NEAR BATAVIA
Frederick Remington Dies in Hospital After Fatal Auto Operation—Walter R. Attridge Injured.

Frederick Remington, 21, of 44 Quincy Street, suffered serious bruises and lacerations when an automobile in which they were riding turned turtle in the state road west of Batavia, yesterday. He died in the Batavia hospital, where he was taken last night at 9:28 o'clock. Attridge is in the Batavia hospital, where it is thought he will recover.

Remington suffered a ruptured liver and other internal injuries. As a last resort an operation was performed, and he was on the operating table two hours, so delicate was the work. Excessive bleeding at the time of the accident greatly reduced his strength, and he died soon after the operation.

Had Been Selling Seeds

The men had been employed as representatives of a Rochester oil seed house, selling and collecting in Ohio. They finished their work Friday and were returning home. As they neared a place called Brick House Corners, where the accident occurred, a motor with a full load of passengers passed close by. Neither Remington nor Attridge were doing more than usual.

Walter R. Attridge.

University Men Sing
Rev. C. Wilde Cherry, pastor of the Central Church, conducted the service and President Nick Rines of the university, from which the young men were graduated in June, made the address. A male quartette of university men sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "One Sweetly Saviour wrought." The choir was under the direction of Edward Ewers, Edward M. Ogden, H. E. Coales and Hart Mitchell. President Rines said in part:

"It is told on Jesus that on one occasion when a young man came to Him seeking counsel. He looked upon him, loved him. Such was Frederick Remington. Everybody loved him. That is why this great company, has gathered here from all the wide circle of his friends and acquaintances. And, gathered here, we sit in the valley shadowed over by death's nearest of kin whose sanctity of sorrow we may not enter; the church associates who are stunned by the sudden taking away of the loyal disciple of Jesus Christ in the high promise of youth and devotion to Christian service; colleagues and more intimate friends, and in the loss of one they have known and cherished and loved as a leader and steadfast friend; and associates in business and social life, reverently testifying to heart for a strong man of uncommon usefulness and great promise.

The bearers were E. A. Hale, W. A. Attridge, Charles T. Church, and three members of Mr. Remington's class, M. H. Hervey and Walter R. Attridge.

Interment was made in Mount Hope cemetery. Mr. Cherry conducted the concluding services.

ONE DEAD AND ANOTHER BADLY HURT
Motor Car Turns Over Near Batavla.

Tribute to Life Suddenly Ended

Paid by President Rines and Dr. Cherry.

MANY COLLEGE MEN ATTEND

Funeral of Frederick Remington
Gives Many Eulogies of High Esteem
In Which Dead Was Held
Address Made by Dr. Bush Rhine

BROOKLYN, Oct 9, 1916

Hundred of men and women yesterday afternoon attended the funeral of Frederick Remington, son of Dr. Bush Rhine.

Born at Remington, No. 44 Quincy Street, held at the home of his uncle, Dr. Ezra M. Potter, in South street. Mr. Remington was educated in Batavia, where he and Walter R. Attridge, of Glendale Park, met, with whom he is believed to have been the closest friend of the class.

The funeral was held at the Glendale Park, where they were to have room for another and stood running, over a man in the middle of the road. The young men were on their way from a lieutenant in last year.

So many persons attended the service that the house would not accommodate them all. In the home was occupied by university and high school students, the East High School faculty and graduates of the same school. About 500 persons were in attendance.

Some persons attended the service that the house would not accommodate them all. In the house was occupied by university and high school students, the East High School faculty and graduates of the same school. About 500 persons were in attendance.

The service was held in the church, where theasket lay. Many of the people came from fraternity, classmates, deaeed, and associates in the school.

FREDERICK REMINGTON Killed.

Frederick Remington, 21 years old, of 44 Quincy Street, died, and Walter R. Attridge, 35 years old, of 4.

EDWIN A. JONES
Univ. Of 41
Atlantic Avenue Resident Served in War of the Rebellion—Mustered Out as Captain of Infantry.

Edwin A. Jones, prominent Civil war veteran, died yesterday at his residence, 41 Atlantic Avenue, after a long illness of several years. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Laura Sherman, two brothers, John and E. L. of Kansas, and a granddaughter, Florence Sherman.

Edwin Jones was born in England on May 7, 1832. He came to America with his parents at the age of one year. They settled in Kirkville, N.Y. in September, 1839, and in 1840, moved to Illinois, 1849, New York, and in 1857, was commissioned first lieutenant two months after his 18th birthday. He was made captain in January, 1869, and was captain of the regiment.

The regiment was first under the command of General Lee, who resigned in 1864, took part in the Gettysburg in December, and was in the first and second battles of Bull Run. Then marched to Washington. On March 31st, the following year, the 15th took part in the battle of Five Forks. The regiment was then in the force that followed General Lee to Appomattox Court House. It was present at the surrender on April 9th. Then marched to Washington, and was in the grand review on May 30th.

Widely Known Veteran Dies—Funeral to Be Held To-morrow.

Edwin A. Jones, 77, a veteran of the Civil War and widely known in G. A. R. circles, died yesterday at his home 434 Atlantic avenue. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from 127 Chestnut street.

Mr. Jones was born May 7, 1833, coming to America from England with his parents at the age of one year. They settled at North Chili. In September, 1863, he enlisted in Company D, 18th New York infantry, and was commissioned 1st lieutenant two months later. In January, 1865, he was made captain. The regimental officers were Colonel John McGlennon, Lieutenant-Colonel Isaac Doolittle and Major C. C. Davison.

The regiment was before Petersburg during the winter of 1864, took part in the Weldon raid in December, and was in the first and second engagements at Hatch's Run. March 31st, the following year, the 18th took part in the battle of Brandy Run, and on April 1st was in the battle of Five Forks. The regiment was in the force that followed General Lee to Appomattox Court House, where he surrendered on April 9th. Then it marched to Washington, and was in

Edwin A. Jones.

DEATHS—FUNERALS
Post—Oct. 1916
EDWIN A. JONES
Father of County Treasurer. Died to-morrow.

John Skelton Brown, father of County Treasurer Charles J. Brown, and for many years a prominent carpenter, contractor of this city, died yesterday at his home, 566 Winton road north. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the church. The services of Rev. Albert R. Lambert, pastor of Monroe Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will officiate. Percy Crowson will sing two favorite hymns of Mr. Brown's, "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Sometime the Silver Cord Will Break.

"The pall-bearers will be John H. Roberts, Edward Wheeler, J. C. Collins, Jesse Coonrod, L. E. Weaver and Robert Dewart. Interment will be made in the family lot in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mr. Brown was born June 14, 1833, at Dunker Hill, Mass., and came to the city at the age of ten years. After completing his education he worked at the trade of carpenter, later engaging in the contracting business, which he conducted for many years. Later he became interested in the grocery business. He retired from active business nearly ten years ago. Mr. Brown was an active member of Monroe Avenue Methodist Episcopal church having been admitted by letter in 1856. After the church had been located in Alexander street. Besides a son, he leaves a daughter, Minnie J. Brown.

John Skelton Brown.

DEATHS—FUNERALS
Post—Oct. 1916

Edwin S. Pardee, Oct. 5-16
Edwin S. Pardee, the oldest man in the town of Irondequoit, died at 8 o'clock last evening at his home in Pardee Road, just north of the city line, where he had resided continuously since the day of his birth, July 2, 1837.

Mr. Pardee's parents came to Monroe County from West SayBro, Winchester County, in 1836 and settled on the Irondequioct farm. On March 6, 1915, Mr. Pardee and his wife celebrated the seventy-sixth anniversary of their marriage. On that occasion Mr. Pardee boasted that he never had been sick enough to require the services of a physician. His health continued good until Saturday evening, when he suffered a parasite stroke.

Besides a wife, who is only seven years younger than her husband, Mr. Pardee leaves three sons, Eliran and Charles E. Pardee of Rochester and Justice of the Peace, Herbert Pardee, who lives at the farmstead in Irondequoit.

Edwin S. Pardee.

DEATHS—FUNERALS
Post—Oct. 1916

LEWIS SUNDERLIN.

DEAN OF JEWELERS DIES AFTER LIFE AS WATCH MAKER

Herb Chadwick, Oct. 5-16

Lewis Sunderlin, said to have been the oldest man actively engaged in the jewelry business in the United States, died yesterday morning at his home at 45 Plymouth Avenue North, aged 85 years. Mr. Sunderlin had been under the care of a physician for nearly a week, suffering from pneumonia. For two days prior to his death he had been unconscious and the end was hourly expected.

At the age of 12, Mr. Sunderlin showed aptitude for the work of repairing clocks. When he was equipped with a repair outfit purchased for him by his father, he started in business as an itinerant clock repairer in a jewelry store in Penn Yan, then went to New York City, where he worked under the supervision of a famous English watchmaker. In 1854 Mr. Sunderlin came to Rochester and became the senior partner in the firm of Sunderlin & Weaver, conducting a store which stood on the present site of the Elwood Building. That was the beginning of a business career in this city which lasted until his death.

LEWIS SUNDERLIN.

Lewis Sunderlin was a 292 degree Mason and held membership in Frank E. Lawrence Lodge, 738, Hamilton Chapter, 62, R. A. M., and Masonic Commandery, K. T. He was a member of First Baptist Church and of Hubbard Class. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. George E. Peck of Chili; two sons, Charles E. and Howard L. Sunderlin, both of Rochester.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from 127 Chestnut Street.
FRANK E. GLEN,

ANGINA VICTIM

DEPUTY CITY COMPTROLLER

DIES AT HIS HOME.

WAS GRADUATE OF UNIVERSITY

Born in 1853 Mr. Glen Taught in East High School for Many Years.

Frank E. Glen, 62, deputy city comptroller, died about eight o'clock this morning at his home, 162 Erie street. Angina pectoris was the cause of death. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Cora M. Glen, a daughter, Mrs. Ida Glen Simmons, of Rochester and a brother, Harlow C. Glen, also of this city.

Mr. Glen had been suffering from heart disease recently and a week ago ed with that corporation for two years and in 1905 was appointed deputy city comptroller to Charles F. Pond, comptroller at the time. He was reappointed in 1912 by Edward E. Tyler, then city auditor, and Glenn was a life long republican. His term of office would have expired the last day of this year.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, also of the Rochester club. He was from childhood a member in the Protestant Episcopal church, and in 1863, he was baptised by the Rev. J. W. Lott, rector of St. Luke's church, will conduct the services. Interment will be made in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Friends Speak of Work

In speaking of Mr. Glen this morning, Joseph P. O'Hern, assistant superintendent of schools, said:

"Mr. Glen was a quarter of a century, both as a friend and a teacher in the public schools. As a teacher he was considered one of the most able in the secondary schools. He specialized in Greek, and I have heard warm expression of his work by heads of colleges and universities."

"There was a human side to Professor Glen that was noticeable. His interest in his pupil was not only in class and their later life, his strong interest was in athletics, and I doubt the boys from East High school ever played a game of football that Professor Glen was not on hand to help coach along the team. I met him at Hobart college at the football game."

"The funeral is to be held in Mr. Glen's house, a man of sterling qualities, and there are many who regret his sudden death."

J. Warrant Castlemain, president of the Board of Education, was walking through the corridors of the Municipal building yesterday morning with several friends near the main offices of the educational department. He was surprised when told of Mr. Glen's death.

"Just think, thirty-four years ago there is Mr. Glen in that room," was his remark. He was pointing to the room where he was standing.

Elizabeth Lawson Rochester

Mrs. Elizabeth Lawton Rochester, widow of John H. Rochester, died yesterday morning at 8 a.m. at 110 Park street, aged 82 years. For sometime Mrs. Rochester had been in failing health due to age. But the will of her illness was not reached until a week before her death.

Mrs. Rochester was born in Vicksburg, Miss., daughter of Rev. George L. Moore, a clergyman of the Baptist church. She was married in that city to John H. Rochester in 1854. For the first two years of their wedded life Mr. and Mrs. Rochester resided in the old home, which still is standing on the southeast corner of South Washington and Spring streets. They then moved to New York where they had lived for sixty years. Mr. Rochester, who was then a member of the Board of park commissioners for many years, died in 1902.

When Rochester was born in Vicksburg, Miss., the daughter of Rev. George L. Moore, a clergyman of the Baptist church. She was married in that city to John H. Rochester in 1854. For the first two years of their wedded life Mr. and Mrs. Rochester resided in the old home, which still is standing on the southeast corner of South Washington and Spring streets. They then moved to New York where they had lived for sixty years. Mr. Rochester, who was then a member of the Board of park commissioners for many years, died in 1902.

Dr. Gilman C. Dolley

Dr. Gilman Corson Dolley, oldest son of Dr. Charles S. Dolley and Elizabeth Gilman Dolley, former Rochester and Philadelphia, died of lung haemorrhage at the age of 71, at his home on East Seneca street.

Dr. Gilman C. Dolley was born in Rochester in 1857 and was a graduate of the College of the City of Rochester and a student at the University of Michigan in 1870. He studied medicine at the Medical Chirurgical College of Philadelphia, and was graduated in 1879.

Dr. Gilman C. Dolley was born in Rochester in 1857 and was a graduate of the College of the City of Rochester. He studied medicine at the Medical Chirurgical College of Philadelphia, and was graduated in 1879. After two years of service as a surgeon in the United States navy, he entered the Medical College of Philadelphia and was graduated in 1879. After two years of service as a surgeon in the United States navy, he entered the Medical College of Philadelphia and was graduated in 1879. After two years of service as a surgeon in the United States navy, he entered the Medical College of Philadelphia and was graduated in 1879. After two years of service as a surgeon in the United States navy, he entered the Medical College of Philadelphia and was graduated in 1879.
DEATHS—FUNERALS

EDWIN S. PARDEE.

Pioneer Irondequoit Resident Dies—
Funeral To-morrow Afternoon.

Edwin S. Pardee, 89, oldest resident of Irondequoit, died yesterday at his home, 208 North Main street, on the city line, where he had lived all his life. He leaves his wife, and three sons, Hiram and Charles S. Pardee, of Rochester, and John H. Pardee, who lives at the family homestead in Irondequoit. The funeral will be held at this house at 10:30 o'clock from the house. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Pardee was born July 2, 1827. His parents came to Monroe county from West Salem, Westchester county, in 1810, and settled on the Irondequoit farm. March 6, 1845, Mr. Pardee and his wife celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage. On the occasion, Mr. Pardee boasted that he had never been sick enough to require the services of a physician, and his health was so far beyond his years that he entertained the assurance that he would live until Saturday night when he suffered a paralytic stroke.

MRS. MARY R. SILSBY.

Member of One of Seneca Falls’ Oldest Families Dies in Rochester.

Seneca, Falls, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary R. Silsby, sister of Charles G. Silsby, died at her home, 238 Denver street, aged 72 years. Mrs. Silsby was for many years a resident of Seneca Falls, and a member of a family that had much to do with the history and establishment of Seneca Falls as a manufacturing center. Mrs. Silsby’s husband, the late Horace Silsby, died in 1914. The funeral services were conducted by his father here for a number of years until failing health forced his retirement. The Silsby works turned out fire engines during the war, and equipped all parts of the world and the Silsby fire engines for years were known to fire departments everywhere.

Mrs. Silsby was always greatly interested in literature and during recent years has derived much satisfaction and pleasure from her writings. She, with a few friends, organized the Shakespeare Society of Seneca Falls in December, 1882, the first Shakespeare organization of its kind in the state. Controversy was attracting quite general attention. The booklet went through several editions.

Mrs. Silsby’s remains will be brought here from Rochester to-morrow afternoon at 2 o’clock and taken to Trinity Episcopal Church from where the funeral will be held at 3 o’clock. Rev. Dr. William Bours Clarke, rector of the church, will conduct the service. Mrs. Silsby leaves one son, Horace Silsby, of New York city, and two daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Hart, of Rochester, and Mrs. Emma Vesta Foeck, of Syracuse.

MRS. ANNA B. COOK.

Widow of School Principal Buried in Mt. Hope—Death Sudden, Following Short Illness.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna B. Cook was held yesterday afternoon from the home of her son, Dr. E. B. Cook, 189 Monroe avenue. Mrs. Cook was the widow of James M. Cook, for many years principal of the high school in the city, who died recently.

Mrs. Cook was a woman of marked ability and tact, and her charm and sympathy won for her hundreds of friends, who sincerely regret her death. Mr. Cook was active in church work, at First Universalist Church. Of late years she had been associated with her older brother, James M. Cook, at Johnstown, Pa., visiting her son in Rochester several times a year, and her health was said to be on the wane, occurring during a visit here. She had been ill but a short time. Death was due to heart disease. Besides her two sons, Mrs. Cook leaves two brothers, Warner Baldwin, of Watertown, Mich., and Chauncey Baldwin, of Rochester.

MRS. MARY R. SILSBY.

Member of One of Seneca Falls’ Oldest Families Dies in Rochester.

Seneca, Falls, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Mary R. Silsby, sister of Charles G. Silsby, died at her home, 238 Denver street, aged 72 years. Mrs. Silsby was for many years a resident of Seneca Falls, and a member of a family that had much to do with the history and establishment of Seneca Falls as a manufacturing center. Mrs. Silsby’s husband, the late Horace Silsby, died in 1914. The funeral services were conducted by his father here for a number of years until failing health forced his retirement. The Silsby works turned out fire engines during the war, and equipped all parts of the world and the Silsby fire engines for years were known to fire departments everywhere.

Mrs. Silsby was always greatly interested in literature and during recent years has derived much satisfaction and pleasure from her writings. She, with a few friends, organized the Shakespeare Society of Seneca Falls in December, 1882, the first Shakespeare organization of its kind in the state. Controversy was attracting quite general attention. The booklet went through several editions.

Mrs. Silsby’s remains will be brought here from Rochester to-morrow afternoon at 2 o’clock and taken to Trinity Episcopal Church from where the funeral will be held at 3 o’clock. Rev. Dr. William Bours Clarke, rector of the church, will conduct the service. Mrs. Silsby leaves one son, Horace Silsby, of New York city, and two daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Hart, of Rochester, and Mrs. Emma Vesta Foeck, of Syracuse.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

Post Oct. 30—1916—ADAM WEITZEL.

Pioneer Engineer on Central Dies—
Funeral To-morrow Afternoon.

The funeral of Adam Weitzei, 74, for fifty years an engineer in the employ of the New York Central, was held Saturday afternoon at 140 Woodbury street, will take place to-morrow afternoon from the house. Interment will be made in Mt. Hope cemetery. A delegation of the older engineers and firemen of the city will attend the services.

Mr. Weitzei was born in Schuylkill, Germany, July 6, 1838, the son of Nich- olas and Barbara Weitzei. He came to the United States in 1856 and from that time, with the exception of seven years, during which he was assigned to duty on the Western division, he has lived in the house in which he died.

April 1, 1915, Mr. Weitzei entered the employ of the company as a bell boy. In those days there was no mechanical device for ringing a locomotive bell and one was hired boys to do it. At a later date he was promoted to the post of engineer, and served in that capacity until his death, which occurred in the Long Island coast at 10 a.m. He was re- tired on a pension. He was a member of the Locomotive Firemen and Engineering Society of New York.

Mr. Weitzei was married twice, to Miss Irene Weitzel, and to a sister, Irwin Weitzel.

MAY TERESA NEFF.

Woman Winner of Note Dies After Illness of Short Duration.

May Teresa Neff, champion swimmer and diver of Western New York, died suddenly Saturday at her home, 238 Denver street, aged 27 years. She had been ill since the latter part of the summer, when she contracted a severe cold after swimming, but it was only during the past week her condition became serious.

Miss Neff was a winner in the swimming championship in 1910 at the annual aquatic contest in Trout lake, from which parish out was the first woman in this city to attempt what is known as fancy diving. After winning her first swimming championship, Miss Neff turned her attention to diving, and during the following winter spent her spare time at the South avenue pool learning some of the feats that previously had been performed in this city only by Antette Kellerman. In the summer of the following year she was added to the programme at the aquatic carnival and Miss Neff won it easily.

In the fall of 1914, Miss Neff was in alternating with two vaudeville acts, traveling from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, giving exhibitions of her skill and work and raising money for her city. In the summer of 1915 she had a scrap book full of complimentary not- ices.

Although prohibited, because of the loss of her amateur standing, from competing in the local swimming meets, Miss Neff often performed exhibitions after she gave up vaudeville. Last summer she was frequently seen diving for the New York Central’s championship that night in this city. In the summer of 1915 she had a scrap book full of complimentary not-ices.

In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is the personal na- ture and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na- tion and the sterling quality of her friendship. In her departure the business men lost a woman greater than that is her personal na-
Edward L. Thomas, one of the older and well-known citizens and a pioneer business man, died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 299 Alexander street, aged 94 years. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Harriet Thomas.

Mr. Thomas' death resulted from the ailments of old age. He had been confined to the bed for about a week.

Mr. Thomas was born in Albany, N. Y., in 1827. He came to Rochester about 1850 and a little later married Miss Sarah Cochran of this city. He was for many years engaged in the ice business in Mt. Hope avenue, and brought to Rochester its first real ice house. He was an object of great interest and curiosity to the citizens of the early 90's. He owned at that time a large collection of ice in Mt. Hope avenue.

Edward L. Thomas Dies at Age of 94—Oldest Volunteer Fireman in State.

Edward L. Thomas Dies at Age of 94—Oldest Volunteer Fireman in State.

Edward L. Thomas Dies at Age of 94—Oldest Volunteer Fireman in State.

Edward L. Thomas Dies at Age of 94—Oldest Volunteer Fireman in State.

Edward L. Thomas Dies at Age of 94—Oldest Volunteer Fireman in State.
George Belknap, who was for 20 years or more clerk of the Health Board of this city before the White Charter became effective, died suddenly in Brooklyn of appendicitis a week ago Saturday. He was buried last Saturday in the family lot in Mt. Hope Cemetery. Burial services were private.

It was about 1900 that Mr. Belknap left this city and went to Brooklyn to live. He was for years a salesman for a big manufacturing house. Old Rochesterians readily recognize Mr. Belknap, who was a genial, jovial chap, with a host of friends.

When he was clerk of the Health Board, the position practically carried with it considerable political power and importance. A change in political conditions following the new charter led Mr. Belknap to remove to New York. He dropped out of the zone of his local acquaintances and many will learn with genuine regret of his death.

While in this city he was an active member of the B. P. O. E.

DR. WILLIAM H. COWING
Funeral of Prominent Author and Lecturer Held This Afternoon.

The funeral of Dr. William H. Cowing, author and lecturer, who died several years ago, was associated with

CHARLES CARROLL GOVE
Did Much for Building Up of Charlotte Village

The funeral of Charles Carroll Gove, who died on Tuesday at his home, 3 Ell Street, took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the home. Rev. Noyes O. Bartholomew, pastor of South Congregational Church, officiated. The pall bearers were C. A. Haak, M. K. Taylor, R. C. Swarts, J. H. Hubert, H. Bredfield and E. N. Hubert. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

GERTRUDE SCHLEYER
Funeral of Pioneer Resident Held This Morning from Church.

The funeral of Gertrude Schleyer, widow of Joseph Schleyer, who died Wednesday at her her home, 12 Bruthalian park, took place this morning at 8 o'clock from the church and at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church.

The solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Joseph Schnorr, C.S.B., assisted by Rev. F. J. Reichert, deacon, and Rev. P. Pfeil, subdeacon. The pall bearers were George and Charles Vallerius, Joseph and C. Schleyer, and Harry and George Otto, all grandchildren of Mrs. Schleyer. Interment was made in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

CHARLES C. GOVE

Sunday-school Class. The body was cremated and the ashes will be sent to New Hampshire to be placed in the family lot.

Mr. Gove was born in Averch, N. H., and he lived there for many years. He lived first in Charlotte, and then came into this city. While a resident of the village, he put up some of the first buildings at that point, now a part of Rochester. Mr. Gove spent many years of his life in the lumber business. He was largely instrumental in the building up of the Methodist Church of Charlotte.

In 1849, Mr. Gove was married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Barnes, Memminger, N. H. He lived until March 8, 1871, whereafter they would have celebrated their 68th anniversary. He was a man of great strength and dignity, and his passing will be deeply regretted.
DETECTIVE TAKES LIFE BY SHOOTING

William C. Spillings to VVnuil Kill Self.

Detective William C. Spillings committed suicide in a vacant lot at Dewey and Ridgeway avenues yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by shooting himself through the head with his service revolver, as told in late editions of The Union yesterday afternoon. A number of people in the vicinity saw him walk into the lot and they saw the shot fired, and death came instantaneously.

Immediately after the shooting a call was sent to the General Hospital and when it was found that he was dead, Coroner Thomas A. Kilip was notified. Captain F. A. Klubertanz, of the Lyell avenue station, was also given a report of the shooting and Police Commissioner Kavanagh and Koepplin were sent out to investigate.

Complaint had been made by Detective Spillings for a number of weeks that he was not feeling well. He had not been on duty at headquarters since October 27th.

Detective Spillings, whose home was at 474 Burt street, was one of the best known and best liked men in the police department and he had a host of friends in all parts of the city. He was born in Cornwall, Vermont, on December 17, 1884, and was educated in the common schools of that village, coming to Rochester when he was a young man.

Early in life he became interested in

MRS. WILLIAM H. CRAIG

MURDERED 20TH OCT 1916

Funeral of the late Superintendent of Penitentiary Will Be Held to-morrow Morning.

The funeral of Mrs. William H. Craig, wife of William H. Craig, superintendent of the Monroe county penitentiary, will be held to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Craig, 1819 South avenue, and at 9:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church.

Mrs. Craig died after an illness of two days' duration. She was operated on Thursday, which was followed by an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Craig was a woman of unusual pleasing personality, which won for her a large circle of friends, and to them the announcement of the death came as a shock.

Resides a husband, Mrs. Craig leaves a son, Charles Emmett Craig; two sisters, Miss Catherine Hogan of this city and Mrs. John E. Murphy of Akron, Ohio; and two brothers, George S. Horan and Joseph D. Hogan, both of Rochester.

AUGUST BOTT, SR.

Oldest Employee of Clothing Company and Well-Known German-American Resident Dies.

August Bott, Sr., the oldest employee of Michaelis-Stern Company, died last evening at the home, 219 Portland avenue, aged 76 years. Mr. Bott was one of the oldest known German residents of the northwestern section of the city. One year ago he and his wife celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. On that occasion Mr. Bott received a gift of a watch from his fellow employees of the Michaelis-Stern Company. He was a member of the board of trustees of Holy Redeemer Church.

He leaves besides a wife, two daughters, Sister Angela of the Order of Notre Dame and Miss Emma Bott, both of Chicago; Adolph, Joseph and August, Jr.

ANDREW J. WEGMAN

MURDERED 20TH OCT 1916

Burial Record.

Chester A. Congdon, Republican national committeeman from Minnesota and former presidential aspirant, died yesterday in St. Paul, Minn., aged 63 years. Death was due to pneumonia.

Mr. Congdon was born in the city of Rochester in 1853, one of the oldest families in the country. He left Rochester while a young man for Minneapolis, where he became interested in mining. At the time of his death he was the only one of the Wellington Congdon, a group of the Westchester citizens of Minnesota. He leaves a son, George R. Congdon of 152 Westchester Road, this city.
CHARLES C. GOVE.
JOHN H. JEFFRIES DIES
Well Known as Builder and Super intendent of E. & B. Building.
John H. JEFFRIES, well-known builder and superintendent of E. & B. Building, died Thursday at his home, 721 Ridgewood avenue, Rochester, aged 92 years. He was a member of St. Mark's Congregational Church and had been a resident of Rochester
since 1849. He leaves two sons, George and Edward J. JEFFRIES, one daughter,
Emma McDowell, 11 New Haven avenue,
Rochester, and several grandchildren.

HISTORY OF BUILDING

Venerable New England Man Came to Charlottesville When Buildings Were Few—Did Much for Place in Five Years Useful Career

By the death of Charles Carroll Gove, who died at his home, 721 Ridgewood avenue, Thursday, Rochester lost one of its most prominent citizens. Mr. Gove had been a resident of the city for well over half a century and had been in the business of building for nearly six years.
He was one of the most successful builders in the city and was well known in every quarter.

He was a native of Massachusetts and had been a builder for many years before coming to Rochester. He was one of the leading business men of the city and was widely known for his integrity and ability.
He was a member of St. Mark's Congregational Church and had been a resident of Rochester
since 1849. He leaves two sons, George
and Edward J. JEFFRIES, one daughter,
Emma McDowell, 11 New Haven avenue,
Rochester, and several grandchildren.

MISST HULDA BAKER

Death at Advanced Age of Formerly Prominent Teacher of Elcuion
—Burial at Albion.

Miss Hulda Baker died at the Central Hospital yesterday, aged 78 years. She was a woman of high character and had taught in the Albion schools for many years. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and had been a resident of Albion for many years. She leaves no immediate relatives. The funeral will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at the Central Hospital, and she will be buried in the Albion cemetery.
Long Life of Mrs. Delecta B. Masten Ends.

NATIVE OF SOUTH LIVONIA

Always Lived in Vicinity of Rochester—Visited in Spring by Son Stayed 9 Months in Forty-Eight Years—Till Since Last February

There is sadness in the hearts of those who paid court to Mrs. Delecta B. Masten, for the aged woman died yesterday morning after a long illness. Her hundredth birthday will not be celebrated. She was 90 years, 8 months and 5 days of age.

Since last February Mrs. Masten had been confined to her bed. Only occasionally, in fact, did visitors experience the vitality that stayed with her up to the beginning of her illness; one of those occasions was when several, whom she had not seen in forty-eight years, returned to her. At times physical infirmity would be temporarily conquered by an iron will, in which she would want to know the latest news, as well as be satisfied by those eager to wait upon her.

Mrs. Masten died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Collins, No. 447 Main street east. She was a daughter, one son, Addison G. Masten, of California; two grandsons, George Masten, of Chula Vista, and Charles Masten, of Florence, Ala.; three great-grandchildren, and four cousins. Gardiner Bryant, of Jamestown, and M. H. Clark, George B. Clark, and Dr. Letitia H. Woodruff, of Rochester.

The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o’clock from the home of Mrs. Collins. Intermment will be made in Livonia.

Mrs. Masten was born in South Livonia on March 3, 1837. When she was 15 years of age she went to Genesee, where she lived until 1856, in which year she returned to Schalit Masten. Upon marrying, she returned to Livonia and lived there until 1862. When she and her husband took up their residence in Dansville, it was from Dansville, in 1866, that she moved to Rochester.

Up to the time she was taken ill Mrs. Masten was usually active for a person of her age. "She was always happy unless she was working," said a friend last night. "Just before she was obliged to take to her bed she finished making a quilt." The aged woman underlives a number of cousins and other articles, which she gave to friends and relatives. She was a regular visitor to friends, and attended up to the time of her last illness regularly missed reading daily newspapers. She enjoyed discussing politics.

Mrs. Masten was buried in the Masten Cemetery in South Livonia.

MRS. MARIA HORTON

Prominent Member of Christ Episcopal Church Dies After Brief Illness at the Age of 88 Years

Mrs. Maria Horton, one of the most prominent members of Christ Episcopal Church, died yesterday at her home, 25 Vick Park, after a brief illness of the age of 88 years. She is survived by a son, William Henry Horton, and a daughter, Mrs. Ellen M. Rowden, both of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o’clock, from the residence in Vick Park. Intermment will be made in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Horton was born in England in 1838 and came to this country early in her life. She moved to Rochester with her husband, the late William Horton, in 1872 and took up her residence soon after in Vick Park. Her lovely nature and her keen intelligence gave her a position in the congregation of Christ Church such as few women have held, and her deep interest in all public and church affairs did not abate with her advancing years. Up to the time of her final illness she remained all her faculties.

A LL. JACOBI, CRACK

ATHLETE, DIES IN CITY

Set Many Marks as Fast Runner and Jumper.

ALEX. JACOBI, 71, for thirty-six years a letter carrier in this city and a man highly esteemed by all with whom he had come in contact, died yesterday morning at his home, 708 South street, aged 76 years old.

J. B. Elridge, physical director of the Rochester Athletic Club, was among the first to recognize the athletic promise of Jacoby, and he had much to do with the training of the boy, then 13 years old, for his track meets as soon as he made them. No elaborate system of coaching such as is maintained now for the high school was in existence in those days.

With Gus Gernsback he was co-holder of the city running high jump record of 5 feet 11 inches, which was set in 1897 and which has withstood all the assaults of the local leapers since that time. He set a new mark for the three-mile run and over a 60-yard course in the Seventy-fourth Regiment Armory at Buffalo.

As a member of the Rochester Free Academy track team, Jacoby tied a hundred yards in 10.5 seconds at the Cornell cross-country meet in 1905, breaking the colors of the R. C. C. in 1896 in the Athletic Association’s games. In 1902, at the intercollegiate track meet which was held at Rochester, he was member of the University of Wisconsin team; George Yost, another Rochester runner, took the scales, S. Adams, who for a long time held the record for the 20-yard dash in this city. Jacoby was noted for his ability to get set for his races quickly. He was a fair high hurdler.

In 1907 he was engaged by East High School for its track team. Besides interest shown in running, he was also interested in interscholastic play, and in 1914 he was elected head of the Rochester Free Academy track team. In 1914 he was named to the Rochester Academy team.

The recent death of Mrs. Elizabeth Lawton Rochester in her eighty-fourth year, last October 1, brought to this a close of charm and usefulness which the world can ill afford to lose. Mrs. Rochester was a Southerner woman. She was born on a plantation and was reared under the shadow of slavery. She had all the grace and dignity of her class with none of its arrogance. She was kind toward all with whom she came in contact. She had the presence of the high bred lady. Tall, and slender, she commanded the attention and satisfied the eye of all who looked upon her. She was always at her best in her own home, and shunned every kind of publicity. But while herself content to live within the limits of her home, she never permitted those who sought a freer, larger life for woman in the world.

A devout member of the church, Mrs. Rochester was able to see the church’s needs in helping to found the larger life of the soul and of the race. She was a church woman without narrowness or bigotry.

She had the high privilege of her friendship know that our souls are enriched by the purifying influence of the fine spirit of this woman.

DEATHS—FUNEALS

Post 123, Nelson G. Loveless, Rochester, N. Y.

Veteran Letter Carrier Dies After Brief Illness.

Nelson G. Loveless, 71, for thirty-six years a letter carrier in this city and a man highly esteemed by all with whom he had come in contact, died yesterday morning at 9 o’clock, N. Y. Post Office, after a brief illness. interment will be made at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Yesterday at his home, 281 Caledonia street, his death was due to heart disease.

Mr. Loveless was born in New York, March 24, 1886. The early years of his life were spent in railroading. The call of Uncle Sam came to him at the age of thirty-five years. He fought and regained the appointment of auxiliary mail carrier April 26, 1886, and was made a regular carrier by Postmaster Daniel T. Hunt December 1st of the same year. He ranked fifth on the list of Rochester mail carriers in point of service. The route he was carrying at the time of his death is known as Route 26 and covers a portion of West Main street and Canal street.

Mr. Loveless had served under nine postmasters, Daniel T. Hunt, Valentine Fleckenstein, Henry S. Hebard, John A. Reynolds, George H. Pippert, James S. Graham, W. Seward Whittlesey, Joseph A. Crane and William A. Bickley.

He was one of the founders of the National Association of Letter Carriers which held its first convention in Milwaukee in 1897. In the working of the organization he was chosen chairman of the by-laws committee. He was the first president of the Rochester organization and was one of the first in to agitate for legislation for postal employees on retirement.

When he first delivered mail Mr. Loveless was assigned to that section of the city lying north of Main street and east of Canal. That section now requires 24 carriers. Later he delivered mail in the vicinity of the Four Corners in Main street west, Pittsburg street and that territory to Canal street where he became familiarly known. He continued to carry mail until a few weeks ago when he became ill.

Mr. Loveless leaves besides a wife, Mrs. Kimberly Loveless, four daughters, Mrs. Jennie King, Mrs. Joseph T. Simpson and Mrs. William G. Churchhill, of this city, and Mrs. Robert Sullivan, of Los Angeles, Calif., and four grandchildren.

The funeral will take place from the house Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o’clock Rev. B. N. Mathews, pastor of Emmanuel Presbyterian church, officiating. The pall-bearers will be all of Mr. Loveless’ former associates at the post-office. Intermment will be made at Mt. Hope cemetery.
DR. T. A. O’HARE DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS Post Oct 28, 1916

WAS KNOWN FOR WORK AMONG THE INSANE.

BORN HERE IN OCTOBER, 1848

Was President of Board of Directors of State Hospital for Last Five Years.

Dr. Thomas A. O’Hare, 88, one of the most prominent physicians of Rochester and widely known in medical circles, was a member of this country for 45 years and especially with the insane, died last night at his home, 6 S. Marthas Park. Death was due to a general paralytic affection and had been in poor health for the past year but continued his work until three weeks ago.

Dr. O’Hare was born in this city on October 28, 1848, the son of Michael and Margaret O’Hare. He received his early education in the parochial schools and later entered the University of Pennsylvania where he was graduated from the school of medicine.

Dr. Thomas A. O’Hare.

Immediately after his graduation he entered the practice of medicine in Rochester, continuing his work for more than forty years.

He had been actively identified with the work of St. Patrick’s Orphan Asylum for many years, and at the time of his death was the visiting physician of that institution. For several years he was also a visiting physician of St. Mary’s hospital and until his death was the president of its staff of physicians.

He was also a member of the Rochester Academy of Medicine, the Rochester pathological society, the Monroe County medical society, the medical association of the state of New York and at various times had been president of those organizations.

Well loved Physician.

Dr. O’Hare was highly esteemed by all who knew him. For years he had been visiting families in the city, attending to the ailments of the children and their parents and he had been loved by the members of many of the leading family physicians in the city and his practice always had been large. Though engaged with the medical societies meet and adopt resolutions on his death.

At a joint meeting of The Monroe County Medical Society, the Rochester Medical Association, the Rochester Pathological Society and the Rochester Society of Physicians and Surgeons, held Thursday afternoon, a resolution was adopted to take action on the death of Dr. Thomas A. O’Hare, for many years one of the leading practitioners of medicine in Rochester. The following resolutions were expressed as the result of the meeting:

Dr. Thomas A. O’Hare was a man of marked charm of manner and study personality; a man of high attainments in medicine and the arts of social life and a genial and courteous professional, with kindliness word and pleasant smile for his associates; combining in his character the best in the special gifts which are represented in the ideal physician.

Dr. O’Hare was a man ready in debate, whose wise and experienced help was a constant source of inspiration to us all. The O’Byan Asylum, St. Mary’s Hospital and the Hospital for the Insane high esteem in which he was held as a leader and as president of their Board of Management. He was ever ready to assist his work and to assist his work and was a frequent speaker at the breakfast meetings. He was ever ready to assist his work and always present in the church where the benedictions of the Church of St. Mary were held.

Tuped Modern Methods for Insane.

"Necessitated a medical man has many duties, and Dr. O’Hare’s was the treatment of the insane and Dr. O’Hare was in the advanced vanguard of the modern methods of caring for the insane. For the past five years he had been at the head of the hospital and his work with the patients was untried.

"For the board: There is no one more than the death of Dr. Thomas A. O’Hare on November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his death. He was a man of high attainments in medicine and the arts of social life and a genial and courteous professional, with kindliness word and pleasant smile for his associates; combining in his character the best in the special gifts which are represented in the ideal physician.

We, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, desire to express our grief and sorrow for his loss in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, God in His Wisdom has taken from us one of His most beloved children, we are deeply privileged to continue his work and the work of the organization of which he was a member.

Therefore, we, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, do hereby Resolutions Adopted by Members of Staff of St. Mary’s Hospital.

We, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his death. He was a man of high attainments in medicine and the arts of social life and a genial and courteous professional, with kindliness word and pleasant smile for his associates; combining in his character the best in the special gifts which are represented in the ideal physician.

Geography in His Wisdom has taken from us one of His most beloved children, we are deeply privileged to continue his work and the work of the organization of which he was a member.

Therefore, we, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his loss in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, God in His Wisdom has taken from us one of His most beloved children, we are deeply privileged to continue his work and the work of the organization of which he was a member.

Therefore, we, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his loss in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, God in His Wisdom has taken from us one of His most beloved children, we are deeply privileged to continue his work and the work of the organization of which he was a member.

Therefore, we, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his loss in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, God in His Wisdom has taken from us one of His most beloved children, we are deeply privileged to continue his work and the work of the organization of which he was a member.

Therefore, we, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his loss in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, God in His Wisdom has taken from us one of His most beloved children, we are deeply privileged to continue his work and the work of the organization of which he was a member.

Therefore, we, the members of the staff of St. Mary’s Hospital, in meeting assembled, to honor the memory of our late president, Dr. Thomas O’Hare, who died November 21, 1916, we have lost one of our most beloved members and we are in the midst of sorrow, unselfish in our grief and unselfish in our sorrow for his loss in the following resolutions:
DEATH REMOVES NOTED DENTIST

Jotted Doctor

Dr. Rudolph H. Hoheinz, Recognized as Authority on Dental Topics.

HIGHLY EDUCATED

Had International Reputation and Was Foremost of Practitioners.

One of Rochester's most prominent dentists, Dr. Rudolph H. Hoheinz, died last night at 9 o'clock at his home, 444 Oxford Street. Dr. Hoheinz had for many years suffered from a valvular affection of the heart. Until Wednesday he had been able to attend his practice. He had his offices in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Dr. Hoheinz was born in Heidelberg, Germany, in 1856, and came to America after the death of his parents, in 1871. He graduated from the New York College of Dentistry in June, 1879, obtaining the highest honors of the class. Shortly after being graduated, he came to Rochester and has made his home here since. Dr. Harvey B. Burnett, director of the Rochester Dental Dispensary, was with Dr. Hoheinz when he suffered the attack of heart trouble which resulted in his death.

"Dr. Hoheinz was always a student and one of the most highly educated dentists in the world," said Dr. Burnett. "He enjoyed an international reputation and was considered as foremost among the dental practitioners in America."

Dr. Hoheinz was married to Miss Kara B. Bartholomay, daughter of Henry Bartholomay, founder of the National Brewing Company, in 1884. He is survived only by his wife.

The death of Dr. Hoheinz was announced last night at a meeting of the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth District Dental Societies, held in Buffalo. A committee was appointed to draft appropriate resolutions, and another to attend the funeral, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Editorial Notice

Dr. Hoheinz aged 71

The sudden death of Dr. Rudolph H. Hoheinz, long an influential resident of this city, is a very genuine loss to this community and to the dental profession. He was a man of marked individuality, an indefatigable worker and devoted to high ideals. Born in citizen's house in Heidelberg, Germany, he came to this country in early manhood and began the building of a career. He became immensely interested in the study of dentistry and rose rapidly in that profession until he was recognized as one of the most skilled practitioners in the country. The last great work of his life was in connection with the organization of the Rochester Dental Dispensary, and he honored necessarily for the consummation of that undertaking. He was vice president at the time of his death.

Dr. Hoheinz stood high in his profession and was a great student, but he was one of the most approachable of men. He had hosts of friends to whom he was sincerely devoted, and who will miss him greatly. He was greatly interested in the city in which he lived and did much to ameliorate the condition of those who were in distress. He leaves behind him the remainder of a long service, his day and generation faithful and well.

SERVES 'MAN YEARS AS DOCTOR

Once Superintendent of Monroe County Insane Asylum

ALSO CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Dr. Matthias L. Lord, Retired Physician, Dies Suddenly at Home in Oxford Street.

Dr. Matthias L. Lord, aged 77 years, well known for years as one of the leading physicians of Rochester, died yesterday morning at the home at 27 Oxford Street. He was a former superintendent of the Monroe County Insane Asylum, and a veteran of the Civil War.

OLD SOLDIER FOUND DEAD IN ROOMING HOUSE

When John S. Croft, 70 years old, a veteran of the Civil War, living at 10 North Elm Street, did not rise at his customary hour yesterday an investigation was made by people living in the same house. Knocking on the door failed to bring a response, and the door was opened with a master key. The old veteran was found lying dead on the floor of his room. He had been dead for some time.

The police were notified and had the body removed to the Morgue. It is thought that death was due to heart trouble. It was not until 4 o'clock in the afternoon that the room was entered.

Walking into the kitchen of the Home Plate hotel at 72 South Avenue shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Harry T. Keegan, 60 years old, who until a few days ago had been a patient at the County Hospital, asked the cook, "Could I have a little coffee?" as he was cold. Permission was granted. Keegan took a seat near the stove.

Half an hour later one of the cooks in the hotel, not knowing that Keegan was very sick, went to arouse him. He did not move. He was told that police were notified and a call sent for the ambulance of the Hahnemann Hospital. Keegan assisted his family doctor then, but the ambulance came. Keegan was dead when the man had been dead for some time. Sergeant McKean and Policeman Valentine of the Franklinton Street Station investigated. The body was removed to the Morgue. In the man's pockets was found a note signed by Dr. Hahne.

In the schools of Lima. He later studied medicine in and was graduated from the New York Medical College.

Dr. Lord practiced medicine in Fairport for a time after his graduation from college. In 1863 he received the appointment of superintendent of the Monroe County Asylum, a position he held until 1874, when Dr. Eugene H. Howard succeeded him. Dr. Lord died a few hours later.

In the office of Dr. Keegan, a victim of valvular heart trouble. Keegan has a brother living in Alberta, Canada.
A Travis Wells "Dies" in Home in Brockport.

Brockport, Nov. 24.—Last night in his home in South avenue occurred the death of one of Brockport's best known residents, A. Travis Wells. Mr. Wells was born in Chil. T., June 12, 1880. On July 28, 1886, he married Mrs. Stella Har drue, one of the family of the Brockport Normal.

In August, 1862, he enlisted in the 50th Regiment of the New York State Army. At the expiration of his service he was detailed for three years and was appointed commissary sergeant. Later, he was appointed second lieutenant and then transferred to Company C, at the same regiment. During the course of his service he was twice detailed for considerable periods of time and during the Mine Run campaign was acting adjun gment of the regiment. He was in the battle of Gettysburg and was detailed to clear mud with another officer the whisky line under the fire on the second day's fight over the ground where Pickett made his famous charge on the third day. He was in the battle of the Wilderness and on May 6, 1864, was wounded and was entirely disabled for a long period. When a return to service in August, 1864, he was found unfit for him a first lieutenant's commission.

Mr. Wells was engaged for a number of years in the hardware business, in the firm of Munt and Wells. For twenty years he was in the employ of E. R. & Co., of Rochester, as traveling salesman, and has been here a long time. Mr. Wells was particularly noted for musi cal ability, being one of the best amateur artists in the state. He was one of the original members of the old Rochester Symphony Society of Rochester, and continued a member until the society disbanded. He was secretary for two seasons of the Brockport Music Club.

Mr. Wells was an ex-member and director of the U.S. Bank Company and a member of the Brockport Whist Club. The funeral will be held from the home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Powers officiating. Interment will be in Lake View.

Dr. Matthews L. Lord died on the morning of Tuesday, November 28, 1916. I regard it as my privilege and duty as a fellow officer to testify to his faithfulness and courage in the discharge of his duty as assistant surgeon in our regiment during our arduous campaign in the Civil War with the 108th Regiment, as its chaplain. Many of its members have died since.

Mr. Nichols died in 1849, leaving Mrs. Nichols in sole charge of the academy, that later became the Nichols School.

The funeral service will be held at the home of Miss Nichols on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Powers officiating. Interment will be in Lake View.

MRS. Eliza Ann Lord, a brother, Daniel A. Lord of Denver, Co., and a number of nephews and nieces.

HAD AN UNUSUAL CIVIL WAR RECORD

Dr. Matthews L. Lord died on the morning of Tuesday, November 28, 1916. It is my privilege and duty as a fellow officer to testify to his faithfulness and courage in the discharge of his duty as assistant surgeon in our regiment during our arduous campaign in the Civil War with the 108th Regiment, as its chaplain. Many of its members have died since.

Mr. Nichols died in 1849, leaving Mrs. Nichols in sole charge of the academy, that later became the Nichols School.

The funeral service will be held at the home of Miss Nichols on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Powers officiating. Interment will be in Lake View.

Dr. Matthews L. Lord died on the morning of Tuesday, November 28, 1916. It is my privilege and duty as a fellow officer to testify to his faithfulness and courage in the discharge of his duty as assistant surgeon in our regiment during our arduous campaign in the Civil War with the 108th Regiment, as its chaplain. Many of its members have died since.

Mr. Nichols died in 1849, leaving Mrs. Nichols in sole charge of the academy, that later became the Nichols School.

The funeral service will be held at the home of Miss Nichols on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Powers officiating. Interment will be in Lake View.

Dr. Matthews L. Lord died on the morning of Tuesday, November 28, 1916. It is my privilege and duty as a fellow officer to testify to his faithfulness and courage in the discharge of his duty as assistant surgeon in our regiment during our arduous campaign in the Civil War with the 108th Regiment, as its chaplain. Many of its members have died since.

Mr. Nichols died in 1849, leaving Mrs. Nichols in sole charge of the academy, that later became the Nichols School.
Ansel E. Wright was a long-time resident of Webster, having made his lifelong home there and at his death Thoughts on intercourse in the county until his death. He was a past president of the Ex-Supervisors' Association and the incumbent president of the Monroe County Pioneers Association. For about 20 years Mr. Wright was in the monument business in Webster. He owned a farm just outside the village. He is survived by his widow and a daughter. Edith. Arrangements for the funeral were made by Geo. B. Mason, treasurer; R. C. Thompson, secretary; Howard Nobles, senior deacon; B. R. Mason, junior deacon; L. J. Bonenfant, junior master of ceremonies, and Charles Shaver, junior master of ceremonies.

The many floral pieces that were given away included 2 great wreaths of roses sent by the Board of Supervisors and the Pioneers. Daniel Harrington, chairman, and Fred Wilson, county clerk, headed the delegation of supervisors and the Pioneers were headed by William H. Craig, superintendent of the penitentiary; William E. Porter, superintendent of poor; Charles S. Owen, sheriff; James J. Michelson, county clerk; John W. Barrett, district attorney; William F. Love, James Mann and Novin Heitman, each of whom was attended to by most of the members of this board and had for many years been a prominent man in public and social life in the county that his death entails a loss which will be felt for a long time. He was born in Webster, May 2, 1841, and had been a lifelong resident of that town. He represented his town in the legislature during the Civil War, and in 1893 and 1894 served as its chairman. In his politics he was a republican. He was president of the Monroe County Pioneers Association at the time of his death, and was one of the charter members of this association. Mr. Munday served on the Monroe County supervisors and Ex-Supervisors associations.

He was a familiar figure at the annual meeting of the society and was a member of two organizations and his ready wit and cheerful and bright disposition gained him many friends. He was a member of the Board of Education for many years and was an active member of all of its important committees and displayed a rare business instinct in the various business undertakings of the county business and a most thorough knowledge of public affairs.

Resolved. That in the death of Dr. Munday, the county has lost a highly respected citizen, who rendered the service of the pioneer of the old type.

Resolved. That this board hereby extend to the family sympathy, in the death of the proprietor of the hotel, and that the Board of Supervisors of the county will order a copy of the resolution of this day's session, and a copy be forwarded to the family of the deceased.

Rules of the Board of Supervisors were adopted by resolutions of the Board. The Board was constituted as follows: Robert M. Wright, chairman; J. L. Foster, vice-chairman; and Charles H. Hunter, secretary. The Board has been in session since the death of Dr. Munday, and is now doing business.
REV. DR. C. P. COIT DIES; ILLNESS LASTS 10 DAYS Post Dec. 6-1916

PNEUMONIA FATAL TO WIDELY-KNOWN CLERGYMAN.

BORNE ON MAY 3, 1839

Built Up Memorial and East Side Presbyterian Churches Here—Leaves Two Brothers.

Rev. Dr. Charles P. Coit, 77, one of the oldest and most eminent clergymen in the Rochester district, whose fatal illness was announced in The Post Express yesterday, died last night at 10:30 o'clock at his home, 1019 Park avenue, of pneumonia. He was taken ill about ten days ago and, because of the weakened condition caused by strokes of apoplexy last spring, he failed to rally and gradually grew weaker until the end came.

He leaves two brothers, Professor Judson B. Coit, of Boston university, and Rev. Dr. Albert Coit, of Syracuse, two sisters, Amelia Coit, of Syracuse, and Mrs. Mary Coon, of Oswego, and two sons, Charles W., and Frederic N., of Rochester. The last named was assisted by clerksmen of the presbytery when he was taken to Oswego, N. Y., for interment.

FUNERAL OF REV. CHARLES P. COIT
Dec. 7, 1916

Rev. W. R. Taylor orates at Brick Church.

TRIBUTE TO LATE MINISTER

Speaker Says “He Died Old and Worn-Out, a Mark to Praise and Honor Any Man”—Other Pastor to Take Part in the Services.

The funeral of Rev. Charles P. Coit, D.D., took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Brick Presbyterian Church, Rev. William R. Taylor, D.D., pastor of Brick Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The survivors of the late Rev. Charles P. Coit will be present at the cemetery today to receive the last good-bye.

Dr. Taylor closed his remarks with prayer. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. R. Taylor, pastor of the East Side Presbyterian Church. An organ prelude was played by Mrs. Follett.

The honorary bearers were chosen from among Dr. Coit's close friends of the clergy and laity, as follows: Rev. W. H. Dunn, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church; Rev. Henry P. Gilt, of Central Park Presbyterian Church; Rev. G. R. F. Mellen, assistant minister at Brick Church; Rev. Frank W. Hill, of First Presbyterian Church; Prof. Moore Stroger, of Third Presbyterian Church; Rev. Frank M. Weston, of First Presbyterian Church; Rev. Andrew M. Ellick, Rev. Andrew V. Smith, and Charles M. Williams.

The burial will be made in Oakwood.

BORN IN IRELAND, HAD LIFE FILLED WITH ADVENTURES

With the death yesterday of Rev. James Alexander Daly, at his home at 212 Culver Road, there passed from Rochester life a man who had been of real advantage to the church and to any other resident of similar age. All the romance of which Robert Louis Stevenson was so fond pervades the days before railroads and steamships banished romance from the Pacific coast, and one may trace the life history of the experience of the man who came finally to Rochester to pass his last year amid the beauties of the Flower City.

James Alexander Daly was born in the north of Ireland in 1838. When W. N. Coit, and his mother started for Oregon by the way of Australia, in a sailing vessel. While in the Pichiows he married a lady who resided on the mother and children were left behind, while the father went on across the Pacific to the Hawaiian Islands. Two or three years later the mother and children came also, and it was then that Rev. James Alexander was left behind, while the parents went on to Oregon.

Educated in Mission School.

The boy was educated in a missionary school at Honolulu, in a class with Samuel C. Armstrong, afterward Gen. Armstrong, at the American Institute, and George Robert Carpenter, afterward Gen. Carpenter. While on the island of California, graduating in 1844 in the class with three other students, he went East after his graduation and prepared for the ministry at Andover and with the exception of the American Institute. He paid his expenses while in college by acting as editor of the school's newspapers and magazines, and at one time sent $500 to his family in Ireland as a dividend. His first pastor was at the Congregational church in Andover. Afterwards he served Congregational churches at Williamsport, Pa.; Palmyra, Ohio; Canton, Ohio. He retired from the ministry in 1874, and since 1870 he has lived in Rochester, except for four years in Indiana. He was a member of the English Commission during the War.

His first wife, Charlotte M. Ross of Ulster, N. Y., died in 1875. He leaves his second wife, formerly Miss Harriet Ellsworth, of Canton, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merivale, T. Daly, and Dr. Warren C. Daly of Rochester, and six children are left to cherish the memory of one who was loved by many in Rochester, and was a valuable member of the congregation at the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Rochester, and was a valued colleague in the Presbytery of Genesee.
WILLIAM C. BARRY, HEAD OF FAMOUS ROCHESTER NURSERY, DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

President of Ellwanger & Barry, Inc., Contracts Cold, Which Develops into Fatal Pneumonia—Valuable Service to City as Member of Park Board—Known in All Parts of Country for Work among Horticulturists and for Knowledge of Plant Life.

WILLIAM CRAWFORD BARRY

Following a brief and sudden illness, William Crawford Barry, noted horticulturist, died at 7:00 o'clock yesterday morning at the home at 704 Mt. Hope Avenue, Rochester.

A number of days ago Mr. Barry contracted a cold while he was at work in the nursery of Ellwanger & Barry, Inc., of which he was president. Pneumonia developed, which was aggravated by an affection of the kidneys. Mr. Barry's condition rapidly became alarming and for some time life was sustained only through the use of stimulants. Later the patient rallied and hope for his recovery was given by attending physicians. A relapse occurred on Monday afternoon, from which time Mr. Barry sank rapidly until his death yesterday morning.

Son of Patrick Barry.

Mr. Barry was eminent among American horticulturists for many years. His life was devoted to the work and during the course of his career he was thoroughly imbued with the knowledge of all the branches of the profession. He was a partner of Ellwanger & Barry, one of the pioneer nurseries of America, and an authority on all matters pertaining to the nursery business. The firm was organized in 1849, with the late George Ellwanger, under the name of Ellwanger & Barry, and Mr. Barry succeeded him in the partnership in 1856.

Mr. Barry was born in Rochester on September 17, 1827. He always had made his home in this city. It might be said that he was born into the nursery business and engaged in the business from boyhood. For a number of years he was tutor at St. John's College, New York, which at that time was conducted by Rev. Bernard J. McQuaid, the first bishop of Rochester.

After completing his studies in the New York college, Mr. Barry was sent to Europe, where he studied for two years in Heidelberg and Leipsic. Upon his return to Rochester he took up the work of the great horticultural business founded by his grandfather. Though there was no plant, no shrub in the wonderful collection in the firm nursery with which he was thoroughly familiar, roses received Mr. Barry's especial attention for many years.

Large Real Estate Interests.

In addition to being an expert horticulturist, Mr. Barry was well known as a business man, and his counsel was sought by many of Rochester's enterprising citizens. Besides his interest in the nursery firm he also had large and important real estate interests. In 1849 the nursery and real estate businesses of the firm were incorporated under the name of Ellwanger & Barry, Inc., and the Ellwanger & Barry Real Estate Company, Inc. and Mr. Barry became president and treasurer of both, which positions he held until the time of his death.

The handsome Ellwanger and Barry Building on State Street, one of the pioneers of the modern office buildings of Rochester, stands as a monument to the enterprise of the firm in the real estate business. For many years large tracts of land in Mt. Hope Avenue and other streets in the southern end of the Fourth Ward, parcels of the original nursery purchased, have been in the market, and thousands of acres of land formerly used for horticultural purposes.

Mr. Barry also was prominent in Rochester social circles. He was a member of the old Flour City Bank for many years, his connection with that institution continuing until its merger with the National Bank of Rochester in 1866. He was a pioneer in the street railroad business of Rochester, being a director in the Rochester City and Brighton Rail road, one of the most prosperous city roads in the country at that time. Later, after the merger of all the Rochester lines, Mr. Barry was a director for many years in the Rochester Railway Company and the Rochester and Suburban Railroad Company. He was president of the Rochester Trust and Savings Bank, and vice-president of the First National Bank. He was a trustee of the Monroe County Savings Bank.

From the time of its organization Mr. Barry was a charter member of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce. He served as a director, as a trustee of that body and did much public work on its various committees. Mr. Barry was of a social and public spirit, interested in the welfare of Rochester, and always a leader in civic enterprises.
Among the names and the pursuits that will always be esteemed for their intimate and valuable relation to the life and work of Mr. Barry, those of his wife and daughter, who were so near and dear to him, must be included. Mrs. Bernhard Barry, his wife, Mary Louise Gaffney Barry, whom he married on February 21, 1883, died nearly five years ago. The Diocese of Rochester takes part in the Solemn Pontifical High Mass to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be made privately.

The Ushers

The ushers will be James P. B. Duffy, Dr. Nora G. Orchard, Nelson Sage, Alexander B. Hong, J. A. Du Puy, Dr. Wesley T. Mulligan, Dr. F. Mills and George C. Gordon. Resolutions will be made in the church for city officials, business and fraternal organizations, and for the many friends and relatives who were near and dear to the Barry family.

Among the names and the pursuits that will always be esteemed for their intimate and valuable relation to the life and work of Mr. Barry, those of his wife and daughter, who were so near and dear to him, must be included. Mrs. Bernhard Barry, his wife, Mary Louise Gaffney Barry, whom he married on February 21, 1883, died nearly five years ago. The Diocese of Rochester takes part in the Solemn Pontifical High Mass to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be made privately.

The Ushers

The ushers will be James P. B. Duffy, Dr. Nora G. Orchard, Nelson Sage, Alexander B. Hong, J. A. Du Puy, Dr. Wesley T. Mulligan, Dr. F. Mills and George C. Gordon. Resolutions will be made in the church for city officials, business and fraternal organizations, and for the many friends and relatives who were near and dear to the Barry family.
But with all his achievements, with all the honors that were so spontaneously given him, it is certain that in the judgment of his fellow men he has earned everything that was given to him.

With all the honors that were so spontaneously given him, it is certain that in the judgment of his fellow men he has earned everything that was given to him.

A good man has gone. A splendid citizen has closed his earthly career. In death as in life, he was a splendid example of the power of good work. He worked at everything that made for betterment, not only in his own city, but especially, artistically, found in the business world. His friends and business associates will long remember him.

A charter member of the Rochester Commercial Club, a Roman Catholic from its beginning, we wish to express a sincere sympathy to his wife, his dear friend, this loyal trustee. It is burned into us, the memory of the records, and a copy sent to his bereaved family.

A resolution of regret was adopted yesterday by the board of managers of the New York State Agricultural and Industrial school at Industry.

HIGH CEREMONY MARKS PASSING OF MR. BARRY

PONTIFICAL MASS ATTENDED BY MANY FRIENDS.

SIGNAL CHURCH HONOR GIVEN

Bishop Opens at Funeral of Life-long Friend and Deliverer of the Eology.

Persons from all walks of life, who had followed the career of William J. Barry, who died at his home, 206 Mt. Hope avenue, Tuesday, thoroughly responded to the request of the family to pay their last respects to one whose life was felt by the whole community.

A brief service at the house of Mr. Barry's body was taken to the cathedral at 18 o'clock, met at the gateway, with the body, for the funeral, then taken to the church, the great bell in the tower tolled sixty-nine times, once for each year of the deceased. Mr. Barry's body was taken to Holy Sepulchre cemetery where it was laid to rest in the family plot. Rev. J. Francis O'Horn and Rev. Michael M'Neil officiated at the grave.

At the mass the present fairly filled the cathedral, and the whole congregation was divided into two sections, the western and eastern sections. Bishop Hickey, bishop of the diocese and a lifelong friend of Mr. Barry. The vestment was placed before the altar and on each side were stationed six lighted candles.

At the conclusion of the mass, Bishop Hickey delivered an eloquent and impressive address. The service continued until the conclusion of the funeral mass.

Friends and Associates Remember W. C. Barry

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Rochester Trust and Savings bank the following memorial was adopted:

"Wm. Crawford Barry, whose death is mourned today, for many years has been a most important factor in the activities of the bank. It is a mistake to think of the great and manifold interests of our city as not being greatly reduced. It is a common opinion that one of the spheres in which he was active, was the Monroe County Savings bank. By his interest and influence he was of the old park board. There were delegations from the West Brighton Improvement Association, the Monroe County Savings bank, and employees of the bank. Police inspector James Ryan was present and directed a special squad of patrolmen."

"Friends and Associates Remember W. C. Barry"
Lyman Moore was one of the best known men in Rochester. By reason of his many years of public service as City Treasurer, an office which brought him in touch with a majority of the citizens in the city, died suddenly yesterday, before 2 o'clock, while he was discussing business matters with William H. Rorwer, in Mr. Tower's office at 16 North Street. Mr. Otis died in 1695 to accept a renunciation as City Treasurer, a position which he held for twelve consecutive years. He was familiarly known to his colleagues as 'the grand old man of the City Hall,' and his many kindlinesses and always pleasant disposition had won him the love and admiration of all who came in contact with him. He was in his 58th year.

Lyman Moore died at his home at 196 Chestnut Street, after an illness of almost two weeks when he was stricken with an attack of apoplexy. He died before medical aid arrived. He walked downtown, and he was as happy as ever when he entered Mr. Rorwer's office.

Mr. Otis was born in Henrietta on November 12, 1831. His father died when he was 6 years old, and he was forced to make his own way in the world from that time on.

ROBERT L. MOORE DIES

Oct. 15, 1916

Taken Ill in Car, Manager of R. G. Dun, Expres Soon Afterwards.

Robert L. Moore, manager of the R. G. Dun & Company mercantile agency, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning in the office of Dr. Frank F. Dow, 403 Park avenue, Mr. Moore was between 31 and 32 years old.

The car was stopped and he was taken to Dr. Dow's office where he lived about fifteen minutes. Dr. Dow examined the body and pronounced Lyman Moore was the son of William C. Barry, who had been prominently identified with the business matters of his firm, and his death was a blow to the business world. He was a man of sterling integrity, of high ideals, a wise counselor, a delightful associate and a true friend.

The directors of the Cathedral Court of the New York Stock Exchange, on which he had served for many years, were shocked by the news of his death. He was a man of deep religious feeling, and his death was a great loss to the church in which he was a member.

The funeral services will be held at the Cathedral, and the body will be taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Tower, 144 Chestnut Street, for cremation.

Tributes were paid to Mr. Moore's services to the community, and the officers of the Cathedral Court paid their respects to the family of Mr. Moore, who were present at the funeral services.

The directors attended the funeral services in the Cathedral.

CATHEDRAL CALENDAR

Dedicated to Memory of William C. Barry

The January number of the Cathedral Calendar, the official publication of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, was issued yesterday, and is dedicated to the memory of William C. Barry, as a tribute to his services, and as a mark of respect for his generosity and loyalty to the cathedral.

The dedicatory announcement reads:

"A child of the parish by adoption, a trustee for eighteen years, a member, and a generous and loyal supporter of the cathedral, Mr. Barry's contributions are recalled with grateful appreciation.

The Cathedral Calendar is lovingly dedicated to Mr. Barry, who was a faithful and devoted member of the church, and who, through his generosity, has been a benefactor to the cathedral.

The Calendar will be issued monthly, and contains full-page pictures of Mr. Barry, and a brief biography of his life.

The dedication is a fitting tribute to the memory of William C. Barry, and a fitting memorial to the generous support he gave to the cathedral.
MRS. ELIZABETH SCHANTZ

No. 14, 1866
One of Rochester's Oldest Residents Passes Away at Her Home on Main Street

Mrs. Elizabeth Schantz, one of Rochester's oldest residents, died early this morning at the family residence, 172 Main Street, Mrs. Schantz was born in Rochester May 13, 1824, the oldest daughter of the late Herrick and Elizabeth Klein. In 1862 she was married to the late Gebhard Schantz.

Mrs. Schantz was the mother of eleven children, four of whom sur-

MRS. ELIZABETH SCHANTZ

wife. These are: Rev. Joseph Schantz, C. S. R., of Rochester, Md.; George E. Schantz, of this city; Sister Cecilia of Mary, K. N. D. of South Boston, Mass.; Mrs. George Rogers of this city.

The decease was a member of St. Joseph's parish, and a member of the Archconfraternity of the Holy Family from its beginning. She was likewise a member of the Society of the Sacred Heart, and of the Alumni Society connected with St. Joseph's parish.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 8:30 a.m. and at St. Jo-

DEATH SUMMONS

JOEL B. SWETT

Veteran of Civil War Dies at Home in City.

AMONG FRIENDS OF LINCOLN

Recollections of Great President

By Theodore A. Visch

Maker-Born in Orleans County, and Conducted Medina Newspaper

Joel Bates Swett, violin maker, newspaper man, Civil-war singer, school teacher and author, died last night at 100 years of age. He was a neighbor of Abraham Lincoln and many musicians of prominence. He was a host of Mr. Swett. A set of

DEATH OF HENRY S. JENNE

FEB. 15, 1916

Veteran Served in Civil War with Eighth Illinois Cavalry.
ARTIST PASSES AWAY; DEATH UNEXPECTED

Post 10-1-73-1916

FRANK FAVOUR BECOMES ILL AT HIS DESK.

HEART IN BAD CONDITION

Made Friends Easily and Was an Authority on Old Prints and Etchings.

Frank Favour, 50, for the past four years superintendent of the art department of The Post Express Printing Co., died suddenly yesterday afternoon in the office of St. Baldwin, at 58 Clinton avenue. Coroner Thomas A. Killip issued a certificate of death due to heart disease.

Mr. Favour was taken ill at his desk and, believing it due to an attack of indigestion, went to Dr. Killip's residence. In the morning he had walked a considerable distance through the storm from his home in Penfield Road, and while eating breakfast he found Mr. Favour's heart to be in bad condition and stepped into an adjoining room to get something. When he returned he found Mr. Favour lying dead on the floor.

A hypodermic was administered and a call was made for an ambulance and the pulmotor from the Railway and Light Co. Mr. Favour had been dead several minutes when they arrived.

Frank Favour was born in Chicago, April 1st, 1867, to Mr. and Mrs. Favour. He received his education in Boston where he also attended Post Express Printing Co. After being graduated he worked for a time in several of the large printing establishments. Later he was associated with houses in Chicago, New York, Seattle and Minneapolis.

Here Several Years Ago.

He first came to Rochester several years ago and was associated with the Post Express Printing Co. that time he was a member of the old Rochester Press club, now the Rochester Printing Club, the Athenaeum club and the Rochester Yacht Club.

Having left this city, he went to St. Paul where he became connected with the Bureau of Engraving, at Minneapolis. He remained there two years and then returned to Rochester to the head of the art department of The Post Express.

Mr. Favour was interested in old prints and etchings and his collection of these is said to have been very valuable. He was a student and carefully everything pertaining to his work and invented many things now in use in the art work. A great deal of etching and drawings were placed on exhibit at exhibits throughout the country. He spent much of his time in doors and he was well acquainted with collections of drawings are many sketches of buildings and historic places in and near Rochester.

Made Friends Easily.

Always of a jovial disposition, he made many friends easily. He was interested in all that went on about him and loved to get with friends and discuss interesting events of the day. He was interested in the Newsmen's Association and each year contributed drawings for the souvenir programme.
F. LESLIE BENTON

DEATH

The funeral service for Mr. F. Leslie Benton, who died at his home in Rochester, N.Y., on January 22, 1917, will be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Thursday afternoon, January 25, at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Settlement's Active Head

MORTUARY RECORD

David G. Seelye, Collector

The body of Mr. F. Leslie Benton, who served as the first president of the Rochester Settlement, will be brought to Rochester on Saturday afternoon, January 26, at 3:00 o'clock.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.

The Rochester Settlement was founded in 1872 by its first president, Mr. Benton, and has been in continuous operation since that time. It has been an important part of Rochester's history and has played a significant role in the city's development.
News of the death of Mr. Otis was hardly credited at the City hall this morning, because of the fact that he had been in the building but an hour before the news reached the office. Calling on all of his old friends and associates and seemingly in excellent health, he was seen by many of the officials of the various departments Tuesday afternoon in his office.

For more than two hours Thursday afternoon he sat in the office of the insurance department and heard the testimony in the condemnation proceedings. The city is conducting the acquisition of land in Stony Point street and Mr. Hope avenue. He was a member of that commission and his death will necessitate the throwing out of the mass of testimony already taken and the resumption of proceedings with a new commission.

LYMAN MORRIS OTIS, Dec. 6-16
Funeral of Former City Treasurer Held This Afternoon.

The funeral of Lyman Morris Otis, former city treasurer, who died suddenly Friday afternoon, took place this afternoon at a ceremony in his home, 126 Chestnut street. The services were attended by city and county officials, members of the Masonic fraternity and many friends and associates.

Rev. Noyes C. Bartolomew, pastor of South Congregational Church, officiated. The honorary pall bearers were H. H. Edgerton, mayor; Arthur E. Sutherland, former supreme court justice; Charles F. Pond; Calvin C. Laney, park superintendent; Joseph C. Wilson, city assessor; Henry D. Quin-

L. DeLano, Mrs. L. DeLano, and Samul Ray, all connected with the city treasurer's office. Interment was made in Mt. Hope cemetery.

MORTUARY RECORD.

Samuel B. Delano, formerly of Rochester and Canandaigua, died on January 11 at his home in Palos, Kan. He was a veteran of the Civil War, having enlisted in Rochester and serving from 1862 to the close of the war as a member of Company F, 108th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. At the time of his death he was 78 years old. After his war service he returned to Kansas, where he was a successful businessman, dealing in grain and cattle until his death.

He leaves many friends in Rochester and Canandaigua, besides two sisters, Mrs. Susan DeLono and Miss Sarah L. DeLano of Rochester. He also leaves a wife and two sons in Kansas.

Miss Victoria Schum.

Miss Victoria Schum, a member of one of the most prominent and oldest families in the city, died at her home at 305 Genesee street, last night. She was the last of the family, her only remaining brother being a judge of the city courts. At one time the family owned a tract of land near the junction of the two streets, and they operated a small nursery there.

DAVID H. WESTBURY.

Recognized as one of the most conscientious and faithful of city officials, and his death removes from official circles a real public servant.

In fraternal circles Mr. Westbury was a well known figure, being a member of Genesee Free Lodge, C. F. M.; Lalla's Rook's Grotto, Hamilton Chapter, Rochester Consistory, Hammondsport Temple, 10th Degree, 10th Lodge, I. O. O. F., and a past grand of Temple Lodge, I. O. O. F., and a member of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. He was at one time was captain of the Rochester Light Infantry.

DAVID H. WESTBURY.

Mr. Westbury was the son of David and Catherine Meadows Westbury and was born in Rochester in February, 1855. He received his education in the local schools and some thirty years ago entered the employ of the city as an attache of the engineering department. He early became associated with the waterworks department and was on January 1, 1898, named as engineer in charge of distribution, a position he held at the time of his death. He had for years been
DEATH OF MRS. HELEN JOHNSON
WIFE OF DR. ROSSITER JOHNSON PASSES AWAY.

DAUGHTER OF DR. KENDRICK

Leaves Husband, Daughter, Two Sisters and Brother, Professor R. M. Kendrick, of Rochester.

Mrs. Helen Kendrick Johnson, wife of Dr. Rossiter Johnson, died at her home in New York yesterday. She was the daughter of the late Rev. Dr. A. C. Kendrick, of Rochester. She leaves, besides her husband, a daughter, Florence Kendrick Johnson; two sisters, Mrs. Liston Cooper and Mrs. Wayland Benedict, and a half-brother, Professor Roland M. Kendrick, of this city.

Mrs. Johnson had been in broken health for several months, but her services as a teacher and woman of influence in Rochester were not diminished. The news of her death came as a shock to her many friends in this city and is the cause of deep regret.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Hamilton, N. Y., January 4, 1844, a daughter of Asael and Jane Jenkins Kendrick. Her mother died when she was but a small child. She was educated at the Ordeal, Worcester, Mass., and was married to Dr. Johnson May 6, 1869.

Dr. Johnson was born in this city and for years was one of the leading men in civic and literary life. He contributed regularly to papers and periodicals and is the author of many books. Mrs. Johnson's father was for years a professor at the University of Rochester.

Mrs. Johnson also was the author of a number of books of considerable ability. From 1832 to 1834 she was the editor of the "American Woman's Home" series and was also the author of the "Nutshell Series," 1852; "Poems and Songs for Young People," 1841, and other collections; "The Ruddy Books," 1874-1878; "Ralph Westgate," 1888; "Woman and the Republic," 1897, and many periodicals.

She was the organizer of "The Meridian," a women's club that meets at noon in New York and was also an active member of the Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women. She was founder and president of the State Women's Club.

Although Mrs. Johnson and her husband had been away from Rochester for several years, they were always interested in the life of the city. When the public library was opened at Exposition park one of the first gifts to be received at the library was a collection of books written or edited by Dr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Among the books written by Mrs. Johnson were "Great Essays," "Our Familiar Songs and Those Who Made Them," and "Woman and the Republic."

Death of Mrs. C. H. CROUCH.

Member and Sunday-school Teacher of Christ Episcopal Church.

Mr. Charles H. Crouch, one of the most prominent citizens of Rochester and pioneer lumber dealer, died suddenly at 11:45 o'clock yesterday morning while he was passing through the city on business. Mr. Crouch was president of the Crouches, of which he was owner, at 22 Dewey Avenue. Heart trouble was the cause of death. Mr. Crouch was 61 years old. His funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church, and interment will be made in the Colby Cemetery.

Mrs. M. L. T. OTIS
Death of Wife of Brother of Late Lyman M. Otis.

Mrs. Mariat Louise Tracy Otis, wife of Harrison Gray Otis, brother of the late Lyman M. Otis, former city treasurer, died this morning at the family home, 66 South Avenue. She is survived, besides her husband, by one daughter, Mrs. Charles W. Anderson, and three grandchildren, Ruth A., Helen Gabel, and Otis J. Otis, all of this city.

Mrs. Otis was born in Burlington, Vt., Octogen, youngest of the children, all of whom are said to have been born in the same house. She was married to Harrison Gray Otis. She was a member of the First Congregational Church. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home. Burial will be private.
DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN SKIPPER

Capt. Remington M. Clark Dies at Home After Illness of Year.

PROMINENT LIFESAVER Figured in Thrilling Fight To Save Crew of Schooner St. Peter.

Death of Well-Known Skipper

Moses Lyman, aged 59 years, of 12 Livingston Park, a Civil War veteran, died yesterday morning at his home. Mr. Lyman contracted a cold several days ago, and complications that set in caused his death. He was born in Cohoes, Conn., and came to Rochester about eight years ago. Previous to this, he had been in the real estate business in New York City.

Mr. Lyman attended Brown University, and was graduated in the classics. He became a member of the Theta Beta Chi fraternity while at Brown.

When Mr. Lyman came to Rochester, he made his home on Livingston Park, in the house formerly occupied by William Brewster Lee, who became an elder of the First Presbyterian Church shortly after coming here.

When the Civil War broke out Mr. Lyman enlisted in the Fifteenth Vermont Volunteers and received the commission of first lieutenant. At the close of the second year of service he was stricken with typhoid fever and invalided home. He was for many years an active member of the G. A. R.

Mr. Lyman is survived by his wife, Sarah L. Lyman; two daughters, Mrs. L. D. Atwater, of Waverly, and Mrs. Thomas Karl, of Denver, Colo.; one son, Moses Lyman, of Springfield, Mass., and one sister, Mrs. Thomas R. White, of Somers Point, and three grandchildren.

The services will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from St. Mary's Church, and interment will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

William T. Bassett.

Rochester. For the past two months he had been unable to be at his office.

Mr. Bassett's condition showed a marked improvement recently and yesterday he was able to be up and about the house. He had intended to return to work in a few days. Last night he collapsed suddenly and died soon afterward.

In 1897 Mr. Bassett was married to Miss Margaret Hanna, a daughter of Edward and Hannah, pioneer settlers of Rochester. He leaves, besides his wife, two sons, Edward H. and William T. Hanna; four daughters, Ada C., Kleiner M., Margaret and Harriet Hanna, and a sister, Mrs. Harriett L. Beals.

Mr. Bassett was a man of genial disposition and ready wit and was considered a story-teller. His whole-hearted generosity was felt by many in the community and his sudden death is regretted by his friends.

Fred Tallman First Cuest to Make a Vaudeville Success in Fancy Billiard Shooting

Fred M. Tallman, the Rochester pocket billiard expert who was buried in Riverside cemetery to-day, had an international reputation as trick or fancy-shot billiardist. He was known in every city of importance in the United States, and his reputation extended abroad, where he gave exhibitions in the larger cities of England, France, Germany, and other countries of the Old World. He was the first American pocket billiardist to play before the crowned heads of Europe.

One of Tallman’s greatest claim to achievement was the fact that he was the only one of many of the billiard experts who lived, who was able to make a pretense of exhibitions with the cue and ivory on the stage. Some of the others were undoubtedly greater players, but did not give the ability to “put it across” as did Tallman. The Rochesterian’s services were in demand continuously from the day he commenced his art in Rochester six years ago until the time of his death in New York Monday.

Tallman’s career was a checkered one; at first he probably had as many ups and downs as any professional knight of the cue, but his rise was meteoric. From the moment he introduced his pocket billiard exhibition in vaudeville he continued to be a favorite among the many billiard acts that intermittently appeared for popular favor. His first appearance in New York in 1910, was a hit, and he was booked for the next two years; he toured the United States and Canada, giving exhibitions in the principal vaudeville houses.

In 1913 Tallman was signed for an European tour. His first appearance was in London, where his act received royal attention. While in that city he defeated the great English billiardist Stevenson and players of lesser note. He defeated the English billiardist in one of the English clubs. In fact, the game was the talk of the town. Tallman then opened an American vaudeville in London with American pocket and camel tables.

One of Tallman’s last exhibitions abroad was in Dublin, where he entertained the Lord Mayor and his friends and then played a week at the Theatre. The Dublin “Herald” paid the following tribute to Tallman’s skill:

The secret of Tallman’s skill is that he knows more about cushion shots and the angles of the table than any other player we have ever seen. The danger of blunting hazards in our experience. A man who at pyramids can smash the balls and pot the lot either in the ordinary manner and yet is no more successful is not to be taken lightly. A game of pool or pyramids with him would be a real treat. Six-cushion cannons and other trick shots are just as surprising. The general conclusion is that so far as Tallman is concerned the serious game thing as safety. Once or twice it appeared long odds against his potting a ball—that ball was either “w axed” or in such a position that a winning hazard seemed out of the question. Not at all, to score was the easiest thing in the world so long as you could to do the necessary trick.”

In a great measure Tallman’s success on the stage was due to his appearance. He was quick at what the public wanted and he knew how to satisfy. Where other billiardists tried to execute difficult shots Tallman introduced simpler shots but just as spectacular and made them. Where others halved their act with cheap comedy, Tallman always went about his play seriously, injecting a little “Chinese pool” as a diversion and a few humorous lines with this part of the entertainment. He had an easy grace, promptitude in movement and judgment, and a manner that forced the public to overlook his failures on the ground that he could have made the shot if he had wanted to. It was an appeal to judgment, and to those who watched his exhibitions.

Before his vaudeville success, Tallman was a familiar figure in Rochester and Buffalo billiard and pocket billiard circles. He played thousands of games, some for fun, other for the coin of the realm. His old billiard room in the rear of Reynolds arcade was the scene of many exciting experiences, and in this room many players were entangled into the mysteries of the game.

Tallman competed once for the billiards championship and was defeated. He played Jerome R. Keogh in Buffalo ten years ago and lost, 500 to 364. Tallman was quick to realize that trick shots were his forte and he planned his act, that brought him success.

MISS MARY F. THOMPSON
March 18, 1917
Funeral of Woman Who Was Member of Brick Church Sixty-Five Years
Will Be Held Tomorrow

Miss Mary Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of a former Rochester organist and organ teacher, died yesterday afternoon. Miss Thompson had been a member of Brick Church for 65 years, having married the church with a girl, in 1852.

For more than fifty-seven years she had been a teacher in Brick Church Sunday School, of which school her father was superintendent for many years. For more than thirty years she had been a member of the Missionary Society of Brick Church, caring for that organization’s funds, reaching upwards of $2,000 a year, with the greatest fidelity and precision. She was a charter member of the board of deaconesses of that church, and was also associated for the last twenty years with the Royal Gorge Christian Endeavor Society. She was a charter member of the board of deaconesses of that church, and was also associated for the last twenty years with the Royal Gorge Christian Endeavor Society.

The funeral will be held from the residence, 1110 South High St., at 10 o’clock.

REYNOLDS LIBRARIAN DEAD
Alfred S. Collins Who Served Institution 24 Years, Passes Away

Mr. Alfred S. Collins, who died last Sunday in this city, had a long and useful public career. He was for twenty-four years librarian of Reynolds library.

Born in New York in 1837, he was educated in various schools and graduated from Union Theological Seminary. He accepted a charge in Albany. Feeling the need of an outdoor occupation, he left the ministry and went to the business of fish culture. He owned and managed what is now the State Fish Hatchery at Caldwell, was a friend of both Green and assisted him in writing his book "Fish Hatchery and Fish Catching.

After selling the fish hatchery, Mr. Collins came to Rochester and became librarian of Reynolds Library, in May, 1857, a very high order. He continued there until January 1, 1911, when ill health forced him to retire.

Comrades in Life, Two Veteran Railroaders Go on Last Run Together

Within a period of about three and a half hours on Saturday two of the best known railroad men in Rochester passed down the line to the terminal of life and turned in their final reports to The Great Yarmouth. William A. Sornberger, for the last ten years chief train dispatcher of the Rochester Division of the New York Central Rail Road, and M. H. McNeil, a veteran engineer of the same road, died on Saturday evening, one at 6 and the other about 10 o’clock. A remarkable fact in connection with the two deaths in that the men, who were widely known, had been associated closely for the last thirty years. To their numerous railroad acquaintances, it seemed more than a coincidence that the two old friends should have made “their last run together.”

Mr. Nicol entered the employ of the Central in 1884 and had been conducting the service ever since, having worked in the car business fifty years ago and had been continually employed as a conductor ever since. His principal run was between Buffalo and Syracuse, but for the last four years he had been running about between Rochester and Syracuse. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and for years was secretary of its local, handling more than $2,000,000 of the engineers’ money. He was regarded as one of the most reliable engineers on the Central system.

Started as Messenger Boy

Mr. Sornberger entered the employ of the Central as a messenger boy and soon earned promotion to the position of operator. For years he was in absolute charge of all operators on the Rochester Division. About ten years ago he was transferred to the Rochester Division— including the Auburn, "peanut" Falls and Charlotte branches—was separated from the Buffalo and Syracuse divisions. Mr. Sornberger was made chief dispatcher and was charged with the management of the installation. Mr. Sornberger had been in the service more than forty years and was known among the employees as a genial and good fellow. He was a member of Frank R. Lawrence Lodge 707, Free and Accepted Masons.
DEATH COMES SUDDENLY TO A. T. HAGEN

Born in England, He Became Prominent Rochester Business Man.

Arthur T. Hagen, one of the most prominent manufacturers and business men of Rochester, died suddenly this morning at 5 o'clock at his home, 1800 East avenue, after an illness of only a few days.

Mr. Hagen was president of the Star-Palace Laundry and one of the directors of the American Laundry Machinery Company. He was born in Inington, England, near London, August 26, 1852, and was the son of Oliver and Sarah Hagen. Mr. Hagen's family came to this country in 1860 and went to live at West Farms.

ARTHUR T. HAGEN.

Westchester county, which is now a part of New York city. There he received a common school education and at an early age he entered the employ of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company, where he learned the trade of sewing machine mechanic. In 1871 he came to Rochester and worked for a short time for the Wheeler & Wilson agents. He was then employed in the mechanical department of Ebbey, Lindsay & Carr Company, whose underwear factory he subsequently bought.

In 1874, in order better to launder his custom-made shirts, he formed a partnership in the laundry business with Peter Myers, which partnership continued until the death of Mr. Myers in 1888. The laundry was known as the Star Laundry and was located at Clinton avenue. After Mr. Myers' death, Mr. Hagen formed a new partnership with Fred B. Chapman and Daniel M. Cooper, his brothers-in-law, and in 1897 he purchased the Star Laundry and incorporated them both under the name of the Star-Palace Laundry. He was also president of the Palace Laundry Company, of Buffalo. His interest in the laundry business led him to invent many machines for that industry, and led to the growth of the A. T. Hagen Laundry.

MANY FRIENDS AT FUNERAL OF ARTHUR T. HAGEN.

Former Business Associates and Employees Pay Respects to Late President of Laundry.

The funeral of Arthur T. Hagen, late president of the Star-Palace laundry and interested in leading banks and business enterprises in this city and in Buffalo, who died Saturday at his home, 1800 East avenue, after a short illness with pneumonia, took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home.

Rev. Dr. William R. Taylor, pastor of Brick Presbyterian church, of whose family Mr. Hagen was a member, officiated. At the service were many former business associates, employees in the various activities with which Mr. Hagen had been connected and family friends.

The active bearers were: Robert Mathews, of Mathews & Boucher; Dr. Rush Rhees, president of the University of Rochester; John Crile Powers, president of the Fidelity Trust company and representative of its directors; Arthur C. Jackson, secretary of the East Side Savings Bank and representative of its trustees; Robert M. Burton, of Cincinnati, president of the American Laundry Machinery company; James E. Kelso, president of the Kelso Laundry company; Edward F. Morris, president of the Multiple company, and George R. Fuller, president of the Rochester Telephone company.

With this

John P. Smith.

Smith was an exemplary Catholic layman and prominent in every phase of Catholic activity. He was a long time communicant of SS. Peter and Paul's Church. At all periods of his useful life, a part of his time was devoted to the interests of the Catholic Church and Catholic societies. He was a charter member of the Knights of St. John, being past president of the local chapter and grand commander of the grand commanderies at the time of his death and had been a supreme trustee of the organization. Mr. Smith served Commandery 23 of the Knights of St. John, as its president more than once. He was also a member of the Musa Caravan 25, Order of the Alhambra and the Order of the Knights of Columbus. For a time of his death faithful navigator, fourth degree assembly. He was or-

MANY FRIENDS AT FUNERAL OF ARTHUR T. HAGEN.

Father of Mrs. Walter B. Chapman, and a grandson, John G. Ermatinger.

He leaves his wife, Eva M. Smith; one son, John M. Smith; two daughters, Mrs. George J. Ermatinger and Cecilia Smith; one sister, Katherine A. Smith; one brother, J. J. Smith; and a grandson, John G. Ermatinger.

FUNERAL OF JOHN P. SMITH.

Visiting Members of Knights of St. John Attend Service.

The funeral of John P. Smith, president of the John P. Smith Printing company and a member of the leading printing firm of Smith & Wilson, Kenwood Avenue, last Thursday morning, was held at 9:30 o'clock from his home, and at 10 o'clock from SS. Peter and Paul's Church. Mr. Smith before his death was a prominent figure in the business and Catholic societies of the city. Representative from many fraternal and church organizations attended the service. Members were also here from Buffalo and Syracuse.

FUNERAL OF JOHN P. SMITH.

The largest funerals ever held at SS. Peter and Paul's Church, led by the Fifty-fourth Regiment, and Knights of St. John, in uniform, the procession passed through Main Street West and down State Street to Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. The staff officers of the Knights of St. John, Knights of Columbus and Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree, assisted as deputation, C. M. E. Smith of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, of which Mr. Smith was a prominent member, was largely represented.

Solem high masses were celebrated by Rev. J. E. Gefol, assistant pastor of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, and Rev. Andrew Breen, of Mt. Morris, as sub-deacon. Rev. Rev. Andrew Mes- sier, Catholick of the church, read the funeral oration.

Rev. Thomas P. Hickey gave the final absolution.

With this

John P. Smith.

Builds New Printing Plant.

With Mr. Smith as president, the John P. Smith Printing company made a notable change in 1907, when the plant, which had been purchased, increased so great an extent, it was necessary to move again to larger quarters. The company has occupied the story building on the plant and State street, since that time. The company is one of the largest in the country and does business with customers from New York to Chicago.

Mr. Smith was one of the best known men in the printing business at that time of his death and took an active interest in every movement to increase the trade. He was a member of the Triumphant and Franklin clubs of America, including the great service. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rochester Athletic Club.

Mr. Smith was an exemplary Catholic layman and prominent in every phase of Catholic activity. He was a long time communicant of SS. Peter and Paul's Church. At all periods of his useful life, a part of his time was devoted to the interests of the Catholic Church and Catholic societies. He was a charter member of the Knights of St. John, being past president of the local chapter and grand commander of the grand commanderies at the time of his death and had been a supreme trustee of the organization. Mr. Smith served Commandery 23 of the Knights of St. John, as its president more than once. He was also a member of the Musa Caravan 25, Order of the Alhambra and the Order of the Knights of Columbus. For a time of his death faithful navigator, fourth degree assembly. He was or-
COL. WILLIAM F. CODY.

E. C., Jan. 11, 1917

Buffalo Bill's death after a game fight with death

Gallant Scout Continues Cheerful While Shadows Fall—Will Be Buried Near Denver in Tomb on Mountain.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 10.—To add her measure of appreciation of what the West owed him, the state of Colorado will receive the body of Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), who died at 1:36 p.m. today, from her Capitol Sunday, there to lie in state four hours.

General services for the noted scout are to be held Sunday afternoon, when the body will be placed in a receiving vault in a local cemetery, but burial will not take place until next spring, probably Decoration Day, when the body of one of the nation's most picturesque characters will be interred in a tomb hewn from the rock at the top of Lookout mountain near this city. Plans already are afoot for the erection of a suitable monument at the final resting place.

The funeral services Sunday are to be held in the Elks' home in charge of the Denver lodge of Elks. In accordance with the wishes of the deceased scout, however, all the societies to which he belonged are to have a part in his funeral, including the Grand Army of the Republic, the Pioneer Society of Colorado and the Cowboy Rangers of Denver. The Masons will have charge of the interment of the body in its mountain tomb.

Arrangements were made at a conference late today for the body to lie in state in the Capitol Sunday morning from 9 o'clock to noon. While the body lies at the Capitol, a guard of honor will be on duty.

Federal troops will escort the body from the Capitol to the Elks' home for the services, according to plans tonight and other Federal troops are expected to march in the funeral cortège.

Buffalo Bill fought death as he often fought Indians, on the plains in the days when the West was young. You can't kill the old scout, he would tell his physician whenever his condition showed improvement. And when the doctor told him his life was ebbing the Colonel accepted his fate like a hero.

"Let the Elks and Masons take charge of the services," he said to his sister. Then he buried his to his business affairs, making excuses for his comTAIL.

"Let us have a game of what I saw," he said, after he had talked with his family. And everyone joined, the Colonel laughing and joking because he was winning.

Since January 5th, when he was hurried back to his sister's home in Denver, Colonel Cody had surprised all who knew his real condition by great powers of resistance and recuperation. On January 15th, however, his system broke down entirely and from then on it was a question merely of time.

Had Varied Experience

Colonel William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," hunter, soldier, scout and showman, was for many years known to nearly every man, woman, boy and girl in America through his Wild West shows, with which he toured this country and Europe. He was a picturesque type of the pioneer frontiersman and lived to see large cities built where once he hunted the buffalo and taught Indians.

Colonel William F. Cody was born in Scott county, Iowa, February 26, 1866. He was of French, English, Irish and Welsh blood. His parents moved West and took up a claim near Leavenworth, Kansas, then a frontier Indian post, when Cody was 5 years old. At 10 years of age he found himself the head of the family, owing to the death of his father, who was killed in an encounter growing out of a dispute over the scarce sage question. Young Cody's first employment was as a young friend between the freight trains operating between the Missouri river and the Rocky Mountains. In turn, he became wagon master of a hunter, pony express rider and stagecoach driver, all giving a varied experience, and the generation which saw the schooL an adept in every possible line of frontier activity.

An exciting experience in the Union army as a soldier and subsequently as a confirmed scout and scout of his commanders in the desultory and guerrilla warfare of the Southwest left him at its finish well known as an all-around frontiersman, competent to advise, to guide and to lead. His qualities were brought to the attention of distinguished commanders as General W. T. Sherman, Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles and Generals Crook, Philips,/inet, and others.

Colonel Cody's wife and three of his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery and in all probability when the veterans' plainsman passes his body will be brought to Rochester to rest by his side, to be with his beloved ones. The children interred in Mount Hope cemetery are two girls, Arta and Ona Cody, and one boy, Ken. Cody. Colonel Cody is buried in the old scout to this city has found him lingering about the graves of these children in the city. The boy and his wife were placed beside the children.

Son's Last Hard Blow

The loss of his only son, Kit, known to Colonel Cody as "Buffalo Bill," the biggest figure of American romance and idol of children, now reported in the world of Rochester for more than a year. He resided in New York street and many Rochesterians are kindred among his friends.

Colonel Cody attended No. 2 School, in Madison park.

Colonel Cody's wife and three of his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery and in all probability when the veterans' plainsman passes his body will be brought to Rochester to rest by his side, to be with his beloved ones. The children interred in Mount Hope cemetery are two girls, Arta and Ona Cody, and one boy, Ken. Cody. Colonel Cody is buried in the old scout to this city has found him lingering about the graves of these children in the city. The boy and his wife were placed beside the children.

Son's Last Hard Blow

The loss of his only son, Kit, known to Colonel Cody as "Buffalo Bill," the biggest figure of American romance and idol of children, now reported in the world of Rochester for more than a year. He resided in New York street and many Rochesterians are kindred among his friends.

Colonel Cody attended No. 2 School, in Madison park.

Colonel Cody's wife and three of his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery and in all probability when the veterans' plainsman passes his body will be brought to Rochester to rest by his side, to be with his beloved ones. The children interred in Mount Hope cemetery are two girls, Arta and Ona Cody, and one boy, Ken. Cody. Colonel Cody is buried in the old scout to this city has found him lingering about the graves of these children in the city. The boy and his wife were placed beside the children.

Son's Last Hard Blow

The loss of his only son, Kit, known to Colonel Cody as "Buffalo Bill," the biggest figure of American romance and idol of children, now reported in the world of Rochester for more than a year. He resided in New York street and many Rochesterians are kindred among his friends.

Colonel Cody attended No. 2 School, in Madison park.

Colonel Cody's wife and three of his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery and in all probability when the veterans' plainsman passes his body will be brought to Rochester to rest by his side, to be with his beloved ones. The children interred in Mount Hope cemetery are two girls, Arta and Ona Cody, and one boy, Ken. Cody. Colonel Cody is buried in the old scout to this city has found him lingering about the graves of these children in the city. The boy and his wife were placed beside the children.

Son's Last Hard Blow

The loss of his only son, Kit, known to Colonel Cody as "Buffalo Bill," the biggest figure of American romance and idol of children, now reported in the world of Rochester for more than a year. He resided in New York street and many Rochesterians are kindred among his friends.

Colonel Cody attended No. 2 School, in Madison park.

Colonel Cody's wife and three of his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery and in all probability when the veterans' plainsman passes his body will be brought to Rochester to rest by his side, to be with his beloved ones. The children interred in Mount Hope cemetery are two girls, Arta and Ona Cody, and one boy, Ken. Cody. Colonel Cody is buried in the old scout to this city has found him lingering about the graves of these children in the city. The boy and his wife were placed beside the children.

Son's Last Hard Blow

The loss of his only son, Kit, known to Colonel Cody as "Buffalo Bill," the biggest figure of American romance and idol of children, now reported in the world of Rochester for more than a year. He resided in New York street and many Rochesterians are kindred among his friends.

Colonel Cody attended No. 2 School, in Madison park.

Colonel Cody's wife and three of his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery and in all probability when the veterans' plainsman passes his body will be brought to Rochester to rest by his side, to be with his beloved ones. The children interred in Mount Hope cemetery are two girls, Arta and Ona Cody, and one boy, Ken. Cody. Colonel Cody is buried in the old scout to this city has found him lingering about the graves of these children in the city. The boy and his wife were placed beside the children.
BUFFALO BILL, NOTED INDIAN FIGHTER, DIES

Retains Mental Faculties until Near Death, Calmly Making Funeral Arrangements.

By Harold, Jan. 19.—William F. Cody, better known to the world as "Buffalo Bill," died at 12:05 o'clock this afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. May Cody Decker.

Although very weak and occasional delirium, the old scout seemed that he suffered only from a cold, and with his iron will to overcome the malady, he was able to rise and direct the needs of the day.

Once last night in his delirium he arose and chose to try on a costume of dressing in the old cowboy suit, that he had put on to those with whom he was associated in the momentary need of dressing the old leather coat and the wide belt. It on the occasion and spurs, with which he added spice to the idea of making Indian signs. Then after he got back into bed, saying he would not die that night at his bedside when the end came.

were his two daughters, Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Irma Cody Groh of Cody, Wyo.; his sister, Mrs. Julia, Goodnow; his nephew, Will Cody Bradford, and several grandchildren and other relatives.

"Buffalo Bill" had been ailing rapidly for several weeks. He was rushed to Denver a few days ago in a dying condition. For the last three days his death had been hourly expected, but the remarkable vitality of the famous Plainsman aided him in the struggle for life.

WILLIAM F. CODY, ROSE TO DOMINANCE

William F. Cody was born in Scott County, Iowa, on February 26, 1846. He was the son of a frontierman, who was killed while defending a wagon train from an attack by Indians.

Born Title with Pride

When young, he became a crack shot, and while still in his teens took his place among the men of the frontier in the dangerous work of keeping the wagon trains open between settlements.

In 1887 he became a government "pawnee express" rider, but soon after joined the 7th Kansas Cavalry, in which he served through the Civil War.

Earned Title of "Buffalo Bill"

He earned his title of "Buffalo Bill" in 1877 when the Kansas Pacific Railroad was under construction by killing Indians to supply the workmen with food.

Lives for Time in Rochester

In 1871 and 1885 Buffalo Bill turned eastward and settled in Rochester, taking up a contract in Exchange Street just west of Haskell Park, where he could look out upon the powerful bowling greens.

His children attended No. 2 School in Haskell Park, now known as the Madison Park Vocation School. His life was marked by the death of his oldest son, Kit Carson Cody, who was born in Madison Park, and in the hands of a genius, while he was visiting his son.

In later years when Buffalo Bill toured the country with his famous Wild West Show, Rochester was always his favorite city, and on each visit here he would immediately drive his favorite horse to Mt. Hope and place flowers on the graves of his children.

Visited Graves Last Year.

Last year he visited Rochester twice, and on each visit made the trip.

For his services during his Indian war, Cody was made chief of scouts, with the rank of colonel, and remained in command of the government until the Indian troubles were finally settled.

For his services during the Indian war, Cody was made chief of scouts, with the rank of colonel, and remained in command of the government until the Indian troubles were finally settled.
BUFFALO BILL LAID AT REST
POST JUNE 11, 1917
CRYPT HEWN IN ROCK ON SUMMIT OF MOUNTAIN

Masons Conduct Ceremony

Last Rites Performed for Former Rochester Man Today—Children Buried in Mt. Hope.

An eminence just west of Wildcat Point, almost on the very summit of Lookout mountain, near Denver, Colo., is the last resting place of Col. W. F. Cody. There amid the grandeur of the mountain peaks, the body of the famed plainsman was placed this week in a crypt hehewn out of enduring granite.

The site chosen for the grave of Parahaka, "the long haired," as the Indians called the frontiersman, overlooks the great plains where Buffalo Bill pursued the bison and fought the red man in days gone by.

From the burial place may be seen the city of Denver, which the old scout had seen grow from a trading post, and the evidences of commerce and industry for which the work of Buffalo Bill and others of his kind in winning the West blazed the trail.

Place Is Typical of His Life.

Not even the old frontiersman himself, with all his love of the West and of its mountains and of its plains, could have chosen a more sublime spot for his grave. As the life of Buffalo Bill was typical of the West, so is his burial place. To the north and south and west are the snow-capped peaks of the mountains which saw many of his exploits. On the plain to the eastward is his well-beloved metropolis of the Rockies, which for many years of his life had practically been his home.

The ceremonies of interring the body of Colonel Cody began this afternoon at 2.15 o'clock. Arrangements for the burial were completed Saturday. A metal vault lowered into a cement lined, solid stone crypt contains the body and a steel flag pole, sixty-five feet high, was erected over it. This flag pole, supporting the Stars and Stripes, will do sentinel duty at the grave until the tomb which is to be erected is completed. It is fitting, too, that a pine tree, which stood at the point where the grave was opened, should have been left to guard the body. This pine will not be disturbed until the imposing tomb is constructed.

The burial ceremonies were under the auspices of the Masonic lodge. The Golden City lodge, the oldest Masonic lodge in the state performed the rites for the North Platte, Neb., lodge, of which Colonel Cody was a member for forty-seven years, and the Knights Templar acted as escorts. Taps were sounded and a military salute was fired by a troop of the Colorado National Guard under command of Captain Nickerson.

Colonel Cody lived in Rochester several years and his children are buried in Mount Hope cemetery. It was his practice, when he was here, on his annual pilgrimage through the country, to visit their graves and place floral tributes upon them.

By experience the major was a cosmopolite. But he never forgot that he was a staunch American. His heart was with America and its young men. When he last visited Rochester, he was on every occasion counseling preparedness, and he warned the young men with whom he became acquainted of the imminent danger of a break with Germany. "Be ready for it when it comes," was his advice.

Major Cody gained his first fame as a fighter with Colonel Cody of the Great West. Although he fought them bitterly on occasions, the red men had no better friend than he. He understood them, and they trusted him. Following the battle of Wounded Knee, Burke was the only white man whom the Oglala Sioux would trust to carry on peace negotiations for the whites. He had taken part in the battle which had cost the redskins many scores of their braves, but he went unafraid into their camp and made peace.

The death of Major John M. Burke adds a foot-note to a page in American history. Apr. 14, 1917
Hard for Buffalo Bill to Tear Himself from Friends to Take Up First Theatrical Venture

On a cool afternoon in the summer of 1875, four men gathered around a wooden table in the living room of the Daily Republican, in Omaha. The dreary sky outside was a stark contrast to the lively atmosphere inside, as these men were deep in conversation. Buffalo Bill Cody was in the midst of discussing his plans for his first theatrical venture, a topic that had been occupying him for some time.

William F. Cody was not the only one with a role in this decision. His friend, Major A. D. Balcomb, president of the Daily Republican, was also present. The two men had been confidants for years, and Balcomb was eager to support Cody's venture. Balcomb had been a strong advocate of the theater, seeing it as a way to bring people together and give them a break from the harsh realities of everyday life.

As the conversation continued, Cody shared his vision for the new venture. He had always been fascinated by the West, and he wanted to bring that world to the stage. He envisioned a production that would transport audiences to the places he had traveled, from the battlefields of the Civil War to the grandeur of the American frontier.

Balcomb listened carefully, his eyes sparkling with excitement. He knew that this was a turning point in Cody's life, and he was eager to see where it would lead.

The men discussed the logistics of the new venture, from the selection of plays to the construction of sets. Balcomb offered his expertise in the theater industry, while Cody shared his knowledge of the West. The two friends worked together to make the vision a reality.

As the afternoon wore on, the group parted ways, each man going their separate ways to work on their projects. But the seed had been planted, and soon they would see the fruits of their labor. The theater was about to come alive with the energy of Buffalo Bill Cody and his team.

---

From the archives of the Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County, Historic Scrapbooks Collection.
SERVED IN CIVIL WAR AS TELEGRAPHER

Funeral of Harry T. Gregg,
Veteran Western Union
Employee, Held To-day.

The funeral of Harry Lester Gregg, Civil war telegrapher and veteran employee of the Western Union Telegraph Company, who died Sunday morning, was held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence of a sister, Mrs. William Chappell, 922 Harvard street.

Rev. David Lincoln Ferris, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, officiated.

The body was placed in a vault in the chapel at Mt. Hope cemetery, to rest until spring, when interment will be made in the family lot in Mt. Hope.

Rev. Mr. Ferris officiated at the service. The bearers were: George D. Ritter, James C. Breese, Dr. George
T. Thomas, Arthur B. Chappell, Frank
E. Thomas, Mr. Brewe and Mr. Chappell.

Henry Lester Gregg, one of hundreds of men entitled to wear the badge of the United States Military Telegraph
Corps, was buried by his war, and Mr. Gregg sailed in the Military Telegraph Corps, which was founded by Andrew Cart-
Pine, and survived the Federal tele-

HENRY LESTER GREGG.

For his organization that came in existence early in the Civil War and proved of untold value to the Union
Army commanders, was born in Columbus, N. Y., September 26, 1832, the son of Colonel Benjamin Gregg and Gallina Lester Carpenter. His family background is strong in the Army and plays an important part in the struggle of the nation.

In 1865 and 1867 Mr. Gregg entered the Rochester office of the Western Union Telegraph Company as a messenger boy. He was ambitious and soon gained a working knowledge of the Morse telegraph. Some time later he entered the employ of the New York Central Railroad.

Becomes War Telegrapher.

In a short time he was assigned by war, and Mr. Gregg sailed in the Military Telegraph Corps, which was founded by Andrew Cart-
Pine, and survived the Federal tele-

HENRY GANSS, FURRIER, DIES

Born in Germany in 1847—Came to Rochester 21 Years Ago.

On Jan. 22, 1917

HENRY GANSS, Sr.

Henry Ganss, Sr., well known furrier of this city, died suddenly yesterday at
No. 19 South Goodman street.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabath
Ganss; five daughters, Mildred E. Ganss, Mrs. Helen Breeder, Mrs. Russell S. Gil-ou, Elsie G. and Mary P. Ganss, and two sons, Henry Ganss, Jr., and William
M. Ganss, all of this city; also, Mrs.
Helen Herman, of Cleveland, and two grandchildren.

Mr. Ganss was born in Frankenthal, Germany, in 1847. He became associated with his father in the fur business seven years and later went to Paris, France.

When a young man, he came to this country and connected with the fur houses of Helderfer, Greiners, Harris
& Bass, of New York, and Falsbecler & Sons, of Toronto.

Twenty-one years ago, Mr. Ganss came to Rochester and engaged in the fur business. He was the senior member of the firm of Ganss Brothers & Company.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 from the home of Waldo Chappell, of Central Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Interment will be made at Riverside cemetery and will be private.

SILAS MCCARTY

February 1917

Veteran's Open Boot Used to Sound
Taps at Grave—S. O. V. Farnish Firing Squad.

The funeral of Silas McNeill, Civil war veteran, was held this morning at 3 o'clock from the house, 271
Orange street, and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedra

McNeill of Pierce Post, Sons of Veterans of Foreign Wars, No. 388,

A firing squad, under command of Captain Zoa Williams, fired a volley over the grave of Silas McNeill, in the Section cemetery. Using a blue Mr.
McNeill was carried in the Civil War, Butler
Church, was sounded taps.

The bearers were: Corporal H. Macuay, Privates J. W., E. Greene,
J. M. Bahnman, G. D. Cole.

Frank X. Morel Died at Age of 81 Years, 11 Months.

Frank X. Morel died yesterday afternoon at his home, No. 163 Clinton ave-ue north, aged 81 years and 11 months.

Mr. Morel, who was a sergeant in Company D, Thirteenth New York Infantry of the Confederate army, will be buried in the sergeant's uniform which was worn by his son, Harry A. Morel, in various skirmishes in Mexico recently.

Henry Morel was a commissioned ofter in Troop E, Third Cavalry, of the regular army.

On August 29, 1916, Mr. Morel stepped from the gangplank of the boat that had brought him to New Orleans from Canada by the Army, and was awarded a gold medal in recognition of his excellent work as a telegrapher.

On September 20, 1916, Mr. Morel was taken prisoner by the Union forces at the Battle of Chickamauga and sent to Camp
Douglas, Illinois. He was released on March 15, 1865, when the line of truce to the Civil War was signed.

At Camp Douglas Mr. Morel, who was a carpenter, earned a handsome sum from a piece of solid wood, with the inscription, "A Souvenir of the Time That is Past—Long Live Liberty."

Mr. Morel leaves his wife, Mrs. Emma Morel, four sons, Napoleon, Joseph,
Henry A. and John W. Morel; five daugthers, Mrs. William Hull, Mrs.
Frank Craig, Mrs. Benjamin Parks and Miss Mary Morel, and a brother, Octave Morel, of Canada. The family came to this city about four years ago from Syracuse.

The funeral will take place at 8:30 o'clock this morning from the home, and at 9 o'clock from the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Ninth street.

J. M. Bahnman, Ex-Confederate

He was also member of St. Andrew's Mary's Hospital. They stood with humbled hearts while the veteran was carried on a stretcher to the ambulance, and then they parted.

Last night at the Rock John Astell, late private of Company C, 5th Regiment, New York Infantry, heard the last call, "Taps."

At the hospital it was said that the veteran suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Antell was 71 years old and died at 5:30 this morning. When the call came for volunteers he enrolled in the 14th Regiment of New York Infantry and served with it until his collapse at the close of the war. He was with the regiment in all its battles. A number of sons

John on Lincoln's Birthday

February 13, 1917

Half dozen or more veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, gathered around a table in their room at Hotel Annex in Exchange dia, held a brief confercence. They were remembrance: for it was the birthday of the great chief, and the veterans gathered to note the day as long ago as they
when they followed through the Wilderness, or marched in the t to

A host of young women, including John Antell, threw his hands and Union, and one of the old veterans picked up his pen and Union, and

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historic Scrapbooks Collection
Engineer Killed by Bursting Pipe

Rochester Man Found Dead Before Central Tracks—Train of Falls from Cab—High Mason.

John K. Harris, one of the most popular engineers on the New York Central railroad and a thirty-second degree Mason, fatally injured early yesterday morning when a steam pipe burst in the cab in which he was riding on the second section of the way west from Lake Shore Limited.

Harris was thrown or tossed from the cab when the train was traveling fifty miles an hour.
The crew of the limited was unable to find Harris and it was

WILLIS C. HADLEY

Times Feb. 16, 1918

Death of Well-Known Civil War Veteran and Former Commander of C. J. Powers Post, G. A. R.

WILLIS C. HADLEY

tus Feb. 16, 1918

Death of Well-Known Civil War Veteran and Former Commander of C. J. Powers Post, G. A. R.

WILLIS C. HADLEY

CJ. Powers Post, G. A. R., of which he served as commander during 1870 and DEATH REMOVES
GEORGE D. REED
Companion Law Here for Thirty-Two Years.

HAD UNUSUAL LEGAL ABILITY

Started Life as Blacksmith and Did Not Start His Common School Education until After He Was
Has Been Ten Years.

George D. Reed, prominent lawyer, died at 7 o'clock last night at the family home, No. 14 Sibley place, after an ill ness of a year and a half. Mr. Reed was a member of the law firm of Reed & Shutt and had been active in litigation in Monroe county for the past thirty years.

Mr. Reed was born at Bristol on March 10, 1855. When he was 5 years old his parents moved to Canandaigua.
In his early years he followed the occu pation of blacksmith, and it was not until after he was 21 that he received the advantages of a common-school edu cation, after which he attended the Can andaigua Academy.

In his school his native talents and abilities were brought out and, deciding to study law, he read with Eliza E. Gar dener, a prominent lawyer with offices in Canandaigua. By assiduity and at tention to his studies Mr. Reed over came the obstacles of early neglect of education and was admitted to the bar in Buffalo in June, 1883, after two years, and was elected temporary chair man and president of the class. He practiced law in Canandaigua two years and in 1885 moved to Rochester, where he found a field more commensurate with his abilities.

He was associated, as law partner, with John A. Barlith for three-years and on January 1, 1880, formed a law partnership with Erwin C. Shutt, under the name of Reed & Shutt, and this partnership continued up to the time of his death, the oldest legal co-partner ship in Rochester.

While Mr. Reed has held many pos itions of trust and responsibility he never took any active part in public affairs. He never held a public office. His name was chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Rochester Bar Association for a number of years. He was a member of Park Avenue Baptist Church and Rev.
C. H. Rust, of the East Avenue Bap tist Church, will officiate at the funeral services.

Mr. Reed spent all last winter in the South hoping to benefit his health. He died of cancer of the stomach. He leaves his wife, Laura A. Reed, and a sister, Mrs. Charlotte Basset, of Rochester.

SUGAR CHEMIST, NATIVE OF ROCHESTER, DIES
born, prominent sugar chiefly and dealer in New York, died yesterday. He was born in Rochester 27 years ago and spent ten years in associa tion with Dr. Harvey Wilby in Hawaii. He returned to New York four years ago.
BEGAN CAREER IN ROCHESTER

Birdsell Factory Operating Head
Died at South Bend Home.

DEATHS—FUNERALS.
FUNERAL OF S. H. FARRELL.

Delegations from Post-office and Carriers' Association Are Present.

Delegations from the post-office department, the National Association of Letter Carriers, and many former friends and associates were present this morning at St. Mary's church to pay their last respects to the memory of S. H. Birdsell, one of the most prominent of the local post-office men, who died Friday at his home, 678 South avenue, of heart disease.

Brief funeral services were held at the house at 10 o'clock and the body was taken to the church where Rev. Simon McS Jonas, rector, celebrated the requiem high mass at 10:45 o'clock. Long before the hour for the service, the church was filled to capacity. The mass was sung by Miss Margaret Heyer of Miss Blanche Drury and Messrs. Kinney, Dickman, Homan, Hall and Bonner.

William A. Buckley, postmaster, and Charles J. Fleckenslet, assistant postmaster, headed the funeral procession, and the body was followed by five letter carriers, and, after the carriages, marched twenty-one clerks, and were headed by Joseph F. Vick, superintendent of mails. The honorary guard marched to Platt street. Interment was made in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

The pall bearers were Emmett K. Couronne, John P. Brennan, Joseph C. Landon, Lawrence P. Waldert, and Patrick H. Gilgan.

DEATH OF MRS. HESTER H. ADAMS

JULY 9, 1917

Widow of Rev. Myron Adams, Former Pastor Here, Passes Away in Auburn.

Mrs. Hester H., widow of Rev. Myron Adams, for more than twenty years pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, was called to her final home on Thursday. Mrs. Adams had been a prominent citizen of Rochester, and she was remembered by many of her old friends as one of the most popular and beloved residents of the community. Her husband, a student at Hamilton college, enlisted with the 131st New York infantry and served until the end of the Civil War. In 1874, he was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church.

Mrs. Adams was a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the American Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and she was a charter member of the Rochester Woman's Club. She was a member of the St. John's Church and was a active member of the Rochester Woman's Club.

Mrs. Adams leaves a son, Samuel Adams, who is prominent in the Army and Navy War, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Adams, who is prominent in the Army and Navy War. She was a member of the St. John's Church and was a active member of the Rochester Woman's Club.

Mrs. Adams was a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the American Association for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and she was a charter member of the Rochester Woman's Club. She was a member of the St. John's Church and was a active member of the Rochester Woman's Club.

DR. ORRIN T. STACY

Well-Known Rochester Man Practiced Medicine for Many Years and Then Founded Candy Company.

The funeral of Dr. Orrin T. Stacy, founder of the T. T. Stacy Company manufacturers of candy, who died at the family residence, 212 Alexander street, last night, aged 52 years, who was held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the house. Dr. Arthur W. Groce, pastor of First Universalist Church, and Rev. David Lincoln Ferris, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, will officiate.

Dr. Stacy was born in Centerville, Allegany county, N.Y., the son of Dr. William A. Stacy. He attended school at Rushford, where his father removed in 1850 and where he practiced medicine until his death. He taught school nine years, read medicine in his father's office, graduated from the Buffalo Medical College in 1868 and settled in Rushford where he practiced medicine for twenty-five years.

STEPHEN H. FARRELL

Stephen H. Farrell, one of the most popular carriers and married Mrs. Henry Postoffice, died of heart trouble at his home at 512 South Avenue yesterday morning, aged 45 years. Mr. Farrell entered the service of the government in 1888, dismissed from the service of the government in 1908, and had been a prominent citizen of Rochester, and was remembered by many of his old friends as one of the most popular and beloved residents of the community. His name was sung by Miss Margaret Heyer of Miss Blanche Drury and Messrs. Kinney, Dickman, Homan, Hall and Bonner.

The pall bearers were Emmett K. Couronne, John P. Brennan, Joseph C. Landon, Lawrence P. Waldert, and Patrick H. Gilgan.

DR. ORRIN T. STACY.

He served two terms in the state legislature, in 1878 and 1876, having been elected on the Republican ticket. In 1882 he married M. Antoinette, daughter of Emerson Kendall, of Girard, Mass. Mrs. Stacy is dead, and had three children, all of whom survive Dr. Stacy. They are Mrs. R. E. Adams, of Allouez, and W. Allen Stacy, both of Rochester.

Dr. Stacy removed to Rochester in 1883 and opened an office at 212 Alexander street. He decided to abandon the practice of medicine in 1883, and in that year founded the T. T. Stacy Candy Company, which has developed into a large concern, employing several hundred workers. Four of the six satellite factories have started as a result of Dr. Stacy's success.

He was active in real estate circles, having opened several stores in the south and north sections of the city. He specialized in the building of homes for working people.

Of a sudden disposition, Dr. Stacy had a host of friends. He was well known for his benevolence. As a physician he often refused to accept fees from the poor.

For the past ten years Dr. Stacy had been engaged in the candy business, and was last seen on Monday at the headquarters of the company in New York. He was known to many of the local people as a man of decided ability and skill.

GENERAL FORBES DEAD

JULY 12, 1917

Served in Civil War. Saw Much Active Service.

Brigadier General Theodore P. Forbes, B. S. A., retired, died Thursday in Washington. He was well known for his services in the Mexican, Spanish-American, and World Wars, and a member of the Army and Navy Club, Washington. On November 21, 1916, he enlisted as a private in the 120th Company, New York Volunteers. He was mustered out in final service, August 15, 1917, when he retired with rank of brigadier general.
DEATH OF FORMER POSTMASTER
W. SEWARD WHITTLESEY TODAY

Times Feb. 26, 1917

W. SEWARD WHITTLESEY

William Seward Whittlesey, a lifelong resident of Rochester, and a member of one of the city's oldest and best known families, died early this morning at his home, 123 South Pittsfield Street, after a week's illness. Last Monday afternoon Mr. Whittlesey walked down to the White Plough on South Pittsfield Street, as was his custom. It was a day on which walking was made both difficult and dangerous by reason of the melting snow and on the way home he became exhausted with the effort of trying to avoid slipping. He was taken ill with pneumonia shortly after. The outstanding feature of Mr. Whittlesey's active business life was his many years of faithful service in the Rochester Postoffice where he acted as assistant postmaster for more than 40 years, having been appointed to that office on April 1, 1865. To the satisfaction of his friends he was made postmaster by Theodore Roosevelt in 1885 and held the position for four years. Lacking a few days, Mr. Whittlesey served the government for 50 years and was in his employ when the postoffice was located in the Reynolds Arcade in the rooms now occupied by the Western Union Telegraph.

He was the son of Frederick Whittlesey, who came here from Connecticut in 1829 and was afterward one of the leading citizens of Rochester, being a lawyer by profession and serving upon the bench and as a member of Congress. He was known as "Chancellor," a title given to equity judgments, but now of scholar. Frederick Whittlesey, who was an intimate friend of Thaddeus Weed and William Seward, lived on St. Paul Street, before acquiring the fine old Colonial mansion on South Pittsfield Street which has been the Whittlesey homestead since 1849. He left seven children, Frederick A. Whittlesey, the eldest son, Theodore, Thaddeus Weed, and Mary M., who died some years ago, Frances C. Anna W. Oliver and William Seward who was so named because of the friendship existing between the Whittlesey and Seward families.

Mr. Whittlesey, who was 76 years old, was married in 1862 to Miss Clara T. Walker, a daughter of Albert Walker. He is survived by his widow; three children, William Clark Whittlesey, Mrs. Benjamin Hotchkiss and Mrs. Edward M. Harris; two grandchildren, Seward Whittlesey Harris and Russell Wadsworth Hotchkiss.

MORTUARY RECORD

Funeral of W. Seward Whittlesey
A large number of the friends and associates of former postmaster William Seward Whittlesey attended his funeral, which took place from his home at 123 South Pittsfield Street at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Delegations were present representing Rochester Branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, Postoffice Carriers and Postoffice Supervisors. The post office was headed by Postmaster William A. Buckley and Assistant Postmaster Charles S. Thedens. Rev. Samuel Tyler, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church officiated. Rectors were Samuel C. McKeown, E. H. Walker, Soyle Harris, W. C. Walker and Frederick Oliver of Rochester and Frederick Whittlesey of Buffalo. Burial was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

WILLIAM E. HOYT

Former Rochesterian Dies of Pneumonias in Plainfield, New Jersey.

William E. Hoyt, formerly of Rochester, died of pneumonia at his home in Plainfield, N. J. For the last twenty-five years he had been stationed in New York city as the general Eastern passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad. Death was due to pneumonia. The funeral will take place to-morrow from the home in Plainfield. The body will be taken to New York for interment and will pass through Rochester on train 21 Monday morning.

Mr. Hoyt was well known in Rochester and was a member of Yonkers lodge, 165, Free and Accepted Masons, Hamilton chapter, 61, Royal Arch Masons, Doree council, 19, Royal and Select Masters, Monroe commandery, 12, Knights Templars, Damascus temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Rochester consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite. Besides a wife in Plainfield, he leaves two sisters, Harriet and Catherine Hoyt, Rochester teachers in the Rochester schools.

MORTUARY RECORD

HF. M. MEND

Mrs. Winslow M. Mend.

Work has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Harriet S. Mead, who lived at 15, 29 Monroe St. She was born in New York City and came to Rochester when she was a child, and had been a resident of this city for many years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and a ladies' aid. She was a member of the Rochester Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Rochester Women's Club, and was a member of the Republican Club. She leaves a husband, Mr. Mead, and three children, Mrs. Edith M. May, Mrs. Mary E. May and Miss Edith M. May. Arrangements for funeral have been made by Mr. Mead.

HENRY J. HILBERT

Stroke of Paralysis Cuts Father of Popular Union and Advertiser

Alm. J. J. HILBERT, for twenty-five years a collector in the employ of the Union and Advertiser, died at midday yesterday at his home. Mr. HILBERT was a member of the Union and Advertiser, and lived at 123 South Pittsfield Street, Rochester, N. Y. Mr. HILBERT was a member of the Rochester branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, Postoffice Carriers and Postoffice Supervisors. The post office was headed by Postmaster William A. Buckley and Assistant Postmaster Charles S. Thedens.

Mr. HILBERT was born in Brockport, September 15, 1857. He came to Rochester about thirty years ago, and had been a resident of the city for many years. He was a member of the Rochester branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, Postoffice Carriers and Postoffice Supervisors. The post office was headed by Postmaster William A. Buckley and Assistant Postmaster Charles S. Thedens. Rev. Samuel Tyler, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church officiated. Rectors were Samuel C. McKeown, E. H. Walker, Soyle Harris, W. C. Walker and Frederick Oliver of Rochester and Frederick Whittlesey of Buffalo. Burial was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

The funeral will be held Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the house and at 9 o'clock from St. Peter and Paul's Church. Interment will be made in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

Mr. HILBERT was born in Brockport, September 15, 1857. He came to Rochester about thirty years ago, and had been a resident of the city for many years. He was a member of the Rochester branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, Postoffice Carriers and Postoffice Supervisors. The post office was headed by Postmaster William A. Buckley and Assistant Postmaster Charles S. Thedens. Rev. Samuel Tyler, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church officiated. Rectors were Samuel C. McKeown, E. H. Walker, Soyle Harris, W. C. Walker and Frederick Oliver of Rochester and Frederick Whittlesey of Buffalo. Burial was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

WILLIAM E. HOYT

Former Rochesterian Dies of Pneumonias in Plainfield, New Jersey.

William E. Hoyt, formerly of Rochester, died of pneumonia at his home in Plainfield, N. J. For the last twenty-five years he had been stationed in New York city as the general Eastern passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad. Death was due to pneumonia. The funeral will take place to-morrow from the home in Plainfield. The body will be taken to New York for interment and will pass through Rochester on train 21 Monday morning.

Mr. Hoyt was well known in Rochester and was a member of Yonkers lodge, 165, Free and Accepted Masons, Hamilton chapter, 61, Royal Arch Masons, Doree council, 19, Royal and Select Masters, Monroe commandery, 12, Knights Templars, Damascus temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Rochester consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite. Besides a wife in Plainfield, he leaves two sisters, Harriet and Catherine Hoyt, Rochester teachers in the Rochester schools.

MORTUARY RECORD

HF. M. MEND

Mrs. Winslow M. Mend.

Work has been received in this city of the death of Mrs. Harriet S. Mead, who lived at 15, 29 Monroe St. She was born in New York City and came to Rochester when she was a child, and had been a resident of this city for many years. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and a ladies' aid. She was a member of the Rochester Federation of Women's Clubs, and the Rochester Women's Club, and was a member of the Republican Club. She leaves a husband, Mr. Mead, and three children, Mrs. Edith M. May, Mrs. Mary E. May and Miss Edith M. May. Arrangements for funeral have been made by Mr. Mead.

HENRY J. HILBERT

Stroke of Paralysis Cuts Father of Popular Union and Advertiser

Alm. J. J. HILBERT, for twenty-five years a collector in the employ of the Union and Advertiser, died at midday yesterday at his home. Mr. HILBERT was a member of the Union and Advertiser, and lived at 123 South Pittsfield Street, Rochester, N. Y. Mr. HILBERT was a member of the Rochester branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, Postoffice Carriers and Postoffice Supervisors. The post office was headed by Postmaster William A. Buckley and Assistant Postmaster Charles S. Thedens.

Mr. HILBERT was born in Brockport, September 15, 1857. He came to Rochester about thirty years ago, and had been a resident of the city for many years. He was a member of the Rochester branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks, Postoffice Carriers and Postoffice Supervisors. The post office was headed by Postma...
JOHN F. ALCEN DIES AT HOME
Today, Feb. 27, 1917
Prominent as Construction Engineer and in Local Financial Circles.

John F. Alden, president of the American Bridge Company, died at the family residence, 50 Meigs Street, at 4 o'clock this morning. Mr. Alden, who was 68 years of age, had been ill several weeks, but his illness was not considered serious until yesterday. Mr. Alden was a representative of the seventh generation of the descendants of John Alden. He was born on Oct. 13, 1848, in Cranston, Rhode Island, where he was educated. He attended the Cranston High School and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, at Troy, N.Y., where he graduated from the class of 1872.

He entered business life as a civil engineer, well qualified for the business of a first-rate engineering manufacture. Following his graduation, he accepted a position as assistant engineer on the construction of the bridge on the New York Central Railroad, being built over the Hudson River.

He became a resident of Rochester on January 1, 1875, acting as assistant engineer at the Leighton Bridge and Iron Works, later becoming the engineer and a member of the firm. Two years later, in 1889, he entered into partnership with Mr. Peet, of Chicago, under the name of Alden & Lassig. They leased the plant of the Leighton Bridge and Iron Works, at Rochester, and conducted the business for five years. During that period they also established a bridge and iron works in Chicago under the same name.

When their partnership had continued five years, they dissolved their business connection, each retaining the interests in his respective city. Mr. Alden reorganized and became the owner under the name of Rochester Bridge and Iron Works, of which he was sole proprietor from 1895 to 1911. In the latter year he sold the American Bridge Company, with which he was connected at the time of his death, and the new company was the erection of the Driving Park Avenue bridge.

He built many miles of iron and steel bridges, especially in Rochester. Mr. Alden, who was born in Wartenburg, Germany, volunteered when he was 18 years old, on October 30, 1863, in Co. C, Second New York Mounted Rifles, to serve for three years. He was wounded in battle near Petersburg, Va. (Shadwell's House) on September 29, 1864. He was discharged on May 24, 1865.

The funeral, which will be held on Monday, at 2:30 o'clock from the German Methodist Episcopal Church on North Avenue, will be attended by many prominent Rochesterans, and many great railroad bridges in various parts of the country. Mr.

DEATH ROBS EAST HIGH OF ONE OF ITS MOST POPULAR PLAYERS

Ability and Love of Fair Play Won Edward Gates Basketball Captaincy.

The sudden death of Captain Edward Gates, of the East High School basketball team, has come as a great shock to his classmates, and especially to the members of the team. The young man was popular with teachers and pupils alike at East High, and the members of the basketball five were his best friends. Because of his death, Manager Fred Dewell has called the meeting on Lafayette High, scheduled for Friday night.

As a basketball player, Gates held a record for fair play that has seldom been equaled. His love of clean play and observance of the rules was the sort that is coming to typify American spectators.

Gates was connected with a number of other school activities. As manager of the school teams, he arranged all the games of football, basketball, and baseball. Gates has been known for his unselfishness.

He managed this branch of sport for two years. Besides his athletic work at the school, Gates was a Polish director at the brick Church, where he was equally as well liked as at East High.

The rest of the games will be carried out as scheduled.

HENRY D. BLACKWOOD
A Well-Known Painting Contractor Who Had Been Resident of Rochester Many Years.

Henry D. Blackwood, a prominent painting contractor and most estimable citizen, died this morning at his home, 72 Atlantic, after a short illness. Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, William E. and Charles P., and two grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock from the Roman Catholic Church of the Assumption, on the corner of Madison and North Avenue, on Saturday morning. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Vesper, of St. John's Church, and the Rev. Mr. Vesper will receive the body in the church. The body will be taken to the cemetery.

VETERAN DIES

John Flad was born in Civil War With N. Y. Volunteers

John Flad died, aged 72 years, last night at his home, 19 Helen Street. He was a member of Peisker Post, G. A. R., of which there are only 16 members in the entire city. Mr. Flad, who was born in Wartenburg, Germany, volunteered when he was 18 years old, on October 30, 1863, in Co. C, Second New York Mounted Rifles, to serve for three years. He was wounded in battle near Petersburg, Va. (Shadwell's House) on September 29, 1864. He was discharged on May 24, 1865.

The funeral, which will be held on Monday, at 2:30 o'clock from the German Methodist Episcopal Church on North Avenue, will be attended by many prominent Rochesterans, and many great railroad bridges in various parts of the country. Mr.
JOHN D. BURNS.

LEGAL VETERAN,
DIES AT HOME

BORN IN NEW YORK CITY
MARCH 9, 1854.

BROCKPORT SCHOOL GRADUATE

Studied Law in Office of Major Norris in Buffalo; Admitted to Bar in 1877.

John D. Burns, one of the leading practitioners of the Monroe county bar, died at his home, 371 Barrington street, Thursday night. Mr. Burns had been ill for more than a year. He had practiced law for forty years, having been admitted to Rochester, in 1877. He was the senior member of the firm of Burns & Burns of this city. He leaves a wife, Clara Burns, and one son, George Burns, his partner, one brother, Edward F. Burns of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and two nephews, Robert Burns of Philadelphia, and Eugene L. Burns of Philadelphia.

Mr. Burns was born in New York City March 8, 1854, the son of John and Ada Burns. When he was very young, the family moved to Brockport N. Y., at which village he made his home until 1875, when he removed to Rochester. Mr. Burns entered the State Normal School at Brockport at the age of thirteen, years, after getting special permission from the state authorities, the legal age being sixteen. He was graduated from the institute with honors in 1877. When a student there, he was one of the organizations and charter members of the Gamma Sigma fraternity. In after years, he served as grand national president of the fraternity. After completing his studies Mr. Burns taught school for several years, being at one time principal of the Tonawanda High School. He commenced his study of the law in the office of Major Norris, at Buffalo, and in 1877 he passed the bar and opened an office in Brockport. His ability was soon recognized and his practice grew. In 1892, he opened an office in Rochester and formed a partnership with Edwin A. Metaile, of this city. After two years, this partnership was dissolved, and Mr. Burns continued to practice alone until 1899, when upon the admission of his son to the firm of Burns & Burns was formed.

Mr. Burns was always an enthusiastic supporter of the Brockport Normal school. In 1885 he was elected a member of the local board of managers of that institution, and later was elected president of the board, a position he held at the time of his death. He was always present at annual meetings and had been a leading influence in the policies of the school for many years. Mr. Burns served as member of the board of managers of the State Industrial school of this city, and was active in the revision of the school and its reorganization.

In politics, Mr. Burns was a Republican. In his younger years, he was active in the local councils, but now held public office.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

FAMOUS SHOE MAN IS DEAD

Bryan Harding Organized Factories in a Number of Places.

HAD LARGE BUSINESS HERE

Had Never Been Ill until Five Hours before his Death on Saturday
In Boston Hospital.

Relatives of Bryan Harding, at one time a successful shoe manufacturer of Rochester, lately of Boston, yesterday received word of his sudden death in a Boston hospital on Saturday, following an operation for the removal of his appendix. He had never been ill until the attack that brought about his death, which occurred only five hours after he became ill. His death was in accordance with an oft-expressed wish that he could "die in the harness," as he was active in business up to the day of his death.

Expert Shoe Manufacturers.

Mr. Harding was born in Ireland in 1844 and entered the shoe business in partnership with his father. While still a young man, Mr. Harding came to Boston, and after a brief preliminary training he was able to qualify as an expert in the manufacture of women's shoes. He served two terms in the Massachusetts Legislature. In 1855, he began a remarkable career as an organizer of shoe factories in various parts of the United States. He went to Philadelphia, and, in connection with similar work for Gardner & Estes of New York, he organized the factory of B. A. & A. Law, &c., in New York, and, in 1856, came to Rochester for the P. C. K. Shoe Company. In 1800, Mr. Harding established the factory of John Foster & Co., on a modern basis, remaining there for seven years. In 1851, he continued his work with the firm of B. A. & A. Law, &c., now known as Harding & Todd, established a factory and organized the factory of the United States at the time of the largest in Rochester. The partnership continued for thirteen years. Afterward Joseph Harding, Jr., son of the late A. J. Johnson, a well-known shoe manufacturer, formed a partnership with Mr. Harding and his son under the name of Harding Sons & Johnson; which continued until Mr. Johnson's death in 1897.

Bryan Harding removed to Ogdensburg in 1898, establishing a prosperous business in the manufacture of women's shoes, where for seven years he was assisted by W. H. E. Little, the shoe manufacturer. Since then he had been in business for himself in Boston.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p.m. from the undertaking rooms of Moore & Flase, Lake avenue.

JOSEPH CURTIS

Death of Well-Known Newspaper Man
For a Number of Years City Editor of Union and Advertiser.

Joseph Curtis, a well-known Rochester newspaper man, city editor of the Union and Advertiser and vice-president of the company, died yesterday morning at his home, 975 Park avenue. Mr. Curtis is survived by his wife, Grace Hastings Curtis, a daughter, Kathleen Hastings Curtis; a brother, Garnett T. Curtis; and his mother, Mrs. Eugene T. Curtis. The funeral services, which will be strictly private, will be conducted by Rev. Paul Stover Scuyler of Third Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Curtis was a member.

Mr. Curtis was born in Rochester, November 20, 1854. He was educated at Bradstreet School; this city, took preparatory work at Hoffmann and entered Yale graduating from that university in the class of 1874, Smithfield. Soon after his graduation he took up newspaper work on the Union and Advertiser. He showed remarkable aptitude for the work and soon became a valued member of the local staff. Within a few years he became city editor, which position he held at the time of his death. Mr. Curtis was a son of Sarah L. Curtis and the late Eugene T. Curtis, and a grandson of the late Joseph Curtis, founder of the Union and Advertiser.

A man of genial and lovable disposition, Mr. Curtis drew a large circle of friends, to whom his death comes as a shock. Particularly among his associates on The Union and Advertiser he was highly liked, for he was considered by all of them a loyal friend and congenial companion.
DEATH OF MRS.

JANE RILEY

Mar. 5, 1917

Mrs. Jane Riley, widow of Francis Riley, and one of the oldest residents of Rochester, died this evening at 3:20 o'clock at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Thomas Atwell O'Neil, 41 Grand avenue, aged 85 years. Mrs. Riley was born in Tyrone, Ireland, and came to Rochester when a child. She was one of the oldest members of Corpus Christi church and was active in many activities of the church. She had been ill only two weeks.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Cuthbert Lane, of Brockport, her granddaughter, Mrs. O'Neil, and two grandsons, Oswald and Raymond Atwell.

FREDERICK SCHAFFNER.

Funeral of Former Business Man

Hold This Afternoon.

The funeral of Frederick Schaffer, 76, who died Tuesday at his home, 445 Oxford street, of heart disease, took place this afternoon at 3:20 o'clock from the house. The interment was private.

Mr. Schaffer, who was widely known in the furniture trade, was born in Rochester and was educated in School 14. For the last twenty years he had been one of the most valued salesmen with the H. B. Graves company. Previous to that time he was in business in State street as a member of the firm of Bennett & Schaffer. When that partnership was dissolved, Mr. Schaffer continued the business alone. He made friends easily and retained them because of a genial disposition and a warmth of heart.

Mr. Schaffer's wife, who died nearly three years ago, was also a lifelong resident of Rochester. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Belle S. MacMillan, a granddaughter, Jean Alice MacMillan, and a sister, Mrs. J. Pendry. He was a member of Genesee Falls lodge, F. and A. M., and of Brick Presbyterian church.

The death of Mr. Schaffer removes another member of the old Fowry Castle, Company G, 54th regiment, N. Y. V. G. Mr. Schaffer was also a member of Old No Fire Engine company, known as "Pie One company."

MISS NELLIE FAIRBANKS HENRY,

GENERAL SECRETARY OF ROCHESTER

Mar. 9, 1917

Miss Nellie Fairbanks Henry, general secretary of the Rochester Young Women's Christian Association, died yesterday afternoon at home, 92 Rowley Street, after an illness of more than a year. An informal funeral service will be conducted at the home in Rowley Street tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Burial will be made at Miss Henry's former home at Grimsby, Ont.

Miss Henry was born in Woodburn, Ont., and attended the Ontario Normal College, from which she was graduated in 1897. She taught for seven years in Miss Gravana's private school for girls in Newark, N. J., and for two years in the Ymca in Elizabeth, N. J. She was graduated in 1916 from the National Training School of the Young Women's Christian Association in New York City and was appointed general secretary of the Association in Rochester, Pa., Young Women's Christian Association, where she remained for two years. She came to Rochester as general secretary in September, 1915.

Her work in Rochester was both satisfactory and successful, in fact, that when she was obliged to retrench to relieve her duties, she was retained in the office of the general secretary.

According to officers of the association, Miss Henry was progressive in her ideals and constantly fair in her dealings with subordinates and with the members, all of whom entertained her highest regard for her.

MRS. JOSEPH ASPENLEITHER

Mar. 10, 1917

Death of Woman Who Was a Member of St. Joseph's Church Sixty-Five Years.

Mrs. Joseph Aspenleiter died last evening at the family home, 704 South avenue, aged 75 years. She is survived by two daughters, Miss Mary Aspenleiter and Mrs. Bernard Drake, five sons, Joseph G., Val. O., Thomas E., Albert J. and Charles O. Aspenleiter, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, all of Rochester.

Mrs. Aspenleiter was born in Alma, Lawrence county, in 1847. She was a member of St. Joseph's Church for sixty-five years and was a member of the Sacred Heart and Holy Family Societies of St. Joseph's Church.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the home and at 11 o'clock from St. Joseph's Church.

Funeral of Bryan Harding.

Mar. 10, 1917

Among those attending at the funeral services for Bryan Harding yesterday were a number of former business associates and friends of the well known shoe manufacturers, a few years ago one of the best known men in the trade in Rochester. The body arrived from Pennsylvania yesterday morning, accompanied by his son, Charles Harding. At the Central Station were two other sons, W. P. and H. B. Harding, of Rochester and Joseph Harding of Boston, Wise. The funeral took place at 11 o'clock from St. Patrick's Cathedral. The remains were conveyed to St. Joseph's Church, where the funeral service was held. The body was then brought to Holy Parish Church, where the funeral service was held. The body was then conveyed to the church, where the funeral service was held. The body was then conveyed to the church, where the funeral service was held.
DEATH OF DR. EVELYN BALDWIN

Woman Physician Passes Away at Home in West Avenue—Known for Her Philanthropic Work.

Dr. Evelyn Baldwin, 55, one of the most prominent women physicians in Western New York and beloved by many in the city who had been recipients of her kindnesses and assistance, died this morning at 9 o'clock at her home at 4 West Avenue. She leaves her mother, Mrs. Minerva L. Baldwin; a nephew, Chester Baldwin, and two nieces, Mrs. Minerva I. Finucane and Mrs. Niels Christensen.

On Saturday, September 16, 1883, Mrs. Baldwin entered the Woman's College of Rochester at the age of 23 and received her degree in medicine in 1887. She then went to New York for further study at the New York Postgraduate Medical College and obtained her degree in 1889. She then went to the medical department of the Riverside Hospital in New York and practiced medicine there for several years. She then returned to Rochester and practiced medicine independently until 1893, when she opened the Baldwin-Bowditch Medical College for Women. She was a member of the Rochester Board of Education and was one of the foremost women in medical work in and around the city.

MORTUARY RECORD

Franklin Decker

Franklin Decker, one of the original baggage transfer men of Rochester, died on Saturday after a short illness, aged 51 years. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. George A. Babey of 236 Meigs Street, Mrs. C. A. Lindsey of East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. H. O. Phillips of New York. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of Mrs. Babey. Mr. Decker was familiarly known as "Frank" among railroad and baggage transfer men of Rochester. He was employed by the railroad companies for many years, and was well known in the city and county. He was a popular and respected member of the community, and his death is mourned by many friends and acquaintances.

Dwight Squier

Dwight Squier, a veteran of the Civil War and a native of the town of Rush, New York, died Friday evening at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Halley C. Christensen, at 60 Edmonds Street, Rochester. He was 70 years old. Mr. Squier had always lived in Rochester and was educated in the public schools. He was a member of the Rochester City Council and was the last surviving member of the family.

James M. Wilson, Veteran, Asphyxiated by Gas Fumes

James M. Wilson, a Civil War veteran, aged about 75 years, was found dead in bed at 11 o'clock this morning in the rooming house at 24 Caledonia Avenue, Rochester. The window of the room was closed and not sufficiently to carry off the fumes which were escaping from the gas. The cause of death is not yet known, but it is believed to be asphyxiation by gas poisoning.

Mela James Holihan, 22-17

James Holihan died yesterday afternoon in the Homeopathic Hospital. He was a veteran of the Civil War, a member of the 3rd Pennsylvania Battery, and a member of the 1st Regiment of the New York National Guard. He was a popular and respected member of the community, and his death is mourned by many friends and acquaintances.
DEATH OF
L. A. JEFFREYS

DEATH OF
DENNIS DOUD

DECEASED WAS BORN IN ROCHESTER SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TOMORROW

SKECH OF L.VE.

Lamuel A. Jeffreys, 86, treasurer of the L.A. Jeffreys undertakers and one of the most prominent citizens of this city, died this morning at his home, 26 Chestnut Street, after an illness of several months. Mr. Jeffreys was taken ill last May and as his condition gradually grew worse he went to Florida with his family in the hope of regaining his health. A few days ago he realized that the end was near and requested that he be brought back to Rochester. It was possible that he could be among friends in Rochester before he became too sick to travel. He was present at several of his familiar surroundings when the end came.

Several times on the trip north he had thought death was at hand, but by a supreme effort Mr. Jeffreys held out and was carried into his home room after the arrival of the train in Rochester yesterday afternoon.

Native of Rochester.

Mr. Jeffreys was born in this city March 24, 1862, a son of Lemuel A. and Mrs. Charles V. Jeffreys. He received his education in Saterlee's collegiate institute, which stood on the hill where is now the present Warner Memorial college.

His father had established the undertaker business here that is so prominently known in this city and Mr. Jeffreys, on his graduation from school, became his assistant and continued in that business until his death.

Mr. Jeffreys was always a quiet nature but was always foremost in charitable work and active in the civic life of Rochester. He had a cheery disposition, in spite of the nature of his business, made many friends in the city and was always kind and helpful to the needy.

One of the most prominent of these was "Buffalo Bill" Cody, whose death occurred but a short time ago. Mr. Cody never made a trip to Rochester that he did not stop off at Mr. Jeffreys' store to renew old friendships. Mr. Jeffreys kept in touch with Mr. Cody's recent illnesses through relatives in Colorado and the news of Mr. Cody's death was a severe blow that possibly hastened Mr. Jeffreys' death.

Mr. Jeffreys was prominent in Masonic circles and belonged to all the various branches in Rochester. He was a staunch republican but never held office.

He leaves his wife, Martha D. Jeffreys, and a sister, Mrs. Willie C. Faidley. The funeral and interment will be strictly private.

FOKNER—Entered into rest, Tuesday evening, May 3, 1917, George Fokner, at his residence, no. 34 Pine Street. Leaves to mourn his loss two sons, George F. and Joel Fokner, both of Rochester, and one daughter, Mrs. William Francis and Mrs. Frederick Schram, both of Rochester. Grandchildren. Mr. Fokner was a veteran of the Spanish-American War, a member of Eureka Post, no. 58, G. A. R., Knights of St. John, Minstrels, Sons of Union Veterans, Knights of Columbus and the West Side Masonic Lodge. He leaves a brother, James Faidley, who resides at 4930 Oak from his residence and at 1448 Main Street. Burial in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.

DENNIS DOUD

ALDERMAN OF SECOND WARD PASSES AWAY AT HOME.

HOTEL KEEPER MANY YEARS

DECEASED CONDUCTED OLD OYSTER BAY AND NATIONAL—LEADER IN REPUBLICAN CIRCLES—CAREER.

Dennis Doud, 56, alderman from the Second ward and for many years connected with the hotel business of this city, died yesterday at the family home, 1561 Atlantic Avenue, after a long illness. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Christine Hillyard, three brothers, Thomas, James and Francis of Rochester, a sister.

Mr. Doud was a native of Scotland and came to this country when he was a young man. He was one of the prominent hotel men of this city and his popularity was widespread.

A special meeting of the Common Council was held at noon to-day to adopt resolutions of respect for Mr. Doud, alderman of the Second ward. Arrangements for the representation of the Common Council at the funeral were also made.

MRS. FRANCES W. MACKAYE OF ROCHESTER
Died May 16, 1917
Lifelong Member of Second Baptist and Active in Daughters

Mrs. Frances W. Mackaye, wife of Rev. W. M. Mackaye, died May 16, 1917, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Wells, at 625 North Main Street. Mrs. Mackaye was a member of the Second Baptist Church and was a faithful member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Grand Army of the Republic. She was also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Grand Army of the Republic.

MORTUARY RECORD

William J. Parker, 43, of 35 Wick Park A, for more than thirty years treasurer of the First National Bank and known in business and real estate circles of Rochester, died Tuesday afternoon. He was a native of Louisa, England, having been brought to this country when only a child. Mr. Parker received his education at DeVanck College, Niagara Falls, and he had been in the business of his father for many years. He was a trustee of the church at the time of his death. He leaves a wife, former Mrs. Alice A. Peck, and two sons, E. W. and C. W., and a brother, Mr. Charles Anderson of Rochester, C. E. Parker.

The remains will be brought to Rochester for burial.

MORTUARY RECORD

F. E. C. 1917

The funeral of Alderman Dennis Doud took place at 3:30 o'clock from the home at 418 E. Genesee St. in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Doud and their family and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Robert J. Henry and Rev. Joseph Tracy. The warriors were Thomas Martell, William Hall, Elwood Small and22.30. The body was placed in the hands of Mr. Doud's undertaker and was then taken to the residence of Mr. Doud's son, William Doud, 416 E. Genesee St.

MRS. FRANCES W. MACKAYE

LIFETIME MEMBER OF SECOND BAPTIST AND ACTIVE IN DAUGHTERS

Mrs. Frances W. Mackaye, wife of Rev. W. M. Mackaye, died at her home, 625 North Main Street, on May 16, 1917. She was a member of the Second Baptist Church and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was also a member of the Daughters of the Revolution and the Grand Army of the Republic. She was also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Grand Army of the Republic.

MORTUARY RECORD

William J. Parker, 43, of 35 Wick Park A, for more than thirty years treasurer of the First National Bank and well known in business and real estate circles of Rochester, died Tuesday afternoon. He was a native of Louisa, England, having been brought to this country when only a child. Mr. Parker received his education at DeVanck College, Niagara Falls, and he had been in the business of his father for many years. He was a trustee of the church at the time of his death. He leaves a wife, former Mrs. Alice A. Peck, and two sons, E. W. and C. W., and a brother, Mr. Charles Anderson of Rochester, C. E. Parker.

The remains will be brought to Rochester for burial.

MORTUARY RECORD

F. E. C. 1917

The funeral of Alderman Dennis Doud took place at 3:30 o'clock from the home at 418 E. Genesee St. in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Doud and their family and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Robert J. Henry and Rev. Joseph Tracy. The warriors were Thomas Martell, William Hall, Elwood Small and22.30. The body was placed in the hands of Mr. Doud's undertaker and was then taken to the residence of Mr. Doud's son, William Doud, 416 E. Genesee St.
DEATH OF JOHN LUTHER, BUILDER
Continued Active as Contractor Until the Last—Born in Bingen-on-the-Rhine.

John Luther, the oldest active building contractor in Rochester and prominent in both the civic and fraternal life of the city, died this morning at his home, 178 North street, aged 80 years and three months. Mr. Luther had been suffering from hardening of the arteries for the past six months and his death was not unexpected. Although in poor health Mr. Luther continued his interest in his work to the last and the numerous contracts in charge of his firm were continuously investigated by him.

Mr. Luther was born in Stadensbei, near Bingen-on-the-Rhine, Germany, January 13, 1837. He came to this country with his parents when four years old, the family settling on a farm in near Chili. He attended the public school in that town until he was seven years old when, with his parents, he moved to Rochester.

In this city he received his education in School No. 9, and, at the age of twenty years, entered the carpenter contracting business. His work took him to many parts of the state and he was prominently known for the character of the work he undertook. He helped build the New York Central railroad station recently torn down on the completion of the new station in State industrial school at Expedition park, the Monroe County almshouse, part of Elmira State Hospital, many roads, and bridges on the New York Central railroad. His specialty was in railroad work and he erected many railroad coach houses and other similar buildings in and about the city.

At the time of his death he was president of the Luther & Sons Realty company. His father was active in the development of several tracts of land in and about Rochester and was known for his far-sightedness in this work. He was a charter member of the Rochester Builders' Exchange and for two years was its president. His son, Charles W. Luther, is now president.

DEATH CLAIMS
J. B. SPINNING
Tulpehocken, April 16-17
Was One of City's Oldest Printers and Was Widely Known.

James B. Spinning, one of this city's oldest and most widely known printers, died yesterday, aged 90 years old. He is survived by one son, W. G. Spinning, six daughters, H. A. Allen, Sarah H. and Maurice A. Spinning, Mrs. W. L. Brew, Mr. E. B. Elmore and Mrs. J. G. Knowles.

He was born in Rochester in 1827 at 13 Yost street, now occupied by the former printing office of the Democrat and Chronicle. He entered a youthful apprenticeship with the Rochester Typographical Union, and on the death of his father, in 1841, he was employed by the Galaxy in Rochester, an early newspaper of Rochester, later merged into the Democrat and Chronicle.

At the age of 18 he started to learn the printing trade in Warren, in the composing room of the Western New Yorker, at that time an important country newspaper in this end of the state. After having served his apprenticeship, he returned to Rochester and was employed in the printing office of the Democratic, an early newspaper of Rochester, later merged into the Democrat and Chronicle.

In 1837 he went to Detroit and with the aid of five other men organized the Detroit Daily Union, a popular paper published a long time. After a few years he returned to Rochester and was employed as a printer at the Rochester Morning Post, in which capacity he became noted for his authority in spelling. For the remainder of his printing career he divided his time between the Post Expositor and the Rochester Plaindealer, a company of this city, where he held responsible positions.

DEATHS—FUNERALS
REV. DR. HENRY E. ROBINS
Former Pastor of First Baptist Church Dies in Greenfield, Mass.

Rev. Henry Ephraim Robins, a former pastor of First Baptist church, died yesterday at the home of his brother, Mr. W. C. Robins, of Greenfield, Mass. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the chapel of First Baptist church. Interment will be made at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Rev. Robins was born in Hartford, Conn., in September, 1827. He was graduated from the Newton Theological institution in the class of 1851. After a few years in New York, R. I., he became pastor of the First Baptist church in the city of Providence. He had been pastor of the church for 20 years, and had been 60 years of age. He was then called to be president of Colgate college, and the position was accepted by him. He remained there for six years. After this he was elected to the chair of Christian ethics in the Rochester Theological seminary and annually held this chair till the year 1903, but the condition of his health prevented him from the active discharge of his duties.

Rev. Robins was the author of several books on Christian Ethics with Theology, and Religion with the Christian Life. He made valuable contributions to religious periodicals and journals, and was an able and eloquent preacher, and an able college president.

He loved to ponder and converse upon the highest themes; he held to the scriptural and in a man of the most winsome and lovable nature. He was impossible for those who knew him not to feel the influence of his character and his life. He was an intelligent, devoted pastor and he followed with keenest interest the unfolding life of the nation.

He leaves a son, Kingman W. Robins, of this city.
Catherine N. Grabenstetter
Year. She was born in Tonawanda street, April 1, 1848, and attended St. Joseph's School. She was married at the Immaculate Conception Church to Matthew Grabenstetter May 27, 1866. She died April 11, 1916.

Thirteen children were born to them, of whom four survive. They are: Frank Grabenstetter, Mrs. Robert Babcock, Mrs. Frank Klein and Miss Rosella Grabenstetter. She also leaves fourteen grandchildren and sixteen great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be from the Holy Redeemer Church, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with interment in the family lot at Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

The following six grandchildren will act as bearers: George Grabenstetter, William Grabenstetter, Raymond Grabenstetter, Alphon Babcock, Harry J. Taylor and Alfred J. Douc.

DIES FROM WOUNDS
U.S.A. July 1, 1917
Relatives of Rochester Soldier Serving in France Receive Official Notice
The following communication has just been received by Rochester relatives of Warren Henry Lockhart, who enlisted at Victoria, B. C., a year ago for service in France:

"Wounded in the battle of Arras, France, April 8, 1917, Warren Henry Lockhart, aged 28 years; died April 10, 1917. Lockhart was a son of the late Alexander and Caroline Lockhart. He graduated from No. 3 School, later attending East High School and Mechanics Institute. He was a former member of Company G, Fiftieth Separate Company, Third Infantry, N. Y."

Deceased leaves his wife, Clara Palm Lockhart; one son, four sisters, Mrs. J. E. Hecht, Mrs. J. S. Hous and Mrs. H. Siddles of Rochester, and Miss C. E. Lavey of New Rochelle, N. Y., and one brother, George Lavey.

John S. Keenan
Attorney John S. Keenan
DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS
July 10, 1917
John S. Keenan, a member of the law partnership of Keenan & Keenan and prominent in the Rochester bar, died at 4 o'clock yesterday morning in St. Mary's Hospital. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Margaret M. Keenan; four children, Timothy, John, Grace and Mary Keenan; a mother, Mrs. Rose Keenan; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Granger and Sister Agnes Bernard of the Order of St. Joseph, and two brothers, Edward A. Keenan, his law partner, and Rev. James B. Keenan, rector of Church of the Nativity in Brockport. With the exception of Father Keenan of Brockport, all of the relatives live in Rochester.

Keenan was born in 1888 in East Bloomfield and he received his education in the Free Academy at that place. In 1891 he came to this city and took up the study of law in the office of Zachary P. Taylor and Judge John R. Kinsey. He was admitted to the practice of law in 1893, and in 1895 he entered the firm of Murphy, Keenan & Coomey.

Mr. Murphy was a son of the late Judge John M. Murphy and Mr. Keenan's brother, Edward A. Keenan.

In 1896 Mr. Keenan was married to Miss Margaret Murphy of Monroe. Until five years ago, Mr. Keenan continued the active practice of law in Rochester, and he also was interested to a large extent in the development of real estate holdings. For the last five years he had been in poor health, and was confined for the greater part of his time to his home at 415 Park Avenue, visiting his offices in the Powers Building only at intervals, when his health permitted.

The funeral will take place from the home at 415 Park Avenue on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, and will proceed to Scenic Cemetery at 9:30. Burial will be made in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.

Dr. Henry C. Mabie
Executive, Dead
Herald
Dr. Henry C. Mabie, acting head of the Rochester Baptist Theological Seminary and professor of systematic theology at the seminary for the term of thirty-three years, was the last to officiate at the funeral of Dr. Augustus H. Strong, then president, who died at Northfield, Mass. He was born at Burlington, Vt., on June 25, 1851, and graduated from the University of Chicago in 1876 and from Chicago Baptist College in 1885. After entering the Baptist ministry he served pastorates at Neillsville, Wisconsin, St. Paul, Minnesota, and other cities.

Dr. Mabie was actively interested in Baptist foreign missions and for years was corresponding secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Union. He visited missions in Japan, China and India and also toured in Egypt, Palestine and Europe. He was known as an author of considerable reputation.
DEATH CLAIMS
CITY ENGINEER
F. T. ELWOOD

DEATH CLAIM
On March 4, 1904, Mr. Elwood was appointed executive clerk to Mayor James G. Cutler. He was often at his office at the City Hall, and his death was rather unexpected. He was last inside of his house on Friday, when he attempted to carry on his work at the city engineer's office, but collapsed and was taken to his home.

FREDERICK T. ELWOOD.

Mr. Elwood was born in Rochester on January 1, 1872, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Elwood. He attended the Rochester Free Academy, and later the University of Rochester. Following his graduation from the university, Mr. Elwood went west as a mining engineer. From his return, he entered the office of William Culler. While attending the university, he was a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. His health since Christmas had been the poorest since he was taken ill. During the interval between Christmas and the time of his death he had been a patient at the John Hopkins Hospital, at Baltimore, three times.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon, Dr. Clarence R. Bullock, president of the Rochester Theological Seminary, officiating. Besides his wife, Mr. Elwood is survived by his parents, one brother, Charles C. Elwood, and one sister, Mrs. William MacNair.

Mr. Elwood's death brings to a close a long career of service for the city in various capacities. He had worked up from the city engineering department, having been appointed a transitman in April, 1891.

In 1906 he was fourth assistant employed in supervising work on the city electric lines. In April, 1902, he obtained a leave of absence, returning to the employ of the city in January, 1903.

FUNERAL OF
F. T. ELWOOD

SERVICES AT LATE HOME ATTENDED BY CITY OFFICIALS AND OTHER FRIENDS.

The funeral of Frederick T. Elwood, former city engineer, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his late home, 317 Barrington Street. Interment was in the family lot in Mt. Hope Cemetery. Rev. Dr. Clarence A. Barber, president of the Rochester Theological Seminary, officiated at the burial of the deceased, bringing addresses at the house and the grave. The funeral services were held at 317 Barrington Street.

The large and beautiful floral offerings told in a silent manner the esteem in which Mr. Elwood was held. The casket in which Mr. Elwood was laid was covered, and the room was one mass of flowers. The services at the house and the grave were impressive but simple, and only the immediate relatives occupied the body to its final resting place.

Many of the officials who attended the services at the house were Mayor Horatio H. Elgood, Commissioner of Public Works, W. H. Poole, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, Joseph Wilson, Corporation Counsel, B. B. Cunningham, Consulting Engineer, Edwin A. Fisher, Assistant Engineers, John F. Sturges and C. Arthur Pollock, and other members of the engineering department. The engineering department closed at noon out of respect for Mr. Elwood.

MORTUARY RECORD

Tubbs, William Nelson

May 1, 1947

William Nelson Tubbs, a native of Rochester, died on Monday in Syracuse. He was 72.

Tubbs was employed as a bookkeeper at the National Bank of St. Lawrence County, and was a member of the American Legion.

Tubbs was born in Syracuse, the son of John and Harriet Tubbs. He was a graduate of the Syracuse High School and the University of Rochester.

Tubbs was survived by his wife, Sadie Tubbs, and a son, Robert Tubbs of Syracuse.

Obituary:

Mr. Tubbs was a member of the American Legion and the V.F.W. He was a past commander of the American Legion Post 147 and a past commander of the V.F.W. Post 147.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge and the Elks Lodge.

Tubbs was a life member of the Syracuse Athletic Club and a member of the Syracuse Y.M.C.A.

He was a member of the Rochester Recreational Association and the Rochester Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Democratic Club and the Syracuse Republican Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse Municipal Council and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Council.

He was a member of the Syracuse Fire Department and the Syracuse Police Department.

He was a member of the Syracuse Recreational Association and the Syracuse Country Club.

He was a member of the Syracuse School Board and the Syracuse City Cen
DEATH OF ELEAZER TRIPP
Posl.-May 4, 1917
PIONEER OF 79 PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME HERE.

IN CIVIC AND BUSINESS LIFE

Deceased Was Identified with Ice
Trade and Gentlemen's Driving Association.

Eleanor Warner Tripp, 78, a pioneer resident of this city and for many years prominently identified in its civic and business life, died this morning at his home, 1125 North Goodman street, after an illness of a year and a half. He had been confined to his bed only three weeks.

Mr. Tripp was one of the earliest residents of the city.

E. W. TRIPP.

Rochester. He was born in this city
September 19, 1857, a son of Mary Chick and Ira Tripp, representatives of two of the oldest families in the county.

Where young he moved with his parents to Parma, and received his education in schools in that town.

When twenty-one years old he went to New York city where he engaged in the ice business. A short time later he returned to Rochester and established the Washington Ice company, one of the first large dealers in ice in this city. In 1865 he sold the business and retired from active work.

For many years he was a resident of the Nineteenth ward, where he was a large property holder.

He was deeply interested in horses and was prominent in the former Gentlemen's Driving association, owning several valuable racing horses.

Mr. Tripp was married twice. His first wife, Miss Mary E. Knebel, of this city, died several years ago, and later he was married to Miss Elizabeth Wilsine. He leaves his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Delos G. Eldredge and Mrs.
P. F. Mueller, of Rochester; and Mrs. A.
M. Taylor, of Buffalo; a son, Lewis
Tripp, two granddaughters, Delos E. and Lindsey G. Eldredge, and two stepdaughters, Anna M. and Charlotte K.
Walsh.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home.
Interment will be made in Spencerport.

LIVED IN GATES
75 YEARS, DEAD

Prominent as Farmer and Politician in County.

INcorporator of Old Mill
Mills, N.Y. 1846-1917
Made Vice-President of Armstrong
Milling Company in 1898—Justice of Peace and Supervisor for Many Years — Belonged to the Masons

Reuben L. Field, one of the most prominent agriculturists in Monroe county and a life long resident of Gates, died early morning at his home in Gates Center, aged 75 years.

Field was supervisor for eight years, and assessor for several terms.
He was master of the grange for years, and the upholders of the grange and matters connected with it were his greatest pleasure.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the home, and later from Gates Presbyterian Church.
Rev. J. B. White, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Mount Hope cemetery.

Reuben L. Field was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., on November 27, 1841, the son of Chester and Eliza Field. He was brought by his parents in his first years, where he lived until his father died. He was educated in the public schools of that town, and in the old Coleridge Institute, in this city.

In Milling Company.

He bought the present firm in 1873.
He was known as one of the most progressive farmers in the county. All of his equipment was of the most modern kind. Mr. Field was well known among business men in this city. In 1886 he was one of the incorporators of the Armstrong Milling Company, of which he was made vice-president. He was married to Mrs. Eliza Brown, to whom he has been married for more than sixty years, and has a family of two. Mr. Field has lived in Gates Center, where he has engaged in the milling business since 1865, and has been active in the affairs of the community.

He was a prominent farmer and business man, and was known as one of the most progressive men in the county.

He leaves a family of two sons,
Reuben and Chester, and two daughters,
Miss Annie M. and Miss Mary Field.

Supervisor Eight Terms.

Mr. Field was a member of Genesee League and A.M. He was a staunch Democrat, and for a number of years was recognized as a leader in Monroe county democracy. He was justice of court for a long time after his appointment in 1873. He was elected municipal judge in 1877, and held the court during many periods of time.

He was on several important committees in the board.

He leaves his wife, three daughters, Miss Annie M. Field, Mrs.
Mary Field and Miss Mary Field, and a son, Chester Field.

FUNERAL OF
W. H. MILLIS

The funeral of W. H. Mills, who died in Ottawa, Ont., Sunday, May 6, was held at the home of his sister Mrs.
J. W. McKelvey, 290-55th Avenue, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 at the Central Presbyterian Church.
Rev. Robert J. Young of the Central Church, officiated. The bearers were P. V. Crittenden, E. Ely, W. M. Van top, Louis D. Clements and George Wimb.

The relatives in town for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills and
Mr. and Mrs. William Evans, of Toronto;
Mr. Frank Pedrick and daughter,
Ella, and Mrs. Norman Foster, of Ottawa, and Lieutenant Colonel Joseph
Mills of Peterboro, Ont.

Mr. Mills many friends in Ottawa and Rochester remembered with affection. Mr. Mills was a former resident of Rochester and was engaged in the grocery business in St. Paul Street.
He was a former member of the Central Presbyterian church and of the Heiman Gram school-sunday school.
At the time of his residence here he was a prominent citizen, a member of the Arms and the A. O. U. W., both here and in Canada. He was a past grand dep-

In Rochester.

It is thought by his death was hastened by the death of his grandson, Private Charles W. Mills, who was serve-ing in France, and whom he was brought home to Rochester, where he was held Sunday at 14th Street.

The funeral was made in the family lit.
Mr. Hoover Church.

DEATH OF OLDEST HARNES8 MAKER,
RICHARD H. ATKINS

Richard H. Atkins died this afternoon at his residence at 146, First street, after a lingering illness, aged 75 years. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

Mr. Atkins was the oldest harness manufacturer in the city, having been in the harness business in Rochester since 1865. For twenty-five years he was with A. V. South in the harness business in State street. About fifteen years ago when the firm was discontinued Mr. Atkins went in business with W. H. Mather under the firm name of Atkins & Mathews. Five years later Mr. Atkins took the business over and conducted it until he retired a few years ago.

Mr. Atkins was born in Prince Edwards Isle in 1841 and in the fall moved to Medina. Five years later
Mr. Atkins came to Rochester and started in the harness business, a trade with which his father and brothers had also been identified. During his long business career he had made many friends and was well known in Rochester and New York state.

Besides his wife, Mr. Atkins leaves the following: Richard J. Atkins; three daughters, Grace, and Elizabeth Atkins, of 146 Federal street; a son, who lives in London, and two great-grandchildren, Mrs. John W. Hendelson, 14 Matthews street.
BISHOP WILLIAM D. WALKER OF EPISCOPAL DIOCESE OF WESTERN NEW YORK DIES SUDDENLY

The last rites for Bishop William D. Walker, bishop of the diocese of Western New York, who died suddenly of heart trouble...,

Historic Scrapbooks Collection

Last Rites for Bishop William D. Walker

Bishop Walker, 53, was laid to rest Wednesday morning at a funeral service at St. Paul's Cathedral, New York. The body was taken to the cathedral at 4 o'clock and then to the church at 6 o'clock.

BISHOP WALKER, REVEREND WILLIAM D. WALKER, was born in New York City on June 26, 1859, the son of James and Mary Emery Walker. He received his early education at the schools and Trinity Episcopal Church. He graduated from Columbia College in 1880, and was ordained deacon at the Church of the Epiphany, New York, on September 24, 1880.

The bishop was the recipient of honorary degrees from many educational institutions, including Notre Dame College, Indiana; Columbia College, South Carolina; and the University of Chicago. He was a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Historical Association, the American Institute of Archaeology, and the American Philosophical Society.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bishop was a member of the Episcopal Diocese of Western New York, and was an active member of the diocesan board of education. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, New York, and was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cathedral Church of the Incarnation, New York.
DEATH OF BISHOP WALKER
In Buffalo Announced

12th May 1917

RT. REV. WILLIAM D. WALKER.

Prominent Hardware Merchant Dies After Protracted Illness

Herald May 10, 1917

Simon J. Weaver, one of the best known figures in the hardware business in Rochester, died yesterday in the Park Avenue Hospital, after a long illness, aged 52 years. He was born in Rochester, son of Charles J. and Catharine M. Weaver, while his family was living in Main Street. Afterward he resided with his parents in the home in Monroe Avenue near No. 15 School, where Mr. Weaver received his early education. He also attended the old Rochester Free Academy. For a number of years he was connected with the hardware firm of Weaver, Palmer & Richardson, and when that combination sold out to Ward & Company, Mr. Weaver became connected with the Weaver Hardware Company. For a number of years he had been in ill health and had been unable to engage actively in business. He leaves a wife, two daughters, Misses Dorothy and Ruth Weaver, a brother, R. P. Weaver of Rochester, and a sister, Mrs. W. F. Perry of Greenfield, Mass. The funeral will take place to-day morning from the home of R. F. Weaver at 66 College Avenue.

Miss Bradshaw: A Life of Service

Emily Bradshaw, Pioneer English Teacher

Author of Text-Books and Lecturer at Chautauqua.

No. 29 School Principal

Woman Who Contributed Much to Method of Teaching English and Who Numbered Actors of First Rank as Friends Taken Suddenly

July 27 Charles E. Prummer.

The death of Charles E. Prummer, which occurred on Wednesday, removes another veteran railroad man of this city. When not a railroad man, he was a prominent member of the Erie Railroad Company as a brakeman out of some serving under some of the old-time conductors. In the days that blacksmen were required to ride out on some of the main lines, he was a good conductor and when couplings were made with link and pin. In 1913 Mr. Prummer was promoted to be a conductor by Superintendent George W. Bartlett and was placed in charge of the 1042 and 1041, a night run between Corning and Rochester. The Erie Depot Superintendent then removed Mr. Prummer at the same time to the opposite train. Some time later Mr. Prummer left the Erie to take up a position with H. R. & P. Trackway, i.e., the way of which George W. Bartlett was then general superintendent. He later served on the New York Central and then served on the Erie Railroad as an engineer on the Mother Hubbard engine, which is a notable feature of that road.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historic Scrapbooks Collection
DEATH CLAIMS

REV. E. P. HART

Jenius—Aug. 16, 1855

Had Been Rector of St. Mark’s Episcopal Church for Nearly 30 Years.

Rev. Edward P. Hart, rector of St. Mark’s Episcopal Church, died early this morning at his home, 138 Troup Street. Although he has not been well for some time, Mr. Hart’s condition only became serious on Monday of this week, which was succeeded to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Hart has never been rector of any church but St. Mark’s. Coming there in 1855, he has declined many offers to take charge of larger parishes, choosing to remain with the church and people to whom he gave his undivided love and service. Mr. Hart was beloved in his church to a degree that is won by but few clergymen and his death will be deeply mourned. He belonged to a family which has been prominent in the social life of Rochester for generations and had a wide and distinguished circle of relatives and friends.

Rev. Mr. Hart is survived by his wife and three sisters, Mrs. W. Gaylord Holmes, Miss Mary E. Hart and Miss Florence Hart.

Mr. Hart was born in Rochester, July 6, 1811, and always lived here. His birthplace was on a farm on the site of old Brinker station, a landmark familiar to many Rochesterians now occupied by a large manufacturing plant. He received his early education in the schools of Rochester and later attended the University of Western New York from which institution he graduated in 1832 with the degree of bachelor of arts.

He engaged in business for a few years and later taught school. He was one of the teachers in a school for deaf mutes organized by W. W. Westervelt, and later helped in the organization of the New York Institute for Deaf Mutes. At this time he was interested in an association for deaf mutes and translated the services for them held in St. Luke’s Church.

He was ordained to the holy order in the Bishop of New York the following September. He was designated assistant minister at St. Luke’s Church and remained there for a number of years. He then was put in charge of the work at St. Mark’s Church, then but a mission, and later a parish church. His energy and resource resulted in the increase of the number of members of the church from 120 to 1,300. He built and dedicated the cathedral, started a new church, located the church’s credit rapidly. He continued in the pastoral charge of this church until the time of his death and much of its success is due to his zeal and serving energy. He was a fine figure in this city. His interest in deaf mutes continued throughout his life.

He was a member of DeVeaux College, Niagara Falls, a member of the Cathedral chapter, Buffalo, and of the boards of religious education and of the missions of the Episcopal church, also of the committee on canon law.

Mr. Hart was notted for his devotion to his calling and for his kindness of heart. His whole life was given over to his work and he was ever in need of a guiding hand. To this work he gave his time unprofitably and became the unprofitable church matters of this city. His interest was not alone devoted to those of his parish but also almost daily he attended to the wants of those of the Western world and who had no connection with his church.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 3 o’clock from St. Mark’s Church. Interment will be made in St. Mark’s cemetery.

FUNERAL OF REV. EDWARD P. HART

The funeral of Rev. Edward P. Hart, former rector of St. Mark’s Episcopal church, who died Monday morning at his home, 138 Troup street, after a brief illness, took place this afternoon at 2 o’clock from his home. The funeral service was held at 3 o’clock from St. Mark’s church.

Rev. Dr. Charles Boynton, of the General Theological Seminary, New York city, officiated at the service in the house, when the body was placed on the casket.

The body, clothed in full episcopal vestments, rested at the foot of the church. The church was surrounded by the many beautiful floral memorials of friends and associates of Mr. Hart. Lofty before the service began, the church was crowded with those who had come to pay their last respects to the memory of the clergyman whose work of seventy years had been so tireless and devoted.

Rev. William L. Davis, archdeacon of the diocese of New York, delivered the church service with the reading of the Epistle and the sermon of which Rev. Dr. Herbert, rector of St. Mary’s, Syracuse, read the lesson. The eulogy was made by Rev. William E. McCoy, rector of St. Mark’s church, Twenty-third ward. Rev. Jerome K. Allston, rector of Trinity church, Palmyra, recited the prayers, and the benediction was given by Dr. Boynton.

The wardens and vestrymen of St. Mark’s church acted as pall bearers. The body was borne to the Hope cemetery, where Rev. Charles Henry, rector of Trinity church, read the grave and the committal service. The body was then taken to the Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County Historic Scrapbooks Collection.
FUNERAL OF
COL. W. C. CHURCH

Native of Rochester, Former Newspaper Publisher and Editor, to Be Buried in New York.

The funeral of Colonel William Conant Church, twenty-four years and for forty-four years editor of the "Army and Navy Journal," who died Wednesday at his home, 51 Irving Place, New York, on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from Grace Episcopal church, that city.

Colonel Church was born in Rochester, August 13, 1824, the son of Rev. Pharcellus Church and Clara E. Conant, a descendant of Roger Conant, the first de facto governor of Massachusetts. For five years after leaving the Boston Latin school, Colonel Church helped his father edit and publish the New York "Chronicle," a Baptist newspaper.

Colonel Church became editor of the New York "Sun" when twenty-four years of age, had withdrawn from that position and was traveling in Europe when the Civil War began. Returning to this country, he joined the joint military and naval expedition under General W. T. Sherman and Admiral S. F. Dupont. He was present when Port Royal was taken and hurrying north on the down steamboat Bienville he wrote for the New York "Evening Post" the first account of the victory. In 1862 he was appointed a captain of volunteers on the staff of General John C. Cassey. He was later made major and lieutenant-colonel under General Sherman.

In 1863 he resigned to publish an army journal at the suggestion of Edward Everett Hale, James Russell Lowell, Henry W. Longfellow, Charles Sumner, Henry Ward Beecher, William Cullen Bryant and others. The first number of "Army and Navy Journal" appeared on August 30th of that year. He was one of the civilian committee that assisted the metropolitan police during the draft riots. With his brother he established the "Galaxy Magazine" in 1869, which later was described as the "Atlantic Monthly."

Colonel Church wrote biographies of Admiral Farragut, Colonel Cushing and John Ericsson, designer of the Monitor. He also contributed to many magazines. In his own journal he urged universal military service and a strong navy, although he often found himself opposed to the administration, he never criticized the President.

With General George W. Wingate, Colonel Church established the National Rifle Association, of which he was the first president and honorary director for life. In 1889, he was chairman of a committee organized to raise funds for the preservation of the Dewey monument. He was on the executive committee of the National Security league of Pennsylvania and a charter member of the New York, the United States, and the Royal Legion. In 1890, he was director of the Ten Century association, a member of the Union league, Players, Army and Navy and the president in perpetuity of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and a trustee of the Zoological Society of New York.

Charles W. Wall

at the home of relatives in Albion. He had been in the Federal service about forty-one years.

Mr. Wall was born in Albion on June 3, 1814. He served with the 31st New York Volunteer regiment in the Civil war from August, 1862, to July, 1865. He was a member of the 31st Episcopal Church, of Albion, was connected with the Masonic fraternity of this city and was a member of George H. Thomas post, G. A. R., of which he was treasurer.

Mr. Wall leaves three sisters, Mrs. W. C. Ramondate, at whose home he died, Mrs. Sarah E. Butler of Albion, and Mrs. Homer Snow of Batavia.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ramondate, 13 State street east, in Albion. Rev. Glenn W. Whittaker, rector of Christ Episcopal church of Albion, will conduct the service. Interment will be made in Mount Albion cemetery, Albion.

Edward Kenealy

Death of Well-Known City Employee, Who Was Wounded in the Civil War.

Edward Kenealy died yesterday at the family home, 188 Oak street, after a brief illness. Mr. Kenealy had been a meter reader in the employ of the Water Works Department for the past twenty-seven years, and during his service for the city and prior to this, covered every portion of the city.

He was known to thousands of householders, and used them for his unfailing courtesies and his strict attention to business. Mr. Kenealy was a veteran of the Civil War, and was service in the Red River expedition. He received a bullet through the face at the battle of Fair Oaks. He served as a member of Company H, 6th New York Infantry, known as Hewitt's Regiment.

Mr. Kenealy was prominent in...
DEATH OF JOSEPH HOFF

Veteran of Civil War Had Lived in This City 65 Years and in Same House 48 Years.

Post-Express, May 28, 1897.

Joseph Hoff, who died Saturday afternoon at his home 416 Highlander Avenue, in the house in which he had lived for more than forty-eight years. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock from the home of Dr. William A. Kneeland of Alexander Street.

Characteristics of Mr. Hoff were a man of reserve in manner. He was ever, did not indicate any lack of politeness. At his funeral there was a great show of respect, and the dead was a relic of a man of whom he was never sad or unhappy. Mr. Hoff was a Republican, though he never took an active interest in politics, and he never sought office.

For many years Mr. Hoff's father was manufacturer of furniture in Rochester.

Mrs. Aristine Pixley Munn Dies in Her 101st Year.

Rochester Evening Post, October 23, 1897.

Mrs. Aristine Pixley Munn died yesterday at her home in Gates in her 101st year. Her was the widow of the late Dr. Edward G. Munn, son of the late Dr. John P. Munn, president of the board of trustees of the Rochester General Hospital.

Mrs. Munn was born in Kirkland, Onondaga County, October 29, 1816. She was the daughter of the late Hiram Pixley. On October 28, 1834, she was married to Dr. Munn.

Dr. Edward G. Munn was one of the most prominent of the early physicians and surgeons in Monroe County. He was born in Massachusetts and later moved to Le Roy. After he had completed his education and begun the practice of medicine, he settled in Rochester, making a specialty of diseases of the eyes.

He graduated from the University of Rochester and the Lamb which he attended that time. In 1847, three years after his marriage, he moved to the city and opened an office. In May, 1841, he purchased a farm in the town of Gates, and moved there, but retained his office in this city.

In 1823, Mrs. Munn presented the University of Rochester with the land on which the woman's college is now located.

Joseph S. Munn.

The funeral of Thomas H. White, a director of the Grand Army of the Republic and a member of the Rochester Post, 415, Grand Army of the Republic, was held from the residence of Mr. White on the afternoon of May 26Th. The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. White and the Rev. J. C. White of the First Presbyterian Church.

Joseph S. Munn.

A committee of the Rochester Bar Association has drafted a memorial in honor of Attorney Joseph S. Munn, who died on Thursday evening. The committee declared that "he had the wry kind of sense that is beneficial and kindly and cheerful to the conduct as a member of the bar, the committee says that his practice of law he brought to bear, to an unusual degree, that business capacity which made his advice practicable. He was neither lubricious nor conceited, and his counsel was directed to the achievement of an ultimate good, rather than to the acquisition of a technical legal victory."

The memorial is signed by the members of the committee: John J. McHorney, chairman, Israel S.all, Nelson E. Stimson, P. DeWitt Ovitt and Everett V. Yan Allen.

The funeral of Mr. White will take place from 127 Clinton Street on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.
DEATHS—FUNERALS

GEORGE S. CRITTENDEN.
Funeral from Home on South Goodman Street This Afternoon.

The funeral of George S. Crittenden was held from his home at 125 South Goodman street this afternoon. Services were conducted by Herbert C. Savage, reader of Christian Science church, Mrs. Jessica Yegua Cole sang “Day by Day the ManNA 7611,” and “Abide with Me.”

The bearers were Isaac M. Brickner, John Kavanagh, Alvis H. Dewey, Ludwig Schenck, John Bernhard and Mrs. Octavia C. Madden. Interment was at Mt. Hope.

MISS JEANNIE EDDERTON.

Sister of Mayor Edderton Passes
Post Away at Her Home.

Miss Jennie Edderton, for many years prominently identified with the social, church and charitable activities of Rochester, died early this morning at her home in this city after a long illness.

Miss Edderton became a member of the Central Presbyterian Church in 1854 and was for a great many years one of the leading workers in the Ladies Aid Society. For several years she served as vice-president and president of that organization.

Her gentle, broad and tolerant spirit with which Miss Edderton was endowed, endeared her to all who knew her. She was always in the front ranks of the social and church work. Her home life was ideal.

Miss Edderton is survived by her mother, Mrs. Octavia C. Edderton and her brother, Mayor Hiram H. Edderton.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o’clock. Burial will be private.

JOHN L. MADDEN.

Proprietor of Linen Store Dies in Washington, D. C.

A telegram received by Rochester relatives announced the death in Washington, D. C., this morning, of John L. Madden, 244 Garson avenue, for several years proprietor of the linen store in Main street east. The body will be brought to Rochester for burial.

Besides his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Madden, he leaves three brothers, William V. of the firm of Gordon & Madden, architects, Charles J. and Michael L. Madden, both of Boston, and three sisters, Mrs. James G. Comperford and Anna T. and Elizabeth E. Madden, all of Rochester. Mr. Madden had been ill for some time and had gone south for treatment.

May 2, 1918.

JAMES GIBSON ARDEY.

Presquille, Ontario, Canada, later going to Florida for the winter. The building which bears his name at 1807 North Goodman Street served as president and president of that organization.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 3 o’clock. Burial will be private.

JOHN L. MADDEN.

Proprietor of Linen Store Dies in Washington, D. C.

A telegram received by Rochester relatives announced the death in Washington, D. C., this morning, of John L. Madden, 244 Garson avenue, for several years proprietor of the linen store in Main street east. The body will be brought to Rochester for burial.

Besides his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Madden, he leaves three brothers, William V. of the firm of Gordon & Madden, architects, Charles J. and Michael L. Madden, both of Boston, and three sisters, Mrs. James G. Comperford and Anna T. and Elizabeth E. Madden, all of Rochester. Mr. Madden had been ill for some time and had gone south for treatment.

May 2, 1918.

JAMES GIBSON ARDEY.

Presquille, Ontario, Canada, later going to Florida for the winter. He was a member of the American Legion, a native of Ontario and a member of the Chenango Grange. He was a veteran of the Civil War.

Mr. Ardey was survived by his wife, Edna; two daughters, Roberta, who lives in Rochester, and Isabel A., who lives in Rochester; and three sons, Robert A. of Rochester, and two brothers, John A. and Michael L., both of Boston.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Saturday afternoon at 3 o’clock.

Dr. Ferris of Christ Church will officiate.

David E. Crane, a veteran of Company C, 120th Regiment, N. Y. A. Volunteers, and a member of the Greek American Legion had a funeral service performed for him.

The body will be taken to Presquille, Canada, where it will be interred in the Presquille Cemetery.

May 2, 1918.

Levi S. Auken.

He had done the greater part of the work on his farm this spring and in the harvest last fall he pitched and moved most of his hay, assisting also in the harvesting of the busy October months, thus enabling him to have well-grown oats and a good crop of wheat. He was a prominent member of the Keepers association.

Mr. Auken was born on June 8, 1890, the son of James V. and Phoebe Cook Auken. He was a farmer and a member of the farm boards.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. Auken on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o’clock.

Dr. Ferris of Christ Church will officiate.

David E. Crane, a veteran of Company C, 120th Regiment, N. Y. A. Volunteers, and a member of the Greek American Legion, died in Presquille, Canada, on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o’clock.

The body will be taken to Presquille, Canada, where it will be interred in the Presquille Cemetery.

May 2, 1918.

Levi S. Auken.

He had done the greater part of the work on his farm this spring and in the harvest last fall he pitched and moved most of his hay, assisting also in the harvesting of the busy October months, thus enabling him to have well-grown oats and a good crop of wheat. He was a prominent member of the Keepers association.

Mr. Auken was born on June 8, 1890, the son of James V. and Phoebe Cook Auken. He was a farmer and a member of the farm boards.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. Auken on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o’clock.

Dr. Ferris of Christ Church will officiate.

Levi S. Auken.

He had done the greater part of the work on his farm this spring and in the harvest last fall he pitched and moved most of his hay, assisting also in the harvesting of the busy October months, thus enabling him to have well-grown oats and a good crop of wheat. He was a prominent member of the Keepers association.

Mr. Auken was born on June 8, 1890, the son of James V. and Phoebe Cook Auken. He was a farmer and a member of the farm boards.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. Auken on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o’clock.

Dr. Ferris of Christ Church will officiate.

Levi S. Auken.

He had done the greater part of the work on his farm this spring and in the harvest last fall he pitched and moved most of his hay, assisting also in the harvesting of the busy October months, thus enabling him to have well-grown oats and a good crop of wheat. He was a prominent member of the Keepers association.

Mr. Auken was born on June 8, 1890, the son of James V. and Phoebe Cook Auken. He was a farmer and a member of the farm boards.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. Auken on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o’clock.

Dr. Ferris of Christ Church will officiate.
DEATH OF PROMINENT LAWYER
June 17

Horace McGuire Was Also Veteran of the Civil War.

Attorney Horace McGuire, one of the best known lawyers in the city, died yesterday at the home of his dau ther, Mrs. Miriam R. Wood, East avenue, Pittsford, aged 74 years. Mr.
McGuire had been in feeble health for some time and had not been actively engaged in law practice for several years, although he did look after some of his affairs.

Mr. McGuire was a member of the state board of charities for ten years.
Mr. McGuire was born in Salina,
now a part of the city of Syracuse.

Born December 23, 1842, a son of Thomas and Amelia Odell McGuire. The mother was a granddaughter of Ethan Aldis of Green Mountain fame. The father died when the boy was very young,
and the family removed to Syracuse.
Later, as a boy of not

and the Canadian side of the lake. For many years he resided on the St. Lawrence River, retiring from command about ten years ago. Two of his sons moved from Charlotte to Sea Gate.

Served Four Years in Civil War.

Captain Estes commanded the old stone Washington, and marched out of the port of Rochester, and later sailed on the steamer St. Lawrence, which rambled the Thousand Islands in the tourist season. In the Civil War he served under General Grant for three years in the 3d New York Volunteeer Cavalry. He returned to his sailor life after the close of the war.

A national reputation was achieved
by Captain Estes by a part he played
when he was in command of a steamer
that piled the St. Lawrence River, touching both American and Canadian ports. He sailed into a Canadian port to transport a dokument to a Canadian steamer, and found a new place of interest, which was formerly a member of the order.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Bertha Estes
of Sea Gate; a son, Eldridge W. Estes
of New York City; two daughters, Mrs.
W. Estes of Charlotte; two nephews,
Charles B. Estes, of New York, and
Harriette Estes, of Charlotte; and three grandchildren, children of Eldridge Estes of New York City.

DEATH OF

Horace McGuire

more than 12 years, he came to Rochester to make his way in the world.
He became a printer's apprentice
in the old Union office and sat type with so much understanding that he was able to take a high school course
and to pass an examination which qualified him for a University of Rochester scholarship. He was about 18 years of age in 1862 in the class of 1866, when the call for additional volunteers for the Union armies was received in Rochester.

After President Martin B.
Anderson of the university to learn what he should do and was promised that if he went to law school,
Mr. McGuire went away to war,
was sent with the expedition of Gencral Banks to New Orleans and saw

Veteran Sailor, Known in Every
Port on Lake Ontario, Is Dead
at Home in Sea Gate, Long Island

Milo D. Estes, for many years well known in sailing annals of
Lake Ontario and the St.
River, died yesterday at the home in
Sea Gate, L. I., at the age of 76 years.
He lived in Charlotte for a number of years, removing to Long Island nearly eight years ago.

Captain Estes was born in Clayton
in November, 1841, and came to Charlotte when he was 17 years of age. It might be said that the young man was raised in the sailing business, for he was intimately acquainted with the Yankee privateer and the port of Roch-ter and theories at the nearest

and the Canadian side of the lake. For many years he resided on the St. Lawrence River, retiring from command about ten years ago. Two of his sons moved from Charlotte to Sea Gate.

Served Four Years in Civil War.

Captain Estes commanded the old
stone Washington, and marched out of the port of Rochester, and later sailed on the steamer St. Lawrence, which rambled the Thousand Islands in the tourist season. In the Civil War he served under General Grant for three years in the 3d New York Volun-
teeer Cavalry. He returned to his sailor life after the close of the war.

A national reputation was achieved
by Captain Estes by a part he played
when he was in command of a steamer
that piled the St. Lawrence River, touching both American and Canadian ports. He sailed into a Canadian port to transport a dokument to a Canadian steamer, and found a new place of interest, which was formerly a member of the order.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Bertha Estes
of Sea Gate; a son, Eldridge W. Estes
of New York City; two daughters, Mrs.
W. Estes of Charlotte; two nephews,
Charles B. Estes, of New York, and
Harriette Estes, of Charlotte; and three grandchildren,
children of Eldridge Estes of New York City.

DEATH OF

Horace McGuire

more than 12 years, he came to Rochester to make his way in the world.
He became a printer's apprentice
in the old Union office and sat type
with so much understanding that he was able to take a high school course
and to pass an examination which qualified him for a University
of Rochester scholarship. He was about 18 years of age in 1862 in the class
of 1866, when the call for additional volunteers for the Union armies was received in Rochester.

After President Martin B.
Anderson of the university to learn
what he should do and was promised
that if he went to law school,
Mr. McGuire went away to war,
was sent with the expedition of Genceral Banks to New Orleans and saw

Veteran Sailor, Known in Every
Port on Lake Ontario, Is Dead
at Home in Sea Gate, Long Island

Milo D. Estes, for many years well known in sailing annals of
Lake Ontario and the St.
River, died yesterday at the home in
Sea Gate, L. I., at the age of 76 years.
He lived in Charlotte for a number of years, removing to Long Island nearly eight years ago.

Captain Estes was born in Clayton
in November, 1841, and came to Charlotte when he was 17 years of age. It might be said that the young man was raised in the sailing business, for he
was intimately acquainted with the Yankee privateer and the port of Roch-
ter and theories at the nearest

and the Canadian side of the lake. For many years he resided on the St. Lawrence River, retiring from command about ten years ago. Two of his sons moved from Charlotte to Sea Gate.

Served Four Years in Civil War.

Captain Estes commanded the old
stone Washington, and marched out of the port of Rochester, and later sailed on the steamer St. Lawrence, which rambled the Thousand Islands in the tourist season. In the Civil War he served under General Grant for three years in the 3d New York Volun-
teeer Cavalry. He returned to his sailor life after the close of the war.

A national reputation was achieved
by Captain Estes by a part he played
when he was in command of a steamer
that piled the St. Lawrence River, touching both American and Canadian ports. He sailed into a Canadian port to transport a dokument to a Canadian steamer, and found a new place of interest, which was formerly a member of the order.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Bertha Estes
of Sea Gate; a son, Eldridge W. Estes
of New York City; two daughters, Mrs.
W. Estes of Charlotte; two nephews,
Charles B. Estes, of New York, and
Harriette Estes, of Charlotte; and three grandchildren,
children of Eldridge Estes of New York City.
Death at West Bloomfield of Former Well-Known Rochester Woman. The death of Mrs. Abby M. Alling occurred yesterday morning at her home in Rochester. She was born on December 28, 1826, in Utica, New York, and lived her entire life in Rochester.

She was deeply interested in missionary and temperance work, and one of the most prominent citizens of the city. She was a member of the Central Presbyterian Church, and a charter member of the First Presbyterian Church in Rochester.

She is survived by her husband, Myron H. Alling, and a sister, Mrs. William H. Walker, and a number of other relatives.

This is the second death in the family of the last few days, as her husband died in 1883.
George M. Neel, Well Known to Footwear Trade of Rochester,

WAS 32ND DEGREE MASON

George M. Neel, one of the best known and most popular leaders of the shoe trade in Rochester, died yesterday at his home at 219 Edgerton Street, aged 56 years. He had been ill about six months. The funeral will take place from the home on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Neel was born in Lancaster, Erie County, but at the age of 3 years removed to Livonia with his parents and received his early education in that town. In 1880 he came to Rochester and took a position with the George Armstrong & Co. shoe manufacturers. He remained with the Armstrong company a quarter of a century, removing to Batavia when the factory at Livonia closed a number of years ago. He returned to Rochester later, in 1902, and became secretary and sales manager of E. P. Reed & Co., a position he occupied until his death. Altogether he was in the shoe business in and near Rochester for 37 years, and in that time was connected with only two companies.

Leaves Wife and Family.

Mr. Neel was married in June, 1883, to Miss Caroline McNair. Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Miss Dorothy Neel; a son, Albert Neel of Utica; a brother, John Neel of Rochester; two sisters, Miss Louisa Neel and Mrs. Stephen Cook, both of Amenia; two nieces, Mrs. Charles Larrabee of Cohocton; four nephews, W. Robert Neel of Rochester, Lillian C. Neel of freight, Pa.; William J. Neel of Chicago and Louis Neel of East Orange, N. J.; and one grandson, Richard Neel. Mr. Neel was a 32nd degree Mason, a past commander and present member of the Masonic Commandery, 339, Knights Templar, a past high priest of Western Star Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Batavia, and a member of Rochester Consistory, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, of Damascus Temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

FUTURE SHOE MAN, IS DEAD

George M. Neel was a member of the Common Council of Rochester and held two positions in his 37 years of connection with the leading industry.

Funeral of James M. Aikenhead

The funeral of James M. Aikenhead, former member of the Common Council of Rochester, was held yesterday at his home on 105th New Avenue, near water works for the city of Rochester. Mr. Aikenhead was a prominent figure in civic affairs and was known to all who were connected with the shoe trade.

Rochester Boy Dies in Harvard

High in Studies Dies at Harvard

As the result of illness contracted on Liberty Loan tour, when he was marching with the Harvard University contingent in Boston's big parade to boost Uncle Sam's loan war, James M. Aikenhead, a well known Mason, was killed in an automobile accident in Cambridge, Massachusetts. The funeral, which was held in St. Mary's Church, was attended by a large number of friends and acquaintances.

MORTUARY RECORD

George M. Neel died yesterday at his home at 219 Clifford Avenue, aged 56 years. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Neel, three sons, Martin W., Albert and Valentine Neel of Rochester; six daughters, Mrs. Jeanne M. Stover, Mrs. William H. Weiser, Mrs. Donald Felt, Mrs. Joseph H. Newcomer, Mrs. Albert Felt, and Miss Margaret Neel of Rochester; and three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; two brothers, John W. and John D. Aikenhead, and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel and Mrs. E. Grace.

Funeral of George A. Madigan

The funeral of George A. Madigan, Harvard College student, took place yesterday morning. Services were held at St. Mary's Church, where Mr. Madigan had been a member of the Harvard Club of Rochester. The final service was held at the Harvard Club of Rochester, where Mr. Madigan was a member of the Harvard Club of Rochester.
Death of G. K. Gilbert, Who Was Noted Geologist

Word has been received here of the death of Gilbert, University of Rochester, 62, in Jackson, Michigan, May 1, six days before his 65th birthday. Mr. Gilbert was a noted figure in the field of geology. He was born in this city and received his bachelor's degree at the University of Rochester. He then went to the United States Geological Survey since 1879, and was chief geologist between 1889 and 1908. He was president of the Geological Society of America in 1892 and 1903, and a member of other geological and scientific societies. He was editor of the geographical and physical geography departments in Johnson's Encyclopedia and wrote many treatises on geological subjects. May 7, 1918.

REV. OLIVER FLETCHER DIES

Dem C Jule 26-1917

Fathers of Assistant Superintendent of School Passes Away.

Rev. Oliver N. Fletcher, retired Baptist minister, died last night at his home, No. 163 Pomeroy, at the age of 90 years. Mr. Fletcher had lived until August 30th but he would have celebrated his 90th birthday. He died from cancer of the stomach. He was a distinguished churchman, being a member of the Presbytery of Rochester. He was a member of the United States Geological Survey since 1879, and was chief geologist between 1889 and 1908. He was president of the Geological Society of America in 1892 and 1903, and a member of other geological and scientific societies. He was editor of the geographical and physical geography departments in Johnson's Encyclopedia and wrote many treatises on geological subjects. May 16, 1918.

MAYOR'S SISTER DEAD AT HOME

Miss Jennie Edgerton, Well-Known Church and Charitable Worker, Succumbs to Long Illness. May 1918.

Miss Jennie Edgerton, for many years prominently identified with the social, church and charitable activities of Rochester, died early this morning at her home, 58 Howell Street after a long illness. Miss Edgerton became a member of the Central Presbyterian Church in 1892 and was for a great many years one of the leading workers in the church. She was also a member of the Rochester Historical Society, and she served as vice president and president of that organization.

Miss Edgerton was a woman of vital and active spirit with which Miss Edgerton was endowed, endeared her to all with whom she came in contact in her social and church work. She was well known as an intellect who was a worthy and beloved member of the Central Presbyterian Church.

Miss Edgerton is survived by her mother, Mrs. Octavia C. Edgerton, and her brother, Mayor Hiram H. Edgerton.
William Holland Samson Dies
Suddenly at Lake Mahopac, N. Y.

WILLIAM H. SAMSON

William Holland Samson, M. vice-president of the Anderson Galleries, Madison avenue and 45th street, New York, and a former editorial writer on The Post Express, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday at Lake Mahopac, N. Y. His home was at 454 Riverside drive, New York.

Mr. Samson was prominently known as an author and collector of historical data. He was born in Le Roy, N. Y., February 4, 1846, a son of Russell L. and Mary Elizabeth Parsons Samson. He received his education in the public and high schools and studied law for three years, during which time he was correspondent for several city newspapers.

He came to Rochester in 1880 and did reportorial work for the Rochester Evening Express, becoming a member of the editorial staff of that paper in March, 1881, and continuing in that position when the paper was succeeded by The Post Express, in May, 1882.

In addition to his newspaper work, Mr. Samson devoted a large amount of time to the study of local history and the accumulation of a library, both local and general in character. His collection of prints, engravings, autographs, maps, pamphlets and books regarding the Indians of Western New York and the settlement and development of the region by whites was the largest ever made in this part of the United States by a single individual. It embraced thousands of items, many of great rarity. A large part of the collection of local items was added to the library of the Rochester Historical Society.

Three collections of important historical letters and documents were edited by Mr. Samson during his residence in Rochester, as follows: The private journal of Aaron Burr, written during his four years' absence in Europe; a large collection of letters written by George Washington after his election to the presidency; and the letters which Zachary Taylor wrote to members of his family from the battlefields of the Mexican war. This material was put into four large volumes, with introductions and notes by Mr. Samson, for the owner of the original manuscripts, William K. Bixby, of St. Louis, who distributed the books gratuitously among the principal libraries of this country and Europe.

Mr. Samson was a member of the New York State Historical Association and of the Rochester Historical Society, and was president of the Rochester organization from 1894 to 1896. He was secretary and a trustee of the Reynolds Library and a charter member and officer of the Rochester Whist club.

Mr. Samson was married to Mary Elizabeth Bixby, of Adrian, Mich., December 25, 1882. He resigned his position on The Post Express and went to New York October 1, 1911, to become an officer of the Anderson company. He was also an officer of the Metropolitan Art Association.

William Holland Samson, vice-president of the Anderson Galleries, Madison avenue, New York, and a former managing editor of the Rochester Post Express, died suddenly of heart disease on Sunday at Lake Mahopac, N. Y., aged 57 years. His home was at No. 454 Riverside drive, New York.

Mr. Samson came to Rochester in 1880 and did reportorial work for the Evening Express. A year later he became a member of the editorial staff of that paper, and after the Evening Express was merged into the Post Express in May, 1882, he continued in that work. He resigned from the staff of the Post Express on October 1, 1911, to go to New York. He was born in Le Roy on February 4, 1846.

Mr. Samson's collection of prints, engravings, autographs, maps, pamphlets and books bearing on the Indians of Western New York and the settlement and development of the region by whites was the largest ever made in this part of the United States by one person. A large part of the collection of local items was given to the Rochester Historical Society.

Three collections of important historical letters and documents were edited by Mr. Samson when he lived in Rochester, as follows: The private journal of Aaron Burr, written during his four years' absence in Europe; a large collection of letters written by George Washington after his election to the presidency; and the letters which Zachary Taylor wrote to members of his family from the battlefields of the Mexican war. This material was put into four large volumes, with introductions and notes by Mr. Samson, for the owners of the original manuscripts, William K. Bixby, of St. Louis, who distributed the books gratuitously among the principal libraries of this country and Europe.

Mr. Samson was a member of the New York State Historical Association and of the Rochester Historical Society, and was president of the Rochester organization from 1894 to 1896. He was secretary and a trustee of the Reynolds Library and a charter member and officer of the Rochester Whist club.

Mr. Samson was married to Mary Elizabeth Bixby, of Adrian, Mich., December 25, 1882. He resigned his position on The Post Express and went to New York October 1, 1911, to become an officer of the Anderson company. He was also an officer of the Metropolitan Art Association.
The late William H. Samson left Rochester, the Post Express and the newspaper field a few years ago, to the infinite regret of both city and profession. For he was a citizen of unique value and an editorial writer of fearlessness, vigor, industry and enlightenment. There were few newspapers in America in his time in whose measure of ability and energy in journalism, and there are as few now.

Mr. Samson’s journalistic career was marked with a passion for exact and complete information and that had vital relation to making of American history. He was a close student of lives of American statesmen and leaders of the early constitutional period, and by patient and industrious research added greatly to the popular understanding of obscure but important influences in our early national life. One of his services of permanent value to historians and students was his publication of a collection of the European letters of Aaron Burr—that interesting character concerning whose balance of virtues and vices historical judgment is still in suspense. The publication was many times mastered. The facts and no labor was too exacting to make these facts accurate and illuminative of his subject. He attracted to himself warm friendships from some of the most gifted and foremost of the nation’s writers.

Mr. Samson’s passing removes from personal contact a friend valued as are few friends. There will be many tributes to Mr. Samson’s memory, for he worked in many fields of intellectual inquiry. He was not content to accept, even in the years of his active business life, that he “rose to and passed his zenith in service of the Post Express.” That service is one of the valued records of this paper, and the sense of personal loss is here deep, for it pain while his colleagues abide.

As an editorial writer, Mr. Samson labored in association with the late Joseph O’Connor, the most gifted and versatile of the State’s distinguished journalists. It would be difficult to overestimate the high esteem in which Mr. O’Connor was held. He was editor of many of the State’s leading newspapers, and the influence of a man who had a place in the minds of the people of the State. Mr. Samson’s editorial career was marked with a passion for exact and complete information, and that had vital relation to making of American history. He was a close student of lives of American statesmen and leaders of the early constitutional period, and by patient and industrious research added greatly to the popular understanding of obscure but important influences in our early national life.

Mr. Samson’s journalistic career was marked with a passion for exact and complete information and that had vital relation to making of American history. He was a close student of lives of American statesmen and leaders of the early constitutional period, and by patient and industrious research added greatly to the popular understanding of obscure but important influences in our early national life. One of his services of permanent value to historians and students was his publication of a collection of the European letters of Aaron Burr—that interesting character concerning whose balance of virtues and vices historical judgment is still in suspense. The publication was many times mastered. The facts and no labor was too exacting to make these facts accurate and illuminative of his subject. He attracted to himself warm friendships from some of the most gifted and foremost of the nation’s writers.

Mr. Samson’s passing removes from personal contact a friend valued as are few friends. There will be many tributes to Mr. Samson’s memory, for he worked in many fields of intellectual inquiry. He was not content to accept, even in the years of his active business life, that he “rose to and passed his zenith in service of the Post Express.” That service is one of the valued records of this paper, and the sense of personal loss is here deep, for it pain while his colleagues abide.

As an editorial writer, Mr. Samson labored in association with the late Joseph O’Connor, the most gifted and versatile of the State’s distinguished journalists. It would be difficult to overestimate the high esteem in which Mr. O’Connor was held. He was editor of many of the State’s leading newspapers, and the influence of a man who had a place in the minds of the people of the State.

Mr. Samson’s passing removes from personal contact a friend valued as are few friends. There will be many tributes to Mr. Samson’s memory, for he worked in many fields of intellectual inquiry. He was not content to accept, even in the years of his active business life, that he “rose to and passed his zenith in service of the Post Express.” That service is one of the valued records of this paper, and the sense of personal loss is here deep, for it pain while his colleagues abide.

As an editorial writer, Mr. Samson labored in association with the late Joseph O’Connor, the most gifted and versatile of the State’s distinguished journalists. It would be difficult to overestimate the high esteem in which Mr. O’Connor was held. He was editor of many of the State’s leading newspapers, and the influence of a man who had a place in the minds of the people of the State.

Mr. Samson’s passing removes from personal contact a friend valued as are few friends. There will be many tributes to Mr. Samson’s memory, for he worked in many fields of intellectual inquiry. He was not content to accept, even in the years of his active business life, that he “rose to and passed his zenith in service of the Post Express.” That service is one of the valued records of this paper, and the sense of personal loss is here deep, for it pain while his colleagues abide.

As an editorial writer, Mr. Samson labored in association with the late Joseph O’Connor, the most gifted and versatile of the State’s distinguished journalists. It would be difficult to overestimate the high esteem in which Mr. O’Connor was held. He was editor of many of the State’s leading newspapers, and the influence of a man who had a place in the minds of the people of the State.

Mr. Samson’s passing removes from personal contact a friend valued as are few friends. There will be many tributes to Mr. Samson’s memory, for he worked in many fields of intellectual inquiry. He was not content to accept, even in the years of his active business life, that he “rose to and passed his zenith in service of the Post Express.” That service is one of the valued records of this paper, and the sense of personal loss is here deep, for it pain while his colleagues abide.

As an editorial writer, Mr. Samson labored in association with the late Joseph O’Connor, the most gifted and versatile of the State’s distinguished journalists. It would be difficult to overestimate the high esteem in which Mr. O’Connor was held. He was editor of many of the State’s leading newspapers, and the influence of a man who had a place in the minds of the people of the State.

Mr. Samson’s passing removes from personal contact a friend valued as are few friends. There will be many tributes to Mr. Samson’s memory, for he worked in many fields of intellectual inquiry. He was not content to accept, even in the years of his active business life, that he “rose to and passed his zenith in service of the Post Express.” That service is one of the valued records of this paper, and the sense of personal loss is here deep, for it pain while his colleagues abide.

As an editorial writer, Mr. Samson labored in association with the late Joseph O’Connor, the most gifted and versatile of the State’s distinguished journalists. It would be difficult to overestimate the high esteem in which Mr. O’Connor was held. He was editor of many of the State’s leading newspapers, and the influence of a man who had a place in the minds of the people of the State.
FOR MER EDITOR
DIES IN LONDON
Post July 25, 1887

MANTON MARBLE WAS ALUMNUS OF UNIVERSITY HERE.

A GREAT MAN OF JOURNALISM

Deceased Left Rochester for Boston—Later Part Owner New York
"World"—Connected with Other Newspapers.

One of a class of seventeen and winner of the first senior essay prize. Manton Marble, whose death was announced from London yesterday, was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1855, two years after the great educator, Martin Dewey, Anderson, became president of the struggling college. Among the other members of this class were Col. A. Ellis, for long superintendent of the schools of the city, and Jra. L. Otto, prominent business man of this city, both dead.

Manton was one of the great men of the era of "The Times" and wielded a strong influence in the country's affairs during the two Cleveland administrations. For the last thirty years or more had been resident at his home in Bedford, Westchester county, this state. He was born in Rochester, June 21, 1830, and prepared for college by his father and in Albany Academy.

On leaving the University of Rochester with honors Mr. Marble at once plunged into his life work of journalism as assistant editor of the Boston "Journal." From that he rapidly rose, in turn, editor of the Boston "Traveler," staff writer on the New York "Lion Post" and paper editor and later in-chief of the New York "World." Obtained Control of "World."

The "World" was started in 1866 and the next year absorbed the "Times and Inquirer." In 1868 Mr. Marble and associates, including August Belmont and Samuel M. Rice, obtained control of it. In 1884 Mr. Marble became the sole proprietor. Under his management the paper took high rank and defended with scholarly vigor the policy of the democratic party. In 1877, after fifteen years, Mr. Marble disposed of the property and retired from journalism. Though some of the ablest men in the country were employed by the newspaper in its prosperous days, in patronage and influence until 1883, when Joseph Pulitzer purchased it and introduced a new system of newspaper publication. Mr. Marble wrote the democratic state platform of 1874, the democratic national platform of 1876, and most of the republican national platform of 1884. In 1885 President Cleveland sent him as a special financial envoy to France, Belgium, Italy, and Switzerland. France and Germany, where he conferred with Gladstone, Bismarck, Bunsen, Lord Disraeli, Mme. Freytag, and Carrot and Chernobuzz, an authority on international bismarckism. It has been claimed that many of the great men of later days have been acquainted with Mr. Marble, with the latter as secretary of the treasury and he was seriously considered as Mr. Manning's successor.

In the public schools of Rochester he graduated and for many years before his death, in 1892, conducted a book store in Reynolds Arcade.

DEATH OF DELLON DEWEY
Post July 25, 1887

MAN WELL KNOWN IN NATION PASSES AWAY HERE.

KEENLY INTERESTED IN MUSIC

Former Rochester Resident Managed Bostonians for Years—Companion of Late Tom Karl.

Dellon D. Dewey, for many years manager of the Bostonians and friend of most of the great actors and singers of the last third of a century, died last night at 10 o'clock, at the home of a sister, Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, in the public schools of Rochester. After graduating he went abroad, where he studied in Heidelberg, Germany, and other institutions. Returning to this country he studied in Stevens college, Annandale, Pa.

Interested in Music.

Always interested in music, Mr. Dewey became acquainted with Tom Karl when a young man and a friendship was formed that terminated only with the death of Mr. Karl. When Mr. Dewey first entered into business with Mr. Karl he was confined to the old Boston idea. Will McDonald and H. C. Barnabee were also with the company, and later with Karl took up the idea and formed the Bostonians. It was then that Mr. Dewey was called in as manager of the opera company. His success in this capacity made itself evident immediately, and the Bostonians soon became the leading company of its kind in the country.

After the company disbanded Mr. Dewey interested himself in many other theatrical and business enterprises. Three or four years ago, with Mr. Dewey and Mr. Karl he took up the idea and formed the Bostonians again. It was here a year ago that Mr. Karl died, still retaining the high esteem of his friends and pupils that he had held for so many years.

Returned to Friends for End.

Mr. Dewey left Rochester soon after the death of Mr. Karl and entered the business again in New York. The death of Mr. Karl, however, proved too great a strain and soon Mr. Dewey was compelled to give up. He made brief visits here and there with old friends. A few weeks ago he realized that the End was near and returned to Rochester to be among relatives and friends when the end came.

FUNERAL OF
DELLON M. DEWEY

Former Manager of Bostonians and Rochester Man Widely Known Buried Here To-Day.

Surrounded by friends and associates of many years, including several who had come from other cities, the funeral of Dellon M. Dewey, former manager of the Bostonians and a man widely known in theatrical circles, who died Friday night, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.

Rev. Davis Lincoln Ferris, rector, was in charge, and the body was brought in to the door from the Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Mel-A- tion, at 416 Lake avenue, was held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Christ Episcopal church, East avenue.
Charles M. Everest Dies

While on Summer Cruise on Atlantic Coast.

Following an unexpected attack of cerebro-spinal meningitis, Charles M. Everest, president of the Vacuum Oil Company, of 26 West Avenue, died hastily on his yacht in Chesapeake Bay and along the Atlantic coast.

Sunday night at the General Hospital, at Bridgeport, Conn., Mr. Everest, with his wife and friends, had been spending the Summer on his yacht in Chesapeake Bay and along the Atlantic coast.

Dr. Edward W. Mulligan, of East Avenue, who a short time ago returned from abroad, after a recent absence, on his yacht, a day after his arrival here, from Mr. Everest, emphasized the latter's good health. He was in the hospital on Sunday evening, when Dr. Mulligan was startled, when he received a dispatch from Mr. Everest, stating that Mr. Everest was seriously ill, and had been removed to the hospital. Later he received a second dispatch telling him not to make the trip, and then came the message of his death.

Mr. Everest practically grew up in the employ of the Vacuum Oil Company. His father, Hiram Jones Everest, was the organizer of the company, and Mr. Everest, started to work for his father as a clerk, and then held almost every grade of position until he reached the highest office.

Mr. Everest was born at Portage, Wis., on October 25, 1852. His father, Hiram Jones Everest, was the organizer of the company, and Mr. Everest, started to work for his father as a clerk, and then held almost every grade of position until he reached the highest office.

Mr. Everest was born at Portage, Wis., on October 25, 1852. His father, Hiram Jones Everest, was the organizer of the company, and Mr. Everest, started to work for his father as a clerk, and then held almost every grade of position until he reached the highest office.

Mr. Everest was born at Portage, Wis., on October 25, 1852. His father, Hiram Jones Everest, was the organizer of the company, and Mr. Everest, started to work for his father as a clerk, and then held almost every grade of position until he reached the highest office.

Mr. Everest was born at Portage, Wis., on October 25, 1852. His father, Hiram Jones Everest, was the organizer of the company, and Mr. Everest, started to work for his father as a clerk, and then held almost every grade of position until he reached the highest office.
DEATH OF CHARLES G. FORCE, WELL-KNOWN ROCHESTERIAN, RESULTS FROM INJURIES RECEIVED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

As the result of injuries received on Sunday night, when he was struck by an automobile near Denison Avenue and St. Paul Street, Monroe County, Charles G. Force of 250 Dartmouth Street, president of the Casa de Llegie, died Saturday at 2 o'clock. His body is to be moved to New York for burial. The funeral will take place today at 2 o'clock from the home at 250 Dartmouth Street.

His birth date was November 23, 1865, and the remains will be removed to this city to-day. The funeral will take place Monday night at 3:30 o'clock from the home at 250 Dartmouth Street.

Charles G. Force

DEATH CALLS CITY'S PURCHASING AGENT WITHOUT WARNING

Apparantly in his usual health after a Sunday outing in the Falls City Park, Charles F. Fitter, 24-year-old purchasing agent for the Rochester City Hospital, was struck by an automobile Saturday night at 2:30 o'clock. He had eaten a hearty supper and, after shopping with members of his family for a short time, went to his bedroom to retire for the night. While making ready for bed, he was fatally struck. The physician was summoned, but before medical aid arrived Mr. Fitter was pronounced dead. Death was due to heart trouble.

Charles F. Fitter was born in Rochester on December 9, 1883, the son of the late Joseph and Mary Fitter. He was educated in Rochester schools. Sixteen years ago he entered the employ of the Rochester Printing Company, where he was employed as a typesetter and had acquired a reputation for his work. He was also secretary of the board of the Rochester Printing Company.

He leaves two wives, Mrs. Josephine Westerfield, 41, and Miss Ellen Fitter, 21, of the Rochester Printing Company, and a brother, John Fitter, of Rochester.

He was a member of the Rochester Yacht Club.

UNIFORM SERVICES

For Dr. Charles R. Pullen

Held This Afternoon.

The funeral of Dr. Charles R. Pullen, manager of Taft Dental Parlors, 187 Main Street East, who died Saturday at his home, 924 Ridgewood Avenue, was held the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from his home. Services were of Masonic order, conducted by members of the lodge, and the casket was accompanied by the Knights Templar, assisted by Rev. Robert J. Drysdale, pastor of the church, in the funeral. The remains were laid to rest in Mountain Grove Cemetery.

Dr. Pullen was born in Pembroke, England, June 4, 1877. He was educated in the dental department of the Philadelphia Medical College, and for a number of years practiced in Denver, Colorado. From there he came to Mexico City in 1909, where he was in charge of the Taft offices.

In Mexico Dr. Pullen became prominent in social and business activities, being the first commander of a commandery of Knights Templar in the republic. He also became the protector of the American Shrine Temple in Mexico City. Dr. Pullen had reached the 30th degree in the Scottish Rite, and was about to receive the 33rd degree when he died. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the city.

HIS DEATH REMOVES ANOTHER HEIR OF GIDEON HOWLAND FROM ROCHESTER

Before Estate Is Distributed

The death of Mrs. Alice J. Barons, widow of William B. Barons of 97 Locust Street, one month after the death of Mrs. Mary M. Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, of 313 Locust Street, removes from Rochester, leaving but one of the direct line still living here. The estate is still to be distributed, so that the sole remaining Rochester heir will not only own his own share, but the share which would have gone to Mrs. Barons had she lived. The last Howland heir in Rochester is Hannah A. Loosli, niece of Mrs. Barons, who left no children.

Mrs. Barons, formerly Alice J. Barons, was born in Rochester on June 27, 1845, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, of 97 Locust Street, who in turn was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, of 313 Locust Street. Mrs. Barons was married to Mr. J. H. Wood, and had one child, Mr. Charles H. Wood, niece of Mrs. Barons, who left no descendants.

Mr. Barons died in 1875, and the estate was left to Mrs. Barons, who died in 1877. The estate is still to be divided among the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, and it is estimated that there are fully 4,000 descendants of Gideon Howland, who settled in 1705, and who have never been distributed. The estate is estimated to be worth the enormous sum of $50,000,000. In the course of years the Howland family became scattered over a wide territory, and it is estimated that the present is estimated to be worth the enormous sum of $50,000,000.
DEATH OF
H. KLEINDIENST
7-13-1917

WAS ONE OF MOST WIDELY KNOWN MEN IN WESTERN NEW YORK—SKETCH OF LIFE.

H. Kleindienst, 50, for thirty years a Monroe County constable, and one of the most widely known and popular men in Western New York, died suddenly this afternoon at 1 o'clock at his summer home, Stop 17, Grand View Beach. His term of service as coroner was the longest on record in New York State.

Mr. Kleindienst suffered a stroke of paralysis, according to reliable sources, and was about to enter his office at the morgue. He was attended by Dr. Irving E. Harris, of 490 Lake Avenue, and for a long time he began to improve. However, since that time he has been confined to his bed considerably, partly because of a severe attack of rheumatism.

Of late it was apparent that Coroner Kleindienst was gradually growing weaker and in the hope of finding better health, he was taken to his summer home in Genesee county, where he came to Rochester Sunday night to transact business and was preparing to return this afternoon when news reached the family of his death. This morning she received word that he was feeling well and it is believed that it was some exertion that caused his sudden death. His strength was undermined recently by the departure of his wife, Ethel G. Kleindienst, with Troop H.

Born in Rochester.

Coroner Kleindienst was born in Rochester, June 24, 1867, in the old Eleventh ward, now the Fifteenth, he was the son of Charles Kleindienst, a veteran of the Civil War and of Jacob K. and Margaret C. Kleindienst. He received his education in the Rochester schools, including school 17; the old German school, formerly in Allen street, and the Free academy, from which he graduated 31 years ago. After leaving school he was appointed assistant weighmaster on the Erie canal and two years later was appointed inspector of customs at the port of Charlotte. This office he filled with credit until 1883, when he was elected school commissioner of the Eleventh ward.

On January 1, 1886, Coroner Kleindienst was elected coroner of Monroe County, and is one of the two coroners of this county. Although the office is elective the coroner's support at the polls was always large and his popularity was never more than 13,000. His popularity since becoming coroner had been absolutely uniform, and the fact the Republican party had so often granted him the nomination.

Performing Duties Conscientiously.

Although to many the office of coroner, with its many unpleasantnesses and grim surroundings would hardly be desired, Coroner Kleindienst has been able to discharge its duties conscientiously and with seeming little concern for his gruesome character.

The coroner had been called to investigate several thousand deaths, including sensational suicides of most complex natures, murder, and deaths that attracted widespread interest, and in only a few instances had failed to fix the responsibility.

Three sensational cases handled by Coroner Kleindienst in which the coroner was personally interested were those of Anna, Schmucker, whose body was found near the river bank at the rear of Holy Sepulchre cemetery, and where he located the jeweler who was murdered in his office at State and Corinthian streets; the woman whose body was found in a room on the Porter murder in Gates. Other important murder cases included the famous Keating murder, in which the murderer confessed, the Ethel Phinney, McPherson, and Cora B. Hart, Smith and Ada Stone murders. Edward Alonzo Deacons, who murdered Mrs. Stone, was the last man to be executed in the Monroe county jail. He was hanged by Sheriff Hodgson, 1888.

Coroner Kleindienst also investigated the deaths of persons in the two biggest fires in this city, the disastrous East End fire of November, 1884, when thirty-five lives were lost, and the orphan asylum fire, where thirty-three persons met their death.

Cheerful and Benevolent.

Despite his depressing work the coroner was one of the most cheerful of persons and in a quiet way his benevolence was manifest. A needly person would come to the morgue and the coroner would cheer him up and, many having been men of affairs, they were always kindness and found dire distress. His word was as good as gold and his fair doing was manifested by the fact that he came in contact with made him one of the most trusted men of the county.

The Orchard street home of Coroner Kleindienst was the house into which his parents moved when he was 3 years old. He has lived there always been known as one of the most strong, determined persons in the county. Although he was always a Republican the fact that he had never been defeated at the polls.

Coroner Kleindienst was a member of Koenner lodge, 285, L. O. O. M.; De Soto Commandery, L. O. L. O. L.; Minneopa tribe, No. 273, L. O. M., and Minneopa lodge, 273, L. O. M. He was married to Miss Coral Mare, daughter of Frederick Meyer, of this city, and has three sons, Edward J., Carl G. and Alfred W. Kleindienst. Those who knew him well were Mrs. C. J. Van Averkirk, Estelle F. and E. A. Broussard, and Mrs. Katherine Doyle and Mrs. Frank Parker, all of this city, and a brother, C. Jel., of Buffalo, also several nephews and nieces.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

C. W. CHARLES S. BROWN

Funeral of Cincinnati Pastor Held
This Afternoon in Cincinnati.

The funeral of Rev. Charles Sumner Brown, pastor of the Walnut Hills Baptist church, Cincinnati, O., who was shot and killed yesterday morning in a fall from a tree on his farm at Wolcott. Mr. Avery was 70 years old and had lived in this city until a few months ago, when he retired from the fur business, in which he had been engaged since early manhood.

C. W. CHARLES S. BROWN

Funeral of Cincinnati Pastor Held
This Afternoon in Cincinnati.

The funeral of Rev. Charles Sumner Brown, pastor of the Walnut Hills Baptist church, Cincinnati, O., who was shot and killed yesterday morning in a fall from a tree on his farm at Wolcott. Mr. Avery was 70 years old and had lived in this city until a few months ago, when he retired from the fur business, in which he had been engaged since early manhood.

C. W. CHARLES S. BROWN

Funeral of Cincinnati Pastor Held
This Afternoon in Cincinnati.

The funeral of Rev. Charles Sumner Brown, pastor of the Walnut Hills Baptist church, Cincinnati, O., who was shot and killed yesterday morning in a fall from a tree on his farm at Wolcott. Mr. Avery was 70 years old and had lived in this city until a few months ago, when he retired from the fur business, in which he had been engaged since early manhood.

C. W. CHARLES S. BROWN

Funeral of Cincinnati Pastor Held
This Afternoon in Cincinnati.

The funeral of Rev. Charles Sumner Brown, pastor of the Walnut Hills Baptist church, Cincinnati, O., who was shot and killed yesterday morning in a fall from a tree on his farm at Wolcott. Mr. Avery was 70 years old and had lived in this city until a few months ago, when he retired from the fur business, in which he had been engaged since early manhood.
DEATH OF DR. W. A. KEEGAN
Post Aug 18, 1917

PHYSICIAN PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME.

SUFFERED FROM HEART ATTACKS

Responded to Treatment Twice, but Succeeded Later—Sketch of Prominent Doctor's Career.

Dr. William A. Keegan, one of the most prominent physicians and surgeons of this city, and a man whose devotion to his profession had made him beloved among all classes, died suddenly of an attack of angina pec-

Dr. W. A. Keegan

Dr. Keegan was born in London, England, September 18, 1861, a son of Edwin and Eliza Stuart Keegan. His father was a native of London and his mother of Glasgow, Scotland. With his parents, he came to Canada to live when 3 years old. He received his early education in the grammar schools and attended Millburn grammar school and Peterboro ob-

BEGINS PRACTICE IN ROCHESTER

After finishing a course of study at Pickering college, Ontario, he entered the United Chicago Homeopathic medical college where he spent considerable time in special studies in medicine.

Returning to this country he began practice the day after his graduation and continued constantly until his death. Dr. Keegan is one of the most prominent physicians and surgeons of this city and a man whose devotion to his profession had made him beloved among all classes, died suddenly of an attack of angina pec-

Visiting Surgeon at Homeopathic.

The Rochester Homeopathic hospital always claimed a large amount of his time and constant presence was a great asset in the hospital.

Member of Many Organizations.

He was a member of the Century Club, Rochester Athletic club, Rochester Country club; the Automobile Club of America; the Chamber of Commerce, and the Lotus club, all of New York. For many years he was a member of the First Methodist church, and was a consistent and loyal worker in the Homeopathic field.

Dr. Keegan was married. He leaves three brothers and four sisters, all living in Canada. Word of Dr. Keegan's death will be a sad day for the Rochester Homeopathic Hospital, and to a large part in many medical societies and associations.

MORTUARY RECORD

Sylvester L. Dowsen

Sylvester L. Dowsen, a long resident of Rochester and its immediate vicinity, died suddenly of a heart attack, at his home, 631 East Avenue.

His education was obtained in Peterboro's best schools, where he attended Peterboro grammar school and Peterboro ob-

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County Historic Scrapbooks Collection
DEATH OF
THOS. W. FORD
Post, Aug. 11, 1917
FORMER SHERIFF PASSES AWAY
AT HIS HOME HERE.

THOMAS W. FORD, 69, a former sheriff of Monroe County and a man prominently known in the business, political and Grand Army life of Rochester, died last night at his home, 24 Buckingham street, after a brief illness. He leaves his wife, Elizabeth Khansa Ford, a son, Rich-and T. Ford; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Haufer and Mrs. Frederick Mitscher, of College Point, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Ford was born in New York
city, December 25, 1847, of Scotch-
Irish parentage. He received his education in the public schools. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was only 14 years old, but his patriotic zeal
compelled him to enlist in the Union army as a drummer boy, one of the youngest members of the fighting
forces of the North.

The regiment in which he enlisted joined the Arm of the Potomac
and engaged in the Chancellorsville
and Gettysburg campaigns. He was transferred from the 145th regiment to the 107th regiment soon after the campaign in Tennessee. At the battle of Gettysburg, the young soldier saw some terrible fighting and received several slight wounds, his regiment
being under heavy fire for several hours.

THOMAS W. FORD.

DEATH OF
THOS. W. FORD
Post, Aug. 11, 1917
FORMER SHERIFF PASSES AWAY
AT HIS HOME HERE.

THOMAS W. FORD, 69, a former sheriff of Monroe County and a man prominently known in the business, political and Grand Army life of Rochester, died last night at his home, 24 Buckingham street, after a brief illness. He leaves his wife, Elizabeth Khansa Ford, a son, Rich-and T. Ford; two daughters, Mrs. Herman Haufer and Mrs. Frederick Mitscher, of College Point, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Ford was born in New York
city, December 25, 1847, of Scotch-
Irish parentage. He received his education in the public schools. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was only 14 years old, but his patriotic zeal
compelled him to enlist in the Union
army as a drummer boy, one of the
youngest members of the fighting
forces of the North.

The regiment in which he enlisted joined the Arm of the Potomac
and engaged in the Chancellorsville
and Gettysburg campaigns. He was transferred from the 145th regiment to the 107th regiment soon after the campaign
in Tennessee. At the battle of Gettysburg, the young soldier saw some terrible fighting and received several slight wounds, his regiment
being under heavy fire for several hours.

was veteran of Civil War.

Enlisted in Union Army as Drummer
Boy—Contractor In City for
Many Years.

THOMAS W. FORD, 69, a former sheriff of Monroe County and a man
prominently known in the business,
political and Grand Army life of
Rochester, died last night at his home, 24 Buckingham street, after a brief illness. He leaves his wife,

Elizabeth Khansa Ford, a son, Rich-
and T. Ford; two daughters, Mrs.
Herman Haufer and Mrs. Frederick
Mitscher, of College Point, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Ford was born in New York
city, December 25, 1847, of Scotch-
Irish parentage. He received his education in the public schools. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was only 14 years old, but his patriotic zeal
compelled him to enlist in the Union
army as a drummer boy, one of the
youngest members of the fighting
forces of the North.

The regiment in which he enlisted joined the Arm of the Potomac
and engaged in the Chancellorsville
and Gettysburg campaigns. He was transferred from the 145th regiment to the 107th regiment soon after the campaign
in Tennessee. At the battle of Gettysburg, the young soldier saw some terrible fighting and received several slight wounds, his regiment
being under heavy fire for several hours.

RESIDENT OF THE HOME
Here.

WAS VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR.

Enlisted in Union Army as Drummer
Boy—Contractor In City for

Many Years.

THOMAS W. FORD, 69, a former sheriff
of Monroe County and a man
prominently known in the business,
political and Grand Army life of Rochester, died last night at his home, 24 Buckingham street, after a brief illness. He leaves his wife,

Elizabeth Khansa Ford, a son, Rich-
and T. Ford; two daughters, Mrs.
Herman Haufer and Mrs. Frederick
Mitscher, of College Point, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Ford was born in New York
city, December 25, 1847, of Scotch-
Irish parentage. He received his education in the public schools. At the outbreak of the Civil war he was only 14 years old, but his patriotic zeal
compelled him to enlist in the Union
army as a drummer boy, one of the
youngest members of the fighting
forces of the North.

The regiment in which he enlisted joined the Arm of the Potomac
and engaged in the Chancellorsville
and Gettysburg campaigns. He was transferred from the 145th regiment to the 107th regiment soon after the campaign
in Tennessee. At the battle of Gettysburg, the young soldier saw some terrible fighting and received several slight wounds, his regiment
being under heavy fire for several hours.
DEATH OF REV.
H. H. STEBBINS
Post Jan. 20, 1917
FORMER PASTOR OF CENTRAL CHURCH PASSES AWAY.

MINISTER NEARLY FIFTY YEARS

Clergyman Was Ordained October 8, 1867—Came to Rochester in 1888—Sketch of Life.

Rev. Henry Hamlin Stebbins, for sixteen years a pastor of Central Presbyterian church and for more than a quarter of a century one of the most widely known ministers in Western New York, died yesterday at his home, 24 Prince street, after an illness of several months. He was 72 years of age.

Dr. Stebbins was seized with a severe attack of grip early in February. His condition for a time seemed alarming and then a gradual improvement began which seemed to indicate his recovery. Recently he suffered a paralytic stroke which terminated in an attack of pneumonia.

Dr. Stebbins was born in New York city, June 8, 1845, a son of Philander Wright Stebbins and Martha Stebbins, the second of seven children. His early schooling was obtained under private instructors, and at the age of 15 years he was placed in Benny Dwight's famous day school in Brooklyn, where he studied three years.

He was graduated as Commercial Man.

Intending at first to go into commercial pursuits, Dr. Stebbins entered the employ of a large wholesale firm in New York.

In 1865 he entered Phillips academy, at Andover, Mass. He attended New York university from 1865 to 1868, and in 1868 he attended Union theological seminary and was graduated from both Presbyterian and Union seminaries in 1867. From 1862 to 1865 he was in a family of ten children at Irvington, N. J. and in 1865 he entered West Point in the service of the Christian commission.

Dr. Stebbins was saved with a se-} with characteristic vigor and activity. He became a diligent student, and after a few years was ordained as a minister of the Presbyterian Church. He was successful as a preacher and pastor from the start, and the few pastorate in which he labored were marked by a large share of success and usefulness in his chosen field of endeavor. He succeeded in strengthening the churches in which he ministered, and added many communicants to their rolls.

This is the history of the career of Dr. Stebbins, a brief outline, but those who knew him intimately, or who came under his helpful ministry and spiritual guidance, understand that it does not tell adequately of the wonderful work he did in helping man and women to a better understanding of spiritual truths. Dr. Stebbins was a strong preacher, and his messages from the pulpit were crisp, clear-cut and persuasive. But he himself loved to believe that his deepest and most abiding achievements were as a counsellor and as a wise a clergyman ... of a century, so wise a counsellor and our sympathy with those whose hearts are especially saddened by his death.

The services were simple in character, and consisted of the Lord's Prayer by Rev. Dr. William H. Taylor, pastor of Erick Presbyterian church, and Occipituary by Rev. Dr. William W. Waldo Cherry, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, "To Deum," by a chorus of Miss Laura Everett, Mrs. Charles Hooker, Robert Monohan and Yale Whitney; prayer by Dr. Taylor.

Dr. Taylor, who was a prominent member of the board, who he was the last of the three men who knew Dr. Stebbins well, and whose friendship with him goes back to the time when Dr. Stebbins was a boy, made the address of farewell. He spoke of Dr. Stebbins as a wise and a perspicacious counsellor, a man of great vision, the leader of the church, a man of great determination who could always be trusted with the most important matters of the church.

The last pastorate which Dr. Stebbins held was that of the Central Presbyterian Church of this city, and with that great organization behind him, he became a potent influence for good in the city. He was a natural executive and made the work of his elders and trustees most effective. When he gave up his pastorate and laid aside the exacting burdens of so great a labor, he had, in every part of the city, devoted friends and admirers who understood how big an influence he had been in their lives.

During the latter years of his life Dr. Stebbins devoted a large share of his time and energies to sociological problems, and took a keen interest in the progress of the work of the church he made his home. Every good cause found in him a champion, and he was proud of the broad development which has gone on in Rochester during the last few years. As a member of the old Park Board, he gave of his time and ability to make the park a greater and more beautiful benefit to all our citizens. He was devoted to the playgrounds, the newly established public library and art gallery, the schools and university.

It was the high privilege of Dr. Stebbins to save many from discouragement, to have brought many a sunny hour to the invalid, to have saved some lives from despair. Because of him many were kinder to their friends, more generous to their enemies. And his work in his own congregation, in the community, and in the immediate circle of his closest friends, will live on for many years to come.

Simple Ceremonies for Prominent Clergyman Held at Third Church.

Funeral services for Rev. Henry Hamlin Stebbins, D. D., distinguished Rochester clergyman and former pastor of Central Presbyterian church, who died Sunday afternoon, were held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Third Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Stebbins was saved with a se-
Special to the Union and Advertiser.

AVON, N. Y., Aug. 18—When a Ford roadster driven by Miss Mar- garet Smith, 18 years old, of Rochester, ran into Avon cemetery on the Lake Road this morning at 10:30, a wreck occurred in which her mother, Mrs. F. A. Smith, probation officer of the Children's Aid in Rochester, was instantly killed. They had been at their cottage on the Lake and were returning home when the accident happened. Miss Smith says they were driving rather faster than usual, in order to get her mother home for an engagement. This road for some distance, is a highly dangerous one. The car, going across the road, turned it completely around and wrecked it.

Mrs. Smith was thrown out on her head, but Miss Smith kept the machine. Alighting, she called her mother and covered with blood, started for the nearest house for assistance. Several doctors responded and found Mrs. Smith had been instantaneously crushed to a fractured skull.

The young lady, who is studying in a kindergarten school at Boston, was badly cut and bruised.

Mrs. Smith is the wife of F. A. Smith, of the F. A. Smith Manufacturing Co. of Rochester, who is on a business trip to Philadelphia. She is survived by her husband and two daughters. The body of Mrs. Smith was removed to the Stephenson unheated, as the rooms were some time before entering the county hospital. She resided at Spring street and Caledonia avenue.

Sad Ending of Useful Life.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The sudden death of Miss M. S. Smith, a sister of the children's court, who was killed in an automobile accident last Saturday, is not only a loss to the community, but to her family and friends, but a distinct loss to the community. Even before her official appointment, she rendered a highly valued service as a volunteer in behalf of many girls who were coming under the charge of the children's court. Such girls had no place to which they could go without the feeling of criminality. She took them to their own home, where they found shelter and companionship of Miss Smith and her family.

Many a girl who had strayed into immoral and abandoned lives, was saved and returned to a life of usefulness, and the girls who were saved form a circle of friends which the community can never be fully estimated.

In all of this work she was appreciated by her husband and daughters, who now find themselves without the work she has done.

Mrs. Smith was a lifelong member of the First Church of Christ Church of this city, as were her parents. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Smith were also members of the church.

Mrs. Smith was born at Rochester on May 12, 1887. In 1914 she was elected to the board of deaconesses, a position which she held for 15 years, taking a prominent place in the local church and in the church in general. She was a member of the girls' department of the church.

She was also a member of the girls' department of the Sunday school, the early and formative years of which she took an active interest in the work she did.

Mrs. Smith was of the type of woman whom we can ill afford to lose today, for she was the type of woman whose life was a shining example of how it can be lived in the community. She was a woman of strong character, yet always warm hearted and kind. She was a thinking woman, yet always a practical woman, and it was always safe with her. In her home she was the type of woman who made her home a home of human sympathy that made her a loved wife and mother. Her husband and their children comforted by all her friends, but especially of those who were near and dear to her, and in all with whom she came in contact.

HUBERT WRIGHT GATES.

EDWARD WHEELER, JR.

Edgar Wheeler, Jr., died yesterday at his home at 160 Augustine street, aged 37 years. He had been ill for a year or more, but had not been in a serious condition until six weeks or so ago. He was married to Mrs. Margaret Ann Wheeler, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheeler, Sr., and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Mather. The funeral will be held at the home at 2 o'clock to-mor- row afternoon.

Mr. Wheeler was buried in Riverside Cemetery.

Fire Marshal Wheeler Dies at His Home After Illness of Year; Made Excellent Record in Public Office

Fire Marshal Edward Wheeler, Jr., was killed yesterday at his home at 160 Augustine Street, aged 37 years. He had been ill for a year or more, but had not been in a serious condition until six weeks or so ago. He was married to Mrs. Margaret Ann Wheeler, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheeler, Sr., and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Mather. The funeral will be held at the home at 2 o'clock to-mor- row afternoon.

Edgar Wheeler, Jr., was born in Rochester on May 1, 1889, and was educated in No. 15 School and the old Charter Press Academy, now the Municipal Building in South Fitzhugh Street. After leaving school he studied in the offices of Rochester architects and was employed for years as an engineering assistant in the office of Mr. and Mr. Mather, architects.

He was born in Rochester on May 1, 1889, and was educated in No. 15 School and the old Charter Press Academy, now the Municipal Building in South Fitzhugh Street. After leaving school he studied in the offices of Rochester architects and was employed for years as an engineering assistant in the office of Mr. and Mr. Mather, architects.

As a fire marshal, Mr. Wheeler was a hard and conscientious worker, and he left a record which it is impossible to measure. He made numerous recommendations regarding the building of public buildings, for greater safety from fire. A number of revisions in the city statutes were put in his name.

He also acted as mediator in adjudging cases involving the amount of compensation for labor and industry.

Mr. Wheeler was a man of high honor who was beloved in his recognition of his ability.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Ann Wheeler, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheeler, Sr., and a sister, Mrs. W. H. Mather. The funeral will be held at the home at 2 o'clock to-mor- row afternoon.

Revere Wheeler was a man of high honor who was beloved in his recognition of his ability.
DEATH OF DR. CHARLES FORBES

Last Dec. 1917
Was Well Known as Science Teacher and Inventor.

Had Notable Career.

Charles Forbes, M. D., 72 years, died yesterday in the Rochester General Hospital. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the home of his brother, Victor E. Forbes, 163 Post Avenue. Dr. Forbes had been ill for the past two or

DR. CHARLES FORBES.

Three years, but not until last Thursday was he consulted to take his bed at the hospital. An operation was to have been performed, but with the setting in of complications, Dr. Forbes became weaker and he died yesterday.

Dr. Forbes' latest contribution to science was the invention of a gauge bandage, drain and sponge roller, which he presented only a few weeks ago to the American Red Cross for use in war preparations. The roller is now universally used by the Red Cross in its work and has been patented and sold extensively through Dr. Forbes' gift. He was also the inventor of the individual communion cup. He became famous all over the United States through his designs of this cup. The cups were first used in Central Presbyterian Church Sunday, April 6, 1894, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Forbes. He came to this city at the age of 14 years, and received his education in the grammar and high schools, and later at the University of Rochester.

He became a member of the Pedagogical School in 1850, at the age of 17.

Upon his graduation from the university, he became principal of School 4 and later of School 13. From there he went to the College of Physicians and Surgeons, in New York city, where he was graduated with the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1871. In 1872 he became instructor of natural sciences at the Rochester Free Academy, now the Munsey Building. Dr. Forbes taught at the Free Academy for 28

DEATH OF MRS. S. C. BLACKALL

Social Worker Passes Away at her Home Here.

First Known as Abolitionist.

Was Associated with Many Distinguished Men—Founded Home for Boys—Funeral Changed.

In the death of Sarah Colman Blackall, Rochester loses a social worker of long service. The Boys' Evening Home loses one of its founders and a constant supporter and friend. The cause of woman suffrage loses an advocate and the Unitarian church one of its most honored members. She died yesterday at her home, 293 Mt. Vernon avenue.

Blackall was born in Boston, November 27, 1838, the daughter of Luther and Sarah Arey Colman. On January 1, 1855, she was married to William Blackall, who was born in Rochester in 1833. Mr. Blackall will be remembered by many as one of the first Rochester office alarm and telephone system and who advocated and installed the first telephone line of any considerable capacity in the state. She came to Rochester from Hemlock lake.

DEATH OF MRS. S. C. BLACKALL

Social Worker Passes Away at her Home Here.

First Known as Abolitionist.

Was Associated with Many Distinguished Men—Founded Home for Boys—Funeral Changed.

In the death of Sarah Colman Blackall, Rochester loses a social worker of long service. The Boys' Evening Home loses one of its founders and a constant supporter and friend. The cause of woman suffrage loses an advocate and the Unitarian church one of its most honored members. She died yesterday at her home, 293 Mt. Vernon avenue.

Blackall was born in Boston, November 27, 1838, the daughter of Luther and Sarah Arey Colman. On January 1, 1855, she was married to William Blackall, who was born in Rochester in 1833. Mr. Blackall will be remembered by many as one of the first Rochester office alarm and telephone system and who advocated and installed the first telephone line of any considerable capacity in the state. She came to Rochester from Hemlock lake.
DEATH OF
L. D. HEUSNER
Post Oct 28, 1879

Started with New York Central Railroad and Finally Became One of Heads of Michigan Central.

Louis D. Heusner, 66, assistant general passenger agent of the Michigan Central railroad and a native of this city, died at his home in that city last evening, according to a telegram received here by relatives.

Mr. Heusner, who was one of the most widely known and popular railroad men in the country, was born in Madison, Wis., and was graduated at the University of Michigan in 1832.

In 1852 he entered the service of the New York Central railroad, at the old station in Mill street, as day clerk, at the time J. C. Kellogg was employed in the office. In 1860 he was appointed general passenger agent at Chicago, and later accepted the position of city ticket and passenger agent of the Michigan Central railroad.

Four years ago he was elevated to the position of assistant general passenger agent, with office in Detroit. In his work in connection with the railroad and in civic matters in Detroit, he made himself prominently among the public light and many of his innovations in railroad were taken up on other roads.

Mr. Heusner leaves his wife, formerly Miss Louise Jameson, of Rochester; two sons and three daughters; two nephews, J. F. and A. F., and also a brother, George F. Heusner, of Fortland, Ore., and two cousins, Dr. Frederick W. Zinneman and George F. Roth, former collector of the port, both of this city.

MORTUARY RECORD
Rev. Dr. Isaac M. Alvord,

Rev. Dr. Isaac Morgan Alvord, a Universalist minister, educator and editor, formerly of Rochester, died on Friday evening at the home in Washington, D. C., aged 86 years. Dr. Alvord was well known in Rochester. He was active in various lines of work until four years ago, when he retired to his home in Washington. He was born in Pembroke, N. Y., and was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1851. The degree of doctor of divinity was given him by Tufts College, and doctor of laws by Rutgers College. He occupied a number of pastures in New York and New England, and in 1852 was president of Can- ton Theological School, a position which he held fifteen years. He was also professor in St. Lawrence University. He was a brilliant orator and an associate of the Universalist Leader. He also served as one of the American associate editors of the Encyclopedia Britannica. He was secretary for a number of years of the Universalist Convention, and was a member of the American Board of Foreign Missions. He was the son of Dr. John Murray Alvord, of the Albany Medical College.

Mrs. Alvord leaves her husband, Rev. Dr. John Murray Alvord, three children; three daughters; two brothers, Dr. Adelbert Alvord of Brooklyn and Rev. Dr. John Murray Alvord, of Canton, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Holbrook of Lockport. The funeral will take place at Canton, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.

FORMER ROCHESTER MAN DIES IN NEW YORK; BURIAL HERE
Isaac Kaiser, formerly of Rochester, died yesterday in New York City, aged 77 years. He was the son of Miss Emma Liberman Kaiser, a son, Norman Kaiser, and a daughter, Miss Eunice Kaiser, all of New York. The remains are being brought to Rochester and will be taken to his home in the town of Alexander, R. J., and then to his home in Mount Hope Cemetery. Mr. Kaiser was a former resident of this city.
Casper Fromm, who died yesterday in St. Mary's Hospital, aged 87 years, was a life-long resident of Rochester where he has been engaged in the meat business, both wholesale and retail, for many years. He was a veteran of the Civil War and served in Company B, 16th Regiment. For a long time he was a colonel of the Knights of St. John.

Mr. Fromm is survived by three sons, John, Ladora and George Fromm, and two daughters, Mrs. John Grapenstetter and Mrs. Jacob Kraus. The remains were taken to the house of his son, George Fromm, at 58 Horrocks Street, where the funeral will be held at 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning. There will be a service at Holy Family Church at 3 o'clock and burial will be in Holy Sepulcher. Knights of St. John of the order of St. Theodore will bear the remains. The Fromm market on Campbell Street will be closed on Wednesday morning.

J. HARRY BARKER.

Well-Known Y. M. C. A. Worker Dies of Pneumonia

John Harry Barker, aged 40 years, of 58 Linden Street, died early yesterday morning at Camp McAllister, Anniston, Ala., where he was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work. Death was due to pneumonia.

Mr. Barker was well known in church and Masonic circles. His wife heard of his illness on Thursday, and left immediately for his bedside, arriving just before he died. Horace W. Folts, of Geneseo, was Mr. Barker's brother. His other brothers, Adelbert and Donald T. Atwood, of Temple, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Holbrook, of Lockport, were present at Canton, N. Y., to-morrow afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock in the morning in the First Methodist Church, Rochester. Atwood is a member of the Dewey Class of First Methodist Church, and at the time of his death he was in the office of the church and in the church.

Besides his wife, Max Barker, he is survived by four children, all living in this city. The remains will be taken to the chapel of Ingrin & Thompson.

Funeral Services for John Barker

Rev. Horace G. Ogden came from Camp Dix to officiate at services for Y. M. C. A. Man.

Funeral services for John Harry Barker of 66 Linden street, who died at Camp McAllister, Anniston, Ala., on Tuesday afternoon of pneumonia, will be held at Camp McClellan at 11 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Barker was well known in Masonic and church life. Several weeks ago he was engaged to do Y. M. C. A. work at Camp McClellan. His winning personality made him many friends. General Secretary Graham, who has charge of all the Y. M. C. A. work at Camp McClellan, said that Mr. Barker was the most popular Y. M. C. A. secretary at the camp. He was one of the active laymen of First Methodist Church.

Rev. Horace G. Ogden came all the way from Camp Dix where he is engaged in Y. M. C. A. activities, to preside at the funeral service and conduct the church services. Rev. Mr. Ogden was assisted by Rev. Charles E. Hamilton, former Y. M. C. A. secretary at the camp. He was one of the active laymen of First Methodist Church, now president of the Central Scrapbooks Collection.
EARL SLOCUM DIES SUDDENLY Issues 207 & 0 - 17
Chief Clerk of Supreme Court for Twenty Years Away at His Home.

Earl H. Slocum, chief clerk of the Supreme Court, died suddenly at his home, 40 East Avenue, at 11 o'clock this morning. He was born July 23, 1850, at Scottsville, the son of George H. and Lydia Fort Slocum.

It is a distinct shock to everyone of the thousands of friends of the genial clerk to hear of his demise, for he was at the Court House yesterday, apparently in excellent health and had not complained of any ailment. He left the Court immediately at the usual time, about 5 o'clock, and went directly to his home.

Early this morning he arose to do some little work, as has been his custom, and he complained of feeling a severe pain in the region of his heart. He sat down for a minute in a chair and then asked his wife to call him. Before she could do anything he died.

EARL H. SLOCUM.

Perhaps there is no man in usual and of lesser known to the citizens of Monroe County than Earl H. Slocum, for he numbered friends by the score in every walk and trade. For many years he has been clerk of the Supreme Court and the Justices have all held him in the highest esteem. Numerous clerks, from 31, George W. Aldridge down the line to the committeemen in the wards, honored and respected him.

Years ago Mr. Slocum was a resident of Scottsville where he was engaged in the wagon and agricultural business and was recognized as the Republican leader in the town. For several years he was postmaster there serving from about 1874 and a second term in 1883, and then accepted the office of Clerk of the Board of Supervisors in 1853. In 1854 he was appointed clerk of the Supreme Court and has filled that place for about 23 years. In the Board Ward he was active in Republican affairs and his advice and counsel were sought by the leaders.

He and his wife, who was a widow, had six children, 184 Johnson Slocum who died in 1889. In July, 1897, he married Miss Ada White, who survives him.

He moved to Rochester in August, 1881, and resided on East Avenue until his death.

FUNERAL OF P. H. SLOCUM.
The body of Mr. Earl H. Slocum, chief clerk of the Supreme Court, who died suddenly last Saturday morning, took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, 33 East Avenue.

The services were under the direction of the Masonic fraternity, Supreme Lodge of the City of Rochester, of whom deceased was a member, also the Odd Fellows, of Palmyra, officiating at the house. A quartet from Oakville Lodge, of Scottsville, of which deceased was a member, sang "If Thou Art Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God To Thee.

Prayer was offered by Rev. A. W. Groce, pastor of First Universalist Church, who, also, paid a tribute to the memory of Mr. Slocum.

Many prominent men in legal and political life were at the home. All of the departments in the Court House sent representatives and all of the judges and justices from the various courts who were in the city attended.

The honorary bearers were: John James, Lyman Cobb, Hon. Selden S. Brown, Hon. Arthur E. Sutherland, Hon. Willis C. Gillette, Hon. Christopher G. Warden, Sheriff Charles S. Owen, City Treasurer Joseph C. Wilson and Deputy Commissioner of Public Welfare of the city.

At this morning's session the Board of supervisors adopted a memorial on the death of Mr. Slocum, who once was clerk of that body.

The active bearers were: Julius Clark, Mr. Clarence Roberts, John H. Gilmore, Charles H. Jameson, Irving Burtis and Edward F. Ellsworth.

Interment was at Scottsville cemetery where final prayer was offered by Rev. George W. Smith in sight of the friends who attended the funeral which was in automobiles.

Herald.

Michael Duffy Jan 24 78.

Michael Duffy, one of the original incorporators of the Old Exempt Firemen's Association, died last night at his home on North Street. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Hooker and the Misses Emma and Hettie Slocum, and a grandson, Rollins Stockton.}

In 1857, at the repeated solicitation of Doctors Edward M. Moore and E. M. Moore, Jr., he organized the Infant's Summer Hospital, which began the work in tents and moved to a splendidly housed building on the shore of Lake Ontario. He was president of the hospital board and retired at his own request, but has continued actively in its management. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church since 1827, and was a member of the Country Club.

FRIENDS HONOR HIM IN DEATH.
Large Attendance at Funeral Services for A. S. Hamilton.

BURLAY MADE IN M. HOPE.

A large number of the friends and associates of Arthur S. Hamilton, sr., gathered yesterday at the Washington Street residence of Mr. Hamilton, to pay the last respects to the departed postmaster and prominent, whose death occurred on Friday. A large number of Rochesterians attended the service in which Mr. Hamilton was held by his numerous friends.

Rev. Rev. E. F. Bates, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service, and Mr. Hamilton had been a member of the church for years.

Burial was made in Mount Hope Cemetery.

The honorary bearers were Joseph Payson, Dr. John P. Pond, Edmund Lyon, Grantor A. Hollister, William W. Chapin, Robert Mathews, Mortimer E. Miller and James H. Boulter.

The active bearers were James A. Duffy, Charles H. Stockton, William C. Barry, Dr. Joseph Joseph, Franklin C. Allen and Westley Angell.

MORTUARY RECORD.

Miss Lenore S. Wettmore.

Miss Lenore S. Wettmore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George W. Wettmore of Clifton, Brighten, died on Monday evening in Presbyterian Hospital, New York City, where she had been undergoing treatment for pneumonia. The funeral will be to the house of the parents. Miss Wettmore had completed her early education in the city schools, later graduating with honors from Western University College and after graduation engaged in kindergarten work and went to New York City to take up the study of nursing. She was a member of Teamster Church for a number of years. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home in Clifton Street.

Funeral of Edgar E. Pruyn.

The funeral of Edgar E. Pruyn, superintendent of the public schools, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of 203 First Street, Rochester, Rev. Dr. Robert E. Brown, pastor of Assembly Church, who conducted the services. Miss Pruyn was a member, affiliated at the services. At the grave of Mr. Hope Cemetery the members of Yancee Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, were in charge and conducted the exercises in a manner fitting and beautiful. A large number of the former friends and associates were in attendance at the services.
FUNERAL OF
W. R. PETERS
Post Oct. 21917
WILL TAKE PLACE TO-MORROW AFTERNOON FROM LATE HOME.

NOTE SHOE MANUFACTURER

Was for Forty Years Identified with Business of This City—Bank

The funeral of William Rogers Peters, 65, vice-president of the Rochester Button company and for forty years one of the most prominent shoe manufacturers of this city, who died yesterday at his home, 36 South

William Rogers Peters.

Union street, will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the house.

Rev. Dr. Paul Moore Strayer, pastor of Third Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Peters was a member, will officiate. The honorary pall bearers will be Hiram H. Edgerton, Charles E. Hoyt, William Fulton, John Hamilton, William H. H. Rogers, C. C. Day, John H. Gregory and E. R. Hudleston. The active pall bearers will be William P. Sarrow, Nelson P. Sanford, Nelson Sage, Charles Crouch, Howard Clapp and Arthur Q. Dryer. Interment will be made in the family lot in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Sketch of His Life.

Mr. Peters was born in Fishers Ferry, Saratoga county, New York, a son of Matthias B. and Harriet Borden Peters. When he was a year old his parents removed to Mechanicsville, where his early boyhood was passed. After completing his preliminary education Mr. Peters attended Fort Edward Institute at Fort Edward, N. Y.

At the age of 15 years Mr. Peters came to Rochester to visit his uncle, D. W. Wright, before entering Union college. He became interested in his uncle's business, that of Wright & Cowles, shoe manufacturers, and gave up his plans to go to college. He purchased Mr. Cowles' interest in the business, and the firm was then known as D. W. Wright & Co., it was known as Wright & Peters, and still later was incorporated as Wright, Peters & Co., which is the present establishment.

Forty Years in Shoe Business.

For forty years Mr. Peters was engaged in the shoe business in Rochester, holding the offices of secretary and treasurer of Wright, Peters & Co. upon his retirement about seven years ago. Soon after his retirement from the shoe firm Mr. Peters became vice-president and secretary of the Rochester Button company. Owing to failing health, he was obliged to give up the duties of secretary of that company two years ago, though he retained the office of vice-president until his death.

Mr. Peters also was prominently known in financial circles in Rochester, being a director of the Central Bank of Rochester and the East Side Savings bank. He also was a member of the Genesee Valley club and was a Mason.

Mr. Peters leaves his wife, Mrs. Augusta Rice Peters; two daughters, Miss Harriett A. Peters and Mrs. Herbert G. Williams; and a grandson, Herbert Gilman Williams, Jr., all of Rochester.

EDWARD A. VERMILLYE.

In 1907 to become assistant advertising manager of the present Daisy Flowers store.

Two years later he accepted the position which he held until his death. For more than a year he had been in poor health and he had failed badly this last summer. He was a member of the Rochester Athletic Club and Modern Woodmen of America, and will be missed by a wide circle of friends.

In 1908 he was married to Miss Mary J. Hedges of Rochester and is survived by her, the Editor, Eugene Vermillye of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a brother, Horace, an editor in the United States Ambassador Corps, now stationed at Almaty, Pa.

The family will take the place from the house of Mr. Hyde at 301 Hyde St. on Monday. Burial will be made in Brooklyn to-morrow.

ADVERTISING MAN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Edward A. Vermillye of 165 Robert Street, formerly sales and advertising manager of the Daisy Malt Whisky Company, died on Wednesday at the home of a cousin, Claude C. Hyde, at Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Mr. Vermillye was born in New York City in 1869 and came to Rochester from there.

Dr. Dryer Dies
SEEKING HEALTH IN WESTERN CITY

Rev. Dr. George H. Dryer of 106 South Pittsburg Street, in his 79th year, died at Pittsford, N. Y., three weeks ago in search of health, died in the Arizona city yesterday afternoon at 1:30. Dr. Roland C. Dryer, was with him at the time of his death. Burial will be made at Phoenix.

Besides the son, Roland C. Dryer, he leaves a wife, Mrs. Katherine A. Dryer.

Dr. Dryer was the author of a comprehensive work on the development of modern religious institutions called "History of the Christian Church," in five volumes.

REv. Dr. GEORGE H. DryER.

A number of his appointments were in and near Rochester; he was pastor at Rochester, Allen's Hill, Springville, Tonawanda, Brockport, Le Roy, Medina, Bathe, West Avenue Church of Rochester and Webster, in the Genesee Conference; presiding elder of the Niagara and of the Genesee Districts of the Genesee Conference and pastor of the American Church in Rome, Italy, for three years, as well as a student at the University of Berlin and Munich for three years.

It was through the efforts of Rev. Dr. Dryer while pastor of West Avenue Church that the present handsome edifice was erected at Chili and West Avenue.

Dr. Dryer was the author of a comprehensive work on the development of modern religious institutions called "History of the Christian Church," in five volumes.
DEATH OF JACOB DOCTOR

Post - 11/16/19

HEAD OF TOWANANDA INDIAN CHIEFS DIES AT HOME.

HAD BEEN PRESIDENT 43 YEARS

De-taw-1793-ne Was Member of Hawk Clan of Seneca and Sachem of That Tribe.

News of the death of Jacob Doctor, president of the chief of the Towananda Indian tribes, who died at his home on the reservation, has been received with sur-

Jacob Doctor.

row by members of the tribe living in this city, also by others interested in Indian matters and who had become friendly with Mr. Doctor.

Mr. Doctor, whose Indian name was De-taw-1793-n-e, meaning "looking at the Sky," was a member of the Hawk clan of the Seneca nation and had been president of the Towananda re-reservation for forty-three years. For the same length of time he had been a Sachem of the Seneca tribe, was close in the reservation council for many years and held the office of treasurer and peacemaker. The latter office corresponds with that of justice of the peace and all minor violations of the reservation laws are decided by the peacemaker without the interference of the white man.

The home of Mr. Doctor for years was the mecca for gatherings of Indian lore and many valuable contributions on Indian lore and facts were given by the host. It was in this way that Rochesterians came close contact with Mr. Doctor.

Alvin H. Dewey, president of Morgan channing in New York State Archeological Association, was a frequent visitor to the house.

Mr. Doctor was born on the reservation in 1845 and became an inductions of the Centennial of the town of Milwaukee, where he was born.

The funeral of Mrs. Maria A. Corrin, mother of Mrs. Henry A. Strong, will be conducted from the home of Mrs. Strong at 903 East Avenue this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Dr. William R. Taylor will have charge of the services.

Mrs. Maria A. Corrin was born at South Coventry, Conn., on March 13, 1846. Before her marriage she was Maria A. Belknap, a member of a prominent old Colonial family of that name. Her father, Nathan Belknap, was a farmer and trader who, in 1812, instructed his daughter to tel-gale the child grew to young womanhood in the place of her birth. Her second marriage was to Doctor Corrin.

In 1874 Miss Belknap married James H. Corrin, also of South Coventry. Corrin lived in the army during the Civil War and during the rebellion. He was given the rank of corporal for his service during the war and his conclusion was made acting as an assistant adjutant general.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Corrin, one of whom died in infancy. The surviving Mrs. Henry A. Strong and Mr. A. B. Corrin, formerly of Rochester, and living at present in New York City, are the grandchildren. L. Corrin Strong, survives. Mr. Doctor was in the American Expeditionary Forces in France.

Deceased Had Been in Failing Health for Several Months—Tribute of Friends.

Abraham J. Katz, 61, banker, philanthropist and recognized as the most prominent Jewish citizen of this city, died suddenly early this morning on a train near Harrisburg, Pa., on his way to Rochester from Baltimore.

For years he was a close friend of mine and it is through this accident that I am brought to realize what a good friend he has accomplished and how much this loss is going to mean for all that he was good. There will be sincere grief by many over this sad news.

Attorney Pays Tribute.

Sol Wila, one of Rochester's leading attorneys, also expressed surprise and sorrow at the news.

"He is hard put to pay a just tribute to Mr. Katz," he said, "his place is in the charitable and such fields as the Jewish community of the city and, in fact, Western New York. He was the man at the head of this work and he had devoted both of his time and money. He was something of a business man and something of a benefactor of mankind."

Katz was born in this city in 1853, son of both Mr. and Mrs. Katz. The elder Katz left Germany when young and settled in Rochester where he became prominent in the oil business. Abraham Katz obtained his early education in this city and entered commercial college in 1875. He was in the cloth supply business in 1890 with the incorporation of Stein, Bleich & Co., Mr. Katz became treasurer, continuing to hold the position until 1913. His sound business advice won for him a place in financial circles and in 1913 he was elected in organizing the Alliances bank, at the time of his death holding the position of executive vice president.

Katz was one of the organizers of the Fidelity Trust company and a director.

Prominent in Fraternal Circles.

Mr. Katz was also a member of the advisory council of the Stonestown, Cornelia Telephone company that placed the business on a solid basis. He was also prominent in fraternal circles, being a past master of Y.M.H.A. lodge, 109, and A. M., also a life member. He was also a member of Hamilton, A. M., and of Doric council, R. and M.

At the time of his death he was president of the National Jewish association of Western New York, in charge of the Jewish Orphan association. In 1913 he was elected president of the Jewish Orphan Society, a position he held until his death. He left in his will more than $20,000, which was given to the Jewish Orphan Society and the Y.M.C.A.

The funeral of Mr. Katz will be held at the United Hebrew Congregation on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The casket will be carried by members of the Congregation and the procession will proceed to the monument of Mr. Katz at 314 North Main Street. The interment will be in Riverside Cemetery.

MORTUARY RECORD

S. J. Glenn

Word has reached the Rochester Stock Exchange in New York City that Mr. S. J. Glenn, who is an associate in the firm of M. J. Glenn & Company, has died at the firm's home in New York City. Mr. Glenn was a member of the firm for many years and was a prominent figure in the stock market.

MORTUARY RECORD

A. K. Blackwood

The funeral of Henry D. Blackwood, a well known painting contractor, who died at his home on East Avenue, was held at the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church, where his remains were interred last Thursday afternoon. The funeral was attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives.

A. K. Blackwood, 51, a prominent figure in the painting business, died at his home on East Avenue on Friday afternoon. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church and was well known in the community for his painting business.

A. K. Blackwood

The funeral of Henry D. Blackwood, a well known painting contractor, who died at his home on East Avenue, was held at the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church, where his remains were interred last Thursday afternoon. The funeral was attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives.

A. K. Blackwood, 51, a prominent figure in the painting business, died at his home on East Avenue on Friday afternoon. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church and was well known in the community for his painting business.

A. K. Blackwood

The funeral of Henry D. Blackwood, a well known painting contractor, who died at his home on East Avenue, was held at the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church, where his remains were interred last Thursday afternoon. The funeral was attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives.

A. K. Blackwood, 51, a prominent figure in the painting business, died at his home on East Avenue on Friday afternoon. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church and was well known in the community for his painting business.

A. K. Blackwood

The funeral of Henry D. Blackwood, a well known painting contractor, who died at his home on East Avenue, was held at the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church, where his remains were interred last Thursday afternoon. The funeral was attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives.

A. K. Blackwood, 51, a prominent figure in the painting business, died at his home on East Avenue on Friday afternoon. Mr. Blackwood was a member of the First Baptist Church and was well known in the community for his painting business.
John Stevens Briggs died at his home at 29 Erion Crescent early yesterday morning after a brief sickness. Mr. Briggs was born in Newark on November 10, 1838. He received his early education at Willamac Academy, Willubram, Mass., and the Rutgers Commercial Institute, Hackensack, N. J.

His father, James E. Briggs, organized the Lawyers and Publishing Company in Newark and later, upon the transfer of that company to Rochester, the family also re-moved to this city. Mr. Briggs was a member of the Class of ’59 in the University of Rochester, and during his college course he was interested in all college activities. He was a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity. Mr. Briggs was well known as an advertising writer and had been for a number of years advertising manager of the Strong Motors, Inc. He possessed marked literary ability and had contributed articles to both papers and poetry to leading magazines. After the completion of his college course he continued to maintain an active interest in his fraternity and attended many of its annual receptions.

He was the chief compiler of the Delta Upsilon song book and also contributed a number of songs to that publication.

Mr. Briggs was a member of Corin-thia Lodge 299, P. F. and A. M., and the Rochester Ad Club. He was one of the organizers and a past commander of Captain Henry Lomb Co. No. 110, S. O. V. For a number of years he had also served as secretary of that organization.

Mr. Briggs married Miss Emma Phillips on August 21, 1890, who survives him. Two brothers, William H. Briggs of this city and Lieutenant Benjamin T. Briggs, now stationed at Charleston, N. C., are the other surviving members of his family.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 5 o’clock on Monday after-noon. The services will be private, but the house will be open from one until 5 o’clock to all friends.

WELI KNOWN WRITER OF ADS
DIES SUDDENLY
1918

John Stevens Briggs died at his home at 29 Erion Crescent early yesterday morning after a brief sickness. Mr. Briggs was born in Newark on November 10, 1838. He received his early education at Willamac Academy, Willubram, Mass., and the Rutgers Commercial Institute, Hackensack, N. J.

His father, James E. Briggs, organized the Lawyers and Publishing Company in Newark and later, upon the transfer of that company to Rochester, the family also re-moved to this city. Mr. Briggs was a member of the Class of ’59 in the University of Rochester, and during his college course he was interested in all college activities. He was a member of the Delta Upsilon Fraternity. Mr. Briggs was well known as an advertising writer and had been for a number of years advertising manager of the Strong Motors, Inc. He possessed marked literary ability and had contributed articles to both papers and poetry to leading magazines. After the completion of his college course he continued to maintain an active interest in his fraternity and attended many of its annual receptions.

He was the chief compiler of the Delta Upsilon song book and also contributed a number of songs to that publication.

Mr. Briggs was a member of Corin-thia Lodge 299, P. F. and A. M., and the Rochester Ad Club. He was one of the organizers and a past commander of Captain Henry Lomb Co. No. 110, S. O. V. For a number of years he had also served as secretary of that organization.

Mr. Briggs married Miss Emma Phillips on August 21, 1890, who survives him. Two brothers, William H. Briggs of this city and Lieutenant Benjamin T. Briggs, now stationed at Charleston, N. C., are the other surviving members of his family.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 5 o’clock on Monday after-noon. The services will be private, but the house will be open from one until 5 o’clock to all friends.
HEAD OF DRAFT BOARD FOUND DEAD IN BED
DR. BACHMAN SUCCUMBS
TO STRAIN OF PATRIOTISM.

HAD WORKED HARD AT HIS POST

Well-known Physician Had Given Much Time and Labor to His Country.

Dr. George A. Bachman, 45, of 729
South avenue, chairman of the local board of the Eight draft district, was found dead in bed this after-10 o'clock by members of the family who went to call him. Dr. Shirley R. Snow, of 267 Alaskan street, was called by Dr. Bachman and Dr. Newcomen had been dead several hours.

Dr. Bachman had suffered from heart disease for several years and appeared as usual yesterday, but shortly before retiring at 10 o'clock complained of pain in his stomach.
Coroner Frederick R. Smith investigated this morning and issued a certificate of death from heart disease and acute gastritis.

Dr. Bachman was widely known through the county and had been one of the most active workers on the draft board since it was organized.
Regardless of the time of the month, large numbers of enrollees made his post without complaint and conducted willingly to the branch of what to them had been an uphill point. It is believed that the strain of his duties resulted in his sudden death.

Sketch of Dr. Bachman's Life

Dr. Bachman was born in Carthage,
Jefferson county, New York, May 31st, 1860. He attended the public schools of that village and the Cortland Nor-main Academy, after which he entered the New York Homeopathic College and Flower hospital, New York, from which he was graduated in 1886.

He came to Rochester when 21 years of age and became an intern in the Homeopathic hospital. For fifteen years he was in private practice, a year before entering private practice.
He soon became popular in this city, making many friends through his genius, manner and work.

Dr. Bachman was a member of Youngmen's lodge, 163, and was a Hamilton chapter, 45, A. A. O. M., and a member of the Monroe commandry,
12, Knights Templar, and Damascus temple,
A. A. O. N. M., for five years.
He also was a member of the Rochester Medical association.
Monroe Countv Medical society,
Monroe County Homeopathic society,
New York State Homeopathic society and the American Institute of Homeopathic Physicians.

Mr. Bachman was for a number of years a member of the Rochester branch of the American Medical Association and a member of the Rochester camera Club.

He died, March 27th, 1917.

FUNERAL SERVICES

For John Bamber Held This Afternoon.

The General of John Bamber, aged
31 years, died at his home, 35
Edmonda street, Sunday night, was held from this home this afternoon at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Bamber was a member of the Church of English Methodism, being one of the Negroes associated with the Methodist Episcopal Church, which sang interment was held in the family house of the late Mr. Bamber.

Mr. Bamber came to this city from Ireland at the age of 22 years and had resided here since.

He was a native of County Antrim, Ireland.
For almost half a century he was in the tin and furnaces business in Monroe Avenue.

Reverend Frank Rowland

Rev. Frank S. Rowland, former pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, and the Asbury
Methodist Episcopal Church, both
of this city, died in Battle Creek, Mich.,
yesterday. He had been in good health until recently. He went to the Battle Creek sanitarium a few weeks ago,
and did not recover.

Rev. Frank S. Rowland

Deaths of Methodist Minister
Was Pastor Here.

The Rev. Frank S. Rowland, D. D., former pastor of the Grace Methodist
Church, and the Asbury
Methodist Episcopal Church, both
of this city, died in Battle Creek, Mich.,
yesterday. He had been in good health
until recently. He went to the Battle Creek sanitarium a few weeks ago,
and did not recover.

Rev. Frank S. Rowland

RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions were adopted as fol-
...
JOHN ALEXANDER, NOTED MEMBER OF MASONIC ORDER DIES AFTER A HALF CENTURY OF SERVICE IN FRATERNITY

John Alexander, one of the oldest and best known of the Masonic craft in Rochester, and the oldest surviving original member of First Unitarian Church, died yesterday at his home, 324 Tower Street. Mr. Alexander was a lifetime member of Valley Lodge 109, F. A. M., which he had twice served as master, Hamilton Chapter 52, R. A. M., for which he had served as secretary more than half a century; Doric Council 19, R. and S. M., of which he had been secretary, 49 years; Monroe Commandery 12, K. T.; Rochester Lodge of Perfection, E. J. Chapter of Rose Croix; Rochester Commandery, A. A. C.; Masonic and Military Order of the Knights of Home and Constantine; Eusebian Council, Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, Damascus Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., Masonic Club of Rochester and Monroe Chapter, O. E. S. Mr. Alexander was also a member of the old Rochester Lodge.

Mr. Alexander leaves three daughters, Mrs. Samuel R. Campbell, Philadelphia, Miss Frances Campbell, Rochester, and Mrs. Sidney Herbert Pool, Philadelphia; three sons, Vincent Alexander, Rochester; Raymond, W. Alexander, Brooklyn, and Clifton, S. Alexander, who are grown children and ten grandchildren. He was twice married. Mrs. Campbell is the survivor of his first marriage in London, Eng., to Miss Charlotte Tilt. His other surviving children are the marriage to Miss Francis E. Wood Linton at Kingston, Ont., who died four years ago.

WAS BORN IN ENGLAND.

Mr. Alexander was born on June 27, 1834, at Boston, Dorset, England, and later lived in London. He came to America in 1868, coming to Rochester following his marriage to Miss Linton. Three sons were associated with the building firm of Crum & Knapp, leaving that concern after a few years to take a partner in the firm with C. W. Woodworth and Son, with whom he remained until his death. He was active in the concern's office until a few weeks ago.

He was a Mason in Valley Lodge 37 and served as active master in Valley Lodge 109 and in Clifton Lodge, F. A. M., and in the Grand Lodge of New York. He was also at one time designated as grand representative of the State of Ohio, prior of the State of New York, in the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters.

Honored by Members.

Mr. Alexander was predeceased by his wife, the maintenance of the Masonic Home at Utica, an institution in which Mr. Alexander always took a keen interest. He always made it a point, whenever possible, to attend the sessions of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons.

THE FUNERAL WILL TAKE PLACE TO-MORROW.

There will be a private service at the residence at 234 Tower Street at 10 o'clock, at which Rev. Ludwell Howard Denny of Universalist Church will officiate. The remains will then be removed to Masonic Temple, where they will lie in state until 2 o'clock, a guard of honor from Monroe Commandery 12, K. T., will remain at the altar until the funeral services, which will be in charge of Worshipful Master Edward J. Hirschman of Valley Lodge. Six past high priests of Hamilton Chapter 52, R. A. M., will act as pall bearers. Committal services at Mt. Hope Cemetery will be in charge of Valley Lodge 109, F. A. M.
WILLIAM LIPPETT DEDICATED LABOR LYCEUM.

FOUNDED ETHICAL SOCIETY

Man Beloved by Many Friends Dies at Age of 59—Born in Germany, but Is Said to Have Repudiated Kaiser in Public—Loss Is Felt

William Lippelt, a prominent Socialist and founder of the Labor Lyceum, died at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the General Hospital, aged 59 years. He was living in Palmyra for about five years, having arrived in the city, a quarter of a century in Rochester before going there.

Mr. Lippelt was considered the pioneer of Socialist activity here. He was one of the founders of the Labor Lyceum, and one of those most active in the work of raising funds for the new building at No. 500 St. Paul street. He gave the dedicatory address, and conducted the laying of the corner stone in 1912. He was president of the organization at that time.

Many Socialists and other friends paid warm tribute to Mr. Lippelt last night at the Lyceum. "He always took the part of the other fellow," said Joel Moses, long a friend and co-worker of Lippelt. "I was associated with Mr. Lippelt for twenty years. He was the pioneer Socialist in Rochester. He did many kind acts, and made many sacrifices for his fellow men. In his early life in Germany he was subjected to much ill treatment at the hands of a guardian, and he was thereby stunted in his growth and mentally, but by sheer determination he overcame all these handicaps."

Max Sommerman, manager of the Labor Lyceum, spoke briefly of Mr. Lippelt and his long associations with the Labor Lyceum. He said his friends told of his activities, explaining that Mr. Lippelt was the founder of the Rochester Ethical Society. Afterwards, it became the Labor Open Forum, which meets every Sunday. He said that Mr. Lippelt's loss would be felt keenly. He was a great student and had read and written much on Socialist matters. When the Labor Lyceum was founded he contributed a large library.

Mr. Lippelt, who was born at Oscherleben, Germany, in 1858, came to the United States about forty years ago. He was a tailor in the tailoring shop of L. Adler, Hess, & Company. He remained there twenty years, and afterwards he conducted his own custom tailoring shop here for some years. He was president of the Tailors' Union for some time, and was a member of the Saengerbund and of the Sick and Death Benefit society.

No Friend of Kaiser

It was said by all his friends that he was a loyal American. He had no love for the rulers of Germany, and he had a great antipathy for the Kaiser. On one occasion in the Labor Lyceum he is said to have denounced Kaiser in such strong terms that he was struck by another member of the organization. He was said to be absolutely fearless.

WILBUR F. SMITH

Death of Well Known Employed at Erie Railroad Station—Was Prominent in frat units.

WILBUR F. SMITH, who for many years was a familiar figure at the Great Northern railroad station, in this city, where he was employed in various capacities, died Monday afternoon at his home, 244 Parsells avenue, after an illness of about two years. The funeral will be held from the home to-morrow afternoon. Burial will be made at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mr. Smith was born November 7, 1861, in Albion. Thirty years ago he removed to Rochester and was employed at the old Erie station as baggage agent. Later he took charge of the Westcott Express Company's office there, and more recently he conducted the news stand in the present station.

Recently interested in many activities outside of his work, Mr. Smith was a life member of Genesee Falls Lodge, F. M. M.; a member of G. T. Powers Post, G. A. R.; and for thirty-eight years an elder in Memorial Presbyterian Church. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah C. Smith; a son, Willard, a daughter, Mrs. E. W. Phillips; five grandchildren and one great-grandson.

HERMAN LANGKNECHT

Coroner Thomas A. Kilip was notified and found that death had been instantaneous, probably due to heart trouble, as Mr. Langknecht had not been ill.

Mr. Langknecht was born in Germany August 21, 1817. He came to this country 59 years ago and opened a meat market in Clinton Avenue North which he conducted for 55 years when he retired from active business life. Though not active in business, Mr. Langknecht was by no means self-satisfied by his advanced years. Last Summer he needed the government's call for a greater production of foodstuffs to help win the war, and throughout the hot Summer months he worked in and cultivated a large garden in the rear of his home in Mead Street.

Mr. Langknecht is survived by two sons, Nicholas and Henry Langknecht, of Chicago, Ill., and four daughters, Mrs. Charles P. Mead and Mrs. Karl Kauger of this city, Mrs. Michael Schumann, of Towanda, Pa., and Mrs. Elizabeth Archambault, of Chicago, 26 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.
John A. Smith, president and treasurer of the Smith Sash and Door Company, died on Sunday morning at his home at 129 East Avenue, aged 67 years, after an illness of more than two years. During this time he made a number of trips to California and Colorado for his health, but did not improve much.

Mr. Smith was a pioneer in the sash and door industry, starting in the old Beehive Building on Genesee Street, in 1873. Seven years later he removed his plant to its present location on Exchange Street. His mechanical ability was evidenced by

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home. Interment will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery. The service at the home will be under the direction of Monroe commandant and at the grave by Yonnondio lodge.

SYLVESTER F. HANNAN,
Former Rochesterian Dies - Belgium, Uncle Learns.

Corporal Sylvester F. Hannan, 23, a former Rochesterian, and a member of the Canadian expeditionary forces, died recently in Belgium, according to a telegram received by his uncle, Sylvester F. Hannan, of 46 Clinton Street.

Hannan enlisted in 1914 from Toronto as a high school cadet in the Canadian Voluntary Service. Wounded in the thigh at the battle of Amiens, where the unit was virtually wiped out, he was hospitalized for 16 months, which he spent in Rome. Before he left, he married Dr. Robert Herbert, of 221 Union street. He was here for Christ-

George H. Frick, 1978

Following a brief illness, George H. Frick, a brother and a stepson, all of Rochester. Chief Charles Little has appointed a committee consisting of Captain Charles C. Blood, J. H. H. Hoffman of Elm Street, and George Davenport of Fitch Street, to make arrangements for the funeral, which will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home.

George A. Smith, president and treasurer of the Smith Sash and Door Company, died last night at his home, 52 Gibbs street, after an illness of but a few days. The death of Mr. Smith was a great shock to the family and to Mr. Karle, and two brothers, John J. Karle and William Karle, president of the Karle Lithograph Co.

Mr. Karle was taken ill early in the evening when at the office of the Rochester American Express company in the New York Central station, where he was transacting business. He was able to give his name and address to one of the employes and was taken to his home in a taxicab.

The funeral will take place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home. Interment will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery. The service at the home will be under the direction of Monroe commandant and at the grave by Yonnondio lodge.

ISAAC N. STUART.

Isaac N. Stuart of Thomas Post, G. A. R., a justice of peace in Webster for more than 20 years, died on Friday at his home in West Webster. The funeral service will be held at the home at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Stuart was enrolled in the Fourth New York Heavy Artillery in Webster when he was 17 years old. He joined the regiment at Fort Ethan Allen, Vt. February 28, 1864, and left for the regiment on March 27th of that year. Mr. Stuart was in some of the notable battles of the war, including those of Wilderness,

MRS. CATHERINE J. GODDARD,
Wife of Dr. Frederick H. Goddard, Dies After Brief Illness.

Mrs. Catherine J. Goddard, wife of Dr. Frederick H. Goddard, died at 8:20 last evening. The death of Mrs. Goddard, coming after a very short illness will be a great shock to a large circle of friends to whom she had endeared herself with her many beautiful qualities.

Mrs. Goddard was a prominent member of Blessed Sacrament church and a worker in the various societies of that church. Of an extremely sympathetic nature, she had in an unostentatious way, done a most deel to relieving the stress of families in straightened circumstances.

Mrs. Goddard is survived by two daughters, Mildred R. and Thelma K. Goddard; her mother, Mrs. Josephine Ritse; three sisters, Mary, Rose, and Eliza; and four brothers, George A. Jacob A. Frank J. and Charles A. Ritse.

The funeral will take place from her late home, 721 Meigs street, at 9:30 o'clock and from Blessed Sacrament church at 11 o'clock, burial at Holy Sepulchre cemetery.
DEATHS—FUNERALS.

FRANK McALLISTER.

Former Rochester Man Dies in Batavia Hospital.

Frank McAllister, a retired hotel proprietor, died on Saturday at St. Jerome’s Hospital, Batavia, from cardiac asthma. He had been in the hospital for about a week and had been a patient at the hospital eight days.

Mr. McAllister was born near Bevisville, Ontario, Canada, on October 11, 1844. He came to this country with his parents when a child. He spent his youth in Batavia, where he served in the Fire Department in the days of the volunteer firemen. He was a member of the Batavia Hose Company. He had lived in Batavia since 1869 and for a number of years conducted the Leffitt House at Jackson and Keitti Streets. He had been retired from active business for fifteen years and was held in general respect and esteem by a large circle of friends.

Mr. McAllister was a life member of the Sons of Veterans Lodge, F. and A. M. of Batavia. He was a member of St. Paul’s Episcopal church.

Mr. McAllister had been a member of the Boy’s Temple, 505 S. Franklin Street, for more than thirty years. He was a member of the Lodge, 805, 3 A.M., the Deacon, 33 Knights Templar, and the Deacon, 3 A.M. of the Masons.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow afternoon at the McAllister home, 1 Porter Avenue, Rev. Alfred British officiating. The body will be placed in the vault of the Grand View Cemetery.

B. Franklin Allen.

RICHARD J. ATKINS.

Death of the Financial Editor of The Post Express.

Richard J. Atkins, Jr., a member of the Class of 1883, has been elected to the office of the financial editor, is dead at his home, 164 Federal Street, after an illness of five weeks.

Mr. Atkins was born in Rochester, February 28, 1883. He was the son of Richard H. and Elizabeth Atkins. He received his education in School No. 3, Tremont street, and the Free Academy in Pittsfield street.

Richard J. Atkins.

DEATHS—FUNERALS.

Funeral of Well-known and Popular New York Central Engineer.

Dennis Murphy, one of the veteran engineers of the New York Central Railroad, died this morning at 15:40 o’clock, at the family home, 1138 Street. He began working for the railroad in 1865, and a few years ago he and others received gold badges from the company in recognition of their long service. He was a man of unwavering integrity and clean living, scrupulously honest in all his relations, was devoted to his job, and he was a model of reservedness, confidence and esteem of all who knew him well.

The service will be held Monday afternoon at the convenience of the family. Burial will be in St. John’s Cemetery. He leaves his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Atkins, his wife, Mrs. Florence Cache Atkins, and three sisters, Mrs. W. Roscoe, of Buffalo, and the Misses M. and Elizabeth R. Atkins at home.
LIVINGSTON COUNTY DEPUTY SHERIFF, SON OF PIONEER SETTLERS, DIES AT CUYLERVILLE AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Jan. 7, 1918

Charles H. Simpson, a deputy sheriff of Livingston County continuously for the last fourteen years, died on Christmas morning at his home in Cuylerville as the result of a stroke of apoplexy. He was ill only three days. He was born in the town of York, Livingston County, on April 9, 1864, and had always lived in the county. His wife, Elizabeth Simpson, came from the north of Ireland in 1848. She, with her husband, Elias McKinney Simpson, was one of the pioneer settlers of the town of York.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Rose Simpson; four sons, George, Frederick, Richard and Harold Simpson; four daughters, Mrs. Charles Ander, Mrs. James Bridges and the Misses Eleanor, Ethel and Mabel Simpson; two brothers, William Simpson, and four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Wilson of Nunda and Mrs. Charles McCormick, Mrs. Andrew Smith and Mrs. Archibald Milligan of Rochester.

The funeral took place from his home in Cuylerville at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The interment was made in the family plot at Green Lawn, Rochester.

Charles H. Simpson was a man of strong friendships, social disposition and great personal magnetism.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

EMILY SMITH BREWER.

The Funeral Will Be Held To-morrow Afternoon.

Morning from the Home.

In the death of Emily Smith Brewer, widow of John H. Brewer, Tuesday afternoon at her home, 32 South Fifth Street, aged 88 years, one of Rochester's most influential women is removed. She was noted for her unselfishness and charitable work. Most of her life was spent in the city, which long will bear the impress of the activities of Mr. and Mrs. Brewer. Mrs. Brewer was one of the directors of the Rochester City, later the General Hospital, since its organization.

In First Presbyterian church, Mr. Brewer was well known, having been one of the founders and for many years a member of the board of trustees. Her greatest good was done, however, in a private way. As a wife and mother she was an example to all women, and many apparel and household matters were passed on to young, mourn her death sincerely, as she was her friend and gave generously.

Mrs. Brewer leaves two sons, E. Frank Brewer and John Brewer of New York. The funeral will be held to-morrow morning from her home.
The funeral of Charles F. Mertz, secretary and treasurer of the Cooper County Savings Bank, was held tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock from the home, 225 Chili Avenue. Interment will be made in the family lot in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mr. Mertz died suddenly yesterday afternoon, while writing for a bank. He had just gone to take his home after being attacked by illness while walking in York County.

HOLLI S. SAMSON.

Burlington, Mass. — Mrs. Emma Peacock, aged 77 years, who died yesterday afternoon at his home, 200 Oxford Street, will be held tomorrow morning, at 11 o'clock, from the house. Rev. Charles H. Rust, pastor of the East Avenue Baptist Church, will officiate. Mr. Peacock was born July 22, 1844, in Lincoln, Wayne County, N. Y. He was a son of Joseph Peacock and Alta Parson Peacock. He received his early education in eastern schools and later attended the University of Rochester for a term. In 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 114th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed a first lieutenant assistant engineer. In 1863 he made a topographical survey of the upper part of Westchester County, now a part of New York. On the completion of this work he came to Rochester and opened an office in the Reynolds Arcade for general surveying and engineering. He was appointed city surveyor in 1876 and reappointed for two years until 1899, when he was appointed superintendent engineer of the East Side Water Tower. He was appointed inspector of the Department of Public Works of the city in 1876 and continued in office for ten years.

Mr. Peacock is well remembered for the work he accomplished as city surveyor, the offices now called city water towers. The chief work he did immediately after his appointment in 1876 was to make a topographical survey of the city, with a large map showing the sewer system. The Common Council appropriated $10,000 for the work, and it has ever since been remembered to Mr. Peacock's credit that he did the work thoroughly and upon completion returned an unexpended balance of $2,000 to the city treasury.

Among other important improvements that were made under his administration, which continued until 1892, were the West Avenue, East Avenue, Main Street, North Avenue, Hudson Avenue, Joseph Avenue and South avenue sewers, and he designed the Brown street, Lyle Street and Allen street lift bridges. Previous to this Mr. Peacock laid out the driving park in this city and also the one at Peck's Ridge, which gave him a national reputation among engineers.

Oscar H. Peacock was born on July 22, 1844, in Lincoln, Wayne County, N. Y. He was a son of Joseph Peacock and Alta Parson Peacock. He received his early education in eastern schools and later attended the University of Rochester for a term. In 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 114th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed a first lieutenant assistant engineer. In 1863 he made a topographical survey of the upper part of Westchester County, now a part of New York.

On the completion of this work he came to Rochester and opened an office in the Reynolds Arcade for general surveying and engineering. He was appointed city surveyor in 1876 and reappointed for two years until 1899, when he was appointed superintendent engineer of the East Side water tower. He was appointed inspector of the Department of Public Works of the city in 1876 and continued in office for ten years.

Mr. Peacock is well remembered for the work he accomplished as city surveyor, the offices now called city water towers. The chief work he did immediately after his appointment in 1876 was to make a topographical survey of the city, with a large map showing the sewer system. The Common Council appropriated $10,000 for the work, and it has ever since been remembered to Mr. Peacock's credit that he did the work thoroughly and upon its completion returned an unexpended balance of $2,000 to the city treasury.

Among other important improvements that were made under his administration, which continued until 1892, were the West Avenue, East Avenue, Main Street, North Avenue, Hudson Avenue, Joseph Avenue and South avenue sewers, and he designed the Brown street, Lyle Street and Allen street lift bridges. Previous to this Mr. Peacock laid out the driving park in this city and also the one at Peck's Ridge, which gave him a national reputation among engineers.

Oscar H. Peacock was born on July 22, 1844, in Lincoln, Wayne County, N. Y. He was a son of Joseph Peacock and Alta Parson Peacock. He received his early education in eastern schools and later attended the University of Rochester for a term. In 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 114th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed a first lieutenant assistant engineer. In 1863 he made a topographical survey of the upper part of Westchester County, now a part of New York.

On the completion of this work he came to Rochester and opened an office in the Reynolds Arcade for general surveying and engineering. He was appointed city surveyor in 1876 and reappointed for two years until 1899, when he was appointed superintendent engineer of the East Side water tower. He was appointed inspector of the Department of Public Works of the city in 1876 and continued in office for ten years.

Mr. Peacock is well remembered for the work he accomplished as city surveyor, the offices now called city water towers. The chief work he did immediately after his appointment in 1876 was to make a topographical survey of the city, with a large map showing the sewer system. The Common Council appropriated $10,000 for the work, and it has ever since been remembered to Mr. Peacock's credit that he did the work thoroughly and upon its completion returned an unexpended balance of $2,000 to the city treasury.

Among other important improvements that were made under his administration, which continued until 1892, were the West Avenue, East Avenue, Main Street, North Avenue, Hudson Avenue, Joseph Avenue and South avenue sewers, and he designed the Brown street, Lyle Street and Allen street lift bridges. Previous to this Mr. Peacock laid out the driving park in this city and also the one at Peck's Ridge, which gave him a national reputation among engineers.

Oscar H. Peacock was born on July 22, 1844, in Lincoln, Wayne County, N. Y. He was a son of Joseph Peacock and Alta Parson Peacock. He received his early education in eastern schools and later attended the University of Rochester for a term. In 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 114th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed a first lieutenant assistant engineer. In 1863 he made a topographical survey of the upper part of Westchester County, now a part of New York.

On the completion of this work he came to Rochester and opened an office in the Reynolds Arcade for general surveying and engineering. He was appointed city surveyor in 1876 and reappointed for two years until 1899, when he was appointed superintendent engineer of the East Side water tower. He was appointed inspector of the Department of Public Works of the city in 1876 and continued in office for ten years.

Mr. Peacock is well remembered for the work he accomplished as city surveyor, the offices now called city water towers. The chief work he did immediately after his appointment in 1876 was to make a topographical survey of the city, with a large map showing the sewer system. The Common Council appropriated $10,000 for the work, and it has ever since been remembered to Mr. Peacock's credit that he did the work thoroughly and upon its completion returned an unexpended balance of $2,000 to the city treasury.

Among other important improvements that were made under his administration, which continued until 1892, were the West Avenue, East Avenue, Main Street, North Avenue, Hudson Avenue, Joseph Avenue and South avenue sewers, and he designed the Brown street, Lyle Street and Allen street lift bridges. Previous to this Mr. Peacock laid out the driving park in this city and also the one at Peck's Ridge, which gave him a national reputation among engineers.

Oscar H. Peacock was born on July 22, 1844, in Lincoln, Wayne County, N. Y. He was a son of Joseph Peacock and Alta Parson Peacock. He received his early education in eastern schools and later attended the University of Rochester for a term. In 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 114th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed a first lieutenant assistant engineer. In 1863 he made a topographical survey of the upper part of Westchester County, now a part of New York.

On the completion of this work he came to Rochester and opened an office in the Reynolds Arcade for general surveying and engineering. He was appointed city surveyor in 1876 and reappointed for two years until 1899, when he was appointed superintendent engineer of the East Side water tower. He was appointed inspector of the Department of Public Works of the city in 1876 and continued in office for ten years.

Mr. Peacock is well remembered for the work he accomplished as city surveyor, the offices now called city water towers. The chief work he did immediately after his appointment in 1876 was to make a topographical survey of the city, with a large map showing the sewer system. The Common Council appropriated $10,000 for the work, and it has ever since been remembered to Mr. Peacock's credit that he did the work thoroughly and upon its completion returned an unexpended balance of $2,000 to the city treasury.

Among other important improvements that were made under his administration, which continued until 1892, were the West Avenue, East Avenue, Main Street, North Avenue, Hudson Avenue, Joseph Avenue and South avenue sewers, and he designed the Brown street, Lyle Street and Allen street lift bridges. Previous to this Mr. Peacock laid out the driving park in this city and also the one at Peck's Ridge, which gave him a national reputation among engineers.

Oscar H. Peacock was born on July 22, 1844, in Lincoln, Wayne County, N. Y. He was a son of Joseph Peacock and Alta Parson Peacock. He received his early education in eastern schools and later attended the University of Rochester for a term. In 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 114th Regiment, New York State Volunteers. After this he was appointed a first lieutenant assistant engineer. In 1863 he made a topographical survey of the upper part of Westchester County, now a part of New York.

On the completion of this work he came to Rochester and opened an office in the Reynolds Arcade for general surveying and engineering. He was appointed city surveyor in 1876 and reappointed for two years until 1899, when he was appointed superintendent engineer of the East Side water tower. He was appointed inspector of the Department of Public Works of the city in 1876 and continued in office for ten years.
CITY PLANNER MEETS DEATH.

MEET DEATH

Pneumonia Results in Sudden End of Charles Mulford Robinson's Career.

Charles Mulford Robinson of this city, widely known as a city planner, died at the home of his brother-in-law, T. C. Pryun, in Albany yesterday following an attack of pneumonia. The remains are to be brought to this city. Besides his widow, Eliza Ten Eyck Pryun, he leaves his parents, Arthur and Anna Howell Robinson, and three sisters, Mrs. Frederick W. Blossom of Brooklyn, Miss. Mrs. Henry D. Reel and Mrs. Henry H. Robbins of this city.

Charles Mulford Robinson was born at Eau Claire, Rockland county, on April 30, 1863, and received his education in Rochester schools, being graduated from the University of Rochester with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1881. He was given his M. A. degree in 1884. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Psi Upsilon.

In 1891 until 1892 he was associate editor of the Post Express, also devoting some time to travel abroad.

Charles Mulford Robinson, whose death in the prime of vigorous and hope of great civic achievement was so sudden, left behind him a rare blend of vision and genius that besmirch the poet, the inventor, the intellectual pioneer of every type, his mission and achievement. He was a member of the security committee of the mid-term of the municipal corporation of the great American towns. Villages, hamlets and miniature cities, favored by the accidents of commerce, geography, of industrial selection, were hurriedly assembling populations metropolitans in numbers and variety of special character. Forward toward these communities was not determined by the fortunate advent of a railroad, the convenience of a water road or the shoreline of a harbor. It was left to the ingenuity, enterprise and good will of the real estate agent, the merchant, the banker, the sanitary engineer or the enlightened political leader. Commercial or social relation played a part in the building of American cities, a prophet and a dreamer and a man of action.

His Publications.

In later years he was the author of two textbooks on city planning, "Width and Arrangement of Streets" and "City Planning," the latter of which were regarded as authoritative, both in this country and in Europe. He also wrote the "City of the Future," a "First Church Chronicles," a history of First Presbyterian Church, "Rochester's Five Tribes," "Third Ward Catechism," and poems published in a collection of Rochester poets.

He was a member, at the time of his death or formerly, of the Genevese, Valley and Hudson, Carnegie, Arts and Crafts, Club of New York, honorary member of the S. C. A. P. A. of England, secretary of the New York Civic League, recording secretary of the American League for Civic Improvements, member of the National Committee of the Municipal League, member of the National Alliance of Civic Organizations, member of the National Committee of Civic Education, member of the National Association for Civic Education, life member of the American Civic Association and a member of the Twenty-fifth Century Club of Boston.

He was married in 1886 to Miss. Eliza Ten Eyck Pryun of Albany, daughter of Colonel Augustus Pryun and daughter of Ten Eyck Pryun.

Charles M. Robinson.

Mr. Charles Mulford Robinson, whose death in the prime of vigorous and hope of great civic achievement was so sudden, left behind him a rare blend of vision and genius that besmirch the poet, the inventor, the intellectual pioneer of every type, his mission and achievement. He was a member of the security committee of the mid-term of the municipal corporation of the great American towns. Villages, hamlets and miniature cities, favored by the accidents of commerce, geography, of industrial selection, were hurriedly assembling populations metropolitans in numbers and variety of special character. Forward toward these communities was not determined by the fortunate advent of a railroad, the convenience of a water road or the shoreline of a harbor. It was left to the ingenuity, enterprise and good will of the real estate agent, the merchant, the banker, the sanitary engineer or the enlightened political leader. Commercial or social relation played a part in the building of American cities, a prophet and a dreamer and a man of action.

His Publications.

In later years he was the author of two textbooks on city planning, "Width and Arrangement of Streets" and "City Planning," the latter of which were regarded as authoritative, both in this country and in Europe. He also wrote the "City of the Future," a "First Church Chronicles," a history of First Presbyterian Church, "Rochester's Five Tribes," "Third Ward Catechism," and poems published in a collection of Rochester poets.

He was a member, at the time of his death or formerly, of the Genevese, Valley and Hudson, Carnegie, Arts and Crafts, Club of New York, honorary member of the S. C. A. P. A. of England, secretary of the New York Civic League, recording secretary of the American League for Civic Improvements, member of the National Committee of the Municipal League, member of the National Alliance of Civic Organizations, member of the National Committee of Civic Education, member of the National Association for Civic Education, life member of the American Civic Association and a member of the Twenty-fifth Century Club of Boston.

He was married in 1886 to Miss. Eliza Ten Eyck Pryun of Albany, daughter of Colonel Augustus Pryun and daughter of Ten Eyck Pryun.

Charles M. Robinson.

Mr. Charles Mulford Robinson, whose death in the prime of vigorous and hope of great civic achievement was so sudden, left behind him a rare blend of vision and genius that besmirch the poet, the inventor, the intellectual pioneer of every type, his mission and achievement. He was a member of the security committee of the mid-term of the municipal corporation of the great American towns. Villages, hamlets and miniature cities, favored by the accidents of commerce, geography, of industrial selection, were hurriedly assembling populations metropolitans in numbers and variety of special character. Forward toward these communities was not determined by the fortunate advent of a railroad, the convenience of a water road or the shoreline of a harbor. It was left to the ingenuity, enterprise and good will of the real estate agent, the merchant, the banker, the sanitary engineer or the enlightened political leader. Commercial or social relation played a part in the building of American cities, a prophet and a dreamer and a man of action.

His Publications.

In later years he was the author of two textbooks on city planning, "Width and Arrangement of Streets" and "City Planning," the latter of which were regarded as authoritative, both in this country and in Europe. He also wrote the "City of the Future," a "First Church Chronicles," a history of First Presbyterian Church, "Rochester's Five Tribes," "Third Ward Catechism," and poems published in a collection of Rochester poets.

He was a member, at the time of his death or formerly, of the Genevese, Valley and Hudson, Carnegie, Arts and Crafts, Club of New York, honorary member of the S. C. A. P. A. of England, secretary of the New York Civic League, recording secretary of the American League for Civic Improvements, member of the National Committee of the Municipal League, member of the National Alliance of Civic Organizations, member of the National Committee of Civic Education, member of the National Association for Civic Education, life member of the American Civic Association and a member of the Twenty-fifth Century Club of Boston.

He was married in 1886 to Miss. Eliza Ten Eyck Pryun of Albany, daughter of Colonel Augustus Pryun and daughter of Ten Eyck Pryun.

Charles M. Robinson.

Mr. Charles Mulford Robinson, whose death in the prime of vigorous and hope of great civic achievement was so sudden, left behind him a rare blend of vision and genius that besmirch the poet, the inventor, the intellectual pioneer of every type, his mission and achievement. He was a member of the security committee of the mid-term of the municipal corporation of the great American towns. Villages, hamlets and miniature cities, favored by the accidents of commerce, geography, of industrial selection, were hurriedly assembling populations metropolitans in numbers and variety of special character. Forward toward these communities was not determined by the fortunate advent of a railroad, the convenience of a water road or the shoreline of a harbor. It was left to the ingenuity, enterprise and good will of the real estate agent, the merchant, the banker, the sanitary engineer or the enlightened political leader. Commercial or social relation played a part in the building of American cities, a prophet and a dreamer and a man of action.

His Publications.

In later years he was the author of two textbooks on city planning, "Width and Arrangement of Streets" and "City Planning," the latter of which were regarded as authoritative, both in this country and in Europe. He also wrote the "City of the Future," a "First Church Chronicles," a history of First Presbyterian Church, "Rochester's Five Tribes," "Third Ward Catechism," and poems published in a collection of Rochester poets.

He was a member, at the time of his death or formerly, of the Genevese, Valley and Hudson, Carnegie, Arts and Crafts, Club of New York, honorary member of the S. C. A. P. A. of England, secretary of the New York Civic League, recording secretary of the American League for Civic Improvements, member of the National Committee of the Municipal League, member of the National Alliance of Civic Organizations, member of the National Committee of Civic Education, member of the National Association for Civic Education, life member of the American Civic Association and a member of the Twenty-fifth Century Club of Boston.

He was married in 1886 to Miss. Eliza Ten Eyck Pryun of Albany, daughter of Colonel Augustus Pryun and daughter of Ten Eyck Pryun.
Mrs. Arthur Robinson

Funeral of Mrs. Arthur Robinson This Afternoon

The funeral of Jane H. Porter, wife of Arthur Robinson, who died in Albany on Friday, was held today at 2:30 o'clock from her late residence, 57 South Washington Street. The bearers were: Clinton Rogers, Henry G. Danforth, Arthur S. Selden, Charles F. Pond, C. Sebower Davis, Francis S. Macomber, Ernest H. Millard and Blytheston M. Kendrick. Rev. Warren Sage Stone, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of which parish Mrs. Robinson was a member for many years, was the officiating clergyman. Burial was at Mt. Hope.

The Board of Managers of the Rochester General Hospital has adopted a resolution paying tribute to the memory of Mrs. Arthur Robinson, president, who died on Friday. For over 16 years Mrs. Robinson was president of the Board of Managers of the Rochester General Hospital.

The Rochester General Hospital has adopted a resolution paying tribute to the memory of Mrs. Arthur Robinson, president, who died on Friday. For over 16 years Mrs. Robinson was president of the Board of Managers of the Rochester General Hospital.

TRIBUTE TO MRS. ROBINSON, ADOPTED AT SPECIAL MEETING OF GENERAL HOSPITAL MANAGERS.

On January 5th, the following tribute to the memory of Mrs. Arthur Robinson was adopted by the Board of Managers of the Rochester General Hospital:

"Mrs. Robinson was a true friend of the Rochester General Hospital, and her influence and efforts were always for its best interests. She was a true lady, worthy of all respect and admiration. May she rest in peace."

Sarah Stebbins, Mrs. H. A. Blossom, Mrs. Henry H. Stebbins, and Mrs. J. H. Quimby, were present to receive the tribute.

The Rochester General Hospital has adopted a resolution paying tribute to the memory of Mrs. Arthur Robinson, president, who died on Friday. For over 16 years Mrs. Robinson was president of the Board of Managers of the Rochester General Hospital.

Death of Well-Known Tailor Occurs.

Henry Kallusch, one of the best known tailors in this city, died yesterday at his home, 139 Cypress Street. Mr. Kallusch has been ill for...
DEATH OF JEREMIAH PHELAN

PIONEER SHOE MANUFACTURER

Jeremiah Phelan Dies at His Home After Illness Lasting Only One Week.

Jeremiah Phelan, aged 73 years, one of the pioneer shoe manufacturers of this city, died this morning at the family home, 955 Harvard St., after an illness of only a week. Death was due to pneumonia.

Phelan was one of the most widely known shoe manufacturers in this city. He was born in Tipperary, Ireland, March 4, 1845, and came to this country at an early age with his parents. At the age of 16 years he joined the navy and served in many prominent battles, including a blockade of Norfolk, Va. After his term in the navy expired he engaged in the manufacture of shoes. In the early 70's he was engaged in shoe-making with the late Thomas Colton, under the name of Phelan & Bolton. Their place of business was located at Water and Andrews Streets. Mr. Phelan was the first man to manufacture children's turned sole shoes and was one of the oldest men engaged in his business in this city, having retired from active business about 20 years ago. The Phelan name is well known and is sold at the store on Andrews Street, now, which is owned by Henry H. and C. Chester Phelan, who inherited it from their uncle.

In 1875 Mr. Phelan married Catharine L. Phelan, who died in 1888. He is survived by four sons, William Phelan, J. S. McComb, Y. J. Phelan, Harry B. and C. Chester Phelan, all of this city; three daughters, Grace M. Freccia, E. R. Phelan, now of this city, and Mary T. Phelan, who is now living with the Red Cross in France.

VETERAN LENS EXPERT PASSES

Herald Jan. 16, 1918

Death of Gottlieb Fladd removes pioneer of industry.

SAW BEGINNING OF PLANT

Bausch & Lomb Employees and Officers Express Sorrows at Loss of Comrade.

In the death of Gottlieb H. Fladd at Rochester General Hospital on Thursday, Rochester lost one of its pioneers in the optical industry and the Bausch & Lomb Company one of the most valued members of its organization. Although only 84 years of age, Mr. Fladd was second oldest in point of service of the 1,700 employees at the local plant of the big optical works, having been engaged there for 47 years. For the last thirty years of that period he had held the important position of superintendent of the ophthalmic lens department, one of the largest and most important divisions of the manufacture.

Mr. Fladd entered the employ of the Rochester Optical Company, then at 3051, when the business was located in the comparatively small two and one-half story building at Main and East Streets. He was at first engaged in book-keeping work, but later was employed in manufacture of optical frames and magnifiers, which was then the chief activity of the enterprise. There were few four cent glasses frames in America at that time. In fact, the organization was known as the Velvicut because of its salesman's suggestion.

Industry Developed Fast

Later, an American optician began to discover that the local optical workers could grind better lenses than could be obtained from Europe, this branch of the industry developed rapidly, and Mr. Fladd was transferred to the lens grinding department. There he worked his way up through all the stages of the grinding process, and became an important position he held at the time of his death.

An officer of the company stated yesterday that Mr. Fladd was valued not only for his ability, but for his progressiveness as well. Although he was not a man to craft, he was always eager to adapt himself to new developments. Up to the time of his death, the executive committee of the company adopted a resolution of respect for Mr. Fladd and sympathy for his family.

Only One Older in Service

Mr. Fladd's kindly temperament, modesty and unrivaled loyalty made him a friend for his fellow workers 27 years ago the oldest employees on record to the company. Mr. Fladd's early departure from the membership of which is composed of all those who have been in the employ of the Rochester Optical Company for 25 years or longer. Mr. Fladd was chosen active president, Henry Fincke, chairman of the board of directors. In his years of service to his credit, being elected president of the organization. The esteem in which he was held by his fellow workers was shown in a resolution adopted yesterday afternoon by the executive committee of the organization in honor of Mr. Fladd.

Mr. Fladd's family is still well represented among the ranks of the company, three of his grandsons and two sons, William and George, are employed there, while the brother, Charles, manages a machine shop, has charge of many of the intricate microscope objective precision grinding. The presence of "The Early Settlers" and "The County Fair," Will Fladd's last effort to acclimatized our era, will attend the funeral services on Monday afternoon in a body.
For Gottlieb H. Flad To Be Held Monday Afternoon.

The funeral of Gottlieb H. Flad, who died Thursday in the Rochester General Hospital, will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home, at 303 Summerville Boulevard. The services will be conducted by the Rev. John H. Steinbranz, pastor of First German M. E. Church. Mr. Flad was a pioneer in the optical business and, although only 64 years of age, was the second oldest in the point of service in the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company, having worked there 47 years. Representatives of the Early Settlers and foremen of the ophthalmic lens department will attend the funeral services in a body.

Mr. Flad entered the employ of the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company in 1871, when the business was located in the comparatively small two and one-half story brick building at River and Water Streets. He was at first occupied in the manufacture of hard rubber eyeglass frames and magnifiers, which was then the chief activity of the plant, very few leases being ground in America at that time. In fact, the organization was known at the Vulcanite Optical Instrument Company.

Mr. Flad's family is still well represented at the Bausch & Lomb plant. His two sons, William and George, are employed there, while his brother, Charles, another veteran employee, has charge of the microscope objective precision grinding. Two years ago, the oldest employee organized what is known as "The Early Settlers," the membership of which is composed of all those who have been in the employ of the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company for 25 years or longer. Mr. Flad was chosen active president. Henry Finkle, manager of the New York office, who had two more years of service to his credit, being elected honorary president. The esteem in which he was held by his fellows was expressed in a resolution adopted yesterday afternoon by a committee of the organization in honor of Mr. Flad. Resolutions of regret for Mr. Flad's death were also adopted by the Bausch & Lomb Optical Company.

FRANK X. PIFER
DIES SUDDENLY

Had Been City Purchasing Agent for Last 16 Years.

Frank X. Pifer, city purchasing agent, died suddenly at his home, 307 Tremont Street, last night. Mr. Pifer, who was 64 years of age, was, perhaps, one of the best known city officials, having held the office of purchasing agent continuously since 1902. He was first appointed by Mayor A. J. Rodenbeck and was reappointed January 1, 1918, by Mayor Edgerton. He was also secretary of the Board of Contract and Supply.

Mr. Pifer had always lived in Rochester. He was born on Tremont Street, two doors from the home in which he died. He was one of the oldest members of the Rochester Whist Club, having been associated with that body for the last 30 years.

The death of Mr. Pifer removes one of the city's most valuable employees. He was always ready to help those in need, and no task was too great for him. His general manner made him a favorite with all who knew him and his death came as a great shock to all his friends. Mr. Pifer had suffered from organic heart trouble for the past 25 years, and has suffered attacks several times. Last night at about 9 o'clock he complained of not feeling well and retired. He was in bed and called to Mrs. Pifer, telling her that he thought he was about to have another attack. She went to the telephone to call a physician and when she returned Mr. Pifer was dead. Death was due to a ruptured blood vessel of the heart.

He was married October 24, 1886, to Miss Jennie Wheeler. All of their children are dead, with the exception of one, Edwin Wheeler Pifer, who is now with the Second Ambulance Company at Camp Wadsworth. Woes has been sent to the son and he is expected to come to Rochester for the funeral. Besides his wife and son, he is survived by one sister, Carrie Pifer, and one brother, John Pifer, both of this city. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed as yet.
WARD G. CURTICE.

had long been a member and a former officer. The Eikas were assisted by Rev. Albert Beavan, who offered prayer and benediction, and by Miss Jeanette Terry, who sang.

Mr. Curtice had been in charge of the revolving department at the plant of the Curtice Brothers Company for more than 50 years and as a mark of respect the factory was closed during the time of the funeral and burial. In addition to being a member of the Eikas, he was a member for more than 30 years of the Webster Masonic Lodge and was also a member of the Woodmen of the World.

OLIVER A. MILLER.

Former Rochester Man and Inventor Dies in Brockton, Mass.

Oliver A. Miller, inventor of the first spinning machine and founder of the O. A. Miller Spinning Machine Company, of Brockport, Mass., died in that city last Wednesday, aged 61 years.

Mr. Miller was a former resident of Rochester, having begun business here when a young man. For the past seven years he lived at the Brick Church Institute, in this city. He left here only a few weeks ago for Brockport, where he intended to make his home with his son, Lawrence R. Miller.

Mr. Miller leaves his wife, who lives in this city; one daughter, Mrs. Georgie Belle Miller Brown, also of this city, and three sons, Howard O. Miller of Rochester, E. Percy Miller of Boston, and Lawrence R. Miller of Brockport, Mass.

In former years Mr. Miller was a member of the Oneot Bay Grove Association, a member of the City Commercial Club of Brockport, a trustee of the Brockport Hospital and a director of the Plymouth County Truck Company.

With the death of Dr. Zenas P. Westervelt a long and useful career comes to a close. Dr. Westervelt was one of those of whom it can be said that they have not merely been good citizens of the community in which they lived but have made a permanent contribution to the advancement of the race. He possessed in a remarkable degree that combination of sympathy, firmness and quick perception which makes the born teacher. He was the originator of many of the best ways of teaching the deaf to break through the wall of silence which surrounds them and get into communication with their fellows. He devised and successfully carried out in practice a method of education founded on the use of orthographic English, as distinguished from conventional signs. As the tribute paid to him by the Board of Directors of the Western New York Institute for Deaf Mutes well states: “While the whole community feels his loss the hosts of deaf persons, who have known the warmth of his affection and the support and guidance of his fatherly care, will most grievously mourn him.”

MICH. J. RYAN.

Michael J. Ryan, aged 58 years, a member of the Rogers & Ryan Milling Company, of Lake Avenue, died last night at his home, 90 Glendale Avenue.

Michael J. Ryan had been in the milling business for 23 years. Mr. Ryan was one of the most widely known millers in this part of the state. He was born in County Limerick, Ireland, in September, 1859, and has lived in Rochester for about 46 years. He has been in the milling business for the past 22 years. He started in business with L. A. Rogers, under the firm name of Rogers & Ryan Milling Company. Mr. Rogers died in 1900, but the name of the firm remained unchanged. Mr. Ryan was a member of Branch 196, C. M. B. A., and of the Holy Name and Rosary Societies of Holy Rosary Church.

The funeral will be held from the home, Saturday morning at 9:30 o’clock, and at 10 o’clock from Holy Rosary Church. Interment will be made at Scoville.
Zenas F. Westervelt Dies
After Life of Usefulness to Unfortunates.

The funeral of Zenas F. Westervelt, superintendent of the Western New York Institute for Deaf Mutes, who died yesterday morning at his home in the institute building, 1545 St. Paul Street, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Rev. Ellia A. Hanley, pastor of the church, and Dr. E. H. Willcox, president of the University of Rochester, will officiate. Interment will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Westervelt would have been 55 years of age March 15. Zenas Freeman Westervelt was born on March 15, 1845, in Columbus, Ohio, son of William Bishop Westervelt and Martha Freeman Westervelt. Two brothers, George and Sylvanus, died in infancy. Zenas Freeman, his mother's uncle, was the first corresponding secretary of the State School for the Deaf in that city. He died February 27, 1839.

Zenas F. Westervelt was named for Zenas Freeman, his mother's uncle, who was the first corresponding secretary of the Rochester Theological Seminary. Zenas Westervelt made his home with his mother in Columbus during his school years. He was graduated from Columbus High School in 1866, and afterward was employed in the office of a contractor on the Hoosick Valley railroad. He next became agent for the White Line Fast Freight, and subsequently clerk in the office of the American Express Company in Columbus. On retiring from that position he took charge of the school at Saline, Ohio, in the Fall of 1869, and at the close of the school year he became professor of English in the school for the deaf in Rochester. In 1871, he was principal of the State School for the Deaf in that city.

He was the first to teach deaf children in Western and Central New York, who were not attending school. The project of a school here was brought to the attention of Mrs. Gilman Westervelt, who, through her deaf daughter, had been under the instruction of Mary H. Nodine, who later married Dr. Westervelt. Mrs. Westervelt and Mrs. Perkins made the proposal that he come to this city and superintend the enterprise.

Dr. Westervelt was married twice. Mary Hart Nodine became his wife when he was 24 years old, in 1877. She died August 11, 1893. They were married at Cornwall, Conn. In June, 1893, Dr. Westervelt married Adella B. Paff, of Cortland, N.Y., with whom he had been in connection. Edmund W. Westervelt, survives him.

Dr. Westervelt was long an active member of the First Baptist Church, and was one of its deacons for many years. He was a member of the Genealogical Society, Columbia University, and the Board of Trustees of the Rochester Theological Seminary, and was secretary of the American Association of New York State, and the Rochester School for the Deaf since its establishment in 1899.

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Institute was held yesterday afternoon and the statement on Dr. Westervelt's death was adopted.

Domestically, there was a man married and won the approbation of his wife. As early as 1877, he taught Dr. Westervelt, leaving his home in the village of Rochester, some 30 years ago, on the day of his death.

In addition to his exceptional mental gifts and keen perception along intellectual lines, he possessed inestimable personal traits. His strong religious temperament was accompanied by a tender sympathetic nature overwrought by sunshine and good cheer. Everyone either admired or in distress found in his big heart a responsive chime.

While the whole community feel the loss of deaf persons, who have known the warmth of his affection and the support and guidance of his fatherly care, will most sincerely mourn him. There are many among the kind who today and in the days to come will offer up a sweet prayer in grateful thanksgiving that Dr. Westervelt has lived and that they have been influenced by the spirit of his life and love.

ABRAHAM B. WOLFF
Weebly Home - Former Member of the Board of Supervisors.

Abraham B. Wolff, veteran of the Civil War, well known in business and political circles and one of the oldest Jewish residents, died early this morning at his home, 62 Cumberland street, in the 60th year of his age. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Estella Meyers; three grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Funeral services will be held at his home on Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Abraham B. Wolff was born in Weehawken, New Jersey, October 19, 1837, and came to America when 15 years of age, arriving in Rochester in April, 1853. From that date until the time of his death, with the exception of a period of eight or nine years, he had made his home here. During the interval mentioned he was engaged in the clothing business in central New York, conducting stores at various times in Poughkeepsie, Norwich, Utica, and Genoa. He married Emma J. Layton of Dundee in 1864. He was in business in the last-named city in 1873 when the call came for volunteers for the Civil War. He was among the first members of the 141st N.Y. Volunteers and being named by Col. William H. Johnson as sergeant major, a position he held until invalided out of service late in 1865 because of an injury to his leg.

Shrewd and keen-witted to the end, he worked in Rochester, Geneva and became a respected, always

HADLEY J. BUTTERFIELD

Hadley J. Butterfield died yesterday morning at his home at 361 Pearl Street, Olive, on August 32, at Rutland, Vt., and came to Rochester when he was 15 years old, in 1877. At the age of 18 he began work with the Old Merchants Union, now called the American Express Company. After a period of eighteen years of service with the company, he was appointed agent for the Rochester district in 1887. He became general agent three years later and continued in that capacity until he retired from active service and was placed on the pension list of the company.

Mr. Butterfield was married June 11, 1867, to Miss Carrie Ogg, to whom he was married. He also left a son, W. H. Butterfield, and a daughter, Miss Eva Butterfield.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning and the interment will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

ABRAHAM B. WOLFF.

a supporter of the principles of the Democratic party. Mr. Wolff was elected to the Board of Supervisors as representative from the Seventh ward in 1896 and served two terms of two years each. He was also nominated by the Democratic candidate for re-election from the Third district while serving in the Board of Supervisors but declined.
A Great Teacher and Benefactor.

To the Editor of the Democrat and Chronicle:

Sir—May I have a little space to say a word about Professor Westerrett, before we go on our lazy way and forget him.

I owe him a personal debt. Years ago we had a virulent epidemic of scarlet fever in New York City, carrying the dangerous nature of contagiousness from grippe, I went out to look after my people as soon as I could walk, and as I lost my hearing my friend Professor Westerrett could only sympathize with my tragedy. Fortunately I came in contact with Professor Westerrett, and he showed me that the wisest and most helpful way how I could adjust myself to life and do my work by learning to read the lips and hands. At the funeral I met a gentleman from Auburn for whom he had done the same. After a few weeks of instruction in the school, he was able to continue in his business position and look after his children. Before that, he said, "I wanted to die." He soon engaged with Professor Westerrett, who is the most specialized expert knowledge to the restoration of lost lives.

But for the hundreds we have grown and educated men and women incomparably less than what he did for every deaf child that entered his school. The deaf are always lonely, misunderstood, and on the defense. Put yourself in the position of a child grown deaf through scarlet fever or congenital cause, a boy from being world-shocked at, pushed around, growing clumsy and rebellious in self-defense, loved perhaps only by father and mother, and not understood in the latter later needs even by them. For such children it is nothing less than salvation to get into that world, to learn by the hands, to read books, and write letters, to have at least some sort of impeded intercourse with the world of men and women and other children.

This Rochester school under Professor Westerrett's guidance has stood for certain definite principles of education. In some schools for the deaf still teach the old sign language, in which certain signs stand for entire words or ideas, somewhat like Chinese or Egyptian hieroglyphics. It is a language which none use but the deaf, and those who have learned it have little contact with the language spoken all around them. Professor Westerrett changed this sign language entirely, and taught the deaf the same English language with its vocabulary and its laws of thought, instead of the old one.

Some other schools resort only lip reading. Professor Westerrett very wisely was the great value of spelling with the hands to supplement it, and he secured special recognition for this combination of methods.

But what was more valuable even than the oral methods of teaching was the spirit of cheer and pleasure always imparted through the school. I was always impressed by his home and love of them. I think it is in the character of all happy children, and by the good breeding and courtesy produced in the older girls and associates. As a general thing mankind are generally superior in manner, love, and institutions for the deaf are hardly the place where one would expect to see them. Professor Westerrett succeeded in breathing the spirit of love and happiness into the whole school, one of the greatest triumphs of a fine and religious personality.

WALTER F. RAUSCHENBUSCH.
Rochester, Feb. 26, 1918.

NATHAN GOLDWATER, 72, Dies
Funeral of Prominent Manufacturer Held This Morning

The funeral of Nathan Goldwater, aged 72, who died early yesterday morning at his home, 132 Westminster Road, was held at 10:30 o'clock.

Frank W. Cole, verising department of the Post Express for many years, beginning about thirty years ago. Leaving here, he went to Milwaukee and introduced a New York publication. About thirteen years ago he returned to Rochester and once again entered the employ of the Post Express in its advertising department. Some time later he became connected with "Rural Life." Subsequently he went to Pittsford to live, where he spent the remainder of his life. He was born in Coldwater, Mich., April 12, 1852, a son of W. F. Cole, who was later engaged in the newspaper business in Erie, Pa., and Lockport, N. Y. At the age of 20 Mr. Cole returned to Erie and engaged in business and then went to Youngstown, Ohio, where with A. D. Fessett, he entered the newspaper business. Next he was identified with the Hamilton, Ontario, "Spectator." Lockport "Union," Palmyra "Democrat," Brockport "Democrat," and the Post Express. But for many years he was connected with the "Trotter and Pacier," of New York city, and the New York "Budget." His work on the former paper carried him all over the country wherever he had interest in horses, and his acquaintance in these circles was large.

Mr. Cole is survived by his wife, who was Miss Sadie A. Elleworth, of Rochester; two daughters, Mrs. Ruby C. Filling, of East Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Henry Haviland, of Maplewood, N. J., and one son, George I. Cole, of New York. His mother, Mrs. Charlotte Cole, now 90 years of age, also survives him.

ASHBEAL B. MORSE.

Funeral of the Late Ashbel B. Morse.

The funeral of Ashbel B. Morse was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late home at 181 Atkinson Street. The services were in charge of O'Rocke Post, G. A. R., of which he was a member, and the sermon was ASHBEAL B. MORSE.

ALVAH M. OSTRANDER

MR. AND MRS. Henry Mcinerney, Rochester.

The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. James K. Oden in Yonndillo lodge in charge, Interment will be at Mt. Hope, Past Masters of Yonndillo lodge will be the bearers.

Mr. Ostrander was born in Saratoga, June 11, 1828. Twenty-one years later he came to Rochester and built a home in what is now known as University Avenue, close to the present residence of his daughter. At that time the place was in the country some distance from the city limits. He was initiated into membership in Yonndillo lodge as a charter member and in 1862 had advanced in Masonic grades to be master of the lodge, serving as such until 1854. From 1854 to 1876 he was secretary of the lodge. Until the time of his death he took a lively interest in the affairs of the craft and as a special honor the lodge purchased a special chair reserved for his use at all times so that he might attend the lodge meetings in comfort.

Mr. Ostrander was a member of the Concordant Masonic orders of the district.

Mr. Ostrander was a printer and was employed in a newspaper office in Buffalo. At one time he was a printer for a few years and published a news sheet called the "Caucasian," at Buffalo, O. B. when the opportunity offered after a short absence he sold that plant and returned here.

MORTUARY RECORD

Mrs. Caroline W. Merriman

Historic Scrapbooks Collection

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
MRS. JEAN BROOKS GREENLEAF, widow of Colonel Halbert S. Greenleaf, and one of the few women who worked with Miss Susan B. Anthony for suffrage who lived to see the ballot won, died yesterday at her home at 196 North Goodman Street, aged 86 years. She leaves a number of nephews and nieces and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Malcolm G. Greenleaf of Rochester. Mrs. Greenleaf was the last of a large family and was the daughter of the late Dr. John Brooks of Massachusetts. For the last half century she had been a resident of Rochester, except for the time she passed in Washington while Colonel Greenleaf was representative from this district. She was a trustee of St. Lawrence University and had been a director of the Sargent & Greenleaf Corporation since its formation. In the cause of suffrage she had been a tireless worker since the days of Miss Anthony. She was one of the first members of the Rochester Political Equality Club and had been its honorary president for twenty years. From 1890 until 1898 she was state president of the woman suffrage organization and polled a large vote as Democratic candidate for delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1893.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the home. Burial will be private.

T. H. GRIFFIN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

For Many Years Employee of Eastman Company.

THOMAS H. GRIFFIN.

Thomas H. Griffin, who had been associated with the Eastman Kodak Company in the advertising and sales departments for about twenty years, died yesterday morning in Rochester, N.Y., after a long illness. He was 88 years old.

Mr. Griffin from the beginning of his employment by the Eastman company held responsible positions in 1892, 1896, and 1910, and was then at the head of the Kodak exhibit in San Francisco in 1893. He was with the Powers & Beeding Division of the company for twelve years.

Mr. Griffin had gone to Rochester to be under the care of the famous surgeons, the Mayo brothers, but his case was found to be hopeless. His home in this city was at No. 441 Glenwood avenue.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Clara Griffin, a daughter, Elizabeth Griffin; his mother, Mrs. Isabelle Griffin; two sisters, Mrs. George L. Little of the city, and Mrs. Frank Dutton of Utica, and a brother, John V. Griffin, of Rochester. The body is on its way to his city, where it is expected to arrive to-night.

Mr. Griffin was a member of Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, Noon Caravan, Order of the Alhambra; the Rochester Club, the Rochester Art Club, and Flower City Council, United Commercial Travelers.

He was born in his city on October 1, 1878. He was a graduate of the Cathedral High School.
Death Claims Man Widely Known in Insurance Field—Was Veteran of the Civil War.
Andrew V. Smith, widely known in church, fraternal and business circles and a veteran of the Civil War, died yesterday morning at his home, 8 Arnold Park, Rochester, aged 76 years. He entered the hospital Wednesday of last week suffering from a complication of ailments incident to his advanced years. Although seriously ill, he had risen from his bed last Thursday to perform a marriage ceremony for a Buffalo couple, but the next day was obliged to go to the hospital. He leaves a son, Richard N. M. Gaylord, Rev. Mr. Gaylord had served a number of Presbyterian churches, retiring from the ministry twenty years ago. He was graduated from the University of Rochester in the class of 1879. He was a native of Pittsfield. The funeral will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from 250 North Street, Rev. Lewis E. Costello officiating. Burial will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Funeral of Andrew V. Smith.
The funeral of Andrew V. Smith of 8 Arnold Park, widely known as a manufacturer and insurance man, took place yesterday afternoon from Brick Presbyterian Church, of which he had been a trustee since 1876. Rev. Dr. William R. Taylor, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was private. Among the mourners at the funeral was a member of the Life Underwriters Association of Rochester and the Rochester and general service board of Brick Church.

DRAMATIC CLOSE TO LIFE LIVED IN AND FOR CHURCH—Post March 30, 1918
To spend one’s last hour in the house of God, to use one’s last breath in giving glory to God for His abiding with His people, is a kind of exodus from life which is given to few, yet that was the manner of translation of a man who has been an officer in Brighton Presbyterian church for more than fifty years. This was granted to Theodore A. Drake.

T. A. Drake.

Drake in the church on Thursday night at a communion service in which he spoke on the cup using the words for a text, “I thirst.”

“It was a hard experience,” Rev. Frank M. Weston said yesterday, “but with a death had not a particle of the gruesome about it. Mr. Drake was a laconic unusually gifted as a speaker and his VALUABLES have shaken our congregation on a level it never reached before. High heavens has touched the earth so softly and we are adjured to it.”

“Thedore A. Drake died,” Mr. Weston said, “in Brighton Presbyterian church Thursday night at 8:19 o’clock. He was in his eighty-first year.

His going was very sudden and very beautiful. His last hour was spent in the church and at the sacrament of the Lord’s supper. His last service was an address, (which those who heard will never forget) magnifying the infinite love of God to His. His last words were, “When we come to the supreme issue—when we come to the end of life—God will be with us.”

His going was a way to the harness in the church he so dearly loved—in the midst of his family and friends— without a cloud of fear before feebleness overtook him—his last words a loving tribute to our ever-present, all-sufficient Neighbor and friend.

Few men have the opportunity (or if so, use it) to make a like investment and scoring of hands. J. W. Gaylord; 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, all of this church; 40 years were spent as an officer of the Rochester Police Department for many years.

Andrew V. Smith's Memorial Record
Rev. Willis Clark Gaylord, 93 Barratt Street died yesterday morning in Rochester General Hospital, aged 77 years. He entered the hospital Wednesday of last week suffering from a complication of ailments incident to his advanced years. Although seriously ill, he had risen from his bed last Thursday to perform a marriage ceremony for a Buffalo couple, but the next day was obliged to go to the hospital. He leaves a son, Richard N. M. Gaylord. Rev. Mr. Gaylord had served a number of Presbyterian churches, retiring from the ministry twenty years ago. He was graduated from the University of Rochester in the class of 1879. He was a native of Pittsfield. The funeral will take place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from 250 North Street, Rev. Lewis E. Costello officiating. Burial will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Funeral of Andrew V. Smith.
The funeral of Andrew V. Smith of 8 Arnold Park, widely known as a manufacturer and insurance man, took place yesterday afternoon from Brick Presbyterian Church, of which he had been a trustee since 1876. Rev. Dr. William R. Taylor, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was private. Among the mourners at the funeral was a member of the Life Underwriters Association of Rochester and the Rochester and general service board of Brick Church.

JOE W. CHATFIELD
Death of Former Member of Police Department.
Joe W. Chatfield, aged 70 years, died yesterday at the family home, 12 Vine Street, sometime before 7:30. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. William Genther, and Miss Jane Chatfield, aged 1½.

JOE W. CHATFIELD

Joe W. Chatfield was a former member of the Police Department.

JAMES H. McNAB

Death of Civil War Veteran Who Lived Here More Than 50 Years.
James A. McNab, 65, Civil War veteran, a resident of Rochester for fifty-eight years, is dead at his home, 11 Alexander Street, where he was born, and three sisters, Sarah, Julia, and Mary H. McNab. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from his home.

James a. McNab was born in Plattsburg, L. I., and came to Rochester ten years later. In the Civil War he was a member of Company B, 8th New York Veteran. He was a member of 'Ork's Post, G. A. R.
PAPERS READ BEFORE
POST-MORTEL MEETING
Prepared and read at the memorial meeting of the D. A. R. by Mrs. William E. Hoyt, February 22, 1918.

Mrs. Arthur Robinson.
In the midst of a happy and singularity useful life, a crushing sorrow came to Mrs. Arthur Robinson, in the death of her only son, Charles Matthew Robinson. She seemed to have realized that there was no family tie so precious as the love of the mother to her children. The son brought joy and comfort to her life. She was the apple of her eye, and she had a special concern for his education. Mrs. Robinson was deeply affected by his passing, as she felt her heart would break. She was left to face the challenges of life without the support of her beloved son.

Mrs. Robinson's life proved that she was not only a mother, but also a leader. She was the first woman to be elected to the Board of Education in our city. She was a true pioneer in the field of education, and her contributions have not been forgotten. She was a source of inspiration to many young women who were seeking to enter the field of education.

Samuel F. Frazer.
Long in Employ, 1818

Samuel F. Frazer, aged 19 years, died yesterday at his home on Maple Street, Mr. Frazer was employed by the city for the last 25 years as superintendent of bridges and sidewalks.

Mr. Frazer was born in Ottawa, Canada, February 25, 1839. He came to Rochester at the age of 13 years and

FAMILIAR FIGURE IN CITY STREETS GONE
Old Samuel Skinner is a familiar figure in the streets of Rochester, committed suicide Sunday afternoon in the hotel of the Railway and Light Company. “Doc” Skinner, who has been a familiar figure in the business world, was known for his kindness to the homeless and the underprivileged. He is survived by his wife, Mary, and their three children.

DEATH OF SIMON LAZARUS
Early Jewish Belter Passes Away at Oregon Street Home.

Simon Lazarus, one of the esteemed Jewish settlers of Rochester, died last night at his home on North Oregon Street. He was 67 years old. He was a well-known community leader and a respected member of the Jewish community. He is survived by his wife, Sarah, and their three children.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historic Scrapbooks Collection
ATTORNEY MEETS DEATH SUDENLY

Henry V. Woodward Expires Almost without Warning.

SEEMED IN GOOD HEALTH

Members of Bench and Bar Shocked at News of Sad Event Sunday

HENRY V. WOODWARD.

with the income from a well established legal practice which he had been building up in recent years.

Henry V. Woodward was born on October 9, 1871, at 657 West Avenue, the home of Homer H. Woodward, who was dean of the Monroe County bar. He son was educated in No. 4 School in Jefferson Avenue and at the old Rochester Free Academy, later studying at Williams College. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 24 and studied law in the office of Stuart & Sutherland. For 25 years he served as clerk of the Supreme Court, resigning January 1, 1914, to engage in the practice of law. On his resignation he was presented a silver service by Judge Werner as the Supreme Court justices of the district, as a token of their esteem and affection. He was appointed transfer tax appraiser for Monroe County at the time of his resignation as court clerk and held that office at the time of his death.

Built Up Good Practice.

In the comparatively short time since he took up the practice of law he had accumulated a substantial practice and built up a reputation for professional devotion to any cause he espoused.

He purchased his farm in Denmark Road two years ago.

He was married October 15, 1904, to Miss Mary Mathis of Clifton Springs. Besides his wife, leaves two brothers, William F. and Granger Woodward, and two sisters, Mrs. Nellie E. Emerson and Miss Mabel H. Woodward, all of Rochester.

A meeting of the Bar Association will be called to take suitable action on Mr. Woodward's death.

Justice Deeply Shocked.

Justice William W. Clark of the Supreme Court, in commenting on Mr. Woodward's death, said last evening:

I have not been so shocked in years as am at the news of the sudden death of Henry Woodward. He was the good, kind, devoted and of every justice in this judicial district. No service was ever so great for him to make for a friend, and he was a true gentleman in the best sense of the word, a member of our court by his loyalty, his kindness of heart and his genuine honesty. He had the interest of his friends always at heart, and I had a host of them who will feel his loss keenly. He was a man who had passed away in his high noon of his useful life. I have no words to express my feelings of sorrow.

Attorney Woodward had complained of not feeling well Friday, and remained at home Saturday, but was up yesterday morning as usual and ate his breakfast with the usual relish. Shortly o'clock he suddenly complained of illness. Dr. James T. Fanning of Rochester was called and pronounced Mr. Woodward when he died. The cause of death was heart trouble.

---

EDWARD VICTOR MENZNER.

Edward Victor Menzner, well known in Rochester musical circles, died yesterday morning at his home at 35 Dana Street, his illness having been of several years duration. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Menzner, and two brothers, Frederick J. and Alfred Christian Menzner, both of Rochester. Mr. Menzner was born in Rochester on February 2, 1854, and was educated in the public schools and at West High School. He gave evidence of marked musical ability at an early age and at 14 years was given public piano recitals. For a number of years he was associated with Maurice Neil and the Powers Hotel orchestra as pianist, and was considered one of the most expert performers on that instrument in Rochester. He passed some time at Saranac Lake in recent months, endeavoring to regain his health, but finally returned to his home in Rochester, where his strength steadily declined. He was a member of First Presbyterian Church, No. 5, P. F. A. and a member of the Rochester Musicians Protective Association. The funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the house. Burial will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Feb. 1, 1918.

MAN WHO ONCE RAN POWER HOTEL DIES.

Wesley Crouse Well Known as Hotel Proprietor.

Wesley Crouse, a famous proprietor of the Powers Hotel and later of the Powers Hotel, died yesterday at his home in the city's eighteenth year. The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 11 o'clock at the Powers Hotel on Sunday, 255 South Goodman Street. Services were conducted by the Rev. Frederick H. Reynolds, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Crouse grew up in the management of the Powers Hotel on November 1, 1890, the period of management there was successful. For much of that period the Powers was the only hotel in Rochester and a much sought after hotel, it was a great step forward in the hotel business and its downtown location was very desirable. Mr. Crouse was a man of strong character and was beloved by all who knew him. He had his live patterns at different periods of his proprietorship, but the Crouse was respectability and faithfulness. Later Mr. Crouse was the manager of the Powers Hotel.

After he gave up his home of the Powers Mr. Crouse became proprietor of the Powers House, in a small way. When he died, he left a great number of friends and acquaintances among the people of Rochester and travelers because very large. He had his live patterns at different periods of his proprietorship.

---

Funeral of Late Aylwin P. Joslyn

The funeral of Aylwin F. Joslyn, who died Wednesday in Binghamton Hospital, was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from his home, 255 South Goodman Street. Services were conducted by the Rev. Frederick H. Reynolds, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery. The bearers were: Messrs. E. B. Lessard, Knapp, Flamion, Borella and Edgerton.

Mr. Joslyn had lived in Rochester for more than 40 years, during which time he was a contractor and builder. He was born in Franklinville, July 18, 1876, the son of Willis F. Joslyn. He is survived by his wife, Sarah Eastwood Joslyn; one daughter, Mrs. Frank Eastwood; one brother, Lee H. Joslyn, traveling in bankruptcy at Detroit, and three sisters, Mrs. Neil McDermott, and Mrs. William W. Walbridge, of Detroit, and Mrs. John A. Rice, of Dryden, Mich.
Charles C. Meyer, one of Rochester's oldest residents and at one time prominent business man, died Sunday night at his home, 500 Meigs Street. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Church of the Reformation. Mr. Meyer was born in Germany January 8, 1831, a son of Andrew and Frederica Winter Meyer. He came to this country at the age of 8 years, moving to Rochester a short time later. He learned the trade of boot builder and with his three brothers engaged in the boot building business here. At one time he owned all the boot yards in this city. In 1840 he was engaged in this business at Meigs Street near the canal bridge, where he made canal boats. He retired from this business in 1867 and engaged in real estate. He purchased a tract of land near the canal bridge and sold many houses in that vicinity.

Mr. Meyer was active despite his advancing years and at one time was interested in politics. He was supervisor of the Twelfth Ward for five terms and was alderman of the Seventh Ward for one term. He was a member of the Masonic order and a charter member of the Church of the Reformation and the Builders Exchange. He is survived by his wife, one son and two daughters.

W. E. Webb, Well-Known Insurance Man Dead

W. Edwin Webb, aged 53 years, died Saturday at his home, 21 Arnold Park. Mr. Webb was a director of the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Insurance Company, of New York; a member of the Central Presbyterian Church; Valley Lodge, F. & A. M.; Hamilton Chapter, R. A. M.; Monroe Commandery, E. C. I.; Masonic Temple; Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Webb was born in Rosenthal, Ontario, Canada, in 1856, and had been a resident of Rochester for 33 years. He was president of the Rochester Box and Lumber Company for many years. He retired a short time ago on account of ill health. He is survived by his wife, Theresa A. Webb; two sons, Edward, and Hamilton Webb and Loren Donald Webb; two grandchildren; one brother, George W. Webb, and four sisters, Mrs. A. E. May, Mrs. Emma Madicks, Mrs. A. E. Darling and Mrs. Andrew Leonard.
Death Claims the Rev. Josiah R. Henderson

Rev. Josiah R. Henderson, D. D., who for more than 20 years has been corresponding secretary of the Rochester Theological Seminary and who during that period has looked after the financial interests of that institution, died yesterday at his home, 3 Aubude Street, after an illness of three days. Death was due to pneumonia.

Dr. Henderson was born in Merri- mac, N. H. in 1833. He graduated from Colby College, Maine, in 1857, and received the honorary title of Doctor of Divinity from the same college in 1892. In 1880 he was graduated from the Rochester Theological Seminary and in the same year was ordained to the ministry in Penfield. He became pastor of the church in that village and remained there until 1883, when he assumed charge of a church in Wyoming, O., where he remained until 1885. From then until 1897 Dr. Henderson was pastor of the church in Palmyra. Dr. Henderson became corresponding secretary of the New York Baptists Union for Ministerial Education, the corporation that maintains the Rochester Theological Seminary. His office was in Alhambra Strong Hall. Dr. and Mrs. Henderson celebrated the silver anniversary of their marriage in November. More than 100 friends were entertained at a reception given at their home. Mrs. Henderson was formerly Miss Lillian Jones of Palmyra.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home. Dr. Henderson was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. Effiah A. Hanley, D. D., pastor, will conduct the services.

Dr. Henderson is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. J. C. Palmer of New Rochelle, L. I., and Mrs. Sarah E. Cross of Farmville; two sons, Howard Jones Henderson, who is in the army, and Leonard Houghton Henderson, a student at the University of Rochester.

Edward Mott Moore, Founder of Infants Summer Hospital, Dies

Dr. Edward Mott Moore, a son of Frederick Durand Moore and Mary Petes Moore, died yesterday at his home at 109 Troup Street. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Leon- hard W. Moore; a daughter, Miss Clara Durand Moore; a sister, Miss Mary Petes Moore, and two brothers, Frederick Moore of Pennsylvania and Samuel F. Moore of Rochester.

The funeral will take place on Monday morning at 11 o'clock from St. Mor- gus.

Dr. Moore was married twice, his first wife being Miss Clara Durand. She died in 1884. His second marriage took place in 1898.

In his practice Dr. Moore had the distinguishing traits of broad but

Civil War Veteran, 106 Years Old, 50 Years Resident Of Rochester, Dies At His Home In Henry Street

Moses Levinsky, one of the oldest residents of this city, died last night at his home, 30 Henry Street, at 1:30 yesterday. The funeral was held this afternoon. Interment was made in Strong Road Cemetery.

Mr. Levinsky had made his home in Rochester for a number of years, coming here from Canada. He was born in Russia and was one of the early residents of this city. He has lived here over 65 years. He saw service in the Civil War. He came to Rochester about 1849 and opened the peddling business living on Al- phone Street. A short time later he moved to Henry Street and had resided there since.

He is survived by his wife, Milla Levinsky, who is 96 years of age; three daughters, Mrs. L. Freedman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of this city and Mrs. Anna Brecon of Chicago, 14 grandchildren and six great-grand- children. Services were conducted by Isaac Cipak, rabbi of Congregational Yeshiva, 54 Harvard Street.
Through the death of Henry Gold Danforth Rochester loses a citizen long prominent in the affairs of the community of which he had been a life long resident. He himself was an important factor in the remarkable development of the city during the past 60 years.

Dr. Danforth was born at the Danforth homestead, then in the town of Gates, in 1854. His father was an associate judge of the Court of Appeals, and the son made full use of the advantages of a cultured home. He was graduated from Harvard in 1871, and from the Harvard Law School in 1880, taking up the practice of law in this city.

He served three terms as member of Congress, and also held other public offices. Appreciation of his character and abilities by the residents of his own district, who knew him best, pointed him out as a suitable candidate for this office, although he was never an active political worker.

Mr. Danforth preserved the dignified traditions of the old school. He was trusted and respected by a wide circle of acquaintances in public and private life. Without pushing himself forward in any way he was able to do much for the community in which he lived and the public at large.
Henry G. Danforth's death removes one of the useful and substantial citizens of Rochester, a lifelong member of the community, and one who was always interested in its welfare and advancement.

Within the span of the sixty-three years of his residence in the Danforth farm in the town of Chili, in which he was born, became a part of the city. The striking changes in community which he witnessed, and in which he performed his share, will hardly be duplicated in the sixty years to come.

Mr. Danforth was reared in a cultured home, prepared for college in private schools here and at Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., and was graduated from Harvard in 1874, and from the Harvard Law School in 1880. He was admitted to the bar here, and practiced his profession in this city from that time on.

His most distinguished public services were as member of Congress, in which he served three terms and was elected from what was at first the Thirteenth District, and afterwards the Thirtieth District. He found congenial work in the House as a member of the Judiciary Committee, and had a hand in shaping many rules of legislation. In addition to his service to the House, he had been a member of the Board of Managers of the New York State Reformatory, at Elmira; a trustee of the Elmira Library and of the General Hospital, and at various times the local bar association. He had a wide acquaintance, maintaining membership in leading clubs here, and in New York and Washington.

His qualities of mind and character were such as to inspire respect in all circles where he became known, and the positions of public trust which he filled were a tribute to his ability and worth, for he was not in any sense a notoriety-seeker, or a pushing, assiduous applicant for preferment.

TO-DAY'S NEWS TO-DAY.

Henry G. Danforth came to the heights of prominence in his profession, and it is said that his retirement would not have been voluntary, but was by inheritance. His father, Judge Danforth, came to this city in 1849 and for years in practice in his profession became one of the most prominent citizens of the city. Ex-Congressman Danforth in his public life showed the judicial spirit of his mind which characterized legal learning in his blood. He had the desire for publicity for himself or for his efforts as member of congress, save that which accrued naturally from accomplishment of measures which he would have been glad to have been more widely known when he came into it, a good citizen, a good patriot, sound and true in his relations to his country, and a fine friend in the world.

R. S. Martin.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN

KILLED AT CROSSING

Stepping in front of a passenger train at Bloomingdale crossing Saturday evening, E. Hutton, 13, Civil war veteran was killed instantly. Coroner Thomas A. Killop ordered the body removed to the morose.

Death of Hockenos

Shocked to Friends

The death of Roman Hockenos during the past week shocked his old comrades of the Seventh Battery (Light Artillery), in Rochester, with whom he was associated in the practice of law in the year 1896.

Mr. Danforth was a close student of the law and tireless worker. While attending to the practice of law, he spent much time and opportunity. During the course of his practice, he served as referee on a great number of cases, and on cases of all sorts in the civil and criminal courts. He became quite well known to the bar, and was quite popular among his associates.

His death was a shock to the city, and many friends paid their respects to the family, and with the regret it occasions will be knowledge of the city as a citizen, public servant.

MRS. GEORGE C. BUELL IS DEAD

Funeral Services at Home in Livingston Park—Member of One of City's Oldest Families.

Mrs. Alice H. Buell, widow of George C. Buell, who died last week at the family home, 9 Livingston Park, after an illness of many weeks. She succumbed to a lingering illness.

Mrs. Buell was the wife of the late George C. Buell, founder of the firm of Buell & Co., a former director of the New York Central Railroad; and the daughter of Lorenzo C. Buell.

She is survived by two sons, Geo. B. Buell and Ely Buell, of Rochester, one daughter, Miss Elizabeth, one brother, L. Doughy, and one sister, Mrs. William H. Averill, of Rochester, and Mrs. Deborah T. Weiss, of Chicago.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon in the home, 9 Living-
VETERAN OF ROCHESTER HORSE CAR DAYS, FOR YEARS PROMINENT AMONG STREET RAILWAY MEN, DIES AT HOME

Historic Scrapbooks Collection

Martin Williams, veteran of the horse car days of Rochester for forty years, a resident of the city for many years, died at his residence at 261 Halsey Street, early this morning. He was a prominent member of the Knights of Labor and the Odd Fellows. He was one of the oldest employees in the city engineer's department.

Mr. Williams was a native of New York, and came to Rochester in 1878. He was married to Miss Margaret Williams, a native of the city, and leaves a family of five children, all living in Rochester.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mr. Williams, and the body will be taken to the Maplewood Cemetery, where the interment will be made.

JAMES T. BOWDY
DIES AT BATH

The death of James T. Bowdy occurred at the Soldier's Home, Bath, N.Y., Friday morning at 1 o'clock, April 24th. Mr. Bowdy was born at Clay Center, N.Y., July 24, 1878, and had resided in this place since 1897, and had the distinction of being the first party to own property in the village that is now known as Dewey, N. Y. He leaves five brothers and five sisters, a wife in Rochester, two daughters, Mrs. Henry King, and Miss Emma Bowdy, of this place, and one son, Lewis Bowdy, of Kansas City, Mo.

He had been in very good health and went to the bath last November for treatment. He had a distinguished war record, and the funeral was held at the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at 3:30.

Was Oldest Active Druggist in City

Henry Aman, aged 94 years, died yesterday at his home, 23 Bierman Terrace, Mr. Aman had been in the drug business for 45 years and is said to have been the oldest active druggist in the city. At one time his store was located on the site of the store of the Sibley, Lindsay and Curr Company, but of recent years had conducted his business in Clinton Avenue North, retiring a year or a half ago. He was survived by one son, Arthur Aman; one brother, Anton Aman, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Vogel of this city and one sister in Germany. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home.

JAMES T. BOWDY
DIES AT BATH

The funeral of the Rev. Edward Brown was held this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Siaa, 334 West Avenue. Services were conducted by the Rev. H. H. Barlow, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church. The remains were taken to Lockport, where services were conducted in the First Congregational Church, the first pastor held by the Rev. Mr. Furbush, to whom the funeral address was given. The bearers were H. B. Graves, W. B. Hupper, William F. Parry, A. E. Baabock, E. A. Hall and V. G. Benedict.

Mr. Furbish was born in Portland, Me., on May 23, 1857, and graduated from Yale University in 1880. In college he was the strongest man in his class. Just before finishing his theological course he was appointed chaplain of the 25th Maine Regiment under Colonel Foss, and on the eve of leaving for the front he married Miss Grace Harrison Townsend of New Haven, Conn.

When Mr. Furbish returned from the war he became pastor of the Presbyterian Church in New Hartford, N.Y. There one of his most loyal parishioners was Mrs. Richard U. Sherman, mother of the late Vice President James S. Sherman.

In Lockport, when pastor of the First Congregational Church, his third charge, Mr. Furbush stirred up a campaign for raising funds for feeding the soldiers. Next he was his guest in Lockport during the memorable campaign against threats upon his life Mr. Furbish, as leader of the forces that set out to clean up the city, was victorious.

His last pastorate was in Spencerport, where he was in charge of the First Congregational Church. From there he was appointed chaplain of the New York State Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Bath. Both was carried for no license for the first time in its history through his efforts.

TRIBUTE PAST TO MEMORY OF ELATE J. COX
Times Union

The Father of the Line Department, the title of the paper, is a hallmark of the career of Mr. Cox, who died yesterday, following an operation.

John Cox was an employee of the company for forty-five years, and, in 1925, was promoted to the position of storekeeper in the Lion Hotel. Mr. Cox was a man of simple, unassuming character, and, in the company, he was always known for his honesty and integrity.

Ed. F. BURBISH
LAID TO REST

Funeral of Successful Champion of Prohibition and Civil War Chaplain Held This Morning

The funeral of the Rev. Edward Brown was held this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. E. Siaa, 334 West Avenue. Services were conducted by the Rev. H. H. Barlow, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church. The remains were taken to Lockport, where services were conducted in the First Congregational Church, the first pastor held by the Rev. Mr. Furbush, to whom the funeral address was given. The bearers were H. B. Graves, W. B. Hupper, William F. Parry, A. E. Baabock, E. A. Hall and V. G. Benedict.

Mr. Furbish was born in Portland, Me., on May 23, 1857, and graduated from Yale University in 1880. In college he was the strongest man in his class. Just before finishing his theological course he was appointed chaplain of the 25th Maine Regiment under Colonel Foss, and on the eve of leaving for the front he married Miss Grace Harrison Townsend of New Haven, Conn.

When Mr. Furbish returned from the war he became pastor of the Presbyterian Church in New Hartford, N.Y. There one of his most loyal parishioners was Mrs. Richard U. Sherman, mother of the late Vice President James S. Sherman.

In Lockport, when pastor of the First Congregational Church, his third charge, Mr. Furbish stirred up a campaign for raising funds for feeding the soldiers. Next he was his guest in Lockport during the memorable campaign against threats upon his life Mr. Furbish, as leader of the forces that set out to clean up the city, was victorious.

His last pastorate was in Spencerport, where he was in charge of the First Congregational Church. From there he was appointed chaplain of the New York State Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Bath. Both was carried for no license for the first time in its history through his efforts.

Tribute Past to Memory of Elate J. Cox

Times Union

The Father of the Line Department, the title of the paper, is a hallmark of the career of Mr. Cox, who died yesterday, following an operation.

John Cox was an employee of the company for forty-five years, and, in 1925, was promoted to the position of storekeeper in the Lion Hotel. Mr. Cox was a man of simple, unassuming character, and, in the company, he was always known for his honesty and integrity.

TRIBUTE PAST TO MEMORIAL OF ELATE J. COX

Times Union

The Father of the Line Department, the title of the paper, is a hallmark of the career of Mr. Cox, who died yesterday, following an operation.

John Cox was an employee of the company for forty-five years, and, in 1925, was promoted to the position of storekeeper in the Lion Hotel. Mr. Cox was a man of simple, unassuming character, and, in the company, he was always known for his honesty and integrity.

TRIBUTE PAST TO MEMORIAL OF ELATE J. COX

Times Union

The Father of the Line Department, the title of the paper, is a hallmark of the career of Mr. Cox, who died yesterday, following an operation.

John Cox was an employee of the company for forty-five years, and, in 1925, was promoted to the position of storekeeper in the Lion Hotel. Mr. Cox was a man of simple, unassuming character, and, in the company, he was always known for his honesty and integrity.

TRIBUTE PAST TO MEMORIAL OF ELATE J. COX

Times Union

The Father of the Line Department, the title of the paper, is a hallmark of the career of Mr. Cox, who died yesterday, following an operation.

John Cox was an employee of the company for forty-five years, and, in 1925, was promoted to the position of storekeeper in the Lion Hotel. Mr. Cox was a man of simple, unassuming character, and, in the company, he was always known for his honesty and integrity.
DEATH TAKES
E. F. BREWSTER
Prominent Rochesterian
Dies at Home After Illness of Two Weeks—Funeral
Wednesday Morning.

WOHLSELESE TO CLOSE IN HONOR of MR. BREWSTER
May 31-1918

WHOLESALE OF M. BREWSTER
Memorial Adopted by Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit Co. Directors.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit company held Tuesday, the following memorial was adopted:

Two resolutions were offered, one expressing the sympathy of the board of directors with the family of Mr. E. Frank Brewster, and to approve their acts as a body. The second resolution was to authorize the board of directors to name a committee to select a suitable place and arrange for a suitable monument.

The funeral of Mr. E. Frank Brewster, who died last night at his home, 141 South Fitzhugh Street, will be held on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock from the home. Burial will be made at Mt. Hope Cemetery and will be private. Other arrangements are not yet complete.

Mr. Brewster died at 12:15 o'clock last night of heart trouble after an illness of about two weeks. He was born on June 1, 1850, at the old Brewster homestead, 141 South Fitzhugh
Street, the son of John H. and Emily Brewster. He received his preliminary education in Rochester and then went to Andover Preparatory School, where he remained until 1879, when he became associated with his father in the wholesale grocery business. J. H. Brewster had come to Rochester and had started the firm of S. L. and J. H. Brewster, his brother between the other partner. In 1872 J. H.
Brewster became associated with David Gordon in the firm of Brewster & Co., located first at 723 Main Street East, later at 352-4 South
Water Street, and since 1916 in Canal Street.

E. Frank Brewster entered this business upon leaving school and had been connected with it ever since.
About 15 years ago, after the death of his father and Mr. Gordon, Mr.
Brewster assumed complete control.
In 1914 his son, E. Frank Brewster, was taken into the concern and is now president.

Mr. Brewster never held public office but was always keenly interested in public affairs and was a life-long Republican. He was a charter member of Company A, Boys in Blue, the Republican marching club. He was a member of the Andover Club and the United League Club in New York. He was the son of the organizers of the Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit company and had served on the board of directors since 1872.

The funeral service was held at 11 o'clock in the church of the Third Presbyterian Church, where the body was placed in the vault. The body was then taken to the home of Mr.
E. Frank Brewster, where it was buried in the vault.

Funeral Services at Home at 141
S. Fitzhugh Street Conducted by Revs.
Harry Idle and Warren S. Stone.
May 31-1918

Funeral services for E. Frank Brewster were held this morning at 11 o'clock from his house, 141 South Fitzhugh Street, Rochester. The service was conducted by the Rev. Harry Idle, curate of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, in the absence of the rector, the Rev.
Simeon Tyler. Mr. Idle was assisted by the Rev. William H. Babcock, a graduate of First Presbyterian Church. The active bearers were Gus Genesen, Otto Durbin, Warren S. Stone, John F.
Lamb, and Frank F. Babcock.

The honorary bearers were
Charles H. Babcock, P. V. Crittenden,
William Q. S. S. Byrose, Thomas J.
Babcock, George H. Perkins, Robert C.
Watson, Theodore M. H. Hove, John
S. Snyder, 8. H. Purcell, and Walter G. Babcock.

Mr. Brewster was born on June 1,
1850, at the old Brewster homestead, 141 South Fitzhugh Street, a son of the late John H. and Emily S. Brewster.
He was educated at Phillips Andover Academy. Upon his graduation he earned a degree at Harvard and entered the wholesale grocery business with his father, founder of the firm of Brewster, Gordon & Comporary. Following the death of J. H.
Brewster, fifteen years ago, he became head of the business. In 1914 E. Frank Brewster, Jr., became associated with his father in the business, and is now general manager.

Mr. Brewster was a member of the Geneva Valley Club, the Country Club of Rochester and the Union League Club of New York City.

E. FRANK BREWSTER.

DEATHS—FUNERALS
GEORGE S. CRITTENDEN.
Death of Man Many Years on Editorial Staff of The Post Express.

George S. Crittenden, over twenty years a member of the editorial staff of The Post Express, died June 17, at his home, 226 South Goodman street. He leaves his wife, Katharine Louise Lux Crittenden; a brother,
Fred S. Crittenden, two nieces, Helen Louise and Ludelle Nimmons Crittenden; an uncle, W. Crittenden and two cousins, Butler Parnell Crittenden and Harry Crittenden, all of this city.

Mr. Crittenden was born in this city
March 19, 1841, the younger son of Ellery Channing Crittenden and Mary Crittenden. He was educated in the public schools and the old Free Academy. Upon his graduation from

The academy he entered the law ofices of his uncle, the late Delancy Crittenden, occasionally doing newspaper work on the "Herald" and continuing in the office of his uncle. Abandoning the study of law, he entered newspaper work on The Post Express, re-maindering with the paper over twenty years. Upon securing his connection with The Post Express, he entered the printing business, which he remained several years, then going to Boston where he was con-

Returning to Rochester about four years ago, he became secretary and manager of the famous Farmers and Merchants Bank. He was one of the organizers of the Farmers and Merchants Bank and was connected with that bank up to the time of his death.

Mr. Crittenden was married to Katharine Louise Lux, of Utica,
September 4, 1868. One of the founders of Rochester Lodge of Elks, Mr. Crittenden was the second exalted ruler of the lodge.

When a young man he was greatly interested in amateur theatricals and was one of the organizers of the Comedy Club, a successful amateur theatrical organization. He was one of the founders of the Press club, which was the predecessor of the Ass'n of professional theatrical companies.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historic Scrapbooks Collection
ATTORNEY IS STRICKEN AT HIS RESIDENCE

Willis R. Van DeMark, Prominent Rochester Lawyer, Taken by Death—Had Practiced Law Here as Partner of W. W. Webb.

Willis R. Van DeMark, prominent Rochester lawyer, died suddenly last evening at his home, 8 Highland Heights, from an attack of heart disease.

PHILIP MOHR BURIED WITH FULL HONORS

Funeral Services for Veteran of Civil War—Firing Squad Gives Salute as Body is Laid at Rest in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Funeral services for Philip Mohr, one of the oldest veterans of the Civil War, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home, 4108 Clinton Avenue South. Full military honors were accorded the late veteran, delegations from various societies being present. Services were conducted by the Rev. Adolph Baller, pastor of the Trinity Church, and the Rev. Fred Frankoford, who is fulling Y. M. C. A. work. Interment was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

PHILIP MOHR BURIED WITH FULL HONORS

Funeral Services for Veteran of Civil War—Firing Squad Gives Salute as Body is Laid at Rest in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Funeral services for Philip Mohr, one of the oldest veterans of the Civil War, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home, 4108 Clinton Avenue South. Full military honors were accorded the late veteran, delegations from various societies being present. Services were conducted by the Rev. Adolph Baller, pastor of the Trinity Church, and the Rev. Fred Frankoford, who is fulling Y. M. C. A. work. Interment was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

Moses Levinsky,Probably Oldest Veteran of Civil War Dies at His Home Here.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Moses Levinsky, 106, died on Thursday afternoon at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emma Levinsky, at 304 Henry Street. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mlle. Levinsky, 96, three daughters, Mrs. L. F. Portman and Mrs. Sarah Wagner of Rochester and Mrs. Anna Leibstein of Chicago. The funeral was held at the home of the deceased. Interment was made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.
EX-SUPERVISOR DIES SUDDENLY

Philip Mohr, of 17th Ward, suffers attack while marching in Odd Fellows Parade last night.

Philip Mohr, aged 65 years, of 1048 Clinton Avenue North, former supervisor of the Seventeenth Ward, suffered an attack of heart and kidney trouble while marching in the Odd Fellows' parade in Clinton Avenue South last night. He was taken into a store and died almost instantly.

The parade was supervised by Clinton Avenue South to Convention Hall June 10 - 1918.

PHILIP MOHR.

And at Court Street Mr. Mohr complained of feeling ill and dropped out of line. Coroner Smith was notified and granted a certificate.

Mr. Mohr was born in Baden Germany, May 29, 1849. He lived in Germany for five years and came to this country in 1854 with his parents. He received his education in the schools in this city and when a youth engaged in the painting and paperhanging business. At the age of 17 he entered the regular army, going to the Department of the Plateau, where he served until 1869, re-enlisting and serving until 1875. Meanwhile he entered fraternal life. He was special investigator of the Army and Navy Union, U. S. A.; president of the Baden Benevolent Society, a member of Koerner Lodge, 218, I. O. O. F.; of Sigel Tont, K. O. T. M.; of Leu of the Printers, Paperhangers' and Decorators' Union.

Mr. Mohr was prominent in political life and was supervisor of the Seventeenth Ward on the Republican ticket. He served two terms being elected in 1908 and serving until 1911, inclusive.

Catherine Louise, widow of Andrew V. Smith, died suddenly today. She leaves one daughter, Edith Louise Smith, and one grandson, Austin Rogers, of Petrolia, Russia. The funeral will be held at the residence, 8 Arnold Park, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Burial will be private.

JOHN H. PUTNAM

Son of Early Steuben County Settler Dies at Advanced Age of 81 Years at His Home in Avoca

By Special Dispatch to The Herald - Avoca, June 23 - John Henry Putnam, aged 81 years, for more than half a century a resident of this town, died yesterday afternoon at his home in South Main Street in this village. He had been in feeble health for a long time from the infirmities of age. He was the son of George Putnam, one of the earliest settlers of the adjoining town of Wheeler, where he was born and reared. In his early youth he united with the Methodist Church, of which he was one of the most active and valued members. His death removes one of the oldest members of the Avoca Masonic Lodge, with which he united soon after its organization.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Sidney Putnam, a well known citizen of Wheeler. The funeral will be held from the Methodist Church Friday.

WILLIAM H. CALDWELL

Established Industry

William Henry Caldwell, president of the Caldwell Manufacturing Company, died on Monday morning at his home at 256 West Avenue, aged 76 years. He was a native of Rochester and a graduate of the University of Rochester in 1863. For eight years he was engaged in the lumber business at Whitehall, N. Y., but for the last thirty years he had been head of the Caldwell Manufacturing Company, of which he was the founder. He was well known in the business community of Rochester.

WILLIAM HENRY CALDWELL

Mr. Caldwell was married in 1884 to Miss Frances Church, daughter of Sidney Church. Until his death he leaves a daughter, Miss Sarah Caldwell, and two sisters, Mrs. Emil Lapham and Mrs. Lucy Caldwell. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and had been a trustee of that organization for a number of years.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Lapham, tomorrow at 3 p.m. Burial will be made in the village cemetery.

FUNERAL OF A. SEEBAECH

Man Well Known in Singing Bodies is Buried Today

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historic Scrapbooks Collection
DEATH SUMMONS
THOMAS NEVILLE

He was a reporter and later city editor of the Democrat and Chronicle. In 1873 he was appointed clerk of the board of city works, and when appointed a member of the board sometime after, retained his place as clerk without additional cost to the city. With the creation of the executive board in 1876 he was among the first three candidates to stand for election and received a majority of 200. The others were Valentine Fleckenstein and Philip Hamlin, both dead. In 1876 he was made clerk of the water works and fire board, and when this board was merged with the executive board he was returned as one of its members, which position he retained until the executive board was legislatively out of existence. Then he became commissioner of public works, and when Franklin Fritchie, city assessor, died, was appointed to serve Mr. Fritchie's unexpired term. He filled this office for a substantial majority. At the end of that term he was re-elected, but always completed his term in good health.

He was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, April 30, 1815. He came to Rochester in 1858 and lived here the remainder of his life. He attended School No. 6 and other places of learning in Rochester and later taught school for a number of years.

EDWARD PUTNAM

Widow of Captain George C. Putnam
Passes Away in Iowa

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Putnam, widow of Captain George C. Putnam, of the old Twenty-Second New-York Volunteers, died at 10 o'clock in the morning after a long and heart-breaking illness. She was in the prime of life — about 60 years of age — and had been living in Council Bluffs, Iowa, for the past two years. She was born in New York State, and was much beloved by her friends and neighbors in this section.

She leaves a son, Charles W. Putnam, in Council Bluffs; a sister, Mrs. James P. Putnam, in Council Bluffs; a granddaughter, Mrs. Charles W. Putnam; and many friends.

ELIZABETH PUTNAM DEAD

SALESMAN DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Charles A. Lamphier, well-known salesman, died suddenly last evening at his home, 204 Chili Avenue. He was taken ill while out on business yesterday afternoon, but returned home in the evening feeling better. About 10 o'clock he complained of a severe pain in his chest. His physician was immediately called, but he died of heart failure within an hour.

Mr. Lamphier had been connected with Brewster, Crittenden & Co., for over 25 years. He was widely known and had many friends. He was a prominent Mason, a member of the Utica Lodge, the Vaucluse, Masonic Commandery, and Damascene Temple.

He is survived by his wife, one sister and one brother.
Miss Mary Hart, Heارد on Day Before Her Death of Kindergarten in Japan Named in Her Honor.

"We hailed the new kindergarten at Mita by a communion service and have named it the 'Hart Memorial.' Thus we commemorate your own loving and long continued efforts on behalf of Christ's little ones throughout the world and the memory of your dear brother." So the Rev. Charles H. Evans wrote from Japan in a letter received by Miss Mary Hart on the day before she passed to her reward.

The Odake kindergarten is the twenty-fourth founded by the "Little Helpers," a missionary society for little children in the Episcopal church, which is itself a lasting memorial to one whose enthusiasm for mission work has spread the branches of that influential organization through every diocese at home and abroad. Begun nearly thirty years ago with her infant nephew, Gaylord Hart Mitchell, and with the co-operation of the child's mother, this missionary society of little children has thousands of members who pray every noon for missionaries and all little children throughout the world and who offer the petition with every penny dropped into their mite boxes, "God bless all the missionaries all over the world and all the Little Helpers, for Jesus sake. Amen."

Far seeing a churchman as Bishop John McKim spoke of the society whose founder's funeral took place this afternoon as "one of the most beneficent and successful of ecclesiastical agencies," adding, "I want one in every field." So far as Japan concerned his wish is rapidly being fulfilled for the $1,000 for the last kindergarten hallowed in Odake was obtained through the instrumentality of Miss Hart, who wrote letters from her sick room soliciting subscriptions almost to the last day of her life. It is noteworthy too that this sum began with a consecrated twenty-five-cent piece which she had taken to a meeting of the denominational organization in Buffalo.

ROCHESTER BOY DIES SUDDENLY IN AMHERST, MASS.

Harold David Kaiser, 15 years of age, son of Rev. and Mrs. Frank Kaiser of 155 Woodward Street, and a student at Amherst College, died at Baptist Hospital, Amherst, Mass., yesterday. The exact nature of the illness to which young Kaiser succumbed is not known. Three years ago he suffered from lacerations of the knee and had to return from college for his freshman year to have the limb amputated.

He recovered apparently from the effects of the operation and after a brief period of convalescence at his home returned to Amherst college, despite the handicap of an artificial leg. Considerable concern was caused at the time of his illness, both at the hospital and by his friends in the city, at the miserable and brave way in which he preserved himself to his paternal and members of the East High School faculty related the case to their classes as examples of bravery in civilian life.

He had never, however, fully recovered from the effects of the operation, which was declared one of the most delicate ever performed in this city, according to physicians of Johns Hopkins Hospital who examined him.

Kaiser was one of the most popular men ever graduates from East High, having been the winner of the Yale poet for all-around ability and for being the most popular man in his class, that of June, 1914. In addition, he was also president of the Student Association, class of the Roman State, business manager of the Clarion, and the
WALTER RAUSCHENBUSCH, NOTED AMONG WRITERS OF ETHICAL AND SOCIAL QUESTIONS, DIES SUDDENLY

HERALD JULY 26, 1916

Professor of Rochester Baptist Theological Seminary Is Victim of Affliction, Which for Time Battled Physicians and Surgeons of Country—Rally, Which Followed Operation in Local Hospital in June, Proves Only Temporary.

Professor Walter Rauschenbusch of the Rochester Baptist Theological Seminary, well known throughout the country as a writer on ethical and social questions, and prominent in this part of the state in religious and educational circles, died yesterday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock in the Hahmemann Hospital. Though he had been ill several weeks and recently became very weak, his death was not looked for immediately and came as a shock to friends and colleagues.

For six or seven months Professor Rauschenbusch was not feeling well, though he was able to go on with his work at the seminary. On May 3, at the advice of his physicians, who were unable to diagnose accurately his ailment, Professor Rauschenbusch was sent to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for a two weeks hospital in this city. The operation apparently was a success and for a time hopes were entertained for his ultimate and complete recovery. But his weakened condition proved unable to withstand its effects, and Professor Rauschenbusch passed away in the evening of October 4, 1915.

He came of a long line of ministers and university graduates, and was always proud of that as a kind of moral and ancestral worth having. His father, who came to America in 1868, was a professor of English in the German College of this country, by thousands, was for thirty years' teaching among the overseas Germans then emigrating to this country.

In 1890 he became professor at Rochester Theological Seminary, first of the New Testament, and since 1902 of church history. He was an inspiring teacher and in the seminary and city he was a dominant intellectual and spiritual influence.

In the City Club of Rochester few foreign speakers drew larger crowds, which is very unusual, and none was heard with more enthusiasm.

Well Known Author

He had published a number of books during which anniversary years, but his first came into public notice in 1897 through the publication of "Christianity and the Social Crisis," which immediately achieved a remarkable success, and has often been reprinted as a book-making book. It appeared at a psychological moment, when Roosevelt was President and men like Bayard Holmes and Theodore Steffens were writing on social conditions. It did more than any other book to mobilize the spiritual forces of the church for the social awakening. John Haynes Holmes said of it four years later: "In the field of the church and the social question one book is supreme, namely, 'Christianity and the Social Crisis,' by Professor Walter Rauschenbusch. Into this book has gone the hearing of the scholar, the vision of the poet, and the passion of the prophet. It is radical without bitterness, uncompromising without enthusiasm. It is the first gospel in the New Dispensation." In "A Guide to Reading in Social Ethics," compiled by Harvard professors in 1909, "Christianity and the Social Crisis" was the only book starred in the literature on Religion and the Social Question.

His work in New York was fundamental in directing Professor Rauschenbusch's interest toward the condition of the working people. Believing profoundly in the regenerate and inspiring power of religion, his problem was how to connect the great latent forces of the Christian church with the moral task of regenerating the collective life of organized society. He studied social conditions in Europe and America, repeatedly spending years of study at universities abroad. After twenty years of study he wrote his first book on the subject. He wrote the draft in six weeks one summer, and rewrote it in another six weeks the following year. The manuscript was accepted by the Macmillan Company with the change of one apostrophe.

Influence Carried to Europe

In 1912 he published "Christianizing the Social Order," which was recognized as a book of still greater weight. It is claimed that the influence of both books has been even greater in the public life of Great Britain than in America.

In 1910 he published the "Precepts of the Social Awakening," which have been more quoted and reprinted than any of his writings. Some of them appeared in 1910 in the American Magazine, so that this magazine opened with a parody for an entire year. In 1918 the International Young Men's Christian Association published his "Social Principles of Jesus," a textbook of which over 30,000 copies were sold in a year. In 1917 he wrote "A Theology for the Social Gospel," an effort to expand the inherited theological ideas to include the redemption of the organized life of society from the "Kingdom of Evil." That is regarded by many as the most important and thought-provoking of all his books. Even now during war-time some of these books are being translated into Norwegian, Swedish, Finnish and Japanese. By many he was regarded as the outstanding prophet of social righteousness in the world to-day.

Popular as Speaker

Since he came into public notice through "Christianity and the Social Crisis," Professor Rauschenbusch was constantly in demand for public addresses, for he extended his capacity to comply. His voice was, of course, affected by asthma, yet he was one of the most popular speakers in the "Forum movement," especially in New England, and had unusual readiness in handling questions put to him by the audience. He paid no attention to the effects of elocution, but talked straight and simple, and his audiences by instinct, sincerity, abundance of ideas, capacity for illustration, and by a spontaneous kind of humor. The hold he had on audiences of all kinds, in spite of his terrible hardships, was always a surprise to himself. He never enjoyed audiences of thoughtful working-men and audiences of students. A student of him once said he couldn't help listening to him, for he is always saying something.

Professor Rauschenbusch delivered important series of lectures on various academic foundations at Berkeley, California, at Ohio Wesleyan, at Grinnell, at Amherst, and last at Yale.

He had two sisters, both married. He leaves his wife, Pauline, and five children, a daughter, Winifred, who is doing investigation work for a social foundation; William, who volunteered for ambulance service and has been in France since August, 1917; Paul, studying at Amherst, and Karl and Elizabeth, at East High School, Rochester.
HENRY H. PRYOR
DIES AFTER LIFE
OF USEFULNESS

Harvard Aug. 6-18

With a record as a successful manufacturer, a deputy City Comptroller and a deputy State Treasurer, Henry H. Pryor, a resident of Rochester since he was 2 years of age, died yesterday morning at his home at 533 Lake Avenue, aged 71 years. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Angell H. Pryor; a daughter, Mrs. Joseph A. Tait; a brother, Thomas P. Pryor, and two grandchildren. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o’clock from the home.

HENRY H. PRYOR

Henry H. Pryor was born in Buffalo, but came to Rochester when 2 years of age with his parents. He received his education here, and at the age of 14 years he entered the employ of the B. A. Woodbury Company, engine and boiler manufacturers, where he was employed for thirty years, finally becoming a member of the firm. Later he became president and general manager of the Woodbury Engine Company. He became deputy City Comptroller under Comptroller James Johnston and joined Comptroller James Johnston later in the City with Mr. Johnston later in the City. He was appointed as the new permanent Comptroller by State Treasurer Thomas D. Dunn.

In later years he was interested in the investment business, carrying on in connection with his work as deputy comptroller.

SON OF FAMOUS OLD ROCHester
FAMILY IS DEAD

Harvard Aug. 19-18

With the death of William T. Leighton in Rochester yesterday morning passed away the last member representative of an old Rochester family once known throughout the Eastern States. A sister, Miss Helene Leighton of the Vineyard Apartments, in the last living member of the family. Miss Leighton was in the South at the time of her brother’s death and was summoned home by telegraph. Arrangements for the funeral are awaiting her arrival.

William T. Leighton, who made his home at 302 Spring Street, was a son of the late Thomas and Kate Leighton. The family homestead at 750 East Avenue previous to 1809 and included a large tract since divided into choice residential lots. Thomas Leighton was the founder of the Leighton Bridge and Iron Works, afterwards the Alden Bridge and Iron Works, which eventually was made a part of the American Bridge Company. On his death, Thomas Leighton left a considerable fortune to his family. The widow occupied the homestead until her death, when the property was broken up.

It was stated by friends yesterday that William Leighton, who was 67 years of age, was one of the most likable of men and a great favorite with all who knew him. He was passionately fond of games of skill, such as pool and billiards, never playing for money, but able, by reason of his remarkable dexterity, to worry many a professional player. He was a moving spirit in numerous tournaments and was widely known among devotees of the green table.

For many years Mr. Leighton had been a popular member of the Rochester Whist Club, where he was a familiar figure. Members of the club yesterday spoke in the highest terms of his character and told of numerous instances of his kindly good fellowship. He also held a membership in the New York Athletic Club.

DEATH COMES TO F. M. YOUNG

Tribune

Prominent Member of Masonic Fraternity Dies—
Was Secretary of Genesee Falls Lodge 19 Years.

Frederick M. Young, a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, died this morning at his home, 74 Cleveland Street, aged 51 years. He had been ill for several weeks. Besides his wife, Mabel Miller Young, he is survived by one son, Franklin Young; two daughters, Olive and Ruth, and a sister, Mrs. Andrew Hackeft, all of Rochester, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Young, of Woodstock, Ont., Canada.

FREDDIE R. YOUNG.

Frederick M. Young had been secretary of Genesee Falls Lodge, F. & A. M., for 19 years and he held memership also in Hamilton Chapter, R. A. M., Doric Council, R. & S. M., Rochester Consistory, A. A. Scottish Rite, Damascus Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., and Laila Rookh Groto, M. O. Y. P. E. R. and Flower City Council, U. C. T. He was also identified with Monroe Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star and was a member of Central Presbyterian Church and had been a member of the choir for many years.

The funeral will be held from the house at 3 o’clock next Monday afternoon and the services at the grave in Mt. Hope Cemetery will be in charge of the officers of Genesee Falls Lodge.
Professor J. H. Gilmore's 'Task On Earth Done'

Honored Educator and Author Called by Death.

Wrote "He Leadeth Me" in Abstracted Moments

Professor Gilmore Penciled It When Talking with Group of Friends.

Hymn Known World Over

He Leadeth Me.

"He Leadeth Me," a blessed thought; it words with heavenly comfort fraught. Whatever I do, wherever I be,
Still his God's hand that leadeth me.

He leadeth me, He leadeth me.
By his own hand he leadeth me.
His faithful follower I would be.
For by his hand he leadeth me.

Sometimes sad stories come to me,
Sometimes when I am alone;
Sometimes when I am woeful:
Sometimes when I am alone.

Lord, I shall not fear, even though the waves come in.
Still, by his God's hand that leadeth me.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County Historic Scrapbooks Collection
The hymn has been translated into many different languages, perhaps more than any other modern hymn, as it appeals especially to the wanderer and the outcast, and I have received many touching letters from the exiles and help it has rendered God's dear children. It was to that end, I take it, that He put it into my mind and heart when, as it must have been, I didn't have the faintest conception of what I was doing.

Bishop Paddock insisted that the hymn should be included in the revised hymnal of the Protestant Episcopal Church, saying, "How could I conduct a service in a home for the aged if I couldn't say "He Leadeth Me." President Anderson heard it sung with great fervor in the mining camps of Colorado.

Sung in Chinese Court.

"One of my former students writes me that it is the favorite hymn of the Japanese Christians. The hymn was actually sung in a Chinese court of justice by a Chinaman who had never seen a white missionary, to show the President justice what a Christian hymn was like. The man was on trial for renting a building to some Christians who had opened an opium den, and, as the judge at their meetings the Christians prayed and sang hymns, he was asked for such a hymn. He sang "He Leadeth Me."

Joseph H. Gilmore was born in Boston, Mass., April 28, 1834, the son of Joseph Albro Gilmore, governor of New Hampshire from 1839 to '53, and Ann Whipple Gilmore. Professor Gilmore was educated from Phillips Academy in 1854, from Brown University in 1859, and from Newton Theological Seminary in 1861. At Brown he was a classmate of the late John Hay, secretary of state under William McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt.

In Railroad Work.

Before he entered college Professor Gilmore was a railroad man. He naturally inclined to that sort of work, as the family had been connected prominently with the New England railroads. His father before becoming governor of New Hampshire was a railroad man, and at one time was president of the Concord & Clarmout road. Professor Gilmore's uncle, William Gilmore, was president of the Boston & Albany road. It was doubtless because of his early experience with railroad men that he took such an interest in them and in the railroad Y. M. C. A.

He taught at Newton one year, and then became pastor of the Baptist church at Nashuaville, N. H. During his father's term as governor of New Hampshire the son was his private secretary, and at the same time editor of the Concord (N. H.) Daily Journal.

Pastorate in Rochester.

Professor Gilmore was called to the pastoral charge of the Second Baptist Church of Rochester in 1865 and occupied the pulpit two years. He was then appointed to the chair of English language and literature at the University of Rochester. He retired in 1898 after more than forty years of service, and was the last of the 'old guard.' Professors Kendrick, Quinby, Mixter, Robinson and Lattimore and President Anderson.

Professor Gilmore was the author of several of the study of literature. Among them are "The Art of Expression," "English Language and Literature," "Outline Studies of English and American Literature" and "Familiar Chats About Books and Reading."

TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE AUTHOR OF "HE LEADETH ME"

"He Leadeth Me"

A TRIBUTE TO PROFESSOR GILMORE

Tribute to a well-known Writer—Other Hymns Noticed.

There is one militant hymn that will always hold its own. It is Bar-ling-Gould's "Onward, Christian Sol-diers." There is a strong demand for other militant hymns just now, but there is none forthcoming.

When a great American band led the soldiers of our republic down a Paris boulevard on the last Fourth of July, playing "Onward, Christian Sol-diers," the crowds grew quite wild over it. They knew nothing about the words of the hymn—very good words they are—nor the cadence of Sir Arthur Sullivan's music made their pulse leap.

Some time after, several members of the senior class in a certain American university were asked to make a list of the leading hymns of the day. "Onward, Christian Soldiers" was first choice. Then came Professor J. H. Gilmore's "He Leadeth Me," H. F. Lyte's "A Ideal Life with Me," "The King of My Soul"; Toplady's "Rock of Ages"; John Henry Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light"; Sarah Flower Adams' "Nearer, My God, to Thee;" Charlotte Elliott's "Just As I Am;" Huber's "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," and "Holy, Holy, Holy."

The old hymns remain, but the old hymn writers are rapidly passing away.

In 1918 Penny Crosby, one of the most prolific of writers, whose "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" was sung by millions, died at her Connecticut home at a ripe age. She had been blind for many years.

A little later the venerable author of "I Need Thee Every Hour" passed away in her New England home. And on Tuesday the writer of "He Leadeth Me," one of the best known and most popular of hymns, died at his home in Rochester, aged 84.

It was Dr. Joseph Henry Gilmore a scholar and educator, professor of English at the University of Rochester for more than forty years.

From the fields of pedagogy he turned aside and wrote the exquisite hymn that is the one thing by which he will be remembered as time wears on.

It was the late George Williams Curtis who is credited with saying, "I have written many pages, quite sufficient for many volumes, yet sometimes I wish that I could put them all my efforts in one notable unit of excellence, a great song, a great hymn—preferably an old hymn, beloved of the people, familiar to child-life, no. tounges, touched with the sanctity of the ineffable subject that was its inspiration and its.

That was the gift which came to the old scholar of Rochester.—Cleveland "Plain Dealer."
Dr. Gilmore's Expression of Desire That Title of Hymn Be Placed on His Tombstone.

In his life, it was the desire of Dr. Joseph H. Gilmore, noted educator and poet, that the title of his famous hymn, "He Leadeth Me," be placed on his tombstone. Dr. Gilmore died yesterday. It is probable that his family will carry out this request.

Memorial Resolutions.

Memorial resolutions on the death of Professor Joseph H. Gilmore have been adopted by the board of the People's Rescue Mission. Professor Gilmore was one of the incorporators. In 1896, he was elected on the board of trustees from that time, and for twenty years he was president. The mission has had a true friend," read the resolutions. "The city has lost a poet, a scholar, and a Christian gentleman of the first type."

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Professor Joseph Henry Gilmore, Ph. D., on July 23, 1918, the People's Rescue Mission has suffered a great loss. He was one of its incorporators, in 1896, served on its board of trustees from that time, and for twenty years was its president. He has been an active and influential member of the board for many years.

Dr. Gilmore, a man of broad vision, was a leader in the educational and social life of Rochester. He was a member of the board of trustees of the University of Rochester, and was president of the Rochester Theological Seminary. He was a member of the board of trustees of the Rochester Baptist Church. He was active in many of the educational and cultural organizations of the city.

Dr. Gilmore is survived by his wife, Miss Sarah Sykes, and their children, Miss Carrie Sykes, and Mrs. William Sykes.

The funeral service will be held at the Rochester Baptist Church on July 25, 1918.

W. H. HADDLETON

Rochester, N. Y.

Mortuary Record

Stanley F. Shippy.

Stanley F. Shippy, a well-known realtor of Rochester, died yesterday at his home at 250 East Avenue, aged 34 years. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Shippy; his mother, Mrs. Margaret Shippy; two sisters, Mrs. E. Monroe and Mrs. Helen Fisk, and two brothers, George and Charles Shippy. He was a member of the Typographical Union 15 of Rochester, having served as its president in 1916.

Rochester Evening Times.

In 1916 he was appointed by the Rochester Times to be its assistant editor.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County Historic Scrapbooks Collection.
Christopher Hartman Plumb, retired real estate man, died on Wednesday evening. He was in business in the Reynolds Arcade for twenty-eight years, but retired three years ago. For twenty-nine years he lived at No. 9 Bowley street.

Mr. Plumb was born on April 8, 1820, in Farmington. He came to Rochester in 1888. He spent his early years on a farm. He married Delia Howland, who died on March 9, 1865. They had five children, four sons, William H., Robert J., Almond H. and Watson S. Plumb, daughter, Mrs. H. J. Judson; eight grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Since his wife died Mr. Plumb had lived with his son, Robert J. Plumb. He was a continuous subscriber for the Democrat and Chronicle for many years.

MORTUARY RECORDS - AUG. 19, 1898

Funeral of B. C. Pardon - 1898

The funeral of Byron Chamberlin Parsons will take place from the home at 94 South Washington street and will be at noon tomorrow, and will be held in Maplewood Cemetery, Henrietta.

Mr. Chamberlin received his education at the School in Elba. He was a member of the Old Free Academy and Professor Benfield's school and entered the University of Rochester at the age of 16 years, the youngest student to enroll at that time. He was business manager of the college paper. He began his career as an architect in the office of the late Oscar Reuel. Later he was chief clerk in the land office of Florida. He was active in Cuba and the Spanish American War and afterward was afterward with Washington at Valver Vozes. Among his maternal ancestors were the Chamberlins and Chamberlins of New England and the Nelson and Wadsworth families of Maryland and Virginia. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Charlotte A. C. Parsons, and a sister, Mrs. Stephen C. Pay.

Henry Fairfield Burton.

Henry Fairfield Burton, tutor professor of Latin and for a time acting president of the University of Rochester, died suddenly yesterday at his summer home near the village at Consewau. The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Consewau.

HENRY FAIRFIELD BURTON.

Professor Henry Fairfield Burton, tutor professor of Latin and for a time acting president of the University of Rochester, died suddenly yesterday at his summer home near the village at Consewau. The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at Consewau.

Clarence Williams.

Clarence Williams, who was a well-known resident of this city some 16 years ago and well remembered died on the 23rd of this month in a Brooklyn hospital for an illness of some months. He was brought to Rochester and was privately buried at the family lot at St. John Cemetery.

Mr. Williams was the youngest son of the late Barron Williams, and was born in March 1857. His parents will be remembered by many of the older residents. His mother was Miss Sarah Brown, a physician, after whom Brown street was named. He leaves two brothers, John William and Henry H. Williams, both of whom live in the city, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Gertrude Holton Williams, formerly of this city, now of New York. For the past 16 years Mr. Williams has been engaged in business in New York City.

He was one of the charter members of the old First Separate company, and was a member of the quartet when he was an undergraduate. He was one of the first members of Company A, Boys in Blue, and was a passable man, of a kindly disposition, and made many friends who always remained his friends. Those who knew him living in Rochester will bear of his death with a heart-felt sorrow.

By JOHN CURR.

One of Founders of Sibley Store Dies in Colorado Springs.

John Cur, one of the founders of the Sibley, Lindsay and Curt company, was buried today at his home in Colorado Springs.

He leaves one son, John Curt, Colorado Springs, three daughters, Mrs. Roland B. Woodward, and Jessie and Rosabelle Curt, of Colorado Springs.

Mr. Curt was born in Scotland and with Alexander M. Lindsay and Rufus A. Sibley, came to Rochester and on March 20, 1848, opened the Houston store in Main street near St. Paul street, which developed into the department store of Clifton avenue and Main street. Eight years later Mr. Curt went West in search of health and to extend his interest in the firm. He bought a large ranch and is reported to have accumulated a fortune.
PROFESSOR H. F. BURTON DIES AT SUMMER HOME
Heart Attack Following Exertion Proves Fatal.

FORTY YEARS AT UNIVERSITY

NOTE D STUDENT OF LATIN AND PHILOLOGY - SERVED TWICE AS ACTING PRESIDENT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LATIN SINCE 1853 - LEAVES FAMILY

Henry Fairfield, A.B., M.A., LL.D., Tread professor of Latin at the University of Rochester and a member of the university faculty for more than forty years, died suddenly of heart failure yesterday afternoon at his summer home at Cayuga. Although ill for the last two years, he continued his active connection with the university until the time of his death and was always at work on Monday. It is believed that overexertion provoked the fatal attack.

As head of the Latin department of the University Professor Burton became eminent in his profession as a teacher of Latin and a philologist. So much of his energy was devoted to his teaching, however, that it was primarily in this field that he appeared as a public figure. While he contributed from time to time to literary and scientific journals, it is understood that he never coveted the reputation of an author.

Honored by Denison

Born in Ellira, Ohio, on July 17, 1851, a son of Nathan Smith and Sarah J. Fairfield Burton, he received his early education in that vicinity, where he spent his boyhood. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1872 and master of arts in 1873. In 1895 the degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon him by Denison University.

Dr. Burton's first marriage took place on June 23, 1885, when Miss Anna Cushing McRay, of Hamilton, Mass., became his wife. His second wife, who survives him, was Miss Matian Williams Perrin, of Rochester, who was married to him on June 24, 1898. Three children survive, Andrew, Sarah and Henry Burton. The daughter is a student at Vassar College.

His career as a teacher began at Denison University, where he was instructor in Latin and Greek from 1872 until 1874. He was instructor in Latin at the University of Michigan in 1874 and 1875. The two succeeding years Dr. Burton spent abroad, studying philology at the University of Leipzig.

Twice Acting President

Upon his return in 1877 he became assistant professor of literature at the University of Rochester. He has held his professorship since 1885. When David James Hill terminated his presidency at the university in 1895, Dr. Burton succeeded him as acting president of the institution. He retained this position until Dr. Euan R. McChesney became president in 1900. He again acted as president in Dr. Rhea's absence for a year of study abroad in 1908.

Noted Violinist

William Morse Rummel, noted violinist, brother of a well known composer, a former member of the faculty of the Institute of Musical Art in Princeton, and a grandson of Samuel F. R. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, died on Saturday morning in Denver. He was only 36 years of age. He had been a resident of Rochester until last spring, when he went west for his health.

Funeral of Albrecht Vogt

Nogt This Afternoon

Albrecht Vogt, well known banker and business man of Rochester, died at his summer home at Genesee-Eaton Park on Saturday. The funeral will take place this afternoon from his city home at 487 Grand Avenue. Burial will be made in Mt. Hope Cemetery.
MRS. JOSEPHINE GREGG CHAPPELL PASSES AWAY Invaluable as Historian—Started Movement to Have Bodies of Sullivan’s Men Re-interred.

The Rochester Historical society and Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, a valued member in the death of Mrs. Josephine Gregg Chappell whose place can not he filled, who was the widow of William Chappell and whose father was related to John Griege, of which the Grig Street tract for which Greig street is named and builder of the first Charles street Bridge, passed away quietly at her home, 902 Harvard
Street, this morning.

For about twenty years Mrs. Chappell was historian and genealogist of trondequill chapter, D. A. R. In the last two years she had been necrologist of the Historical society.

For years she gathered historical facts in relation to Rochester and this season as An
in gathering data as to dates and places, places, she was invaluable to those men and women who have been interested in this work.

Mrs. P. F. Dow, regent of Tronde-quill chapter, to-day said Mrs. Chappell’s place could not be filled by anyone else.

At her home in Harvard street, the aged woman kept many of historical documents, clippings and illustrations.

Her library contained probably the most complete volume as any part of the city’s past.

Mrs. Chappell won much renown through her interest in a period of five years, in finding places and records to prove the facts in connection with the removal of Revolutionary soldiers in Mt. Hope cemetery.

She started the movement for the re-interment of the bodies of the soldiers who were killed in the Civil War.

In 1841 the bodies of Captain Thomas Boyd and his men were brought to Rochester and placed in Mt. Hope

The ground in which they were interred was acquired by a Rochester chapter of the Civil War was going on.

Mrs. Chappell aroused interest in her plan to have the bodies reinterred and helped by the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution for finding the bodies.

A steel flag pole now marks the last resting place.

Mrs. Chappell found many other graves of soldiers in the county.

She had charge of the work of decorating them each Memorial day and was of great assistance in other ways to the D. A. R. in preparing to have a special wreath for Mrs. Chap-pell’s grave and will be well represented at the services for which have not been completed.

In the autumn the chapter will hold a memorial meeting in honor Mrs. Chappell.

Mrs. Chappell leaves three children,
Charles W. of Cleveland, Ohio, Miss Julia G. of Rochester, and Arthur B. Chappell, engi-nner, of Rochester. A sister, Mrs. Julia G. of the city, also survives her.

Mrs. Chappell was of a modest, retiring nature, a capable worker and always ready to lend a hand in any worthy cause. Due to her dese to avoid being conspicuous, her part in the reinterment of the bodies of the massacred soldiers is known to comparatively few persons. She had a peculiar skill in searching out property records.

In 1877 the American colonists were suffering frightfully from outages committed by the Mohawk and Seneca Indians, who had cast their lot with the British in the Revolutionary war. General John Sullivan was sent to chastise them. At Little Beard’s Town Captain Boyd and Sergeant Michael Parker were sent at the head of a small scouting party to discover whether there were any Indians near They discovered the Indians, who killed all but four and these four would have been slain had they not managed to escape.

When the bodies were removed to Rochester in 1841 there was much pomp and ceremony. The bodies of Boyd and
Parker were brought here in a large urn.

The bones of the others were in a large box. The two receptacles were placed on what was termed Revolutionary hill in Mt. Hope cemetery.

A few years later the urn was overturned in a violent storm. The bones were scattered. They were gathered and, those of the other soldiers placed in the ground.

The land belonged to the city, while it was with the consent of the
the land was used as the resting place for the soldiers, no one had thought of obtaining this for.

In 1844, when the Civil War was raging and no one had any thought for anything else hardly,

November 1, 1903, in the presence of a large assemblage, with an address by Rev. Murray Barlow, of Mt.
Park’s church, now in the memorial service of the G. A. R., and with three volleys from the Sixth Regimental band, the bodies brought from the mounts by the bugs, the bodies were placed in ground of which the Sons and Daughters are assured of permanent title.
LOUIS N. STEIN
STEIN-BLOCH CO.
PRESIDENT, DIES

Death Of Volunteer War Worker, Officer Of Jewish Orphan Asylum Hero
The funeral of Julius Hofeller of Buffalo, head of the division of waste, rags and rubber in the reclamation department under the quartermaster general, was held at his home this afternoon.
Mr. Hofeller died on Saturday in New York of typhoid fever, following an illness of three weeks duration. He was born in Buffalo on October 13, 1869.
Mr. Hofeller became a "dollar-a-year" man in the government service in February of this year, when he was called to Washington, D. C., to take charge of the collecting, storing and selling of waste rags and rubber in the reclamation division of the army conservation department, under the quartermaster general. He is said to have effected a saving of millions of dollars in the handling of bids for the sale of the waste materials. In the storing of materials Mr. Hofeller did excellent work, commending building structures where apparently none were to be had, and getting sufficient quarters for the waste rags and rubber to be taken from the camps and other places owned by the government.
Mr. Hofeller was a member of the board of governors of the Federation of Jewish Charities, and was a standing fund commissioner of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum of Western New York, at Rochester.
He leaves a wife, Julia, a son, Robert, and a daughter, who is with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, and five other children.
The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the house.

Oct. 6, 1918

LOUIS N. STEIN
STEIN-BLOCH CO.
PRESIDENT, DIES

Head of One of Greatest Clothing Manufacturing Companies in the World Passes Away at Home in Charlotte, Oct. 1, 1918

LOUIS N. Stein, president of the Stein-Bloch Co., clothing manufacturers on St. Paul street, died this morning at his home on Beach avenue, Charlotte, after an illness of three years. He had been critically ill several weeks and his death had been expected momentarily for several days.
Mr. Stein was born in Geneva on Oct. 21, 1857, the son of Nathan Stein, founder of the Stein-Bloch company and the pioneer wholesale clothing manufacturer of the United States. Louis Stein came to Rochester when a very small boy and was associated throughout his life with the business that his father established.
The Stein-Bloch company, for the growth of which Louis Stein and his brother Simon, were largely responsible, was established by the father in 1847. It was one of the first wholesale clothing manufacturing houses in this country, and it has been developed into one of the largest and best known establishments of its kind in the world. Louis Stein has been president of the company for many years, but had not been active in the business for the past two years, due to failing health.
Mr. Stein was also one of the founders of the Infants' Summer Hospital at Charlotte and up to the time of his death remained interested in that institution. He has been one of Rochester's largest contributors to all worthy philanthropies.
Mr. Stein left during his whole life in Rochester and moved to his home on Beach avenue several years ago.
He is survived by his brother, Simon Stein, and four sisters, Mrs. J. M. Mathews, Mrs. M. E. Wolf, Mrs. Samuel Well, all of Rochester, and Mrs. L. E. Kirfman of Boston. He was a member of Yonndondo Lodge, F. and A. M.; Ionic Chapter, 31st, B. R.; M. Dairie Council, 10th; Royal and Select Masters; Rochester Consistory, A. A.; Scottish Rite Masons and Damascus Temple, A. A. G. M.

LOUIS N. STEIN
The funeral of Louis N. Stein, late president of the Stein-Bloch Company, was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Mt. Hope Chapel. The services were conducted by Yonndondo Lodge, members of which attended the funeral in a body. Rochester Consistory was also present in a body, as was Damascus Temple and members of other Masonic orders.
In the death of Louis N. Stein the Rochester business community loses one of its leaders. As president of the Stein-Bloch Company he was instrumental in spreading the reputation of this city as a clothing manufacturing center to all parts of the country.

Mr. Stein was an active force in civic affairs, although he always shrank from holding any official position. He was a generous giver to public charities, being especially interested in the Infants Summer Hospital, which he helped to found.

Following the path of his father, Nathan Stein, pioneer wholesale clothing manufacturer of the United States, Louis Stein was in the front rank of those who have given Rochester the name of a center where honest goods are made. He was liked by those who worked for and with him, and always sought to get things done rather than to secure any personal prominence. His death will be felt by a wide circle of friends.

ON DEATH OF MISS PHENEY.

Memorial Adopted by Cathedral School Society, Oct. 1, 1918.

Cathedral School Association has adopted the following memorial to Miss Mary Phene, the committee being composed of Rev. J. Francis O'Hara, Frank N. Hanna and Martin R. O'Neil.

Miss Mary Pheneys, who died Sunday after several months illness, was private secretary for Dr. John M. For twenty years, only relinquishing her work a few weeks ago. She came as young girl to Rochester with a widowed mother from Livonia, N. Y., where she was born, and entered the Cathedral school, from which she graduated in the class of 1892. She then spent about five years at home, in the Rochester Cooperage company, and in a law office, before taking up the secretarial work at Dr. Lewis. She was a member of the Cathedral parish and of the Rosary society.

At a meeting of the officers of Cathedral School association, held at the Cathedral rectory, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That in the death of Miss Mary Pheneys the city of Rochester and a wide circle of citizens have lost a noble character. She occupied an important and confidential position for several years and was regarded as a model of doing untold good to hundreds of sick and unfortunate people who came within the circle of her benign influence. Especially would we remember her charitable deeds which are better known to her Maker than to the world.

Resolved, That the Cathedral School association express its deep sense of sorrow to the bereaved family, to whom a copy of these resolutions will be sent, assuring them that their beloved one will ever have sweet memories in the hearts of those who knew and loved her in her school years.

Edgar A. Crawford.

Edgar A. Crawford, vice president of the Rochester Bureau of Printing, an artist of recognized talent, died yesterday morning in Park Avenue Hospital. He leaves a widow, his parents, Mrs. A. Baker of Syracuse, Mr. Crawford was to have been married on Monday to Miss Matilda Mehlinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mehlinger of Wewick Avenue. The remains were taken to family home and will be removed to Enderlin, N. Y. for burial.

JAMES M. BRAZILL.

Edgar A. Crawford, vice president of the Rochester Bureau of Printing, an artist of recognized talent, died yesterday morning in Park Avenue Hospital. He leaves a widow, his parents, Mrs. A. Baker of Syracuse, Mr. Crawford was to have been married on Monday to Miss Matilda Mehlinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mehlinger of Wewick Avenue. The remains were taken to family home and will be removed to Enderlin, N. Y. for burial.
Chauncey B. Doxtater, Who Taught Half of Rochester To Swim, Succumbs to Long Illness—Had Pool on North Water Street.

Chauncey B. Doxtater, who for half a century was proprietor of the old Doxtater swimming baths and swimming pool on North Water street, and who taught more Rochesterians to swim than any man in Rochester, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 449 Meigs street, after an illness of several years. The funeral will take place from the home at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

It was nearly 50 years ago that the spring of water which has made Rochester famous was discovered accidentally. In 1869, while drilling on Longmuir Brewing Company property, afterward the Hathaway & Gordon brewery, in what is now North Water street, workmen, after reaching a depth of 200 feet, discovered one of the best mineral springs in this part of the country.

The springs became so famous that in 1845 a commission was appointed to analyze waters of the bath. The report on file at Albany today describes the Rochester spring as one of the best in the state.

The Doxtater family acquired the property in 1852 and was operated until a few years ago by Chauncey B. Doxtater. For more than half a century Mr. Doxtater as proprietor of the baths gave swimming lessons to thousands of boys, young and old, in the city and is remembered affectionately by hundreds of middle-aged men today as the person that taught them the proper use of the swimming pool. He retired from the business in the summer of 1912, due to failing health.

A year ago last April a company headed by a Boston man, Leon J. Meadland, was formed to reopen the springs. Among those interested in the project were Martin E. Wolff, Miter T. O'Byrd, Judge Willis M. Gillette, Eugene J. Heyer, Harry C. Trevis and Mr. Doxtater. It is understood that this project has been given up.
Dr. Bradford A. Richards

Victim Of Pneumonia

Dr. Bradford Augustus Richards of 1375 Highland Avenue, died yesterday afternoon of pneumonia, aged 81 years. Dr. Richards was born at Yorkmouth, Nova Scotia, on June 12, 1877. He was educated at McGill University, in Montreal, graduating in 1901. This was followed by three years' work in the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. He began practice in Rochester in November of 1906 in partnership with Dr. John F. Roe. The funeral will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the home and will be private. Dr. Richards was called to Nova Scotia in August by the death of his mother. He was almost immediately recalled in September by the sudden death of his father.

On April 28, 1909, Dr. Richards married Miss Fanny M. Lowell of this city. Besides his wife, he leaves three children, John Lowell Richards, Carol Francis Richards and Charles Churchwell Richards. He was a member of the Otolaryngological Association, the Rochester Academy of Medicine, the Hospital Medical Society, and the Monroe County Medical Association.

WALTER H. CARTER

Walter Henry Carter, for more than fifteen years organist and choirmaster of Christ Episcopal Church, died yesterday at his home in Long Meadow, Pittsford, aged 52 years. He had been ill from influenza only since Friday.

Mr. Carter was born in Clifton, England, and obtained his musical education in that country. He held diplomas from the Incorporated Society of Musicians of England and was a member of the Royal Academy of Music of London. He came to America in 1886 and was organist of St. Mark's, Brooklyn. Later he went to Portland, Me., where he was organist in St. Luke's Cathedral, coming from Portland to Rochester.

Since his arrival in Rochester, Mr. Carter has become widely known for his congregational and for instrumental music. He had been dean of the Rochester chapter of the Guild of American Organists and was chairman of the Monon County Chapter of the National Guild of Organists. Miss Minnie L. Carter, his wife, is a member of the Rochester Teachers' Association and held the honorary title of Master of Long Meadow Church. He leaves a wife and two sons.

The funeral will be held from Christ Church tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and will be private.

NATHAN REED GRAVES

Man Noted for Photographs of Rochester Parks Dies, 1918

Nathan Reed Graves died Saturday night at his home, 86 Kingston street, aged 49 years, born in Syracuse and received his education at the University of Syracuse, but later moving to Rochester, where he has since lived. He specialized in horticultural photography and his photographs of Rochester parks were in the catalogues of the parks commission and of Flower City Council. U.C.T. He leaves his wife, Cecilia H. Graves, four daughters, Dorothee L., Christine, Marjorie and Barbara Graves, one son, Nathan H. Graves, his father, Maurice A. Graves, of Syracuse and two sisters, Alice R. Graves, and Helen G. Sappoge. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 from the house. Burial will be in Syracuse.
ALLEN C. BEACH
ONCE HELD HIGH
STATE OFFICES
DIES HERE AT THE AGE OF NINETY-THREE YEARS.

Twice Elected Lieutenant-governor, and One Term Secretary of State
—Old-time Politics.

Allen C. Beach, twice lieutenant-governor, and for one term secretary of state of New York, who for many years had enjoyed the distinction of being the oldest existing lieutenant-governor of this state—possibly of any state—died last night, aged 93 years, at the home of his only living child, Mrs. E. W. Evers, 44 North Goodman street, where he had lived about eight years. Mrs. Evers' husband is a physician and a major in the military at the time of his death.

Mr. Beach was a born leader of men and impressed his personality vividly on the times of his activity. Although for many years retired from active life he retained both intellectual and physical vigor in a remarkable degree.

Born on a farm in the town of Fairfield, Herkimer county, on October 9, 1823, Mr. Beach removed when a mere lad to the village of Water- town in Jefferson county. In the days when Rochester was little more than a name to the people of the eastern end of the state and when stage coaches were employed to supplement the few and uncertain steam trains, young Beach attended the old Jordan academy in Oneida county, and later Mexico academy in Oswego county. After that he entered Union college, from which he was graduated in 1849.

Starting in Politics.

For a year after his graduation Mr. Beach was a teacher in the Watertown academy. Then he decided to follow his natural bent, the direction of law and accordingly entered the law office of a man named Moore at Watertown. After spending there for two years he was admitted to the bar, in 1842.

It was not until he had become fairly well established in legal practice in Watertown that Mr. Beach engaged in political activities. As clerk of the village and supervisor of schools for several years, he became known to the people of Jefferson county as a man of enterprise, efficiency and good hard sense.

Mr. Beach's opportunity came just after the close of the civil war. In 1865 he was made chairman of the Jefferson county democratic committee. He at once proceeded to install a new complete system of organization than the party had ever had in that county. The substance of Mr. Beach's plan was to appoint five or six men in each election district to keep in touch with the voters and to report continually to the party leaders. A complete record of every vote was kept and special attention was paid to the doubtful counties. At election day itself the party was able to muster every available vote. The result was shown first when the democratic party elected a majority of 600 a majority of the Court of Appeals. It was the first democratic victory in a long line of strongly republican wins.

The success of Mr. Beach's system of organization attracted the attention of Samuel J. Tilden, then chairman of the state committee of the democratic party. A conference followed, with the result that Mr. Beach was made chairman of the executive committee of the party in charge of organization. He at once proceeded to extend his new organization system to meet the greater demands of the state.

The next year, 1868, was gubernatorial year. Mr. Beach's system had brought him into prominence before the voters of the state. Accordingly, when the state ticket was named that fall, John T. Hoffman for governor and Allen C. Beach for lieutenant-governor headed it. In opposition the republican candidates were George A. Gregory for governor and Ambrose B. Cornell for lieutenant-governor. The democratic ticket was successful by something more than 27,000 majority.

Renominated in Rochester.

Two years later the democratic convention, then meeting in Rochester, renominated both Hoffman and Beach in opposition to the republican ticket headed by Stewart L. Woodford for governor and Samuel Kaufman for lieutenant-governor. This time a majority of more than 39,000 was recorded.

One event that occurred in his administration will be recalled by old timers. In the summer of 1872 charges of financial irregularities in office were lodged against Supreme Court Justice Cardozo of New York city, and Mr. Beach as lieutenant-governor was required to preside over the impeachment court. Boniment counsel appeared for both sides and many technical points of law were involved. It is an interesting fact that every decision given by Mr. Beach was afterwards sustained by the higher courts.

January 1, 1873, the Hoffman-Beach administration surrendered the reins of control to Governor John A. Dix and Lieutenant-Governor John C. Robinson. After that Mr. Beach retired to Watertown once more for the practice of law, with the belief and desire that his political activities had come to an end, and no particular desire for office. But in 1877 his party called on him once more. The democrats were facing a critical situation and needed candidates to enable them to weather it successfully.

As Secretary of State.

So Mr. Beach was nominated for secretary of state. The election of 1877 was victorious by a plurality of a little more than 11,000. He served for three terms as Secretary of State, Lucius Robinson and in 1879 was renominated. That year, however, was a republican year, and Mr. Beach went down to defeat with the rest of his party. He lost the office of secretary of state to Joseph B. Carr by less than 8,000 votes. The republicans elected Alonzo B. Cornell as Secretary of State.

MORTUARY RECORD

Mrs. Allen C. Beach, of 44 South Goodman street, well known in business circles of Rochester, died on Friday at the home of a son, Frank, in Columbus, Ohio. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Alice Field; four sons, Frank H., Field of Columbus and Howard H., Harold L. and Kenneth Field of Rochester; a daughter, Miss Dorothy E. Field, and three grandchildren. The remains will be brought to Rochester for the funeral and burial. The Field was interested in a large number of enterprises and was president of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce and of the Equal Credit Commercial Trust Company.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County Historic Scrapbooks Collection.
PATIENT OF 95
WA5 5 YEARS
IN A HOSPITAL

"BOBBIE" CHURCH, SO CALLED,
DIES AT ST. MARY’S.

NAME LONG SINCE FORGOTTEN

Sebastian Mayer, as Early Records Show, Was Admitted in Days of Civil War.

Rochester has some claim for the long record for hospital patients in the person of “Bobbi” Church, who died yesterday at St. Mary’s hospital after having been an inmate of the institution for more than fifty-five years. The present generation of sisters, nurses and surgeons knew very little of the aged man whose presence had come to be regarded as one of their permanent features. He belonged there and those whom he encountered in the course of his daily life were not inclined to dispute his assertion.

In late years Mr. Church forgot even his age, and no one in the hospital could possibly know, as that the old man became current that he had passed well beyond the century mark and he was supposed to be about 116 years old.
So long had he been in the institution that even his right name was not known by those in daily contact with him, and it was not until after death that the facts were discovered.

Search was made of the musty hospital records of many years ago and finally the entry of his admission was found dated April 23, 1863. He was admitted under the name John Church, but his real name is shown to have been Sebastian Mayer and his birthplace Germany. He came to the hospital when he was 85 years old.

Speculation was current at the hospital after his death as to his earlier days. When he entered the hospital it was in its infancy, and under the direction of Mother Helene Young was doing noble work in caring for the soldiers wounded in the Civil War. More, too, may have been a case of a young German who sought the land of his birth to find true freedom in this land of promise and when the call to duty came left home and now found friends to battle for the land of his adoption. Then disease may have wrecked his constitution and condemned him to more than half a century of life as an invalid.

Loving hands took the patient in and cared for him, and those who had taken him in to die, he was passed on as a heritage of mercy to their successors. He may have been one for whom the strenuous battle for success in this new world of bustle and activity proved too much and he fell by the wayside but was not allowed to perish. Kind hands found him and tried to make pleasant what they perceived would be the last few years of his life. He outlined all of them and most of the generation which followed and came to a happy grand old age in surroundings which proved most congenial to him.

A Protestant when he entered the institution, outstanding his fifty-five years’ association with the Sisterhood in charge, ample evidence that though he had been nursed kindly and tenderly these many years peasantry had not been merged with merry

DEATH SUMMONS CLERK OF MONROE
COUNTRY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
AFTER SHORT SICKNESS AT HOME

Leaders in nearly every phase of Rochester’s life will mourn Byron
N. Chamberlain, clerk of the Monroe County Board of Supervisors, who died early yesterday morning at his home at 226 Howard Street, after two weeks’ illness brought about by prominent poisoning. He was 47 years old, being born in Rochester on December 28, 1872.

Jolly, good natured, always the same, with a warm hand for everyone, he took an active interest in everything that the board handled as its dealings and was foremost in everything which would benefit those to whom he owed his political success. He was elected clerk of the Supervisors on January 1, 1908.

The only relatives who survive him are his wife, Mrs. Nettie V. Chamberlain, a aunt, Mrs. Helen F. Ellegar, with whom he lived, and four cousins,
Mrs. H. A. Schanck, Mrs. F. H. Taylor,
Mrs. Alice Cunningham and John Chamberlain, all of whom live in Rochester, and two sisters, to whom he was devotedly attached, Mrs. Josephine Chamberlain, for years a teacher in Rochester schools, died about two months ago.

He died as he was nicknamed when he was very young, obtained his early education in grammar and high school at the old Rochester Free Academy.

When he finished there he entered the University of Rochester, from which he was graduated in the Class of ‘90. He was a member of Delta Kappa Epi-terity.

Following his graduation at college,
Mr. Chamberlain went to work for Scranton, Wetmore & Company’s bookstore. It was a short time after that he entered newspaper work as member of the menial staff in the Old Union and Advertiser.

Valuable Newspaper Man

Under the direction of the late Perry Drown and managing editor and editor of the Union, “Biddy” was educated in the work as few reporters were them days. That he was of great value to his newspaper spoke for itself. In 1913, he was appointed as a member of the Union staff for fifteen years which he continued to accept the ship of the Board of Supervisors. He was, perhaps, best known to the outside of a newspaper office as political writer and gatherer of City Hall news. Hundreds came to know him a writer of merit, some perhaps more intimately than others, though it virtually certain all will have the same wish to extend the families of Died

Byron Noel Chamberlain

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historical Scrapbooks Collection
PAY TRIBUTE TO BYRON N.
CHAMBERLAIN

Supervisors in Special Session Adopt Resolutions of Sympathy on His Death —Attend Funeral in Body. Sept. 18, 1918

Resolutions of respect and confidence on the death of Byron N. Chamberlain, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, were adopted at a special meeting of the board at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Chairman Fred H. Rapp was in the chair.

He named this committee on resolutions: Supervisors John Menzerink, David Singleton, Louis Duffield, and Elbert W. Bragdon.

Honorary bearers were named as follows: Supervisors Fred H. Rapp, John Menzerink, Adolph G. Schreck, Daniel Harrington, Addison D. Champion and Henry A. Bowman.

The resolutions expressed the grief felt not only by members of the board but also by the host of co-members of the board and friends of Mr. Chamberlain. Appreciation of the character of Mr. Chamberlain is beyond words to express, the resolution said, and mention is made of his mighty, generous heart, his affectionate nature, his sweetness and gentleness of character, his kindly consideration, his sturdy friendship and his cheerful, efficient service, which endeared him to all who came in contact with him. He was characterized as the guide, counselor and friend of all, whose great delight was to render cheerful, kind, helpful service.

Though he was cut down in the prime of manhood, in the full glory of his strength, his life work was well done.

The resolutions tender the warmest sympathy of the board to his bereaved relatives.

The board adjourned to attend the funeral in a body, services being conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at his late home, 117 Woodward street. Practically all of the county officials were in attendance, paying tribute to the memory of Mr. Chamberlain.

The active bearers were: Albert M. Flannery, Bernard J. Haggerty, Walter Boyle, Alfred Lackey, Frederick Hocher, Clarence A. Smith.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Frank Kaisar. Burial was at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

HARRY M. SCHALL
WELL KNOWN CITY PHYSICIAN, DIES

Dr. Harry Mayer Schall died yesterday at his home at 42 North Fitzhugh Street. Funeral arrangements are to be announced later.

Dr. Harry Mayer Schall was born in Owingsville, Pa., June 14, 1843. He was graduated from the State Normal College at Kutztown, Pa., in June, 1864, and attended Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, graduating from there in June, 1867. He later became assistant surgeon in the United States Navy and resigned from this position in March, 1889, to take up the general practice of medicine. He made his home in Rochester in 1889, residing here ever since.

Dr. Schall was a member of the State Medical Society, and also Genesee Falls Lodge No. 417, F. and A. M., of which lodge he was master in 1913. He was also a member of Rochester Consolidated Scottish Rite Masonic Damas Temple. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and Willbur Camp, W. of W.

The resolutions tendered the grief of the board and of all the community. Mr. Schall was a stanch Democrat, kind, helpful, service.

At the time of his death he was medical examiner for the United States Government Civil Service. In politics, he was a stanch Democrat, having been nominated for office a number of times.

He leaves his wife, Elizabeth G. Schall of Rochester; his mother, Mrs. Diana Adams of Adamantha, Pa.; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Anthony Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Valerie Newhart of Lebanon, Pa., and Mrs. Frank Drumheller of Philadelphia, and one brother, David Schall of Owingsville, Pa.

MORTUARY RECORD

Professor John B. O'Connor, well known to a former generation of school children in Rochester, as well as to the members of the teaching profession and the Monroe County bar, died yesterday at his home in Washington, D. C., following an operation. He was 84 years of age.

He was born in Ireland and studied for a time at Trinity College, Dublin. After coming to Rochester, he taught for a while and then opened a law office at the Sterling and Bank for a time at St. Andrew's Seminary and at the Cathedral School. Afterward he was a member of the faculty of old Bradstreet School, now abandoned. He left Rochester in 1860, after receiving the degree of bachelor of arts at the University of Rochester, and took a postgraduate course at the University of Chicago.

Two years later he was a student at Princeton for a year, and received a degree of doctor of philosophy. He specialized in the classics and was recognized as one of the foremost Greek scholars in America. In order to perfect his acquaintance with the Greek classics, he passed a year studying in Greece. He was particularly well versed in the Greek drama, and his knowledge of Attic tragedies is well known among scholars. Besides his other accomplishments, he studied law and was admitted to the bar, but never practiced. For a time he was an instructor of classics at Adelphi College, but after two years there was called to the chair of Greek at the Catholic University in Washington.

At the time of his death he was dean of the classical department at the university. He leaves a wife and two adopted children. Burial will be made at Indianapolis.

ELIZABETH V. NORTHROP

Death of Woman Prominent in Church and Social Work.

Elizabith V anno Northrop, widow of Andrew G. Northrop, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred W. Eggers, 4 Alliance avenue, after 70 years of a life devoted to a charitable and religious work. A railroad accident that occurred forty-three years ago when, on October 9, 1876, a New York Central train jumped the tracks, knocked down an arch of the old station at Mill street and ran into the waiting room, killing the engineer, A. Vlanco, engineer, and her husband, who was fireman. Mrs. Northrop had charge of the primary department of the State Industrial school for many years when it was on the present site of Exposition park. She was a lifelong resident of Rochester and for fifty-one years a member of Brick church. She leaves one son, Burr A. Northrop; a daughter, Ada G. Eggers, wife of Fred W. Eggers; two grandchildren, Esther and Helen Ada Northrop; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Webster of Clarkson; Mrs. W. H. Carrell, and Mrs. Warren Johnson, and one brother, W. H. Vianco, all of Rochester.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eggers, 4 Alliance avenue, Rev. G. F. Hallock, D. D., associate of Brick church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Mount Hope.
EDWARD M’SWEENY
KNOWN IN BUSINESS
Well Known Tobacconist
Is Taken by Death
Oct. 17, 1918

EDWARD M’SWEENY.
One of Rochester’s best known retired business men, Edward McSweeney, passed away on Tuesday evening at his home, No. 32 Prince street. The funeral will be held to-morrow morning at 9 o’clock from the home, and at 9:30 o’clock from St. Mary’s Catholic Church. The burial will take place in Holy Sepulchre cemetery and will be private.

Mr. McSweeney’s name is inseparable from the history of the tobacco industry in this city. His business life extended over a period of nearly half a century. He was born in 1841, in Rochester, and always made this city his home. His first experience as a tobacconist he gained by working out of school hours in a tobacco factory conducted by W. S. Sargent, in Main street directly opposite where the Whitcomb House now is.

After being for a time in the employ of a concern manufacturing wafers he returned to the tobacco trade and continued in it until he became a successful retail merchant. In 1872 he bought the cigar and tobacco store of Dunn & Colburn in the Metropolitan Building, which stood on the site of the Chamber of Commerce building, facing South avenue, then South St. Paul street. Five years later he took a store in the front of the Metropolitan building. He was there for eighteen years. His next business place was at the northwest corner of Main street east and Water street north and he remained there for ten years. Then he moved to the southeast corner of Main and Water street south.

For years Mr. McSweeney was interested in the Knights of Columbus and was at one time a grand knight.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary McSweeney; three daughters, Mrs. Jane Boon; Laura and Elizabeth McSweeney, and a son, Ambrose McSweeney.

SISTER M. FRANCIS BYRNES.
Principal of Sacred Heart School
Dies from Influenza
Oct. 4, 1918

SISTER M. Francis Byrne, of the Sisters of St. Joseph, died at Nazareth Normal school, Dewey avenue, yesterday from an attack of influenza. She was one of the sisters of St. Joseph who volunteered their services to fight the epidemic and was sent to Mt. Morris where she was on duty at the improvised hospital until a week ago. Saturday, when she contracted the disease and returned to Rochester.

She was born in Lima, the daughter of Patrick Byrne. She was educated at Nazareth academy and spent seven years in Bruges, Belgium, pursuing a teachers’ normal training course. On her return she became a sister of St. Joseph and taught at the parochial schools. She served as principal in the school in the parish of St. Bridget’s parish, and in St. Patrick’s parish, Corning, returning to Rochester in September as principal of Sacred Heart school.

She leaves her mother, Margaret Byrne; five sisters; Sister M. Clesence of the Sisters of St. Joseph; Margaret, Rose and Angela Byrne and Mrs. Joseph, and three brothers, Timothy, of Chicago, Joseph and William Byrne. The funeral services will be held to-morrow morning at 9:30 and will be private.

MORTUARY RECORD
Rev. J. C. Carnahan
Oct. 5, 1918

Mackay—At the Gordon hospital, on Tuesday morning, November 1st, Commander Charles Edmund Mackay, U. S. N., retired, died from pneumonia, a member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States. Surviving him are his wife, Sigrid C. Mackay, and a sister, Emily Mackay Alling. He served with the U.S. Navy during the Spanish-American War. He leaves behind his wife and two children.

EDWARD RAMSEDD, Oct. 28.
Once Leader of Travelers, Dead
Head
Word was received in Rochester yesterday, announcing the death of Edward E. Ramsdell, who for years was one of the best known and popular traveling salesmen of Rochester. For a long time he was associated with George C. Hunt & Company of this city, and in later years he represented Ross W. Web Company of New York, selling teas and coffees.
Archibald J. Grant, engineer in charge of building Cobb's Hill reservoir dies.

Archibald J. Grant, for many years an engineering expert, in the city employed as an engineering expert, the... 1918

The funeral of Archibald J. Grant, inspecting engineer of Clarkson street bridge, was held at Ingalls & Thompson's funeral home on classifier street. Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock this afternoon with burial at Fairview. The funeral was private. The bearers were Edwin A. Fisher, L. W. and W. Mayer. The City Engineer's Department, and Fred. C. Lines of the County Engineer's office.

Mr. Grant was born in Scotland in 1833 and was brought to this country when about four years old. He had an academic education, and ran a nursery in Dundee in the days of deep snow and hard times.

For a time Mr. Grant was engaged in newspaper work. He started in railroad engineering as assistant engineer on the State Line Railroad, new Rochester Division of the Buffalo, Rochester, & Pittsburgh Railroad. In 1832 and 1832 he was division engineer of the Northern Railroad from High Bridge to Wisconsin. Subsequently he was engineer of the Belt Line Railroad at Rochester.

At this time Mr. Grant married Miss Emilie L. Marcher of New York City, who survived him later to Florida where he was engineer and general superintendent of the Central Belt Railroad, from Sanford to St. Petersburg; returning to Rochester about 1892 where he was in charge of various projects, including the location and construction of the Rochester & St. Paul Bay Railroad, while associated with Le Grand Brown.

In 1899 Mr. Grant was engineer on the contractor on the Erie Canal improvement. He was also division engineer on the location and construction of the Rochester, Syracuse & Eastern Railway.

He was resident engineer in charge of the construction of Cobb's Hill reservoir, also inspecting engineer of two sections of the third water works contract. He was also resident engineer on the Utica street bridge, his last work being inspecting engineer on the construction of the Clarkson street bridge and approaches.

Catherine H. Gribbroek.

Wife of Henry Gribbrock is a victim of influenza:

Catherine H. Gribbroek, wife of Henry Gribbrock, died this morning at the family home, 654 Park avenue aged 42 years. The cause of death was influenza.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gribbrock leaves a daughter, Henrietta Gribbrock, two sons, Thomas and George Gribbrock, her mother, Mary Dronet; two sisters, Misses H. K. Knechtel of Buffalo, and Mrs. George Gribbrock; and a brother, William Dronet, of Rochester.

The funeral, private, will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be at Fairview.
Sir: In the death of Mrs. Jesse W. Hatch, on December 12th, at the age of nearly ninety-six years, Rochester lost a prominent and useful citizen. Though for a few years past, through the intracacies of age, she had been kept much at home, yet, for longer than her lifetime of most people, she was a very active worker in church and philanthropic circles. For twenty-one years she was a member of the Exchange Street Industrial School, much of the time chairman of the Supply Committee. She was a member of the first Board of Managers of the Homoeopathic Hospital. In 1878 she was made female superintendent of the First Church Sunday-school, of which church she became a member in 1853. For over fifteen years she was president of the Women's Society of that church, taking great interest in providing clothing for needy children.

Mrs. Hatch's maiden name was Mary A. Sherwood; her father, John Sherwood, being a pioneer of the town of Orleans county. She was born in 1822 on a farm her father had cleared in 1820. She belonged to a family of nine children, two of her brothers becoming well known clergymen.

In 1843 she was married to Ichabod Frye, of Brockport, a successful merchant of that place. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church there; leader of the choir and superintendent of the Sunday-school. For nearly twenty years she was a member of the church and deeply interested also in the work of that church's Sunday- school. In 1851 Mr. Frye died, and three years later she was married to Mr. Jesse Williams Hatch, an elder of the First Church, Rochester, and at once became active in the work of that congregation.

She had a great and loving heart; and went out especially toward any little children she could serve. Her life was a very useful one, rich in good works. Her thoughts seemed never to be at rest for others.

G. F. F. HALLMAN.
Rochester, Dec. 13, 1918.
SERVICES FOR EUGENE DWYER,
JR., ARE HELD

Men Prominent in Public and Business Life Attend Funeral at Sacred Heart Church—Cadet Commandery Forms Guard of Honor.

One of the most touching and po-thetic funerals of a boy which has taken place in this city was held Thursday morning at the funeral of Eugen-Dwyer, Jr., 16 years old, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Dwyer of 3 Burke ter-ave.

Owing to the prominence of Mr. Dwyer in legal, financial and political circles, the activity of the reli-Dwyer in church and social spheres, the death of his son evoked a widespread feeling of sympathy. It was remarkable, indeed, that several thousand persons paid their tribute to the dead at the head of the procession of card bearers. The Reverend Peter Hickey, who is in South Bend, Ind., and several members of the clergy and a number of business men, attended the funeral.

The funeral took place at 9:30 o'clock from the residence and at 10 o'clock from the Church of the Sacred Heart, Flower City Park. Men and women in many walks of life, attending the church ceremony and the Cadet Commandery, Sacred Heart Church, Knights of St. John, attended in a body in uniform.

Solemn requiem mass was celebrate by the Rev. Michael U. M. Diobon of Socorro Falls, an uncle of the dedead boy; the deacon was the Rev. Edward J. Dwyer of the Church, and the sub-deacon was the Rev. George Burns, rector of Sacred Heart church. The executor of the will was the Rev. John H. O'Brien, rector of St. Augustine's church.

Among the priests in the sanctuary were the Rev. B. J. Curran of Corpus Christi church, vicar general of the diocese; the Rev. Joseph Handley, M. R. Y. F. of Geneva, the Rev. Very Rev. Abbe Peter Klein, a noted French savant, professor of the Salons of Paris, France, and chapman of the American Red Cross, and the Rev. James T. Dougherty of Cas-

An augmented choir sang the requiem mass in the singers were Mrs. Rampe and Miss Margaret Heveron.

Attending the services were a deletion consisting practically all of 23 members of the Common Council, James J. O'Brien, mayor, and C. Hon. Arthur E. Sutherland, Assistant Dwyer was the Rev. C. C. Werner, John J. McNamara, H. E. A. Dick and several other members of the Bar Association including, C. S. White, John J. McNamara, H. E. A. Dick and several other barristers.

The ushers were William F. Love, Charles D. Calahan, James J. B. Dwyer and John Gilmore. The active dept. were James J. Nogel, Arthony C. O'Coy, James J. Atkinson, Edward J. Meyer, John J. O'Connell and John Bally.

As the funeral procession left the church, the Cadet Commandery formed an aide from the church to carry the coffin, which was borne by the Cross and the Rev. James T. Dougherty of Cas-

An augmented choir sang the requiem mass in the singers were Mrs. Rampe and Miss Margaret Heveron.

Mrs. Harriet Bonnete Bentley
Mrs. Harriet Bonnete Bentley, daughter of Charles E. and Harriet St. B. Bentley and wife of Washington Bentley, died yesterday at her home on New England Road, aged 75 years. She leaves her husbond, her parents, and four children. Harriet, Harriet, Mildred and Marshall Cogwell Bentley. Mrs. Bentley was born at Chatauqua, N.Y., two months after her marriage, but lived at New Bedford, Mass. She was educated at Vassar College in 1907 and was married to Mr. Cogwell in 1908 at New Bedford.

HATCHE—Entered 160 post, Thursday, December 19, 1912, at her home in 24 Franklin Street, Mrs. Mary J. C. Whelton, widow of the late Jesse Whelton Hatch, in her 60th year. Sept. 2012.

Funeral services at the residence Sat-
12:30, December 22, 1912, 2:30 p.m.
Burial private.
THOMAS J. DEVINE.

Mr. Devine was born in this city nearly 78 years ago and at the age of 15 years entered the employ of Burke, Gaffney and Company, predecessors of the present firm. His industry and integrity carried him up through various positions in the firm until he was made cashier of the firm, the Burke, Fitzsimons, Home Company. Later he went to New York City as resident buyer there and in 1881 returned to Rochester to become a member of the firm.

He was prominently identified with the general business and social interests of Rochester. He was vice-president of the Merchants Bank of Rochester and a member of the boards of directors of Monroe County Savings Bank and Rochester Trust and Safe Deposit Company. He was one of the founders of the Genesee Valley Club and of the Rochester Country Club. A disposition naturally genial and unassuming made him popular with his business and social acquaintances.

DECEASED

Thomas J. Devine of Burke, FitzSimons, Home Company Dies After Illness of Month—Funeral Monday at Cathedral.

Thomas J. Devine, president of the Burke, Fitzsimons Home Company, Inc., died yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at his home, 10 Portsmouth terrace after an illness of a month.

Death Comes to Maria O. Allen

Maria O. Allen, Nov. 26.

Well-known Woman in Methodist Denomination.

DEATH COMES TO

MARRIAGE

DEATH COMES TO

One of the most widely known women of Rochester in the Methodist denomination, Miss Maria Orme Allen, passed away yesterday morning at her home, No. 105 6th street, where she had lived with her sister, Mrs. M. H. Hunter. Miss Allen had been prominently identified with two educational institutions, and her services are said to be in almost every part of the world. It is not many years since she retired from active life.

Miss Allen's older son, John, died when she was a child, leaving her mother, Eliza Allen, with four small children. Miss Allen came from Ireland to America with her little family in the year of the young lady died on the trip. Mrs. Allen went to Hamilton, Ontario, in their way to this home. From this call they passed through Rochester, Miss Allen was educated at the Toronto Normal School and at Hamiliton College.

Last Address in October.

After Miss Allen had finished her course she taught in the college for nine years. She was a ten years a teacher at the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Ion, for ten years she was president of the Watseka institute, a training school for missionaries at Jerusalem. In 1851 she went abroad to visit England, Scotland, France, Germany and Italy. At the time of a large Methodist gathering in London she was a delegate from that church in the United States.

At the summer home of a brother on an island in the lake Ontario, and also in Toronto, Miss Allen was in a brilliant circle of educators and other literary persons. She thoroughly enjoyed water sports, and like summer, at the age of 77, she wanted to learn swimming, but her family dissuaded her.

Joining her friends Miss Allen had the keenest interest in the Methodist church in America. It is said that there is scarcely a foreign missionary of her denomination with whom she was not acquainted, at least through correspondence, while many had been guests at her home.

Taught in Two Schools.

Miss Allen was proud of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church in America. It is said that there is scarcely a foreign missionary of her denomination with whom she was not acquainted, at least through correspondence, while many had been guests at her home.

Taught in Two Schools.

Miss Allen was present of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church in America. It is said that there is scarcely a foreign missionary of her denomination with whom she was not acquainted, at least through correspondence, while many had been guests at her home.

Miss Allen was present of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church in America. It is said that there is scarcely a foreign missionary of her denomination with whom she was not acquainted, at least through correspondence, while many had been guests at her home.
CHURCH FUNERAL
FOR MRS. CHAPIN

Services for Well-Known Rochester Woman Held at St. Luke’s Episcopal Church This Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Chapin, mother of Charles T. Chapin, who died on Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. Chapin, 27 Rutgers street, was held this afternoon from St. Luke’s Episcopal Church at 2:30 o’clock. Burial was made in the family lot at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Tyler of St. Luke’s Church and the Rev. Mr. Cooper of Geneseo. Six of the city’s most prominent men acted as honorary attendants, while six others were active bearers. The honorary attendants were Hon. George W. Aldridge, Charles F. Pond, Edward D. Chapin, Lewis Chapin, W. W. Chapin, George C. Hopkins, Henry C. Brewster and John M. Williams. The active bearers were Charles S. Owen, William S. Riley, W. W. Howard, C. J. Brown, James L. Hotchkiss and Gurney T. Curtis.

Mrs. Chapin was a member of a very well-known family and was very prominent in social and philanthropic circles. Until failing health compelled her to give up her activities she was a member of the board of directors of the Rochester Industrial School and was prominently connected with several well-known organizations. She was 85 years old and is survived by two sons, Charles T. Chapin of Rochester and Edward Hall Chapin of Geneseo, and a daughter, Mrs. William Marcus, of Montclair, N. J.

Mr. Chapin’s death came as a shock to his home and took him to the jail. Unable at that hour to obtain bail, supposed to be fixed at $500, Mr. Mason was placed in a cell. His friends aver that he protested against this indignity and asked to be allowed to spend the night in a chair in the office.

Night Watchman James Maguire made his usual rounds and at 6 o’clock Mr. Mason was sitting in his cell. An hour later he was found hanging against the wall, hanged by his neck. No cause is given.

MIND WAS UNBALANCED
Because of the absence of one son, Bertrand, Donald H. Mason, serving overseas in the Signal Corps, and other sons in training camps, Mr. Mason was greatly worried. Financial reverses depressed him. These things, together with insomnia and the sale of his home obligations served to unsettle his mind. In the opinion of Dr. William Ferrin, his physician and the same was released when he was arrested and placed in a cell. Men of high standing, friends of Mr. Mason, said that he was too lighthearted and that any diversion of money would have been easy. But these men know his difficulty, they say, they would have helped him.

Mr. Mason purposed selling for Cuba something which, perhaps in a measure, explains the haste of the sheriff’s office in making the arrest. The defense was made of himself and his subordinate, last night explained that their action was suggested prompt action in serving the warrant. The sheriff said that his office had been notified.

Mr. Jones’ Statement.

When Mr. Love, first assistant district attorney, was asked to give his version, he replied as follows.

On Wednesday last Jasper William Stalnicked telegraphed the sheriff that he had information that an employer in the town of Greece had been taking from his employees weekly certain sums of money to be applied in payment for Liberty Bonds subscribed to by the employees, that for a period of 25 or 26 weeks such deductions had been made and there was a large sum outstanding. When no deductions were made, which fact caused inquiry by the employees and evoked a prompt from the employer that the deductions would again be made. The employees claimed to have discovered that no payments were made to the bank by the employer.

The sheriff inquiry was as to whether or not he should send out a man to investigate the complaint. He told him that it was certainly his duty to send out an agent against the employer, and more particularly because he once in one of the towns. He also stated that Mr. Mason was a man whom he then named as a Mr. Mason, a laundromat, was, according to the statements of promoters, preparing his affairs to leave the county on December 1. I then told him that it was all the more to investigate the thing quickly. That was all and my entire connection with the case for the time being.

In the morning I read of the matter in the morning newspaper. I had no knowledge of any issuance of a warrant or in any wise had I any knowledge of the outcome of the investigation by the sheriff’s department. No advice was asked or given to an arrest as the result of the sheriff’s investigation hereafter to my knowledge.

In Business Here 22 Years.

Mr. Mason was born in East Bloomfield 45 years ago and came to Rochester 22 years ago with his brother, Fred E. Mason, started the store business. About eight years ago, Mr. Mason sold out.

In 1915 Mr. Mason organized the Puritan Laundry Company with his son, H. F. Mason, as partner. A year ago, his brother, Fred Mason, entered the firm, which Mr. Mason was superintendent of at the time of his death. For years he had been known as a substantial businessman and was highly respected. Miss Grace Bologdi, of East Bloomfield, in 1934. He leaves her, his wife, Mrs. Edna C. Mason, who lives at his home, and three sons, H. Archie Mason, now stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor, Donald H. Mason serving in the Signal Corps overseas, and Charles T. Mason, of the Students’ Army Training Corps at the University of Rochester.

Deputy Sheriff Andrew Berg said today:

"This case was investigated by U. S. Marshal Lynn and U. S. Commissioner Smith and by them referred to the police. According to me at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon to take the officer and that if arrested in any place at the jail. While we go to the jail, Mr. Love, the brother, asking him to see E. H. Graves. At 1 o’clock, the unusual circumstance the fact that E. H. Graves was not at home. Mr. Mason remained seated in the office until 1 o’clock, with perhaps a number of his friends. At 2 o’clock, following the usual custom he was taken to a cell. Having been the day of a city is in order of the day, and he agreed to come.

Historic Scrapbooks Collection
Death Of Mrs. Farr, Marks End Of Unusual Career As Musician

Mrs. J. Wendel Farr, a well-known Rochester physician, died on Sunday evening at her home, 120 Shepard street. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home. The Rev. Arthur Sykes, D. D., pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal church, will officiate, and burial will be made at Riverside Cemetery.

Mrs. Farr, formerly Miss Charlotta Freeman, was born on June 24, 1844, in Barrington, Warren County. She was educated at the Dunnes Preparatory School and at Sturkey Seminary. There her father, the late Henry S. Freeman, also a musician, was a member of the faculty. She was graduated in music from this institution at the early age of 13. When but 14 she played for Dr. George F. Root of Chicago. From that time until last Wednesday night she has been actively engaged in the musical profession.

In July, 1883, Mrs. Farr was the first woman divinity student in New York City. Later she was the second woman traveling conductor sent out from New York theatrical orchestra. She also had the distinction of playing for the first motion-picture exhibition in America.

Dr. Farr came to Rochester. Since that time she has been a member of the Rochester Musicians' Protective Association. For the last seven years she has been a member of the orchestra playing at McFerron's Hotel. She was also the teacher of both voice and piano. She leaves her husband, James Wendel Farr, and two daughters, Flora and Emma, of New York; J. Fred Farr, who is in the army; and Mrs. Carl G. O'Brien, of Akron, O., and Miss Clarice Farr of Rochester. One granddaughter, Marjorie Doler of this city, and one brother, Garfield Freeman of Medina, Pa., survive her.

Central Library of Rochester and Monroe County
Historic Scrapbooks Collection

MORTUARY RECORD

[Redacted]

The funeral services for Charles H. Mason, a well-known business man, whose death occurred on Thursday morning, were held in Third Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The large, comfortable place was entirely filled with the large, suitable and business associates.

Rev. Paul Moore Strayer, pastor of the church, officiated. Some doubts had been felt as to the advisability of recalling Dr. Strayer for the service because of the distance from Old Hickory, Tenn., where he began his Y. M. C. A. camp work only a few days ago. Without hesitation, he insisted upon returning to pay a last tribute to him whom he regarded as one of his staunchest supporters in the church.

Albert E. Cappling, Mr. Franklin W. Rock, George W. Bunting, Edward J. Seeker, Frank G. Mork and George H. Studdier, elder, united with the trustees of the church, officiated. The most prominent physicians. In 1874, he entered the medical profession, died yesterday at 88, in his home, aged 77 years. He leaves two sons, John Adams of Orange, Cal., and Sidney, a member of Rochester, two brothers, Dr. Myron H. Adams and Seth Adams; two sisters, Mrs. Louise Stoudt and Mrs. Helen Gilbert of Marion, and a grandson, Elizabeth Fiske Adams of Rochester.

Dr. Adams was born in Marion, O., on April 3, 1841. He was educated in the village school and at Marion Collegiate Institute and following the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted, in August, 1862, in Company D, 168th Regiment, New York Volunteers, and went to New Orleans with General Banks' expedition, serving under him throughout the Louisiana campaign, including the siege of Port Hudson. In April, 1863, he was elected a member of the medical profession, having been declared ineligible by every surviving officer of his regiment. He received rare and valuable presents and thanks from the imperial household of Japan for service to a prince and officer of the Japanese navy and army, but this letter he held above all the rest he possessed.

Returning from the war Dr. Adams took up his medical studies at the Homochtopus Medical College of Pennsylvania and was graduated from the Medical College of Philadelphia on March 4, 1868, to July of that year he established himself in Cherry Hill, where he practiced his profession successfully until May, 1878. He then moved to Rochester, where he held the rank of1stlieutenant.
George Albert Sabey Dies

George Albert Sabey died yesterday at his home, No. 230 Melas street. He leaves his wife, Frances Decker Sabey; one daughter, Katharine Sabey Chappelle; and two sisters, Mrs. Lucy M. Whito and Mrs. E. S. Copeland. The funeral will be held at the home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Sabey, who was born in Rochester and had lived here all his life, was a well-known business man. He was in partnership with his father, James Sabey, who established a flour business here and later dealt in wool's and furnishes. He retired from active business in 1900.

Mr. Sabey was a leading member of Christ Church. He was popular at the Macedon Temple, where he was a member of the Sibneys, the Hamilton Chapter and the Consistory.

Widow Of Former Rector Of St. Paul's

Many of the older residents of Rochester will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Mary L. Foor, widow of the Rev. Israel Foor, who was rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church this city, from August, 1854, to April, 1859. Mrs. Foor was born in Geneva, N. Y., where she was married to Dr. Foor. Geneva was Dr. Foor's first parish. The body was taken to Geneva for burial yesterday by a nephew, J. A. Smith of Clifton Springs. The Hon. Israel Foor was an uncle of Supreme Court Justice Nathaniel Foor of this city. Dr. and Mrs. Foor had two children, both of whom have died, Alice Minnie Foor, who married Charles Crehul, proprietor of the Crossman House at Alexandria Bay, and Dillard Foor, who was killed in a mine explosion in Canada three years ago. Mrs. Foor is the last of her immediate family.

The accompanying picture of Mrs. Foor was taken while her husband was rector of St. Paul's.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sibley

Funeral services for Elizabeth C. Sibley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sibley of this city, will be held in the church where she lived in her childhood, the First Reformed Church. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. R. Gifford, pastor of the church, at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Sibley was the daughter of W. L. R. Gifford and the widow of the late Dr. W. N. Sibley, who was killed in a mine explosion in Heavy River, Canada. The body will be removed to the church and the funeral will follow immediately. The interment will be made at Forest Hill Cemetery.

Funeral Services Held At Spencer Street

Funeral services for Elizabeth C. Sibley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sibley of this city, will be held in the church where she lived in her childhood, the First Reformed Church. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. R. Gifford, pastor of the church, at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Sibley was the daughter of W. L. R. Gifford and the widow of the late Dr. W. N. Sibley, who was killed in a mine explosion in Heavy River, Canada. The body will be removed to the church and the funeral will follow immediately. The interment will be made at Forest Hill Cemetery.

Funeral Services Held At Spencer Street

Funeral services for Elizabeth C. Sibley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sibley of this city, will be held in the church where she lived in her childhood, the First Reformed Church. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. R. Gifford, pastor of the church, at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Sibley was the daughter of W. L. R. Gifford and the widow of the late Dr. W. N. Sibley, who was killed in a mine explosion in Heavy River, Canada. The body will be removed to the church and the funeral will follow immediately. The interment will be made at Forest Hill Cemetery.

Funeral Services Held At Spencer Street

Funeral services for Elizabeth C. Sibley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sibley of this city, will be held in the church where she lived in her childhood, the First Reformed Church. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. R. Gifford, pastor of the church, at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Sibley was the daughter of W. L. R. Gifford and the widow of the late Dr. W. N. Sibley, who was killed in a mine explosion in Heavy River, Canada. The body will be removed to the church and the funeral will follow immediately. The interment will be made at Forest Hill Cemetery.

Funeral Services Held At Spencer Street

Funeral services for Elizabeth C. Sibley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sibley of this city, will be held in the church where she lived in her childhood, the First Reformed Church. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. R. Gifford, pastor of the church, at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Sibley was the daughter of W. L. R. Gifford and the widow of the late Dr. W. N. Sibley, who was killed in a mine explosion in Heavy River, Canada. The body will be removed to the church and the funeral will follow immediately. The interment will be made at Forest Hill Cemetery.

Funeral Services Held At Spencer Street

Funeral services for Elizabeth C. Sibley, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Sibley of this city, will be held in the church where she lived in her childhood, the First Reformed Church. The services will be conducted by Rev. W. L. R. Gifford, pastor of the church, at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Sibley was the daughter of W. L. R. Gifford and the widow of the late Dr. W. N. Sibley, who was killed in a mine explosion in Heavy River, Canada. The body will be removed to the church and the funeral will follow immediately. The interment will be made at Forest Hill Cemetery.
Irondequoit Chapter
Hears a Tribute To
Marie McCollum Kelly
Mrs. Ann B. Yates read the following at the meeting of Irondequoit Chapter, D. A. R., on Wednesday afternoon:
A Tribute—Marie McCollum Kelly
It is a satisfaction, though a sad one, to have the privilege of offering one's tribute, of bringing to speak, one of the laurel leaves which make up the crown of honor, to which the image in our hearts of our departed deserves a just mention.
"Marie Fidelia McCollum was born in Lockport the ninth of June, 1881, the daughter of Silas Wright and Kate Allen McCollum. Her third great-grandfather, John McCollum, was one of the early Scotch planters of New Jersey. On her mother's side she descended from Edward Allen, who settled in Ipswich, Mass., in 1638, and she numbered among her other ancestors Comfort Starr, Stephen Terry, David Sage, Arthur Sorbville and many others, well known to students of American History and Genealogy, and was a great niece of John G. Saxe, the poet. Mrs. Kelly inherited many of the traits of her ancestors. In her were united the brillinancy of the Frenchman, the thrift and frankness of the Scotchman, and the seriousness and firm determination of the English Puritan. Beside with every human grace and a lovely face, yet she held a higher beauty, her loyalty to her friends. Through the well known liberality of her opinions, she made many friends and was popular with all. It is seldom that one is allowed to begin and end a life with the same amount of kind and confidence in his fellowmen, as she has done, but all who knew her will bear lasting testimony to the marvelous simplicity of character and trusting confidence which lasted until the end. It may be doubted whether she was known to say an unkind word to any person and those who knew her best cannot recall a word or act of hers which they could wish to forget.
"In the death of Mrs. Kelly the society loses one of its most valuable workers and friends. She was always on the watch for an opportunity of doing good and kind acts, not only in specific services, but in all the details of ordinary life and daily intercourse.
To have lived long is a distinction but to have lived well is still a greater one, and that distinction we accord to her. As sets the morning star which goes not down behind the darkest West, nor hides itself before the tempests of the sky. But melts away into the light of heaven," so ended her life.

Irondequoit Chapter
IST Artist and Rug Connoisseur

Peter W. White Dies at His Home in this City.
Dec. 19, 1918
Long in Newspaper Work

Made Name for Himself as Sketch
Artist, in Which Capacity He Served for Several Years—Widely Known as Judge of Oriental Rugs

Peter W. White died yesterday at his home, No. 420 South street. He was for many years a newspaper sketch artist and was regarded as one of the best in the country. He leaves his wife, Lowell, a daughter of Mrs. Kenneth MacCollum, of Pittsburgh, and three sisters,
Lillian White, Mrs. Emma Torre and Mrs.
Gustav Jacobs.

White, with the exception of a few years spent in New Mr. White had lived in Rochester since his birth here fifty-four years ago. His first work as an artist was the drawing of portraits. He was for some time associated with Edward Nier and later went to New York, where he worked on newspapers as a sketch artist for about three years. When he was 25 years old he returned to Rochester and became sketch artist for the Union and Advertiser, with which newspaper he stayed for several years. Recently he had drawn fashion plates for clotfiing manufacturers. He painted in oils considerably, and many of his works as well as his sketches have been exhibited.

George L. Herdle, director of the Memorial Art Gallery, said of Mr. White:
"By the death of Mr. Peter White this country has lost one of the few notable artists who have led the direction of thought to the artistic and helped in the cultivation of the beautiful.
"Mr. White was for many years the staff artist of the Rochester Union and Advertiser, with particular reference to courtroom cases. To the readers of the local newspaper his fine character sketches of the judges, attorneys, and principal witnesses in celebrated trials will be recalled. He enjoyed the friendship of the judges and lawyers of the period when the late George Raines was on the bench and was, moreover, well-known among political leaders and news writers.

"It is as an artist and illustrator, however, striving for the higher ideals, and a connoisseur par excellence of rugs or oriental wovens, that he performed his greatest service in this community. Mr.
White early became interested in oriental rugs, at a time when their beauty was appreciated by few; and, when there was no literature whatever on the subject, he developed a knowledge and power of differentiating and classifying the weavings, of the Orient which was second to none in this country. As a consequence his authoritative opinions were in constant demand and it is overstatement to say that his judgment has ruled the assembling of many of the most noted private collections in American.

It was no unusual thing for Mr. White to receive a commission by telegram from rug retailers to attend an auction sale in New York and bid in a certain price to an amount which seemed in his judgment proper. Such con-

JAMES O. BLOSS, BORN IN ROCHESTER, DIES IN NEW YORK
Former President of New York Cotton Exchange.
Dec. 19, 1918

James Ovville Bloss, former President of the New York
Cotton Exchange, died Sunday in his room at the Metropolitan Club, New York, where he had been living since October, when he left his summer home.

A sister of Mr. Bloss, the widow of Rev.
James A. Daly, lives in Rochester, as do a cousin, Joseph E. Bloss; two nephews, Marwin T. Daly and Dr. Warren Daly, and a niece, Mrs. Benjamin B. Chase.

Mr. Bloss was a member of a New England family, the progenitor of which, Edmund Bloss or Bloy, became a freeman in Watertown, Mass., in 1639. One of his grandsons, Joseph Bloss, was a member and later the director of the New York Cotton Exchange.

Bloss was born in Rochester September 30, 1847, and after completing his early education went to New York to take charge in the cotton trade. In his long career as a cotton merchant he was a member of the firms of Gwinn & Bloss,
J. D. Bloss & Company and Woodward & Stillman.

In 1902 Mr. Bloss was elected president of the New York Cotton Exchange.

In 1902 Mr. Bloss was elected president of the New York Cotton Exchange and was re-elected the following year. He retired from business several years ago, although he retained the presidency of the International Cotton Company, a directorship in the Dutch, ubbeba & Atlanta Atlantic Railway Company and had an office at No. 35 Wall street.

One of his intimate friends was the late John W. Sterling, with whom Mr. Bloss made his home for several years. He was one of the executors of Mr. Sterling's will, which left a valuable estate, valued at nearly $200,000,000 to Yale University.
Mr. Bloss never married. He was a member of the Metropolitan and the Union League clubs.
Florence Seiler Thompson, a victim of pneumonia contracted while caring for influenza sufferers at the Municipal Hospital.

Florence Seiler Thompson, wife of J. Ward Thompson, superintendent of the Rochester Municipal Hospital, died at their apartments in the hospital yesterday morning after an illness of but a few days.

Since the onset of the present epidemic of influenza, Mrs. Thompson has labored indefatigably at the hospital trying in every possible way to ease the burdens of the patients, their friends and the over-worked nurses and other helpers of the hospital. For over a week the hospital has opened its doors only to severe pneumonia cases and the heartaches and physical strain of the past days has been almost beyond human endurance for everyone connected with the work.

In spite of the remonstrances of her friends, Mrs. Thompson believed herself equal to her self-appointed task. Finally out of a clear sky came a very virulent attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Thompson was a woman of unusual physical endurance and this, combined with the fact that she seemingly did not have the influenza, gave her friends reason to hope that she would survive her illness. Death, however, came very quietly and suddenly Friday morning. Another martyr to human service!

Mrs. Thompson was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Seiler of Parrolee avenue. Mr. Seiler is superintendent of section 9 of the Erie Canal. Mrs. Thompson's only brother died in the United States naval service eight years ago while a midshipman at Annapolis.

For seven or eight years before her marriage to Mr. Thompson in May of this year Mrs. Thompson was employed in the city assessors' office. She was an ardent lover of the great outdoors and spent much of her leisure in walking and fishing.

Upon her marriage to Mr. Thompson she took up her duties as matron of the hospital with the same zeal which characterized her life whether in work or play and which only ended when she was fatally stricken.

She will be buried at Riverside, from her father's home.

Guido Anselmi, Jr.

Guido Anselmi, Jr., 14 years old, the son of Professor Guido Anselmi, well known as a teacher of languages, died yesterday in Hahnemann Hospital. His mother, Mrs. Caterina Anselmi, died in the same hospital December 26, and her two brothers, 9 and 9 years old, are still here now. Influenza caused the death of all three. The body of Guido Anselmi, Jr., was taken to the family home, 94 Parkdale Terrace. The funeral will be this morning at 10 o'clock from the house and at 10:30 a.m. from Sacred Heart Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.
FAMOUS "SILK" O'LOUGHLIN IS BURIED TODAY

"Fans" Pay Final Tribute to Rochester Umpire — Big Leagues Represented at Services in Blessed Sacrament Church.

Men in all walks of life, professional and business, paid silent tribute to the memory of Francis ("Silk") O'Loughlin, famous American League umpire, at funeral services which were held at 10 o'clock this morning in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament on Oxford street. Friends and acquaintances of "Silk," were there in large numbers, even the humble fan being on hand to honor a man who was so well thought of in his home town as he was universally liked in the world of baseball.

Many a time those same men—and women, too—for there were many at the services—and sat in the stands of the bouchers and listened to the sun-browned, well-groomed umpire announce his decision on balls and strikes and give urgings to his famous "Strike!" ejaculation, butting well known voice was now stilled and as the thought of the fan wandered back in the distance of life and his ears beheld a vision of a brown faced and diamond, with a blue carded individual standing just back of the catcher's or the pitcher's box; the sound of a voice of the past rang in his ears and he heard again the familiar phrase: "Hit's out!" and it had flashed down the fan's face this morning it was a tear shed for "Silk" who had almost been called out by the greatest breast of them all.

The American League, with which "Silk" O'Loughlin had long been identified, was represented at the services by William Diessen, who had participated in many a game with the famous Rochester arbitrator, and the famous "Bill" Elmer was at Father Cognos' church to add his prayers to those said for his longtime friend. Although "Bill" is in the National League, and came to Rochester to represent that organization at the funeral, there were no closer intimates in baseball than these two men who both held over this city in which death had finally placed a barrier between them.

Others at the services included Republican County Chairman James C. Hotchkiss, Charles H. Karmes of the Public Service Commission, and a number of other men prominent in business, professional, and fraternal circles in Rochester. A delegation was present from Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, of which Mr. O'Loughlin was a member and the honorary bearers were members of that organization.

The mass was offered by the Rev. Thomas F. Cogswell, rector of the church. He was assisted by the Rev. Victor H. Cullen, of Martin's on Genesee and the Rev. Daniel Killacky of Blessed Sacrament Church, as sub-deacon. The Rev. J. Francis O'Leary, rector of the Cathedral, and the Rev. John B. Sullivan, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, were in the sanctuary.

The bearers were Honorary, William P. Farrell, William J. Burke, William Doug, John F. Dunn, John McCarthy, and James O'Connell; active, Edward Marshall, W. D. Crittenden, A. C. Hall, H. S. Wyz择e, John Colihan and Elmer Booth. There were many beautiful floral offerings, interment was in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.
TRIBUTE IS PAID TO
LEWIS W. MITCHELL
Bar Association Acts on Death of Member
Ate 17, 1918

The Rochester Bar Association, called by Judge Arthur L. Sutherland, president of the association, to meet on that afternoon in the County Court room, paid tribute to a late member, Lewis Mitchell Wilson. The Memorial Committee was composed of Judge J. B. M.
Stephens, chairman, Harry C. Remington,
Arthur Warren, Ralph H. Culler,
George S. Van Schalk and Joseph Mc-
Sweeney. Those appointed to attend the burial are H. Douglas Van Deusen, Henry R. Howard, Nicholas J. Welsegen, William Johns and George Burns.

Lewis Wilson Mitchell, of the town of Macedon, died at his residence on Fri-morning. He was born in Macedon and received his education in the public schools of that town. He prepared for college at the Geneva Wesleyan Seminary, at Lima, N. Y. He was graduated from the University of Rochester in 1893, and from the Har-rard Law School in 1896, after which he entered the law office of Ernest B.
Millard, of Rochester.

In March, 1911, Mr. Mitchell was admitted to the bar, and for some time was associated with J. B. M. Stephens. He opened an office in the Wilder building in 1912, and in 1915 he became affilated with H. Douglas Van Deusen, with offices at No. 2057 Wilder building.
This relationship was continued to the time of his death. He also conducted an office in Macedon, N. Y. From the time of his admission to the bar Mr. Wilson was actively engaged in his profession, and was building up a substantial practice, particularly in Wayne and Monroe counties.

In college he was a member of Rochester Chapter, Delta Upsilon, and he was affiliated with Macedon Lodge, F. and A. M. He was deeply interested in civic affairs in his community; was honored by his town by appointment to local offices; and was attorney for the village of Macedon. He had been a member of the Perinton M.
B. Church and had served on its school boards and was superintendent of its Sunday-school.

SINGER OF MUCH PROMISE
Young Woman Taken by Death Was
To Make Debut This Winter.

MISS BEULAH A. BOYER.

Miss Beulah Alicia Boyer, who died on Friday, December 20th, at her home,
No. 371 Lyndhurst street, was an accomplished singer and an expert operator with the Western Union Telegraph Company, by which company she had been employed for two years. She was held in the highest esteem by a large number of acquaintances.

Under the instruction of Charles P.
Boylan and through her own studious efforts Miss Boyer developed a contralto voice that was considered to be as nearly beautiful a quality as she would have made her debut as a singer this winter.

Miss Boyer was 26 years of age. She leaves her parents, James E. and Mamie Galloway Boyer, and one sister, Mrs.
Ruth Monk. The funeral was held from the home on Monday, December 23rd.
Burial was made in Mount Hope cemetery.
KNEW TERRORS OF INDIAN WAR IN EARLY DAYS

The Late Mrs. Ella R. Searle, whose funeral will be held tomorrow, lived in Arizona during Apache Massacres 50 Years Ago.

By Special Dispatch to The Herald.

Saratoga, Sept. 26.—Samuel Allen Wilson died this afternoon in residence in South Main Street. He died peacefully in his sleep the night before, and death was due to bronchial pneumonia. He reached the 90th milestone of his life on February 1st this year, and then, so far as can be ascertained, was the oldest man in this village. He related many incidents concerning his early life, with detailed description and accuracy. He was born in Salona, Pa., and had four brothers and four sisters, their parents being Mr. and Mrs. Harriet Hartman Wilson. Only one of his family survives, David C. Wilson of Kendallville, Ind.

Samuel A. Wilson’s boyhood days were passed in Ohio and Pennsylvania. In 1852 he joined the army of geophysical explorers and on an overland trip to the mines of California. He retained one year, then returned home by the famous Panama, previously taught school, beginning at the age of twenty years. In 1880 he joined the Masonic Lodges in Kendallville, Ind., and was married the same year at the age of 35 years to Mrs. Emma Wright of Kendallville, who survives.

After 22 years’ residence there, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson moved here to their home, owing to the declining health of their father, John Brown, formerly owner of the 60 acres of land now the site of East Rochester, where Mrs. Wilson resides. He had been one of the first to live at the homestead, where they had been cared for by their daughter and husband. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Konyon. Mr. Wilson was also a member of the Knights Templar of Kendallville, Hamilton Chapter of Rochester, Northfield Lodge, F. and A. M., of Pleasant View, a regular attendant at lodge and the Methodist Church until three years ago, and served both in the office and in capacity.

Mr. Wilson broke the age record of the family, as his parents died at the age of 72 and 74 years, respectively. He leaves his wife in good health. He leaves two stepchildren and a number of step-grandchildren. The funeral will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ada A. Newell of this city.

DIES AFTER 50 YEARS PRACTICE

Dr. Reuben A. Adams had lived in Rochester 45 Years.

DISTINGUISHED WAR RECORD

He occupied the same office on Pitts- hurg Street 24 Years—Held Many Posts of Honor.

After practicing his profession with distinction for a half century, 48 years of which were spent in Rochester, Dr. Reuben A. Adams died yesterday. He was born in S. Upton, Park, aged 77 years. He leaves two sons, Sidney I. Adams of Rochester and John Adams of Orange, Cal.; a granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Pink Adams of Rochester; two brothers, Dr. Myron H. Adams and Seth Adams; three half-sisters, and Mrs. Helen Gilbert of Marion, N. Y. The funeral will be held from the residence Thursday morning at 3 o’clock.

Notable War Record.

Dr. Adams, who in the medical profession of Rochester ably represented the noted New England family from which he sprung, was born at Marion, N.Y., April 5, 1841. There he passed his boyhood and received his education, at first in the public schools and later at Marion College. In 1862, Dr. Adams enlisted in Company D, 168th Regt., New York Volunteers, and went with the Union General Bank’s expedition, serving under him throughout the whole of the Louisiana campaign. During the siege of Port Hudson. Later he fought under General Sherman in his great engagements in the Tennessee Valley, participating actively in fourteen battles.

He resides in East Rochester, Louisiana, and Cedar Creek, Virginia; and when mustered out of service at the close of the war, he received the exceptional honor of a letter of special commendation personally signed by every surviving officer of his regiment.

Thanked by Japan.

He had received rare and valuable馈赠 from the imperial household of Japan for service to a prince and distinguished offices of army and army.

Returning from the war Dr. Adams took up his medical studies at the Homeric Medical College of Pennsylvania and graduated from the New York University College of Physicians and Surgeons, April 3, 1868. In July of that year he established himself in Rochester and in the practice which he practiced successfully until May, 1873. Weary of the hardships of a country practitioner and of a field presenting greater possibilities, he then moved to Rochester, N. Y., and took up a large practice, and took high rank as a physician. In 1874 he served the city of Rochester as city physician, and was one of the first homeopathic physicians to occupy that position.

Dr. Adams was president of the Monroe County Homeopathic Medical Society, member of the New York State Homoeopathic Medical Society, member of the American Institute of Homoeopathy, and had been consulting physician on the staff of the Rochester Hospital since 1881. He was a member of Dr. Thomas Post, G. A. R., together with the great presentation of a fine United States flag to each of the county’s public schools in Rochester, thus starting patriotic custom which has extended across the United States greatly stimulated patriotism and loyalty in the school children.
In One Office 24 Years.

Dr. Adams also was a member of Monroe Commandery, 12, K. T., and Rochester Consistory in which he had taken the thirty-second degree in Masonry. He belonged to the Genesee Valley Club and various other social, professional and business organizations.

During the last thirty-five years Dr. Adams had been an aggressive, consistent and conscientious worker for the advancement of homeopathy. For more than twenty-four years he occupied the same office on Flintridge Street, but more recently was located in the Powers Building. Though actively engaged in his professional work, he took time to direct the general management of a large grain farm in North Dakota and extensive orange groves and English walnut orchards in Southern California. He found his principal recreation in occasional visits to these estates.

Dr. Adams had a very valuable collection of de luxe volumes, this being a hobby with him, and his collection contains some rare and beautiful editions.

Dr. Adams was twice unanimously elected medical director of the department of New York, G. A. R. At the forty-ninth Annual encampment held in Washington in September, 1916, he was unanimously elected general of the Grand Army of the Republic. As a crowning professional honor he was elected honorary president of the American Institute of Homeopathy at its annual meeting in Baltimore, June, 1916.
Another raid of incidents in a Rochester family, resembling somewhat the happenings in the Cooper family in Bryan Street revealed last week, came to light yesterday when Private Marion Whitman of 194 Conkey Avenue, a member of City Division Draft Board 2, was taken sick with influenza.

Sunday morning at Rochester General Hospital Mrs. Alotho B. Frank, a sister of Miss Lucy Whitman, died in Russia. Less than two months ago another sister, Miss Teresa Whitman, a Red Cross nurse serving in a Washington hospital, was attacked by influenza and died within a few days.

Private Louis C. Whitman, a brother serving in the United States Marines, perhaps upon his return from Europe, was taken ill yesterday and removed to his home. Mrs. Matson, recently recovered from the flu, returned to work at the factory yesterday.

Rochester Man, Dead in Boston, Rose From Theater Usurher Here to Be One of Foremost Theatrical Men in World

In the death of John C. Schoeferl in Boston on Saturday afternoon a truly remarkable career came to an end. The successor of an Army Draft Director for the last 17 years, was sole owner and manager of the Metropolitan Opera House, and a member of particular interest to Rochesterians, among whom he counted many of his closest friends.

Mr. Schoefeller was born here on May 11, 1846, and was married to Agnes Brown, the widow of Judson Brueoth, Jr. on February 4, 1871. She died many years ago.

Sixty years in the theatrical business is an unusual record alone, but Mr. Schoefeller’s love and devotion to the profession, even more than his management, made him famous.

Success Comes at Early Age

Six months after taking a position as usher in the Opera House in Rochester, Mr. Schoefeller became its treasurer. A year after, at the age of 23, he married Mrs. Thrall, who, although quite young, went to Meech Brothers’ Academy of Music, of which she was later a teacher. Her tenacity and management of the theater’s business, made him famous.

In 1878 Mrs. Schoefeller went into partnership with Henry E. Abbey, and was an associate in the management of some of the notable enterprises. Their first venture was with the Buffalo Academy of Music. Later they became proprietors of the Park Theater in New York City. Their next venture was with Mrs. Lillian Langtry and the Park Theater in New York City, a fourth venture was opened, the Park Theater in New York City.

Mrs. Schoefeller was the author of the most famous undertaking out of which the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City.

Services $2000.00 Fire

Maurice Grau joined the partnership in 1884, and in 1891 he bought the firm and became the sole owner. In 1892 he took over the Park Theater in New York City, later this theater was purchased by Mr. Schoefeller and opened, rebuilt it after the $200,000 fire of the following August.

Mr. Schoefeller, associated with Mr. Abbey, introduced a great number of notable foreign stars to the United States public, among them Sarah Bernhardt, Henry Irving, Adelina Patti, Christine Nilsson, Ada Rehan, Fanny Heldy, and many others. His greatest success was the star of Sir Henry Irving, in his production of "Macbeth".

The body of Mr. Schoefeller will be brought to Rochester on Wednesday afternoon for interment here.

DEATHS—FUNERAL

BISHOP CHARLES W. CURRER

Noted Churchman, Descendant of Charlotte Family Dies Suddenly

Charles Warner Currier, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Maryland, died suddenly Monday morning at 8 a.m. during a train trip from Baltimore to Frederick. According to his physician, Dr. F. W. H. Myer, of the Mt. Hope avenue, great-grand-daughter of Bishop Glass, first visited Bishop Currier's residence.

Bishop Currier traced his descent from the same family. His father at one time was one of the best known residents of the village at the late

MRS. LUCY E. MARSH

Mrs. Lucy E. Marsh, 65, died Saturday at her home on North Street, aged 65 years. She had been a member of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church for many years, having joined it in 1853.

The funeral will be held at her home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
MRS. CHAPIN
PASSES AWAY

Mother of Charles T. Chapin and Daughter of William Kidd Dies at Home of Her Son, James

Mrs. Mary E. Chapin, mother of Charles T. Chapin, died this morning at the residence of her son, 27 Rutchey street, East Rochester. She was 79 years old.

Mrs. Chapin was one of the best known Rochester women of the upper class. She was a member of the Board of Directors of the Willet and Company, of Rochester, and was well known in philanthropic circles in the metropolis.

Mrs. Chapin was a graduate of the Willard School of Tryon. She was a member of the Board of Directors of the Rochester Industrial School, and was active in many other philanthropic and social organizations.

She is survived by two sons, Charles T. Chapin of Rochester; Edward Rall Chapin of Gusen, and one daughter, Mrs. William Maceo of Mountain-cliff, N. Y.

DARIUS OGDEN IS CALLED BY DEATH AT 68

Daily Death Roll.

Darius Ogden, one of the last remaining Republicans of the old school, died yesterday at his home at 29 Stryker street, aged 68 years. He was a member of the party that rallied around Charles E. Conant, and Mr. Ogden was a friend of Darius Ogden. He graduated from Cornell University in 1837 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and later went to New York City, where he studied law, and was admitted to the bar and began the practice of his profession.

Mr. Ogden was a member of the New York Republican party, and was one of the leaders of the party in the city. He was a member of the Republican Club of New York, and was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Assembly, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Julius J. Wile, Engineer, Dies

Well Known in Mining Circles in This Country and Canada—Veteran of Spanish War

Julius J. Wile died this morning at his home of pneumonia. He was born in Rochester, May 1, 1887, and attended the public schools of the city. He graduated from Cornell University in 1897 with the degree of Bachelor of Science, and with a special course in mining engineering. In 1898 he was appointed an ensign in the United States Navy and served during the period of the Spanish War, being first assigned to the Mare Island Navy Yard at San Francisco, and subsequently to the United States Navy.

After the war, he joined the staff of French and Company in New York City, and served as an engineer in the same capacity. He was the first to be assigned to the United States Navy Yard at San Francisco, and subsequently to the United States Navy.

He joined the staff of French and Company in New York City, and served as an engineer in the same capacity. He was the first to be assigned to the United States Navy Yard at San Francisco, and subsequently to the United States Navy.

He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.

Death of Man Many Years Well-Known as a Newspaperman

Peter W. White, for years a newspaperman, died yesterday at his home, 256 Miles street.

Mr. White was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council. He was a member of the New York State Senate, and was a member of the New York City Council.
Historic Scrapbooks Collection

DEATHS—FUNERALS

WILLIAM H. COOK

Business Manager of Democrat and Chronicle Dies at His Home.

William H. Cook, for 35 years business manager of the Democrat and Chronicle Printing company, publishers of the Democrat and Chronicle, died to-day at his home, 327 Crossman terrace, aged 89 years. He was a former live in Rochester, Edward P. Cook; three grandchildren: three brothers, George Z. of Rochester, and Charles A. and William J. Cook, of Seneca Falls, and one sister, Miss of Seneca Falls.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the family home. Burial will be in Riverside.

Cook was very well known and occupied an enviable position in Rochester's business circles. He had many friends to whom the announcement of his death will come as a great shock. He was one of the veteran employees of the concern of which he was business manager at the time of his death.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

Death Of L. L. Horton

Formerly Engaged In The Boat And Engine Business

Funeral services will be held at LaVerne Horton of 256 Rosedale street, who died of influenza yesterday at General Pulp and Paper Corporation, in which he had been a steady worker for many years. He had obtained the pension of several New York veterans. He had been engaged in the pulp business for the last 15 years. He is survived by his wife, Horace E. and the following children: Mrs. Alice Horton; Mr. George W. Horton; Mr. Frank Horton; two sons, LaVerne and Robert Horton; three daughters, Louise, Elizabeth, and Horace Horton; his father, Philip Horton of Pulaski, and a brother, Clark O. Horton of Dallas, Texas.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

William H. Cook, Business Manager of Democrat and Chronicle Dies at His Home.

Death of Chauncey B. Doxater Marks Passing of Name That Served Fame of Rochester.

The death of Chauncey B. Doxtater yesterday at his home, 838 North Main street, at 9:30 o'clock, marks the passing of a name that for more than half a century has been a household word in Rochester, for the Doxtater sulphur baths on North Water street annually drew thousands of visitors from near and far to the United States, and memories of the old Doxtater swimming hole are still cherished by the sons and daughters of Rochester and three generations of Rochester men.

It was in the early 40's that Alexander Loew, who ran a brewery on North Water street, took a well to supply a stream of pure water. At a depth of 30 feet he struck a flow of strong sulphur water, and the elder Doxtater, father of the man who died yesterday, realizing the commercial value of the flow, caused the spring from the Longmuir brew-

A bath house, pretentious for those days, was built, which contained, besides the sulphur baths, two swimming pools fed by the spring. The water ran through the city, and it was here that many of the men whose names are prominently linked with the history of Rochester, first learned to swim.

It was about thirty years ago that the elder Doxtater decided to build the business was passed on to his son, Chauncey and George. George Doxtater died about twenty years ago and continued to operate the Doxtater sulphur baths for more than two decades. In 1912, when he realized that he had passed the age limit, he turned the attention which it required, he retired.

At that time the matter of forming a company to carry on the baths was discussed among the men here, among them Eugene J. Dwyer, who has been a partner of various partners and the baths were finally dismantled and the building torn down, thus removing an old landmark.

Chauncey Doxtater left his wife, Maria E. Doxtater, and a niece, Florence Doxtater, of 200 North Main street, and a daughter, Miss Lillian D. Doxtater. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fred M. Doxtater, and a sister, Miss Ida Doxtater.

Edward T. Hach's Family

Mrs. Frank J. Hone

Mrs. Mary C. Hone, wife of Frank J. Hone, died yesterday at the family home, 60 Meigs street. She is survived by her husband; brothers, Frederick Hone, Miss Helen M. Hone, Alexander B. Hone, Miss Mary Ruth Hone, Miss Augusta Hone, Miss H. M. Hone, Miss E. A. Hone, Louise K. Hone and Miss Madeline S. Hone; three sisters, Misses Sabina C. Dafoe, Mrs. George Brackett, and Mrs. Edward A. Hone, Smith and Hone, and Corinne A. Curran, and one brother, Cyril J. Curran. She was a daughter of the late H. H. and Mary Hone. She was born in Rochester and was educated in the public schools, and died at 9 o'clock and buried at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

MORTUARY RECORD

Mrs. Inez Foster, wife of Inez Foster, who died yesterday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foster, 540 Grimes street, George M. Foster and William F. Foster, three daughters, Mrs. Alice Foster, Miss Florence Foster, 11 of Rochester, and Mrs. John Walls of Burlington, Ia.; 23 great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Gove. He was born in Rochester and was educated in the public schools, and was a member of the American Legion. He was a member of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Harriet E. Buel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buel, who died yesterday, was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

TAMMY W. WEBER

Veteran Who Saw Lincoln Shot, Dies at His Home.

Amory W. Weber, for fifty years a resident of Rochester, died at his home, 28 Tracy street, last evening, aged 78 years. He fought through the Civil War, enlisting in the 18th Massachusetts infantry, the first to come to duty to the front, and the only one that was first to pass through an enemy line.

He served as orderly for General Benjamin H. Butler through the Louisiana campaign. In civilian life he was a member of the Order of the Exchange Street Indian, and was sworn in as a member of the supply committee. He was an active worker in the Homeopathic Dispensary and the Church of the Brethren. He was a member of the Church of the Brethren and a member of the Church of the Brethren and the Church of the Brethren.

Harriet E. Buel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buel, who died yesterday, was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

TAMMY W. WEBER

Veteran Who Saw Lincoln Shot, Dies at His Home.

Amory W. Weber, for fifty years a resident of Rochester, died at his home, 28 Tracy street, last evening, aged 78 years. He fought through the Civil War, enlisting in the 18th Massachusetts infantry, the first to come to duty to the front, and the only one that was first to pass through an enemy line. He served as orderly for General Benjamin H. Butler through the Louisiana campaign. In civilian life he was a member of the Order of the Exchange Street Indian, and was sworn in as a member of the supply committee. He was an active worker in the Homeopathic Dispensary and the Church of the Brethren. He was a member of the Church of the Brethren and a member of the Church of the Brethren and the Church of the Brethren.

Harriet E. Buel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buel, who died yesterday, was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

TAMMY W. WEBER

Veteran Who Saw Lincoln Shot, Dies at His Home.

Amory W. Weber, for fifty years a resident of Rochester, died at his home, 28 Tracy street, last evening, aged 78 years. He fought through the Civil War, enlisting in the 18th Massachusetts infantry, the first to come to duty to the front, and the only one that was first to pass through an enemy line. He served as orderly for General Benjamin H. Butler through the Louisiana campaign. In civilian life he was a member of the Order of the Exchange Street Indian, and was sworn in as a member of the supply committee. He was an active worker in the Homeopathic Dispensary and the Church of the Brethren. He was a member of the Church of the Brethren and a member of the Church of the Brethren and the Church of the Brethren.

Harriet E. Buel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Buel, who died yesterday, was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.
When the jury in the case of James L. Fogarty vs. City of Rochester reported no cause for action to Justice S. Nelson Sawyer, of Elmira, this morning he took occasion to pay his respects to the memory of Mr. Slocum.

He said:

He has served in this court for a great many years, long before I came here and long before most of the judges now presiding in the court came here. He worked up from a minor clerkship until he became clerk of the Supreme court in charge of all its records. Of his absolute faithfulness and fidelity to the duties that were imposed upon him, all who know him can speak, but nothing can speak more loudly and more surely than the records of the court itself, which under his care have always been absolutely correct and up to date in every detail. But the business side of a man's character is the least of it. After all, it is the personal touch which leads to know men and know them as they are. He has gone in and out among us for all these years, and I am sure no one in or about this Court house can recall an impatient word or unkindly act of his. He was always the gentleman, always cheerful, always obliging and always interested in what was going on, and in doing all he could for the other man.

Some men in this world strike for a shining mark, and achieve high position. Others go through life in a more moderate way, leaving behind them a record of having done the little things of life and of having done them well. I sometimes think men, when the whole story is written and its results summed, men of the quieter type, are really of much greater usefulness than those whose career is more meteor-like.

This friend of ours is gone and has gone unexpectedly. He has left a sense of personal loss to all of us who have known him well, but beyond and over it all, he has left a record of a life spent and a work well done. To us who remain, of him there will ever be the sweet savor of his blessed and happy memory.

The clerk will enter in our records proper expression of appreciation of the court of the life and usefulness of this friend of ours who was and who now is not.